HOUSE RESOLUTION EXPRESSING SUPPORT FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION REGARDING THE EROSION AT CAMP ELLIS CAUSED BY THE FEDERAL NAVIGATION PROJECT JETTY

WHEREAS, Camp Ellis is located in Saco, about 16 miles south of Portland; the beach is situated on the southern portion of the Saco Bay shoreline near the mouth of the Saco River; and

WHEREAS, at the entrance to the river, the Saco River Federal Navigation Project consists of an 8-foot-deep, 200-foot-wide channel that is protected by a 6,600-foot-long jetty to the north and by a 4,800-foot-long jetty to the south, and the north jetty separates the river from Camp Ellis Beach, which extends about 2,500 feet north to Ferry Beach; and

WHEREAS, the federal navigation project was authorized and constructed between 1828 and 1968 in several increments and provides for navigation safety at the mouth of the river and a reduction in the frequency of maintenance of the lower river channel and anchorage areas; and

WHEREAS, during the last modification in 1968, the shoreward end of the north jetty was raised and tightened to reduce the maintenance dredging frequency in the river channel; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the federal navigation project, the area of Camp Ellis Beach within about 2,500 feet of the jetty has experienced severe erosion over the past several decades, with losses of over 30 homes and property, roadways and public and private infrastructure; and

WHEREAS, besides the major commercial transportation effects, commercial activity on the Saco River contributes more than $53,000,000 to our regional communities each year; the Saco River is home to more than 40 commercial fishing vessels, and the river supports more than 450 full-time jobs; and

RESOLVED: That We, the Members of the House of Representatives of the One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Legislature now assembled in the Second Regular Session, on behalf of the people we represent, take this occasion to express our support for immediate action to be taken regarding the erosion at Camp Ellis and our support for continued maintenance dredging, the construction of an additional spur jetty and periodic beach renourishment.

Representative MOONEN of Portland moved that the House ACCEPT the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended Report.

Representative ESPLING of New Gloucester REQUESTED a roll call on the motion to ACCEPT the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended Report.

More than one-fifth of the members present expressed a desire for a roll call which was ordered.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Bangor, Representative Cardone.

Representative CARDONE: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I appreciate the opportunity to address this body through the Speaker on LD 1884, the creation of a community protection order to allow courts to prevent high-risk individuals from possessing firearms.

Madam Speaker, in our Committee, in our public hearings, we heard a great deal of testimony on this bill. We heard testimony from those concerned about school shootings and random acts of violence in our communities. We heard testimony from those who were concerned about suicides, many of whom who had experienced the suicide of a loved one, some of whom themselves were suicide survivors. And we heard testimony from those who had concerns about the protection of our constitutional right to keep and bear arms, both on the federal and on the state level.

The Committee took all of this testimony under consideration, and, Madam Speaker, I am proud to say that in the Majority Report, we have crafted a bill that addresses all of these concerns. This bill provides a judicial framework for keeping firearms, on a temporary basis, out of the hands of those who are temporarily unable to responsibly use firearms. It allows a judge, based on sworn testimony and credible evidence, to temporarily; to issue a temporary order preventing an individual from the possession of firearms. This is not a bill that infringes on the federal or state constitutional rights to keep or bear arms for any Maine citizen, in particular, for those citizens who are capable of using firearms responsibly.

This bill will allow law enforcement officers, or family or household members, to bring before a court a situation that they think is dangerous to an individual or to the community at large. It allows them to bring a petition, by sworn testimony that's reviewed by a court, with the standard of clear and convincing evidence that someone is at risk of serious bodily injury or death to that person or to another person. The court, in determining whether to issue an order under this new law, would consider all relevant evidence available and, as I said, consider it by a clear and convincing standard; something that's above the usual preponderance of the evidence standard in the courts. Temporary orders issued under this proposed law would expire within 14 days, and within that time, the court must hold a hearing on any petition brought under this law. Fourteen days is a fairly fast turnaround for any lawsuit filed, and within that 14 days, notice of the suit is sent to the person who is the subject of this protection order, and that person has the right to appear at a hearing to contest the order and to present evidence for this court to consider. If an extended; if the court finds after hearing that there is need for an extended order, that extended order goes into effect based on the discretion of the court for the length of time, but no longer than 180 days. Now, what's not written into this bill is an underlying presumption that within those 14 days or certainly within that 180 days, that the person who is the subject of this order can seek mental health counseling and help for the issues that have attracted attention, and can then go back to have this order dissolved.

Madam Speaker, we've also built into this bill, responsibilities, significant responsibilities, for law enforcement officers. Our law enforcement officers under this bill would not only have the opportunity to screen and potentially bring a petition, but they have the opportunity; they have the obligation, if they're taking guns into their possession, to keep those guns in a safe place to make sure that they are not lost, vandalized, stolen or used irresponsibly by someone else. While those guns are in their possession, there is an order in place; there is an order in place for no possession of firearms by this person. They have the obligation to keep people safe by keeping possession of these guns. They also have the obligation to return these guns when the order is dissolved, and to immediately notify all authorities that this order is dissolved, so that no one is prohibited from keeping a firearm or from possessing a firearm if, in fact, an order has been dissolved against them. There's also no presumption anywhere in this law, Madam Speaker, that someone who has had a community protection order placed against them would ever be in a position in the future not to own guns, not to possess guns, not to use guns once the order is lifted and they are in a position to use them responsibly.

Madam Speaker, I ask that this body consider all of the concerns that the Judiciary Committee has raised, including the protection of the constitutional rights of the citizens of Maine, and in weighing those concerns, support the Majority Report as I intend to do. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from New Gloucester, Representative Espling.

Representative ESPLING: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. While I understand the impetus for this bill and everything that has happened nationally regarding some of these issues, I think there is concern with this amendment before you. Many constitutional concerns; and I think there are constitutional concerns that go beyond the Second Amendment.

I don't believe this bill is ready for primetime. Hopefully, we'll have some more time to look deeper into this issue. We absolutely do need to address the many mental health issues concerning individuals in our state, while at the same time making sure that we maintain and protect their own constitutional rights, and that is a tough balance; a balance that I think we need to find but yet, it is not found in the amendment before you. I will not be supporting this amendment and I hope you will follow my light. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: A roll call has been ordered. The pending question before the House is Acceptance of the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended Report. All those in favor will vote yes, those opposed will vote no.

On motion of Representative KINNEY of Knox, the following Joint Resolution: (H.P. 1356) (Cosponsored by Senator DAVIS of Piscataquis and Representatives: ACKLEY of Monmouth, BLACK of Wilton, DUNPHY of Old Town, HARVELL of Farmington, HIGGINS of Dover-Foxcroft, MASON of Lisbon, PICCHIOTTI of Fairfield, Senator: MASON of Androscoggin)

JOINT RESOLUTION TO SUPPORT MAINE'S MAPLE SYRUP AND HONEY PRODUCERS

WHEREAS, Maine is known for its natural and wholesome foods and is the 3rd largest producer of maple syrup in the United States, producing over $20,000,000 of maple syrup in 2017, and produces over $2,000,000 of honey annually; and

WHEREAS, the pure honey and maple syrup industries have worked diligently to educate consumers about the value and purity of their products as a result of the introduction of similarly identified but inferior products into the marketplace; and

WHEREAS, product labels that clearly describe the contents of containers at the point of sale are the most direct message available to consumers; and

WHEREAS, the United States Food and Drug Administration has released a proposed rule that would require that honey and maple syrup be labeled as containing "added sugar" even when these products are 100% pure single-ingredient products; and

WHEREAS, the inclusion of the "added sugar" declaration to single-ingredient products like honey and maple syrup, to which no sugar has been added, will result in consumer confusion and may erode consumer confidence; and

WHEREAS, a requirement to declare "added sugar" would compromise the integrity of naturally sweet single-ingredient products and would have an irrevocably negative impact on the Maine maple syrup and honey industries; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That We, the Members of the One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Legislature now assembled in the Second Special Session, on behalf of the people we represent, take this opportunity to support the United States Food and Drug Administration's efforts at clear labeling to support the consumer's ability to make informed purchasing decisions but recommend that the United States Food and Drug Administration exempt pure maple syrup and honey from its proposed rule; and be it further

RESOLVED: That suitable copies of this resolution, duly authenticated by the Secretary of State, be transmitted to Dr. Scott Gottlieb, Commissioner of Food and Drugs, and to all members of the Maine Congressional Delegation.

READ.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Knox, Representative Kinney.

Representative KINNEY: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Men and Women of the House. This was brought about because of a new rule by the FDA to put single-ingredient products like maple syrup and honey into -- with new labelling requirements, and this is -- I'm just going to read quickly what I sent to the FDA on their public docket which commenting ended last Friday --

The SPEAKER: The Representative will defer. The Chair will remind members to please take their conversations out of the chamber if you have a need to talk while another Member is speaking. The Member may proceed.

Representative KINNEY: Thank you. Last week I traveled to Washington D.C. in order to explain why the proposed added sugars labeling is confusing and false. I spoke with all four of Maine's congressional delegation members, Senators Collins and King and Representatives Pingree and Poliquin. All four members understand the real issue here. And I also spoke with Nick Alexander in the FDA by phone.

I am a maple syrup producer with over 10,000 taps in rural Waldo County, Maine. I've been producing maple syrup for 14 years. Before that, my husband and his family produced maple syrup off and on going back to 1971 in Auburn, Maine. Never have we ever added maple -- added sugar to our maple syrup and maple syrup products. Our labeling has always stated that the product is pure and that the single ingredient is a form of sugar.

Maple syrup comes from the sap of maple trees and is about 2% sugar straight from the tree, and after removing most of the water, we have maple syrup at about 66% sugar. Additionally, maple syrup is very health-conscious. It has a low glycemic index, 54, contains healthy minerals and antioxidants as well as abscisic acid, ABA, which is thought to promote insulin production in the pancreas. Our family also continues to remove water from syrup to get maple cream, a delicious butter-consistency spread for toast, English muffins, homemade biscuits, etcetera; molded sugar; soft sugar, often called maple candy; and going as far as removing all the water from the sap to get granulated maple sugar; and when cooking with maple sugar, containing about 16 calories per teaspoon, just like white sugar. You can often use about half as much sugar due to the fact that maple tastes sweeter, therefore using less sugar in your diet. All of these products are pure maple products with no added sugars.

I was told the proposal was science-based. Again, I feel I was fed a lie regarding this proposal. I understand the science-based dietary guidelines. However, no science is being used in the proposed labeling language because the added sugars line on the nutrition facts comes after total carbohydrates and the indented smaller print, sugars, which are the exact same number. The new added sugars line, which will be immediately after sugars with no additional indent is proposed and will again be the exact same number on maple syrup and honey products, but they do not contain added sugars. This will confuse consumers, and the proposed footnote will further add confusion to the labeling. The idea for the labeling, to help drive home the realization that as consumers eat maple and honey products they are adding sugars to their diet, is an assumption that people couldn't possibly figure this out on their own. We must live in a really poorly educated society if that is the case. Sadly, the proposal is turning otherwise intelligent people into thinking, "it's about time we eliminated sugar additives in maple syrup products." This quote came from someone whom I have known for years and is an intelligent person, yet they thought maple producers were adding sugar to this product because of the FDA proposal and my personal fight on the issue. I've been on local news recently, which is why this person reached out.

Our family gives tours of our operation year-round and one question that does come up is when do you add the sugar, and we constantly educate the public, we have never added sugar to our maple syrup and that it is naturally produced by trees.

Maple syrup is only produced in northeast North America. It is a specialty agricultural crop that needs help from US agencies rather than hindering regulation. Please exempt single ingredient products like maple syrup and honey from this ridiculous labeling change. I would be happy to help with wording and additional concerns the FDA may have on this issue, and will include my contact information in the space provided below. And, as a footnote, I'd like to also say that I have been in contact with the Washington delegation and the FDA is starting to back off, but it's not time to back off our pressure, and I would -- I appreciate the unanimous consent to send this resolution on to the FDA. Thank you.

Subsequently, the Joint Resolution was ADOPTED. Sent for concurrence.
