HOUSE

January 7, 1919.

The House met according to adjournment and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Walch of Augusta.

Journal of the previous session read and approved.

Mr. MAHER of Augusta: Mr. Speaker, this Nation, its people and the lovers of freedom everywhere, having suffered a loss so distinct as to constitute a shock in the death of that man who typified the best there is in free government, that man who personified virility and integrity, that man whose private life was a charm, and whose public record was an inspiration—the late Theodore Roosevelt, ex-President—that great American—I move that this House, as a slight token of tribute, stand adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The motion was duly seconded.

The SPEAKER: A great American statesman, a brave soldier, and the father of brave soldiers, has answered the last call, and it is fitting at this time as a mark of respect that this House do stand adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Adjourned.
