REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Executive Council:

The local valuations of the cities, towns and plantations for the year 1904, as certified to this Board by the assessors, amount to $323,696,114, an increase of $6,718,280 over similar valuation for 1903.

This is not so great increase as was shown by similar returns of 1903 as compared with 1902; but when general business conditions are considered the valuation for 1904 must be regarded, we believe, as a most excellent exhibit of the general prosperity of the State.

The increase of real estate valuations is $5,520,119, and of personal estate $1,198,161.

Money at interest, and taxable securities show a gain of $77,318; National Bank stock, and Trust and Banking Co. stock, $222,222.; logs and lumber, $315,462; wood and bark, $83,413; furniture, $30,851. Stock in trade shows only a slight increase over 1903.

Shipping shows a loss of $62,736. Carriages are valued $23,632 less than in 1903; but this loss is more than offset by the taxation of automobiles, which are taxed on a valuation of $70,665.

In the revision of the statutes in 1903, the exemption of musical instruments to each family owning such property was raised from $15.00 to $50.00, and this increased exemption has produced a loss of $117,867 in the valuation of musical instruments as compared with 1903.

The valuation of live stock is returned at $14,136,062. An increase of $357,268 above 1903.

The number of horses has increased 840; colts, 1,343; cows, 6,050; oxen, 501; young cattle, 1,096; swine, 2,909.

Sheep alone show a decrease in numbers of 13,899.

Railroad property subject to municipal taxation has increased $243,150, and street railroad property, $53,330.

The public property of municipalities, not including school buildings is valued $717,065 more than in 1903, and property exempted from taxation is valued $1,081,483. A decrease from 1903 of $239,987.

The combined municipal indebtedness of the State amounts to 8,437,048. A decrease from 1903 of $218,984.

Ninety-nine of the municipalities report an increase of their debt; one hundred and fifty-five, a decrease in their debt; forty-one the same indebtedness, and one hundred and seventy-four are free from debt.

The combined municipal indebtedness is equal to $26.00 on each $1000 of the total valuation. The indebtedness of the twenty cities is considerably above the average of the whole state, being equal to $42.62 on each $1000 valuation. The number of polls taxed is 190,675, and the number exempted from taxation 11,572. A combined gain of 2,064 showing that the population of the State is steadily increasing. The average amount assessed upon each poll is $2.68.

Two hundred and twenty-eight of the municipalities have a higher tax rate than in 1903, one hundred and seventy-seven a lower rate, and sixty-four report the same rate as in 1903.

The average rate of taxation is somewhat higher than in 1903, being $20.57 on each $1000 valuation. The average rate of taxation in the twenty cities of the State is $21.42 on each $1000 valuation.

The total amount of taxes assessed by the municipalities for 1904 is $7,172,150, which is $254,294 more than was assessed in 1903. Approximately one-third of this increase is accounted for in the appropriations for schools, which are $83,744 greater than in 1903, the total amount being $1,223,313.

The decrease in the taxes upon savings banks, one-half of which are added to the mill tax and apportioned by the State to the municipalities for the support of schools has made it necessary that a greater amount be raised by taxation for the maintenance of schools.

The amount appropriated for maintenance of highways and bridges for 1904 is $1,238,734, which is somewhat more than was raised in 1903.

STATE VALUATION.

Acting as a Board of Equalization we herewith report the seventh biennial valuation of the State as made by this Board, as follows: Cities, towns and plantations, $336,643,050; wild lands, $28,980,612; growth on public lots, $890,352; total, $366,514,014.

This valuation represents an increase of $14,285,117 above the State valuation of 1902. The increase in estates is $10,694,929; wild lands, $3,451,682; growth on public lots, $138,506.

We regard this as a conservative valuation of the taxable property of the State. As is well known the greater portion of the property of railroads, telephone and telegraph companies and the deposits in savings banks and in trust and banking companies is not included in the State valuation as these companies are taxed directly by the State and are not subject to local taxation on this property and it does not appear on the tax rolls of cities and towns. There is considerable difficulty in securing accurate and definite information regarding the value of many of the unincorporated townships of the State, but from the best obtainable information we are satisfied that the wild lands are as fully valued as property in cities and towns.

The total amount of corporation taxes assessed by this Board for the present year shows a small decrease from the amount assessed in 1903, the decrease in the taxes on savings banks more than offsetting the increase in the taxes on other corporations.

TAXATION IN OTHER STATES.

We can refer to no radical changes during the two years past in the tax systems of other states, yet many of the legislative acts, reports of tax commissions, and expressions in the messages of governors, show well pronounced traits.

There is a marked movement toward the separation of the sources of state and local revenue, toward central supervision of assessment by some kind of a state board, and from the fact that the business interests and industries of the country are becoming more and more controlled by corporate management, to increase the taxes on Corporations.

We quote from some of the messages. Governor Bliss of Michigan in his message to the Legislature in 1903 said: "State supervision of the assessing machinery has already wrought decided results, and the powers of the Board of State Tax Commissioners should be increased rather than diminished. The knowledge of the commission gained by experience, and the employment of skilled assistants has enabled it to render assessing officers invaluable service, has brought large amounts of property to the tax rolls, and at the same time there has been uniformity in assessment."

Governor Heard of Louisiana said: "The wisdom of the State Constitution in providing a state board of appraisers for the valuation and assessment of property belonging to corporations and transportation companies has been fully demonstrated."

Governor Durbin of Indiana said: "Experience has demonstrated that the amendments to the tax law, so that the assessment of Street and Electric Railroads, and certain other corporations is now delegated to the State Board of Tax Commissioners, have given more uniformity to values because of the merging of these classes of property within the province of a single taxing authority."

Governor Toole of Montana: "I recommend a constitutional amendment giving the Board of Equalization plenary power to so adjust and equalize assessments, that all taxable property in the state will be assessed at uniform rates, and at its full value in money."

Governor Mickey of Nebraska: "I recommend that the duties of the State Board of Equalization be broadened so that it shall have power to raise or lower assessments for state purposes in harmony with the full valuation plan."

Governor McBride of Washington: "The State Board should be a board of equalization, in fact as well as in name. On it should be conferred the power to change valuations as made by county boards."

There is a manifest tendency in many states to increase the revenue for state purposes by taxation of corporations, inheritance taxes, and other indirect sources, so that the taxes on real and personal property of cities and towns may be materially reduced or dispensed with altogether.

New Jersey and Connecticut have levied no state taxes on cities and towns for many years. Pennsylvania has no state tax on lands. New York and Ohio have increased their revenue from various sources so that the state taxes on our cities and towns have been reduced to a very low rate.

Governor Chamberlain of Oregon in his message in 1903 said: "The tendency of modern times is to bring about as nearly as possible a divorcement of local and state taxation, and there is no reason why, by a proper law taxing inheritances, and local and foreign corporations doing business in the state as well as the valuable franchises they enjoy, Oregon may not, following in the footsteps of the other states raise the greater part, if not all the revenue necessary for state purposes."

Governor White of West Virginia said: "With many others I have been of the opinion that West Virginia could raise all needed revenues without levying a tax for state purposes on real and personal property."

Governor McCollough of Vermont said: "It seems to me, without unjustly or improperly burdening any interest, that all the expenses of the state government can be raised by indirect taxation, and thus relieve real estate entirely, and I commend this subject to the intelligent consideration of the legislature."

Governor Batchelder of New Hampshire in his message to the legislature in 1903 called attention to the fact that on account of some localities in the state being without savings bank accommodations some national banks had opened accounts on which the depositors were paid a small rate of interest, thus doing a savings bank business, and suggesting that such deposits escape the taxation which those in savings banks are compelled to bear, and are unjustly favored.

This describes a condition which to some extent exists in this state. We have reason to believe that some national banks in Maine are doing what is practically a savings bank business in competition with savings banks and trust and banking companies, and presumably such deposits are escaping taxation altogether.

In submitting this the fourteenth annual report of this Board we desire to express our thanks for the valuable assistance and many courtesies extended to us by State, county and municipal officers.
