STATE OF MAINE.

1905-1906.

DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
AUGUSTA, MAINE, DECEMBER 1, 1906.

To the Governor and Council of the State of Maine:

In compliance with public statutes, I herewith submit my report of the amount and kind of official business done by this department and by the several county attorneys, as provided by Revised Statutes, Chapter 79, Section 64, and Chapter 81, Section 19.

HOMICIDES.

Cases of alleged murder and manslaughter have been disposed of as follows:

AROOSTOOK COUNTY.

STATE VS. BRUNO DIONNE.

June 29th, 1905, an altercation resulting in a fist-fight took place between Dionne and Joseph Voisine at Fort Kent, Aroostook County, in which Voisine was severely injured. He died some few moments afterward. The injury from the fist-fight was internal and the exact cause of death somewhat uncertain. Dionne was arrested, brought before a magistrate and furnished bail for his appearance at the September term of the Supreme Judicial Court. He was indicted for manslaughter at that term and the case was continued until the following April. After careful investigation of the case, the county attorney, believing that it would be impossible to secure a conviction, a nol. pros. was entered.

STATE US. CHARLES DYER.

In January, 1906, an altercation took place in the lumber woods near St. Croix Station, Aroostook County, between Elias Dobson and Charles Dyer, during which Dyer struck Dobson on the head with a peavey, fracturing the skull. Dobson died thirty-five days later never having recovered consciousness. Dyer was arrested, held for the April term of the Supreme Judicial Court, and at that term was indicted for manslaughter. At the trial the respondent claimed the act was committed in self-defense and was acquitted.

STATE VS. SUSIE COLLINS AND FANNIE COLLINS.

In April, 1906, the body of a new-born child was found in an outbuilding in the village of Robinson, in the town of Blaine, Aroostook County. The external appearance of the body indicated death from strangulation and an autopsy showed that death was caused in that manner. The matter was investigated and at the September term, 1906, of the Supreme Judicial Court, indictments for manslaughter were found against Susie Collins, the alleged mother of the child, and Fannie Collins, the mother of Susie. The case was tried at the same term and Susie Collins was convicted. Fannie Collins was acquitted. Susie Collins was sentenced to two years in the State's prison.

STATE US. MYRA M. BARNES.

On the 29th day of October, 1905, Pearl B. Barnes, a girl of fourteen years of age, died at Presque Isle, Aroostook County, under circumstances indicating the possible administration of poison. An autopsy was immediately held and the internal organs removed for chemical analysis. The analysis taken in connection with the symptoms pointed very strongly to the fact that the girl died from strychnine poison. A few hours before her death the girl had taken a dose of Epsom salts which had been in the house some few weeks. Chemical examination of the remainder of the salts showed that they contained a quantity of strychnine thoroughly mixed with the salts. Portions of the salts apparently had been taken by other members of the family a short time previously without any ill effects. A coroner's jury was impaneled and made a thorough examination of the matter lasting through several weeks. At the end of their investigation, they found that the girl came to her death from strychnine placed in the salts with felonious intent by some person unknown. On November 20th, 1905, a warrant was issued charging Myra M. Barnes, the stepmother of the girl, with the crime. Probable cause was found and she was bound over by the magistrate to await the action of the grand jury at the succeeding term of the Supreme Judicial Court. The matter was fully presented to the grand jury at the April term, 1906, of the Supreme Judicial Court, but no indictment was reported. A great deal of time was given to the investigation of this case and it is doubtful if any additional evidence can be secured.

ANDROSCOGGIN COUNTY.

STATE US. FRANK W. SANFORD.

This matter was previously reported by Attorney-General Honorable George M. Seiders, it appearing that the matter had already been twice tried. The exceptions taken at the trial held in the May term of 1904 of the Supreme Judicial Court in Franklin County, were sustained by the Law Court. During the year 1905, the indictments were returned from Franklin County to Androscoggin County and the case again tried at the September Term, 1905, of the Supreme Judicial Court. This trial resulted in another disagreement.

Upon careful consideration, the county attorney deemed it unwise to try the case again, and at the September Term, 1906, the indictments were nol prossed.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

STATE 7/S. LENA M. BEAN.

On August 10th, 1904, Lena M. Bean who at that time was twenty-three years old and living with her father in Portland, Maine, gave birth to an illegitimate male child. A physician attended her and the child was reported as well developed and healthy. For about six weeks Lena continued to live at her father's house in Portland, taking care of the child with some assistance from a neighbor. This neighbor and the physician who saw the baby from time to time during these six weeks reported the child to be reasonably strong and healthy.

On Monday, October 10th, 1904, Lena sent for an undertaker and told him the baby was dead and asked him to take charge of the body. The undertaker's suspicions were aroused by the terribly emaciated condition of the baby's body and he reported the circumstances to the county authorities. Lena was sent for and closely questioned as to the circumstances of the baby's death. She told some stories which were at variance with information obtained by the authorities in the neighborhood. Finally, upon being confronted with the facts as narrated by a neighbor proving her testimony absolutely false, Lena broke down and confessed that she went to Hollis leaving her baby in bed in the house at Portland; that there was no one else in the house at that time; that when she left she locked all the doors, stayed in Hollis a week and when she returned found the baby dead in the bed. She admitted that when she left the baby it was perfectly healthy and well-nourished and when she went away she intended to stay a week and knew when she left the baby it would have died of starvation when she returned. Pressed to give some reason for her doing what she did, the only answer that could be obtained from her was that she had no way to look out for the baby and had to dispose of it. On these facts, Lena was indicted for murder at the January Term, 1905, of the Superior Court.

On the 18th day of the term, counsel for the respondent pleaded that she was not guilty by reason of insanity and she was ordered committed to the care of the superintendent of the Maine Insane Hospital to be there observed until further order of Court, that the truth or falsity of her plea of insanity might be ascertained. In pursuance of such order, she was committed on the 25th day of January, 1905, and kept under observation at the Insane Hospital until the September term, 1905, when she was reported from that institution as mentally deficient and not responsible for her acts. At the September term of the Superior Court, 1905, the case was opened to the jury and the various facts above related were introduced in evidence. Dr. Bigelow T. Sanborn, at the head of the Maine Insane Hospital, testified as to the mental condition of the respondent above stated.

Under instructions from the Court, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity and the respondent was ordered committed to the Maine Insane Hospital, where she now remains.

STATE 7/S. CARMINE NAVARRO.

On the night of the 21st day of February, 1905, the body of Alphonse Rummo was found lying in the alley back of Wolf Block on Fore Street in Portland, Cumberland county. Examination showed that he had probably died from two cuts with a sharp knife or razor, one on each side of the groin, death doubtless resulting from hemorrhage. He doubtless might have been dead anywhere from two to three hours when found. of the comparatively small traces of blood found near the body. it was suspected that the wounds were inflicted at some other place and the body brought to the spot where found. Places in the vicinity were thoroughly searched and a great deal of time was given to the investigation of the entire case. Among other things it was learned that Carmine Navarro had left the city at noon on the day after the murder and he was finally located in Brooklyn, New York. The authorities also secured information which led them to believe that Navarro was connected with the commission of this crime. Navarro was finally arrested in Brooklyn, New York, and was brought back to Maine. When arrested, what appeared to be blood was discovered on Navarro's clothing and when questioned by the officers he finally made some statements which if true the State claimed would implicate him as one of the persons committing the crime. The officers said that while Navarro admitted some of the cutting at least was done with a razor which belonged to him, yet he claimed that, though present, he did not himself do any of the actual cutting.

The respondent on the 22d day of March, 1905, was held to await the action of the grand jury at the May term of the Superior Court. At this term he was indicted for murder. The trial of the case opened on the 8th day of the term. On the 9th day of the term the respondent offered to retract his plea of not guilty and plead guilty to manslaughter. Upon considering all of the difficulties of the case and the possible uncertainty as to just the extent, morally and legally, the respondent was probably implicated in the crime, the State decided to accept the respondent's offer. He accordingly retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to manslaughter. He was sentenced to five years in the State prison.

The case for the State was conducted by the county attorney and myself.

STATE US. EDWARD F. COLE.

On Easter Sunday of the year 1905 children straying through the woods of West Falmouth found a dead human body bearing evidence of blows upon the head, and the throat cut almost from ear to ear. The proper officers were at once notified and the body was carried to undertaking rooms in the city of Portland where it was later identified as being the body of John F. Steeves.

Investigation was at once instituted and it was learned that Steeves recently came from New Brunswick, had been in Cumberland County but a short time and knew but few people in or about the city of Portland. During most of the time between the day of his coming to Portland and the day of his death he had been in the company of the respondent, Edward F. Cole. Cole was a man of impecunious circumstances and Steeves was known to have brought with him to Portland quite a sum of money in which were some Canadian bills.

After the death of Steeves, Cole had more money than usual in his possession and passed one or more bills corresponding to those which Steeves formerly had. Careful search was made among the people who lived upon the highway leading from Portland to the scene of the murder, many witnesses were found who described two men passing along the highway shortly before the murder and those descriptions tallied with the personal appearance of the respondent, Cole, and his victim, Steeves. A few witnesses saw Cole return alone. The diligence of the officers was redoubled and much other evidence obtained which led to the arrest of Cole on the 28th of April, on which day he was arraigned before the municipal court of Portland. continuances of the preliminary hearing were had and on May 12th, 1905, Cole was held without bail for the action of the grand jury. An indictment for murder was found against Cole and upon his arraignment at the September term of the Superior Court, 1905, he pleaded not guilty. The trial resulted in a disagreement of the jury but at the January term, 1906, of the Superior Court, a second trial resulted in a verdict of guilty. Cole was sentenced to imprisonment in the State prison for and during his natural life and was committed to prison February 5, 1906.

The case for the State was conducted by the county attorney and the assistant attorney general.

HANCOCK COUNTY.

STATE US. NETTIE GRAY.

In the latter part of December, 1905, Mrs. Mareba Soper, widow, was living with her mother, Mrs. Nettie Gray in Penobscot, Hancock county. At that time suspicion was aroused in the neighborhood that Mrs. Soper had given birth to an illegitimate child and that the child unlawfully met its death at Mrs. Gray's house. Investigation was made and early in January, 1906, Mrs. Gray was arrested on the charge of manslaughter and bound over for the action of the grand jury at the April term, 1906, of the Supreme Judicial Court.

In the meantime the case had been further investigated, it was ascertained that a child was born as suspected but the respondent claimed that it died a natural death and that the body was secretly disposed of by her in order to keep quiet so far as possible the fact of the birth of the child.

The case was thoroughly investigated and fully placed before the grand jury at the April term, 1906, but it returned no indictment. It is very doubtful if any further evidence can be found to show that the crime suspected was actually committed.

KENNEBEC COUNTY.

STATE VS ALICE F. COOPER.

On October 10th, 1905, in the town of Windsor, Charles D. Northy, Jr., was found in the house occupied by Mrs. Alice F. Cooper and her husband, Edwin J. Cooper, with a bullet hole through his head, apparently fired from a pistol found upon the floor near at hand. It was learned that Mrs. Cooper had purchased a revolver and cartridges in Augusta some few days before, and upon investigation by the authorities, this, together with other information which they obtained, led to the arrest of Mrs. Alice F. Cooper. She was arrested on the 13th day of October, 1905, the matter being continued before the Municipal Court at Augusta, when she was bound over on the 27th day of October, 1905, to the following term of the Superior Court for Kennebec county. An indictment for murder was found at the January term of the Superior Court for Kennebec county and under the law was certified to the Supreme Judicial Court at the March term, 1906.

Trial of the case was begun on the 2d day of the March term, 1906. Practically upon the drawing of a jury, one of the jurors was taken ill and the jury discharged. On the 7th day of the term, the trial began anew by the drawing of a new jury. At the trial the State showed the previous purchase of the pistol and cartridges by the respondent, and also other facts and circumstances which it claimed supported the theory of the respondent's guilt. The respondent denied that she fired the fatal shot and claimed that Charles D. Northy wrested the pistol from her hand and inflicted the fatal wound upon himself by his own act.

Very many witnesses were called. The case was on trial for 32 days (probably the longest criminal trial of the kind ever held in the State of Maine) and attracted a great deal of interest throughout many parts of the United States. The jury by their verdict acquitted the defendant.

The case for the State was conducted by the county attorney and myself.

KNOX COUNTY.

STATE vs. John C. Maloney.

On June 27, 1905, the dead body of Mrs. Annie Bishop was found in a small house situated on the road leading from Rockland to Crescent Beach where she had been living with James Maloney and John C. Maloney. The body was lying on its back on a bed in a nearly nude condition with gashes made by a sharp instrument on the head, hand and on other places of the trunk and limbs. Much blood was in evidence and the broken furniture and blood spattered walls of the room indicated a severe struggle. An investigation showed that two persons had opportunity to commit the crime, namely, James Maloney and his son, the respondent, John C. Maloney. Both were placed under arrest and a preliminary hearing was held before Trial Justice C. E. Meservey on June 20, at which time the father was released and John C. Maloney held to await the action of the grand jury. The evidence disclosed the fact that both father and son were much under the influence of liquor on the day of the crime. Witnesses were found who saw the respondent shortly after the discovery of the homicide and who testified as to the condition of the respondent and as to blood marks on his hands and other convicting evidence. At the September term of the Supreme Court for 1905 an indictment was found against the respondent for manslaughter and on motion of his counsel he was committed to the Maine Insane Hospital there to be retained and observed by the superintendent of the hospital until further order of the Court. At the December term the case was continued and at the April term, 1906, there was a trial which resulted in a verdict of manslaughter. The respondent was sentenced to eight years imprisonment in the State prison. Exceptions were taken by the respondent's counsel but at the July term of the Law Court in Portland the entry was made, "Exceptions overruled for want of prosecution. Judgment for the State. If respondent is in custody on this day mittimus be issued forthwith, in vacation." Upon this order mittimus was issued on July 6, 1906, and the respondent was committed to the State prison.

The case for the State was conducted by the county attorney and the assistant attorney general.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

STATE VS. ARTHUR H. McFARLAND.

On some day near the end of July, 1905, Dr. George E. Woodside was shot in the town of Bristol, Lincoln county, and died. Upon investigation, Arthur H. McFarland was arrested on the 26th day of July, arraigned before a trial justice, when probable cause was found and the respondent was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. At the following October term of the Supreme Judicial Court, Arthur H. McFarland was indicted for manslaughter. It appeared that McFarland, who was about fifteen years old, was playing with several other boys in front of Poland stable in New Harbor village, in the town of Bristol, he having a revolver in his possession and one of the other boys a single-shot pistol; and that Dr. Woodside drove by in his team while near him was a young man walking named Ira Burnside. The State urged at the trial that young McFarland while trying to scare Burnside by pointing the pistol at him, accidentally discharged it and shot the doctor. The State could not find any witness who actually saw the shot fired, McFarland being in a covered delivery wagon at the time, but one of the boys testified he heard McFarland say "Look out, Ira" and the shot followed immediately. The defense claimed that McFarland was unloading the revolver and being unfamiliar with such a weapon accidentally exploded it. The respondent was acquitted by the verdict of the jury.

OXFORD COUNTY.

STATE VS. RALPH L. YOUNG.

The respondent, Ralph L. Young, was indicted and tried at the October term of the Supreme Judicial Court in 1905 in Oxford county for manslaughter. The State claimed that the respondent, a diminutive 14-year-old boy, carelessly shot a boy companion at the close of a day's hunting. He was acquitted by verdict of the jury.

STATE US. WESLEY CHICK.

On the 6th of December, 1905, in a wayside house about two miles from Kezar Falls postoffice, occurred the brutal murder of David Varney. Mr. Varney was an aged man and for many years had given a home to Sarah Day, a woman of an age almost equal to that of Mr. Varney. The respondent, Wesley Chick, a nephew of Sarah Day, was a frequent visitor and laborer at the house of Mr. Varney. Mr. Varney through the sale of cattle and from other sources had acquired a large sum of money but being distrustful of banks carried the money on his person. From time to time he showed it to his neighbors and the case disclosed that the respondent knew of the existence of the money and that Mr. Varney kept it in his pocket. In the late hours of the short December afternoon, Mr. Varney went to his barn to do the ordinary chores and soon afterward was found dead as a result of a gunshot wound. Neighbors were summoned and, as a result of certain evidence early discovered in the case, search was made for Wesley Chick. He was later found, arrested and brought before Trial Justice L. A. Wardsworth on the 8th of December, 1905, where he was held for the action of the grand jury. An indictment for murder was found against Chick at the March term of the Supreme Judicial Court for the year 1906 held at South Paris. At that term Chick was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Trial was had resulting in a verdict of guilty of murder and the respondent was sentenced to imprisonment for life in the State Prison at hard labor, the warrant of commitment being issued March 24, 1906. The guilt of the respondent was clearly established by the large amount of evidence gathered. Even much of the money of Mr. Varney was found upon the person of Chick and identified by neighbors who had seen the sum of money.

The case for the State was conducted by the county attorney and the assistant attorney general.

STATE VS. HENRY H. FARRINGTON.

Early in the month of April, 1906, Eugene Bryant and Henry H. Farrington jointly occupied a wood-chopper's camp not far from the village of East Sumner and on the 3d of April Farrington came to the store of E. P. Russell in that village and told the persons whom he found there that he and Bryant had been drinking that day, had become involved in a dispute and, according to Farrington's statement, Bryant threatened to shoot and in self-defense Farrington raised his gun, discharged it at Bryant and instantly killed him.

Investigation was made and Bryant's body was found in the camp with a revolver loosely held in one hand. Farrington was arrested still claiming that he shot in self-defense and was arraigned before Merritt Parsons, Trial Justice, on April 5, 1906, where he was held to await the action of the grand jury. At the October term of the Supreme Court held at South Paris an indictment for manslaughter was found against Farrington to which he pleaded not guilty. The trial resulted in a verdict of manslaughter and the court imposed a sentence of one year in the county jail.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

STATE US. JAMES E. LAWLESS.

On September 10, 1904, James E. Lawless at Bangor, Penobscot county, struck Lambert G. Newkirk in the face breaking the bones of the nose and causing a rupture of the middle meningeal artery. Upon investigation, the State claimed that a clot of blood formed on the brain and Newkirk died about five hours after the blow was struck. Lawless was arrested on the charge of manslaughter and bound over to the February term, 1905, of the Supreme Judicial Court for Penobscot county, Later he was re-arrested on the charge of murder and held without bail for the February term of the supreme judicial court, 1905. At the February term, 1905, he was indicted and tried for manslaughter, the jury disagreeing. At the August term, 1905, of the Supreme Judicial Court, Lawless pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to two years in the county jail.

STATE US. ELMER L. KEYES.

On the evening of June 25th, 1905, at Bangor, Penobscot county, Isabelle Keyes, wife of Elmer L. Keyes, was shot in the house where she was then living and expired a few minutes thereafter. Upon investigation, it was discovered that the fatal shot was undoubtedly fired by said Elmer L. Keyes, he having shot himself immediately after the shooting of his wife. Mr. Keyes was taken to the Eastern Maine Hospital at Bangor and recovered from the shot inflicted upon himself. On July 7th, 1905, he was arrested, brought before the municipal court at Bangor and held to await the action of the grand jury. At the August term, 1905, of the Supreme Judicial Court for Penobscot county, he was indicted and tried for murder. It was shown, among other things, by the State at the trial, that on Sunday, June 25, Mr. Keyes who was then living at Oldtown and was station agent for the Maine Central Railroad Company at Great Works, took a revolver from his office and came to Bangor; that he went to the house where his wife was then living with their two young children; that his wife was not at home and that he awaited her return in the evening; that during the evening other people in the house were disturbed by outcries on the part of Mrs. Keyes; that some of them appeared upon the scene immediately after Mrs. Keyes was shot, finding the respondent with the pistol then in hand and seeing him shoot himself. The testimony was very strong to show that the fatal shot was fired by the respondent. The defense set up insanity which really proved to be the principal issue in the case. The respondent had been under observation by the State authorities and was examined by various experts in his own behalf. The defense claimed that the insanity was of a form which at that time was periodical, the respondent himself claiming that he knew nothing of what actually took place covering a period of at least the Sunday, June 25th, in question.

The trial was begun on the 16th day of the August term and occupied four days, when the jury found the respondent not guilty by reason of insanity. The respondent was thereafter by order of court committed to the Eastern Maine Insane Hospital at Bangor, there to remain until further order of the court or of a justice thereof, as provided by statute. The respondent was accordingly committed to the Eastern Maine Insane Hospital at Bangor and is there at the present time.

It appeared in the testimony that the respondent and his wife had not lived together pleasantly, and much sympathy appeared to be manifested for the respondent.

The prosecution at the trial was conducted by the county attorney and myself.

STATE 7'S. FRANCISCO GALATI alias FRANCISCO GALATO.

On the early morning of April 4th, 1905, at Millinocket, Penobscot county, the dead body of Francisco Truglio was found not far from the house in which he was then living. Upon investigation it was found that he had been shot several times and suspicion pointed toward Francisco Galati. Galati was arrested on April 5th, 1905, brought before a trial justice and was held to await the action of the grand jury at the August term 1905 of the Supreme Judicial Court.

At the August term Galati was indicted and tried for murder. Galati at the time of the alleged crime, was living in the same house with Truglio, his wife and little daughter, and with two or three other men. On April 3d, 1905, it appeared that Galati complained of not being well and remained about the house during the day and evening. The other men in the house were regularly working among a night crew in a mill at Milli-Truglio returned to the house in the early evening sooner evidently than expected. The State claimed at the trial that Truglio found Galati in the room with Mrs. Truglio and her daughter and under circumstances which aroused Truglio's suspicions, and that Galati thereupon shot Truglio several times killing him, and that the body was afterwards removed from the house to the place where it was found. The respondent claimed that when Truglio found him (Galati) in the room with Mrs. Truglio that he (Truglio) became enraged, seized a shot-gun which was in the room, attempted to load it, threatening to shoot Galati whereupon the latter used his revolver in self-defense. The case was tried at the August term, 1905 and the jury disagreed.

At the February term, 1906, of the Supreme Judicial Court, the case was again in order for trial. It then appeared from thorough examinations of experts selected by both the respondent and the State, that the prisoner was seriously afflicted with consumption and that if confinment in prison, he could scarcely live more than a short term. The respondent offered to plead guilty to the charge of manslaughter. Upon careful consideration, the State, with the strong approval of the chief justice, then presiding, offered to accept the plea of guilty to mansluaghter. The respondent retracted his original plea, pleaded guilty to mansluaghter and was sentenced to ten years in the State prison.

At both said trial terms of the Supreme Judicial Court, the case for the State was conducted by the county attorney and myself.

STATE vs. JOHN P. RANCO.

On Sunday evening, October 22d, 1905, Peter J. Loring, an Indian living upon the Indian Island at Oldtown, Penobscot county, was shot through the abdomen and died. John P. Ranco, another Indian living upon the same island, was arrested charged with the commission of the crime and was indicted and tried for manslaughter at the April term, 1906, of the Supreme Judicial Court for Penobscot county. At the trial it was shown that on Sunday, October 22d, 1905, Peter J. Loring, his wife and John P. Ranco were together through the day, that they were a portion of the time at Loring's house, then at Oldtown and Milford, and again at Loring's house, all having drunk intoxicating liquor more or less freely. Ranco could not be found immediately after the commission of the crime was known and though he later gave himself up, the fact of his apparent hiding, together with other circumstances, led to his being charged with the commission of the crime. The respondent claimed at the time of the trial that Loring practically drove him from his house having in his possession the rifle from which was discharged the fatal shot; that near the house, while in a scuffle, with both men hold of the gun, it was accidently discharged, the bullet piercing Loring's abdomen. The body was found quite near to Loring's house. Mrs. Loring claimed to have retired early, leaving the two men in the house together and to know nothing of what happened between them thereafter. The jury found the respondent guilty and he was sentenced in two vears in State prison.

STATE VS. WILLIAM H. H. BRIGGS.

This was an indictment for murder found at the August term, 1906, of the Supreme Judicial Court sitting at Bangor against the respondent who was a physician and surgeon in regular standing in the city of Bangor. The evidence disclosed at the trial showed that a criminal operation had been performed upon Maude B. Taggett as a result of which she died. Circumstances attending the operation, the subsequent physical condition of the girl, her death and admissions made by the respondent were fully testified to by witnesses for the State. Strong efforts were made for the defense and the case attracted much public interest. After nearly a week's trial, the verdict of the jury was guilty of manslaughter and on September 1st, 1906, the respondent was sentenced to three years in the State prison.

The case for the State was conducted by the county attorney and the assistant attorney general.

SOMERSET COUNTY.

STATE US. RUFUS BROWN, JR.

On the evening of April 20th, 1905, at Athens, Somerset county, William Knights was assaulted and killed. Investigation disclosed that the affair took place in the neighborhood known as "Happy Hollow" in said Athens, and some twelve or fifteen miles from Skowhegan. It was discovered at once that the deceased was undoubtedly killed by Rufus Brown, Jr. Brown was arrested and at the preliminary hearing in the municipal court at Skowhegan, April 26th, 1905, was held to await the action of the grand jury at the September term following.

Brown claimed that Knights was in his (Brown's) house and in compromising relations with his (Brown's) wife. Brown went to a neighboring house, obtained a gun, returned to his home, shot at the house and as Knights was coming out of the door, assaulted him with the gun clubbing him so as to cause the latter's death.

Possibly the evidence might have justified an indictment for murder but after a thorough investigation and consideration of the case by the county attorney and the grand jury, the grand jury evidently thought it best to return an indictment for manslaughter, the county attorney apparently having assurance that the respondent would plead guilty to this charge. Accordingly at the September term, 1905, Brown was indicted for manslaughter, arraigned and pleaded guilty. On the 28th day of September 1905, he was sentenced to twenty years in State prison to which he was committed October 6th, 1905.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

STATE VS. GEORGE S. WEST.

In the evening of August 9th, 1905, at Milbridge, Washington county, Harvey S. Foster was stabbed and after lapse of some days died.

Upon immediate investigation, the criminal assault was charged upon George S. West who was arrested August 10th, 1905, and bound over on the charge of assault with intent to kill, to the October term, 1905, of the Supreme Judicial Court for Washington county. At the October term, 1905, Foster having died in the meantime from the effect of the wound, George S. West was indicted for manslaughter.

Both West and Foster were residents of Milbridge. Early in the evening of the said August oth, West left his home which was about three miles below the village and went with some companions to the village to a skating-rink. When the rink closed at ten o'clock, the young men walked up the street a short distance and Foster and two or three of his friends stopped at the steps of a store in the village. As West was crossing the road some few yards from where Foster was sitting, he exchanged some irrating language with one of Foster's friends and which Foster resented. This resulted in an altercation and a fight in which the State claimed that West was the aggressor. In the scuffle the men fell, Foster falling on top. The bystanders finally separated the two men and as soon as Foster got on his feet, blood was found trickling down his bosom and it was discovered that he had been stabbed. He bled profusely, was assisted to a physician's office, remained there all night, and was taken to his home the following morning. Blood poisoning developed and the patient died August 18th, nine days after the assault.

The defense claimed in substance that the stabbing occurred while the two men were on the ground and in self-defense, and also that after the injury Foster did not receive proper treatment and attention. The jury found the respondent guilty and he was sentenced to five years in the State prison.

STATE VS. ANASTASIOS STEAFFINEAU.

On October 30th, 1905, at Biddeford, York county, Anastos Costa was stabbed in the abdomen and died. Both Costa and Steaffineau were Greeks and worked for the Laconia corporation in Biddeford. These men had lived in this country some ten months. On the morning of said October 30th, these two men were working in the Laconia Manufacturing Company's mills picking over cotton. It appears that they got into a controversy in regard to an assault committed on a boy at some time previous. Costa, the deceased man, it was proved, called the defendant various names and used other insulting language toward him. Steaffineau, the defendant, was seated on a basket picking over cotton. Costa came along and grabbed a cotton basket and struck the respondent over the head. Then the respondent immediately rushed upon Costa and stabbed him with a knife which he drew from his pocket. The respondent ran from the mill and attempted to escape. The wounded man was given medical aid but died that day, after making to the chief of police a brief statement of what had occured between him and the respondent. In the meantime the respondent had been captured upon the Alfred road. A very sharp dirk knife together with a sheath which apparently fitted the same was found upon his person. The knife appeared to be covered with spots of blood. The respondent was arrested and held for the January term, 1906, of the Supreme Judicial Court for York county. At the January term he was indicted for manslaughter and tried.

The defense claimed that the respondent did only what was necessary to defend his own life; that the deceased man, Costa, made an assault upon the respondent and attempted to draw a knife and then the respondent did what he did to ward off the assault of Costa. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty and the respondent was sentenced to eight years in the State prison.

OTHER CASES INVESTIGATED.

This department has given a great deal of time and effort to management and assistance in the investigation of some thirteen other cases that seemed possibly cases of murder or manslaughter. After painstaking and thorough investigations, many of these cases have been found to be clearly cases of suicide or accident and the crimes of murder and manslaughter clearly eliminated. In some few of these cases where possibly crimes were committed, the guilty parties managed to elude the officers evidently getting a quick start beyond the boundaries of the State and the authorities have not been able to locate them. In a few of the cases the State has not yet secured sufficient evidence to warrant the institution of criminal proceedings. Two of these cases have attracted considerable interest throughout the State and they are the so-called Robbins case and the so-called Mattie Hackett case.

WILLIAM ROBBINS CASE.

In the month of December, 1904, William Robbins, a resident of Deer Isle, Hancock county, was living alone in a small house situated on a point or neck of land making out on the eastern side of Deer Isle, his house being not far from the shore. The facts show that sometime during the very last of December, 1904, or early January, 1905, William Robbins came to his death in his house from a gunshot wound through the back of his neck. A very great amount of work has been done in investigating this case and no time or expense has been spared by the county and State. As yet, however, it is felt that sufficient evidence has not been obtained to warrant the institution of any criminal proceedings.

MATTIE HACKETT CASE.

On August 7th, 1905, Mattie Hackett, a young girl, was living with her father and mother on a farm in the outskirts of the town of Readfield, Kennebec county. In the early evening of that day Mrs. Hackett, the mother of Mattie, was at a neighbor's. Mr. Hackett, her father, was at work doing some things about the stable. With Mr. Hackett was a stranger, Mr. Johnson. Mr. Hackett and Mr. Johnson left Mattie at the house, were gone to the stable but comparatively few moments, and returned to find her missing. The father, attracted by some noise along the traveled road running by the house, hastened in that direction and found his daughter Mattie upon the ground near the roadside and practically unconscious. The place where she was found was a short distance, probably a few hundred feet, from the house.

Mrs. Hackett was summoned and Mattie taken home. The girl finally expired either just before or soon after reaching the house. It was soon discovered that there was wound about her throat and firmly tied a small rope or cord and that her death was doubtless due to strangulation.

In this case also a tremendous amount of work has been done and neither time nor expense has been spared by both county and State officials. As yet, however, it is felt that sufficient evidence has not been obtained to warrant the institution of any criminal proceedings.

COUNTY ATTORNEYS.

In most if not all of the foregoing cases this department has given a great deal of time to the assistance of the county attorneys in the investigation and preparation of the cases other than wherein our actual appearance is shown as herein noted. We have had conferences with them at Augusta and have visited nearly every section of the State in assisting in these mattters. in various instances appearing personally with the county attornev before the grand juries. We have also advised with and assisted the county attorneys in conferences and in preparation of various criminal cases of importance, such as arson, assaults with intent to kill, serious assaults, as well as rendered them assistance in matters sometimes of a less serious nature. It is unnecessary to add that one cannot well appreciate the amount of time and labor necessarily involved in the criminal work of this department unless he had actually attended himself to all these duties required.

The county attorneys in the various counties have appeared to be generally active and efficient in their duties and have performed their duties with ability in all cases in which this department has been actively associated with them.

OFFICERS.

The State has reason to congratulate itself upon the whole in having a State so well officered. The sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, city marshals and other similar officers have shown a great amount of zeal and ability in their work and they apparently have always been ready to render this department courteous, prompt and efficient service whenever and wherever called upon to do so.

The so-called appropriation for arrest and apprehension of criminals now seems to me almost indespensable in the assistance of this department. It has often given us the opportunity to secure prompt and able assistance in connection with the investigation of important cases. Out of the total appropriations for this purpose for the years 1905 and 1906, there remains unexpended $570.71. We have been very careful to try to see this fund was used without waste and to advantage.

OTHER MATTERS IN COURT.

STATE VS. BOSTON & PORTLAND EXPRESS COMPANY.

This case was reported by my predecessor, Attorney-General George M. Seiders and was for the collection of franchise taxes for the years 1898 and 1899. The decision of the law court has been announced in favor of the State and the amount due has been paid by the express company to the State treasurer.

STATE US. CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY.

This case was reported by my predecessor, Attorney-General George M. Seiders, and was for the collection of taxes for the year 1902. The decision of the law court has been announced in favor of the State and the railway company has paid to the State treasurer the principal amount of the tax due. Counsel for the railway company urges that the company should not be made to pay the interest penalty as it claimed it carried to the court legal questions submitted in good faith, and he desires to ask the legislature to remit the collection of this interest penalty. A session of the legislature is near at hand. Under the circumstances I shall await further instructions from the legislature as to enforcement or otherwise of the interest penalty to which the corporation in question may perhaps be technically subject.

CASES ARISING UNDER R. S., CHAP. 16, SEC. 16.

1. By information of Hannibal E. Hamlin, Attorney-General, Farragut Post No. 27 of Bridgton, Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Maine, relator, vs. the property in Bridgton, Maine, known as the old Baptist Meeting House, or "perticular Baptist Meeting House," Julia Kimball of Boston, Mass., Almira H. Hall of Winnibago, Minn., and all persons interested therein.

This is a proceeding in equity in the nature of information, dated October 14th, A. D. 1905, and the matter is now pending in the Supreme Judicial Court in the County of Cumberland. These proceedings are instituted under R. S. Chapter 16, Section 33. It is claimed that the church property in question was dedicated and ordained for pious uses; that it has no proper or legal custodian and that it is becoming wasted and the utility thereof lost, etc. The bill prays, in substance, that a trustee may be appointed to care for the property in question in such manner as will best serve certain claimed patriotic purposes stated, and that the said trustees by decree of the court be authorized and directed to convey the property to said Farragut Post No. 27, or to said Farragut Post and other patriotic organizations in Bridgton, or to trustees named by the court, to be devoted by said organization or by said trustees for the claimed patriotic purposes in the bill specified.

2. By information of Hannibal E. Hamlin, Attorney-General, the Maine Baptist Missionary Convention, relator, vs. the property in Webster, Maine, formerly occupied by the Sabattus Baptist Church, and all persons interested therein.

This also is a proceeding in equity in the nature of an information and the matter is now pending in the Supreme Judicial Court in Androscoggin county. These proceedings also are instituted under R. S. Chapter 16, Section 33. It is claimed that the church property in question was dedicated and ordained for pious uses; that it has no proper or legal custodian and that it is becoming wasted and the utility thereof lost, etc. The bill prays in substance that trustees may be appointed to care for the property in question; that said trustees by decree of the court may be authorized, empowered and directed to make conveyance of the property, conveying the same to any person who may become a purchaser thereof upon and for such consideration as may to the officers of said convention seem to be suitable, and that the proceeds thereof may be put into the treasury of the Maine Baptist Missionary Convention and applied to the uses and purposes for which it exists, alleging that they are the same as those to which the property was originally dedicated and ordained.

3. By information of Hannibal E. Hamlin, Attorney-General, A. E. Dudley, et alii, relators vs. property in Monmouth, county of Kennebec and State of Maine, known as the Christian Chapel, situated on the north side of Main street in the village of North Monmouth, so-called, and all persons interested therein.

This is also a proceeding in equity, in the nature of information instituted under Revised Statutes, Chapter 16, Section 33, dated November 22, A. D. 1906, and now pending in the Supreme Judicial Court in the county of Kennebec. It is claimed that the church or chapel in question was erected and has heretofore been maintained by the Christian Church, socalled, and was dedicated and ordained for pious uses; that the local society has been greatly reduced in membership, and that the property has no proper or legal custodian so that the same is liable to be wasted and the utility thereof lost.

The bill contained the customary prayers for the appointment of trustees and for orders and decrees of court regarding the care, custody, sale, application or disposal of said property as will best serve the purposes for which it was originally intended or some public or patriotic purpose. Certain persons representing the remaining members of the local Christian Society have appeared to oppose any such orders or decrees as will take the property completely cut of the custody or care of the Maine Christian Conference or the local Christian Society. The case is still pending, awaiting the possible amicable adjustment of the controversy between the interested parties. This case is being conducted in court in behalf of the petitioners by the assistant attorney general.

UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE TAX.

In the early part of April, 1906, the matter of claim of the United States against the State of Maine Liquor Commissioner that the latter should pay a United States internal revenue tax under United States Internal Revenue laws, was referred to this department in behalf of the State. We at once took the matter up and have given it much time and attention. We had investigation made here and obtained such information as we thought might have an influence with the federal government over the question involved. As the annual tax in question covered a period of several years, and as any ruling of the department would be a precedent for the future, after more or less correspondence, I finally appeared personally before the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington, argued the matter orally, and submitted a brief with such authorities cited therein as we could find which might possibly lean in any way favorable toward the State. The department of the federal government presses its claim against the State of Maine liquor commissioner, relying largely upon the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case South Carolina vs. United States, 199 U. S. 437, wherein a tax was sustained. The matter against our State Commissioner is still pending awaiting the decision of the United States Internal Revenue Commissioner.

PETITIONS BY THE LAND AGENT FOR LOCATION OF PUBLIC LOTS.

By virtue of the act of 1905 enlarging the duties of the attorney general petitions by the land agent for the location of public lots are now prepared and presented to the supreme court by this department, wherever necessary, in the various wild land counties, so called, and trials arising out of these petitions, are now conducted by this department. Thus far five cases of this nature have arisen since the act of 1905 became effective, all of which have been conducted by the assistant attorney general. Four of the petitions were for the location of public lots in Aroostook county, namely, two in Stockholm, one in Westmanland and one in Hammond. All of these have resulted favorably to the State and locations have been made and recorded in accordance with the statutes. The fifth petition was for location of public lots in Elliottsville, in the county of Piscataguis. This case involved many questions of law and, by direction of the presiding justice who heard the case at nisi prius, was referred for the determination of the questions involved, to the law court where it is now pending.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE STATE UNDER THE STATE PAUPER ACT.

In August, 1905, the town of Oakland, in the county of Kennebec, presented to the governor and council a claim for reimbursement from the State on account of support given by the town of Oakland to Burton M. Watts, an insane pauper. On September 7, 1905, the governor and council referred the claim to the Committee on Insane Hospitals. That committee investigated the claim and was of the opinion that it was not one which came under the provisions of law requiring the State to reimburse towns for supplies furnished to paupers. The town employed counsel to urge its claim, and finally the governor and council requested the assistant attorney general to also investigate the claim and if he were not satisfied that the State should reimburse, he was empowered to join with counsel for the town in a reference of the controversy to Hon. Albert M. Spear, justice of the Supreme Judicial Court, whose finding upon the question of the legal liability of the State or otherwise, should be accepted as final. The town through its counsel agreed to this reference. A large number of depositions became necessary, many of them from persons residing out of the State, so that progress has been slow and the case is still pending.

LAWS OF 1905, CHAPTER 162.

I cannot but feel that the above act of 1905, providing in substance for an office for our department at Augusta and for our advising and acting for the various departments of the State government, with its provision for a deputy or assistant attorney-general, was wise legislation. I am satisfied it has resulted on the whole in a great saving to the State and has been a convenience to persons generally throughout the State having business relations with our department. It has of course increased very largely the business of the attorney-general's department and the amount of this business is still continually increasing.

All matters relative to approval of certificates of incorporation and the granting of excuses to corporations from making returns as provided by law, receive attention at our Augusta office. The large number of corporation certificates which we are annually approving shows that Maine seems to be a desirable State in which to organize business corporations under our general law. While our general corporation laws are liberal in some respects, yet in others they practically give the attorneygeneral's department an opportnuity to prevent many abuses by careful scrutiny of the purposes of these corporations before approval of any certificate. The tendency of modern times is to enlarge these purposes and certificates for approval constantly come to this office covering twenty pages and upwards of closely typewritten matter. All of these must be closely scrutinized and very much more time is necessarily required in the examination and approval of certificates of incorporation than was required but a short time ago.

A record in duplicate, one for the permanent files at the Augusta office and one for my own inspection at Ellsworth, setting forth in full the purposes for which each corporation was organized together with all the other data which the statute requires shall be found in the certificate of organization, is made at the Augusta office. Such record for both offices seems to be indispensable for the proper conduct of this branch of the work.

Between the dates of January 1st, and June 30, 1905, both inclusive, I approved 554 certificates of organization of corporations under the general law, and in the same time I excused 215 corporations from filing returns in the office of Secretary of State. During the remainder of the year 1905, 446 certificates of organization of corporations were approved, and 90 corporations were excused from filing annual returns in the office of the Secretary of State. From January 1, 1906, to November 30, 1906, both inclusive, 975 certificates of organization of corporations were approved, and 268 corporations were excused from filing annual returns in the office of the Secretary of State. Practically all matters relative to the approval of certificates of organization and excusing corporations from filing returns, since July I, 1905, have received attention at the hands of the Assistant Attorney General. As the fee for each excuse and each approval is $5 and as these fees after the act of 1905 became effective on July 1st, of that year, were turned over to the State Treasurer by the Assistant Attorney General, it will be seen that from the time when the act of 1905, above referred to, became operative, down to December 1, 1906, this department yielded a revenue to the state of $8,895.

Under the provisions of Revised Statutes, chapter 8, section 22, the treasurer of State reports to the attorney general a list of corporations whose franchise taxes remain unpaid for a period of six months after the same shall have become payable and from the list of delinquent corporations thus reported to our department we have made collection as follows:

From delinquent taxes of 1903 From delinquent taxes of 1904	$1,035 8,835
From delinquent taxes of 1905 Total	9,225 $19,005

The work of collecting overdue taxes has been performed by the Assistant Attorney General. No small amount of labor has been involved in this task. In a large number of cases the delinquent corporations had failed to make returns to the office of Secretary of State showing the list of officers and their addresses so that notices which had been sent by the State Treasurer to the last known address of the officers of each corporation had been returned uncalled for and the addresses unfound. Systematic search of the records in the office of the Secretary of State was made. The place where, and the attorneys by whom, the corporations were organized were hunted up and from these sources, and others, many addresses of officers were found, notices properly sent and collections made. The results have justified and rewarded the labor expended upon this task.

With the volume of criminal work which this department has carried, with the great amount of time and care which must be devoted to corporation matters, and with the addition of the legal work of the various other departments of the State government thrust upon the department of the attorney general, it would have been absolutely impossible for any one person to have performed all the work since the act of 1905 went into effect without some assistance.

When the act of 1905 went into effect, I immediately appointed as deputy or assistant attorney general, Honorable Warren C. Philbrook of Waterville. He has been of invaluable assistance to me and has performed all the work intrusted to his care with a marked degree of fidelity and ability.

I have no doubt as time goes on it may be deemed wise to amend certain parts of the act in question, or have some additional legislation in connection therewith. For example, section 5 of the act relates to the enforcement of due application of funds given or appropriated to public charities within the State and preventing breaches of trust in the administration thereof.

It would seem as if this section 5 may have been inserted in the line of similar statutes in other states, but where they have additional statutes covering this subject matter. No complaint has been made to us under this act of the misapplication or misappropriation of funds or breaches of trust under said section 5. I should recommend especially that some act be passed requiring the various registers of probate to notify the attorney general's department of any records in their offices relating to the subject matter of section 5, transmitting duly attested copies thereof, and also that examination be made of the statutes of some other states to determine what further legislation if any may be needed relative to this subject matter.

Out of the appropriations for the expenses of the attorney general's department for the years 1905 and 1906, there remains an unused balance of $1,384.25. With the constantly increasing business of the department, the necessary expenses will unavoidably increase and the appropriations for the coming two years should not be lessened.

QUARTERS FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT.

While the superintendent of public buildings has done everything in his power for us and while many officials connected with other departments having offices located in the State House have been most courteous and accommodating in arranging for quarters of this department, we have been obliged to occupy the judiciary committee room for the past eighteen months and will be compelled probably to use the small room connected with the State library during the legislative session. It would seem as if a department of this importance to the State government should be provided with permanent quarters of a convenient character, and where we could have some private as well as a general office, and also a working law library sufficient for daily use. This would seem to be so great a necessity that I sincerely hope the legislature may find its way to make some suitable provision for us.

This department has been practically in daily conference with officials connected with various other departments of the State government constantly giving oral opinions and advice. We have also given various written opinions, some few of which, and among the most important, may be found in substance on subsequent pages.

Much of the work of this department is of such character that it necessarily cannot well be set forth in any written report.

Respectfully submitted,

HANNIBAL E. HAMLIN,

Attorney General.

STATE ROADS. REIMBURSEMENT TO TOWNS BY STATE.

R. S. Chap. 23., Secs. 99-105 inclusive, P. L. 1905, Chap. 115. In February, 1905, an inquiry was submitted to us from the governor and council under communication made to them by the commissioner of highways, asking, in substance, if towns would be reimbursed for the amount expended for state road construction regardless of the amount appropriated by the towns.

On February 15, 1906, opinion was rendered to the governor and council as follows:

Referring to the inquiry of Hon. Paul D. Sargent, Commissioner of Highways, to you under date of December 14, 1905, and referred by you to me relative to the reimbursement of towns for amount expended in permanent improvement of State roads, so called, I have the honor to report as follows:

I have examined carefully, Revised Statutes, chapter 23, sections 99 to 105 inclusive and the amendments to the same appearing in the Public Laws of the year 1905. Revised Statutes, chapter 23, section 100 before the amendment of 1905 read as follows:

"Towns establishing State roads as aforesaid may, on complying with the conditions hereinafter set forth, receive from the State one-half of the amount actually expended in permanent improvement of said roads, not exceeding two hundred dollars a year; provided that no town shall receive such State aid unless its appropriation and expenditure for such road shall amount to at least one hundred dollars and shall have been exclusive of and in addition to the amount regularly raised in such town for highways and bridges; and provided also, that the amount so expended shall be used before the first day of September in permanent improvement of a continuous portion of said road, and in a manner satisfactory to the county commissioners of the county wherein said road is located. Such aid shall be paid from the State treasury on and after the first day of January, upon certificate by the governor and council as provided by the following section."

Said section 100 as amended by chapter 115 of said laws of 1905, approved March 21, 1905, reads as follows:

"Towns establishing State roads as aforesaid may, on complying with the conditions hereinafter set forth, receive from the State one-half of the amount actually expended in permanent improvement of said roads, not exceeding three hundred dollars a year; provided, that no town shall receive such State aid unless its expenditure for such road shall amount to at least one hundred dollars, and shall have been exclusive of and in addition to the amount regularly raised in such town for highways and bridges; and provided, also, that the amount so expended shall be used before the first day of October in permanent improvement of a portion of said road, and in a manner satisfactory to the county commissioners of the county wherein said road is located. Said permanent improvement shall be on a continuous portion of said road for at least one year. shall be paid from the State treasury on and after the first day of January, upon certificate by the governor and council, as provided by the following section."

It will be perceived that before this amendment no town should receive State aid unless its appropriation and expenditure for such road should amount to at least $100, etc., etc. Under the amendment, it appears that the town may receive such aid if its expenditure for such road shall amount to at least $100, etc., etc. Manifestly the legislature purposely removed the word "appropriation" from said section 100. In my opinion, as the law now stands, the amendment is effective to carry out the manifest intention of the legislature so far as this point is concerned and a town may receive State aid if its expenditure shall amount to at least $100, etc., etc.

That I am right as to the apparent intention of the legislature would appear from the fact that under Resolves for said year 1905, chapter 166, the legislature endeavored to reimburse very many towns where probably they had actually expended money when they had not technically complied with the provisions of the statute for reimbursement so far as the town appropriation was concerned. The legislature, therefore, of 1905, reimbursed certain towns as noted and amended the general law as stated. It will be further noticed that the legislature intended their amendment to go into effect at once because contrary to the general custom, chapter 115 of the laws of 1905 was passed to take effect when approved. The clause making laws go into effect upon their approval is not generally added to a public law unless there is some special reason or intention for it.

Section 101 of said chapter 23 as amended by chapter 115 of the laws of 1905 still requires municipal officers of towns improving State roads, so called, to make returns annually under oath to the county commissioners of their county of the amount appropriated and expended by their town in the permanent improvement, etc., upon said State roads. Although municipal officers under this section must make returns of the amount appropriated, yet to my mind this cannot read the word appropriation into said section 100 as now amended, in the face of its express removal by the legislature as above stated. The two sections (sections 100 and 101) can and do stand together and need not be in necessary conflict. Towns may receive aid if they have expended the proper amount, while the municipal officers must still make returns of the amount appropriated (which may be something or nothing) and the amount expended, etc., etc.

Of course, this opinion has only reference to the question of expenditure and appropriation; other provisions of the statute must still be complied with. For example, the expenditure must be exclusive of and in addition to the amount regularly raised in the town for highways and bridges. The amount so expended must be used before the first day of October for the permanent improvement of the roads in a manner satisfactory to the county commissioners of the county in which the said road is located. The permanent improvement shall be on a continuous portion of the road for at least one year, etc., etc. The only question submitted to me has been with reference to expenditure and appropriation.

STATE ROADS. PLANTATIONS INCLUDED UNDER PROVISIONS OF

R. S. Chap. 23, Secs. 99-105 inclusive, and amendments thereto. In May, 1906, the commissioner of highways submitted to us the question as to whether or not the State road law, so called, applies to plantations.

On May 16, 1906, opinion was rendered to the commissioner of highways, as follows:

"We have examined the laws relative to your inquiries as to whether or not the State road law applies to plantations.

Revised Statutes, chapter 23, section 105, reads as follows:

"The word 'town' in the six preceding sections shall be construed as meaning cities, towns or organized plantations. Nothing therein contained shall be construed as changing the existing control of highways by counties or towns or as limiting or changing their liabilities therefor."

It would appear, therefore, as if the legislature expressly intended that plantations should receive the benefits of the State road law. Your attention, however, is called to the fact that in order to enable the city, town or plantation to obtain the benefit of the State road law certain requirements must be fulfilled. It is my opinion that such plantations as may be able to fulfill those requirements and do so, will receive the benefits provided for by such state road law.

We have not investigated the earlier statutes or all of the possible special acts of the legisature under which some of the existing plantations have been organized. In each individual case, it may perhaps be advisable to investigate into the organization of the plantation or any special acts which have been passed in connection therewith to ascertain as to all of the powers and purposes of the plantation thus acquired.

EXPENSE ACCOUNT OF STATE AND COUNTY OFFICERS.

P. L. 1905, Chap. 49. Its application to officers and members of the National Guard.

In June, 1905, the question was submitted to us by the Secretary of State under direction of the governor and council upon request of the adjutant general asking, in substance, if the law of 1905, chapter 49, requiring officers to render bills of expenses applied to commissioned officers, non-commissioned officers and other members of the National Guard.

Laws of 1905, chapter 49, as follows:

"Section 1. Every state and county officer whenever required by law to render a bill of expenses, shall itemize the same and make oath before presenting it for auditing or payment, that it includes only actual cash outlay while in the performance of his official duties.

Section 2. This act shall take effect when approved."

On June 24, 1905, opinion was rendered to the Secretary of State, as follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge your letter of the 20th inst. referring to me a communication from the adjutant general to the governor of Maine, asking, in substance, if the law of 1905, chapter 49, requiring State officers to render bills of expenses, applies to commissioned officers, non-commissioned officers, and other members of the National Guard.

The words, "State officer," may perhaps be used differently in different statutes. In the statute in question, however, I am inclined to the opinion that the words, "State officer," are intended to include such officers as receive their pay direct from the State, so that when bills are presented against the State, the State shall have the benefit of an itemized statement under oath as provided. If the bills in question are bills which can properly be paid by the adjutant general out of funds properly turned over to him, his itemized account and oath I should think would be practical and sufficient compliance with the law."

BIRTHS. RECORD OF IN UNINCORPORATED PLACES.

In December, 1905, the question was submitted to us by the Department of Vital Statistics as to where the report of a birth in an unincorporated place should be returned under R. S., chapter 61, section 26.

On January 3, 1906, opinion was rendered to the secretary and registrar of vital statistics, as follows:

"When at Augusta, I have tried several times to see you personally with reference to the inquiry made by you as to where the report of a birth in an unincorporated place should be returned, under R. S., chapter 61, section 26. A pressure of other duties has prevented my seeing you as desired.

The question submitted by you has given me considerable trouble, and although I have spent much time in its consideration, am not able, even now, to advise you with absolute certainty.

R. S., chapter 61, section 26, reads as follows:

"When a birth, marriage or death occurs in an unincorporated place, it shall be reported to the town cerk in the town which is nearest to the place at which the birth, marriage or death took place, and shall be recorded by the town clerk to whom the report is made; and all such reports and records shall be made and recorded and returned to the State registrar as is provided herein."

I understand in the case submitted by you, there is an organized plantation keeping a record of these births which is nearer to the place at which the birth took place than is any town. The question, therefore, appears to be whether the report of the birth should be made to such plantation, or to the town nearest the place at which the birth took place.

Upon an examination, I do not find that the court has ever construed this statute in question so far at least as the point under consideration is concerned. Neither have I been able to find much in the way of authority which sheds any light upon the question.

Under rules of construction, R. S., chapter 1, section 6, subdivision, XIX, reads as follows:

The word 'town' includes cities and plantations, unless otherwise expressed or implied."

In Small v. Lufkin, 56 Me., page 30, our court has held, "the assessors of organized plantations are subject to the performance of the duties devolving on the municipal officers of towns in relation to perambulation." In this case the court refer to the general rule that the word "town" in our statutes includes cities and plantations, unless otherwise expressed or implied, and refer to the duties and obligations of plantations as almost identical with those of towns.

In Parker v. Wiliams, 77 Me., page 418, which was a case to enforce a lien claim for personal labor on logs, the court held as follows:

"Attachments of personal property that may be preserved by recording as provided by R. S., chapter 81, section 26, when made in a plantation, which is organized and has a clerk's office, should be there recorded.

A plantation which has a clerk and other plantation officers is not an unincorporated place within the meaning of R. S., c. 81, sec. 26."

In this case the court considered the attachment recorded in the organized plantation good under a statute providing, in substance, that attachments (upon bulky property, etc.) made in towns, are to be there recorded, although another provision in the same statute provided, in substance, that when an attachment is made in an unincorporated place, it shall be recorded in the oldest adjoining town in the county.

I have also been informed from your office that as a matter of practice, these organized plantations are in the habit of keeping these records of births and complying with the statutes relating thereto in the same manner as do towns.

Under the foregoing, I would recommend and advise that the report of the birth in question be made to the clerk of the organized plantation. As indicated, I must confess that I am somewhat uncertain as to whether or not this is the correct view. It may be that the court would hold the statute means literally that the report should be made to the nearest town, rather than any organized plantation. If the matter is of importance, arrangements therefore should be made to have the question raised, and passed upon by the court, or else the statute amended at the coming session of the legislature, so as to be beyond any possible question as to its construction."

ROAD COMMISSIONERS. RIGHT TO TAKE MATERIAL WITHIN THE LIMITS OF HIGHWAY FROM ONE PLACE TO ANOTHER FOR PURPOSE OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR OF WAYS.

In May, 1906, the question was submitted to us by the commissioner of highways as to what right, if any, a road commissioner had to take material opposite one man's land within the limits of the highway and carry it to some other point opposite another man's land for use in the actual construction or repair of the road.

On May 16, 1906, opinion was rendered to the commissioner of highways as follows:

"Your favor of May 11th, is at hand in which you ask as to the right of the road commissioner to take material opposite one man's land within the limits of the road and carry it to some point opposite another man's land for use in construction and repair of the road.

This question has been before the courts of last resort in several states and I respectfully call your attention to the language of those courts in a few instances.

In New Haven vs. Sargent, 38 Conn. 50, we find "The real question is whether the city of New Haven has a right, as against an adjoining proprietor, to take soil from one street in the network of streets in one particular part of the city and use it in another street of that network near, but not directly connected with, the street from which the soil is taken, for the purpose of making and grading such other street—such soil being reasonably necessary for that purpose." . . . has never been in our history a statutory provision prescribing the manner in which highways should be made. Nor has there been any provision in respect to the material of which to make them. By immemorial usage material has been taken for their construction within the limits of the highways of the town. Hills have been excavated and swamps and valleys filled up with the material taken from the excavation, and material existing in excess in one place has been taken to another where it was "The inference derivable from the silence of the statute in relation to the manner in which material was to be obtained for the construction of the highways, from the immemorial usage in relation to it, and the necessity in which it originated, and from whatever judicial decision we have respecting it, is, very clearly, that it has always been contemplated and understood by the general assembly and the public that material for the construction of highways was to be taken within their limits and might be removed from any place where unnecessary to any place where its use was necessary, without regard to the rights of adjoining proprietors, if the necessity was a reasonabe one and the power was exercised in a reasonable manner."

In Denniston vs. Clark, 125 Mass., 216, we find "It is equally clear that the grant of such an easement to the public (easement in the highway) or to the corporation to which its rights have been delegated, authorizes the doing of any act in the highway, including the digging down or raising the soil to any extent that is necessary or proper to make and keep the way safe and convenient for the public travel. All acts done for the purpose of repairing the way are of this character, although they may require the removal of the soil from one part of the way to another; and it is accordingly well settled that the public in the case of a highway, or a turnpike corporation or a railroad company in the case of a turnpike or railroad, has the right, acting through proper officers, for the purpose of repairing the same highway, turnpike or railroad, to take earth, gravel or stones from one part and deposit them on another, although if the officer applies them to other uses he may become liable as a trespasser."

The last cited case affords an interesting view of the English law upon the same subject which is in harmony with the decisions above cited. It will also be noticed on page 222, Vol. 125, Mass. Reports, from which we have just been citing, that the court makes this general observation: "In New England, at least, the same rule has been applied by law and usage to the taking of materials from one highway for the repair of another within the jurisdiction of the same municipal authorities," and quotes as one of its citations, Hovey vs. Mayo, 43 Me., 322.

I have thus endeavored to answer your queston in the language of courts of last resort whose reputation for judicial learning is unquestioned.

STURGIS BILL. PAYMENT OF CERTAIN FEES TO COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTIES BY COUNTIES TO STATE TREASURER.

In October, 1906, the question was submitted to us by the State treasurer as to whether or not under the laws of 1905, chapter 92, familiarly known as the Sturgis Bill, the fees taxed for the commissioners and deputies in the bills of cost under section 6 of said act, should be paid over by the counties to the State treasurer whether they were collected from the respondents or not.

On November 2, 1906, opinion was rendered to the State treasurer as follows:

Relative to your inquiry as to whether or not under laws of 1905, chapter 92, familiarly known as the "Sturgis Bill," the fees taxed for the commissioners and deputies in the bills of cost under section 6 of said act, shall be paid over by the counties to the State Treasurer whether or not they are collected from the respondents, I respectfully write you as follows:

I have examined the act in question, and have taken time to make inquiry as to the practice of various counties thereunder, with reference to the point in question.

It would seem as if the act provides that these fees shall be taxed and shall be paid directly to the State Treasurer. I do not find in the act any express provision that the paying over of these fees shall be dependent upon their collection by the county. In fact there are certain cases such as proceedings practically in rem where intoxicating liquors are libeled and no claimant appears, where the county would not collect these fees from anybody. I am informed also that it is the practice of the counties quite generally to pay over these fees without reference to their collection from other sources. Under all these circumstances, I should advise that the counties should pay over these fees to the State Treasurer, irrespective of the contingency of their collection from other sources.

SAVINGS BANKS. REQUIREMENTS OF CERTAIN BONDS IN ORDER TO MAKE THEM LEGAL INVESTMENT FOR.

In October, 1906, the question was submitted by the State bank examiner as to whether or not R. S., chapter 48, section 23, subdivision fifth, as amended by the laws of 1905, chapter 103, relative to certain requirements as to bonds of certain corporations necessary to make them legal investments for savings banks in this State, applied to both preferred and common stock, and also whether or not the earnings therein specified should be upon the entire capital stock of the company or upon its issued stock.

Opinion was rendered on October 31, 1906, to the bank examiner, as follows:

"I am in receipt of your inquiry as to R. S., chapter 48, section 23, subdivision fifth, amended by laws of 1905, chapter 103.

It is my opinion that the dividend of not less than 5% referred to is to be understood in its ordinary sense, and refers to corporations which as going concerns are paying regular dividends of not less than 5% a year on all the stock issued, whether preferred or common or both.

Considering the same statute just referred to, the bank examiner in October, 1906, submitted to us the further questions as to,—

- (1) Whether or not the 5% noted should have been paid for more than one year, and
- (2) Whether a single dividend of 5%, coupled with reasonable evidence that the company was then earning and conducting a business which fairly promised that it would continue to earn that amount, be sufficient.

Opinion was rendered November 1, 1906, as follows:

- (1) "It does not seem to me necessary that the five per cent noted must have been paid for more than one year. If it has been paid for one year it would seem to me sufficient.
- (2) It seems to me that a single dividend of five per cent, coupled with reasonable evidence that the company was then earning and conducting a business which fairly promised that it would continue to earn annually that amount or more would be sufficient."

STATE OFFICER WITHIN THE MEANING OF THE PROVISIONS OF CHAPTER 49 OF THE PUBLIC LAWS OF 1905.

In January, 1906, the following inquiry was submitted to us from the governor and council:

"Do you consider Prof. F. C. Robinson, State Assayer, a State official? In other words, does the law require him to present an itemized bill for his services and expenses and make oath to his expenses?"

On January 31, 1906, opinion was rendered as follows:

Before I could answer the question to my satisfaction I deemed it necessary to have a copy of the bill submitted by Prof. Robinson in order that I might ascertain with reference to what duties he had submitted a bill and I accordingly wrote to Mr. Burns for a copy of the bill. He replied under date of January 19th, which reply was received by me on January 20th.

In the Opinion of the Justices, 3 Me., 483, our Maine court says: "It appears, then, that every office, in the constitutional meaning of the term, implies an authority to exercise some portion of the sovereign power, either in making, executing, or administering laws."

In Brown vs. Russell, 166 Mass., 14, in a discussion as to whether certain persons, appointed to the detective department under the public laws of that state, were public officers, the court says: "They are appointed by the governor for the term of three years, subject to the removal of the governor. . . . They have to exercise some of the powers of government."

In an extended note upon the heading "What is Office" found in 72 Am. Dec. 179, we find the following language: "One of the characteristics of an office named in the definitions is tenure, duration, or continuance. Certainly, the fact that the duties of an officer are continuous and permanent and not merely transient or temporary, furnish one ground for holding it to be an office."

Again in the same note "If an incumbent of a position is required to take the oath prescribed for officers, this furnishes a criterion for holding him to be an officer."

Again in the same note "One who has been appointed or elected in a manner prescribed by law, has a designation or title given him by law, and exercises functions concerning the public assigned to him by law, is a public officer."

Under the title "Officer," in Rawle's Revision of Bouvier, and under the sub-division of "Public Office," we find "The true test is that it is a parcel of the administration of the government"

From these various citations we find at least four points which may throw some light upon the subject under discussion.

- I. Appointment in manner prescribed by law and having a designation or title which is given to him by law.
 - II. Oath.
 - III. Tenure, duration, or continuance.
- IV. Exercise of some portion of the sovereign power either in making, executing or administering laws.

Turning now to the case immediately in hand, R. S. of Me. chap. 29, sec. 15, requires that all intoxicating liquors purchased by the State Liquor Commissioner shall be inspected, tested or analyzed by a competent assayer and further provides that such assayer shall be appointed by the governor and council. ing is said in this section as to the length of the term of the assayer thus appointed, or as to his subscribing to the oath of office but does provide that the appointment is to be by the governor and council and in chapter 2, section 37, we find it provided that all civil officers appointed by the governor and council whose tenure of office is not fixed by law or limited by the constitution, shall hold their respective offices for four years and no longer unless reappointed, subject to removal at any time within said term by the governor and council. Chapter 2, section 40, also provides, after the enumeration of certain appointees, that "every other person elected or appointed to any civil office shall take and subscribe the oath before any one member of the council or before any magistrate commissioned by the governor for that purpose except when the constitution otherwise provides.

We therefore observe in the case of Prof. Robinson that he was (I) appointed by the governor and council in the manner prescribed by law; we find as a matter of fact that he did (II) subscribe to the oath of office on April 1, 1905, before Weston Thompson, Dedimus; that (III) the tenure, duration and continuance of his office is fixed by law; that (IV) he exercises some portion of the powers of government.

I am therefore of the opinion that he is a State officer within the meaning of chapter 40 of the Public Acts of 1905.

Finally, attention should be directed to the form of bill presented by Prof. Robinson, which is as follows:

"Brunswick, Me., December 30, 1905. State of Maine to F. C. Robinson, Dr.

To assaying liquors for the State Liquor Commissioner, visiting and inspecting agencies and assaying other stocks according to the report submitted, $950.00."

In this bill nothing is said about expense and under the provisions of chapter 49, P. L. 1905, it is only a bill of expense which must be itemized and sworn to. If Prof. Robinson's bill includes expense, his expense should be itemized and sworn to. If the bill is wholly for services then we turn again to R. S., chapter 29, section 15, and find at the close of the section these words: "The compensation of such assayer shall be fixed by the governor and council, and, with other reasonable expenses, shall be paid out of the State treasury." This leaves the compensation to be fixed by the governor and council, and with reference to compensation the statute demands no itemizing or oath. The governor and council will of course reach conclusion as to the amount of that compensation from such evidence as may be presented or which they may require.

TAXES. UPON PERSONAL PROPERTY STORED OUTSIDE THE JURISDICTION OF THE STATE.

On February 28th, 1906, an inquiry was submitted to us from the Board of State Assessors as follows:

"Can assessors of a Maine town tax such personal property as potatoes and starch while stored in New Brunswick outside the jurisdiction of the State?"

On March 1st, 1906, opinion was rendered as follows:

"I have your favor of February 28th, enclosing letter of H. W. Levesque, one of the selectmen of Frenchville and asking for opinion upon certain propositions contained therein. You submit only a single question in your letter, namely, "Can assessors of a Maine town tax such personal property as potatoes and starch while stored in New Brunswick outside of the jurisdiction of the State?" An examination of the letter of Mr. Levesque shows that he goes a little farther and asks not only this question, which you have asked, but also asks which town should tax the potatoes and starch, providing they should be taxed at all.

Using the language of Judge Strout in Farmingdale vs. Berlin Mills Company, 93 Me., 333, "The general provision of law is that personal property shall be taxed to the owner in the town where he is an inhabitant on the first day of each April. To this general rule the statute makes certain exceptions." Turning now to chapter 9, section 13, clause X, we find among the exceptions "personal property in another state or country on the first day of each April and legally taxed there." Before a final answer can be given to the question, it must be known whether the potatoes and starch in another country, to wit, in the provinces, were legally taxed there on the first day of April. If it was so taxed then it is my opinion that it cannot be taxed in any town in Maine.

On the other hand, if the property is not legally taxed, in the provinces, I am of the opinion that it is liable to taxation in this State and the only question then to be determined is whether it shall be taxed in the town of Frenchville where Mr. Michaud lives, or whether it shall be taxed in the town of St. Agatha. Here again the facts are not fully stated upon which to base an opinion.

I will assume the condition of facts and state my opinion on that assumption. If my assumption of the facts is wrong, then my ruling as to the place of taxation may not be correct. will assume, therefore, that Mr. Michaud owns no starch factories at all in Frenchville but owns them only in St. Agatha. will also assume that the potatoes in question are owned by him for the purpose of manufacturing into starch and for no other purpose. Under this assumption, it is my opinion that the starch, and the potatoes which are to be manufactured into starch, are taxable in St. Agatha. You are entitled to my reasons for this view and in support of it, I cite you to R. S., chapter 9, section 13, clause 1, of the revision of 1903. The same provision is found in chapter 6, section 14, clause 1, of the revision of 1883 which reads as follows: "All personal property employed in trade, in the erection of buildings or vessels, or in the mechanic arts, shall be taxed in the town where so employed on the first day of each April; provided, that the owner, his servant, subcontractor or agent, so employing it, occupies any store, shop, mill, wharf, landing place or shipyard therein for the purpose of such employment."

I further cite you to the case already referred to in this opinion, Farmingdale vs. Berlin Mills Company. In that case the Berlin Mills Company, a corporation, resided in Portland; it had a mill in Farmingdale and it had logs in Franklin county which were destined for that mill and were in fact sawed and manufactured there. In that case, the court said "The logs were intended for manufacture in that mill and were in fact manufactured there. They had been cut, hauled to the landing and were in transit to the mill and may therefore be fairly considered as employed in the trade or business of that mill on that date within the meaning and purposes of the statute." The date referred to was April first. The court held that the logs were taxable in Farmingdale. This clearly makes the potatoes intended for manufacture at St. Agatha, taxable in St. Agatha. Under the same reasoning, the starch, which is a manufactured product of the mill would be taxable at St. Agatha, providing, of course, that it was stored in the provinces and not legally taxed in the provinces.

MARRIAGE. COMMISSION TO SOLEMNIZE NOT TO ISSUE TO ALIENS.

In June, 1906, an inquiry was submitted to us from the Governor and Council asking whether commission to solemnize marriages in the State of Maine should be granted to aliens or non-residents of the State.

On June 9th, opinion was rendered as follows:

I am in receipt of the correspondence relating to the request of Rev. J. A. Winfield for a commission to solemnize marriages in Maine, and with request that I express my opinion as to the propriety of issuing such a commission.

It appears from the correspondence that Mr. Winfield is not an American citizen nor even a resident of Maine. This I assume to be an unchallenged fact. The question then is whether an alien and non-resident of the State should be commissioned to solemnize marriages in Maine. In my view of the case the question is easily divisible into two parts.

First, is a minister of the gospel commissioned to solemnize marriages acting in the capacity of a public officer?

Second, may an alien and non-resident hold public office within this State and exercise the functions of that office?

I am not aware that the supreme court of Maine has ever passed upon the first branch of this question, nor am I aware of any act of legislature which controls the situation. One of the New England States, however, for whose court we all have respect, has given a distinct ruling upon the subject in the following unequivocal language:

"A clergyman in the administration of marriage is a public, civil officer." Goshen vs. Stonington, 4 Conn. 209, 10 Am. Dec. 121. See also Bouvier's Dictionary, Rawles Revision, under "Officer."

As to the second branch of the question:

"It is an acknowledged principle of poplar government that it is instituted by the citizens for their liberty and protection and that it is to be administered and its powers and functions exercised by them and through their agency, and that, therefore, an alien is not eligible to office." Am. & Eng. Ency. of Law. Vol. 19, p. 401, 1st Ed.

There are not wanting instances even in our own State where an alien has been elected to public office and has exercised the functions and discharged the duties of that office and our court, notably in the Opinion of the Justices, 70 Me. 565, has said that "such an one would be an officer de facto and clothed with apparent right."

This, however, can hardly be construed as authorizing or encouraging the knowing election or appointment to office of an alien.

Here again, I am not aware that the supreme court of Maine has ever passed upon the second branch of this question, nor am I aware of any act of legislature which controls the situation.

Other courts of final jurisdiction have said as follows:

"It is an acknowledged principle, which lies at the very foundation, and the enforcement of which needs neither the aid of statutory or constitutional enactments or restrictions, that the government is instituted by the citizens for their liberty and protection, and that it is to be administered and its powers and function exercised by them and through their agency." State vs. Murray 28th, Wis. 96, 9 Am. Rep. 489.

In that case an alien had been elected to the office of sheriff and had entered upon the discharge of the duties of that office, and under those conditions in an action of quo warranto, the court held that he could not lawfully hold office.

"All political power is inherent in the people, and those who are not of the people can have no share in it. The people are such as are born upon the soil, by and for whom, in the first place, the government was ordained, and such persons of foreign birth as may elect to assume the obligation of a citizen by complying with the laws of naturalization as enacted by Congress. If they desire to secure political rights, they must cease to be aliens, and become citizens in the mode there prescribed. Until then they can neither vote nor hold office; they can neither choose nor be chosen, for that is to exercise political power, and they are not of the people who alone can exercise it."

Walther vs. Rabolt, 30 Cal. 185.

I am therefore constrained to the opinion that the commission referred to in your correspondence should not be issued to Mr. Winfield.

PLANTATIONS. TAXATION OF.

In October 1906 an inquiry was submitted to us from the Board of State Assessors as to the rule for assessment of state and county taxes in plantations.

On October 18th, 1006, opinion was rendered as follows:

In order to approach the matter properly, it seems to me that we should first turn to R. S., chapter 4, sections 113 and 114. You will observe by an examination of those two sections that at stated periods it becomes the duty of the county commissioners to ascertain by actual enumeration what townships in their respective counties have not less than two hundred inhabitants and when they shall have found a township having not less than two hundred inhabitants, it becomes the duty of the commissioners to issue their warrant to those inhabitants commanding them to assemble and choose certain plantation officers. statute seems to be mandatory and therefore I think I may at least for the purpose of this opinion allude to this form of organization as compulsory organization. I say this because it appears to me that the statute quite plainly means that when a township shall have arrived at the dignity of two hundred inhabitants or more, then it shall be required to take on certain public burdens and perform certain public obligations.

The very next section, however, (115) provides that any unincorporated or unorganized place containing less than two hundred inhabitants, or as the statute says, "any number of inhabitants" may be organized into a plantation at their own volition and not by reason of any compulsory process. For convenience I refer to this as voluntary organization. Section 115, therefore, provides a method where an unorganized place desiring the benefits of organization may have those benefits by proceeding according to section 115.

Section 116 applies only to the order of procedure at the meeting for organization and applies to both forms of organization.

Section 117 provides for returns to be made to the secretary of state and after those returns are made "all laws applicable to organized plantations shall apply to plantations organized as herein provided; but plantations organized upon application of three or more citizens as above provided, shall not be required to pay state or county taxes unless by special order of the legislature." An examination therefore of section 113 to 117 inclusive, shows that there are two forms of organization, one compulsory so to speak, and the other voluntary. But it is to be noticed that in case of a voluntary organization the citizens shall not be required to pay state or county taxes unless by special order of the legislature.

You will also notice in section 121 the general provision that assessors of plantations shall be considered the selectmen thereof for the purpose of performing such duties as selectmen of towns perform.

Also notice in section 122 that assessors chosen in plantations organized under section 114 shall take an inventory of polls and valuation in their plantation, make returns to county commissioners, etc., "and thereupon their ratable proportion according to such valuation, of all state and county taxes, shall be assessed on such plantations in the same manner as on towns; and such plantations, and also such as may by special order of the legislature be required to pay state or county taxes, may raise money by taxation" etc. In other words, you will see that the statute clearly states that if a plantation is organized under the compulsory process, (i. e. two hundred inhabitants or more) it must pay state and county taxes. If it is organized under the voluntary process, it shall not be required to pay state and county taxes unless by special order of legislature.

From these observations I am led to say that the test to be applied as to state and county taxes as assessed upon plantations is not whether at the present time they have two hundred inhabitants, but rather as to whether they were organized under compulsory or voluntary process. I confess that this would require examination into the organization records of each plantation and I know of no other safe way to proceed.

You tell me that according to the exhibited list of plantations, you have checked those which have been paying state and county taxes in accordance with a long line of precedent and perhaps that precedent is the result of original examination into the records of organization of these various plantations. But in case of any contest or difference of opinion, I should say that the safe rule for the State Assessors to follow would be to look into the record of organization of any given plantation and if that plantation shows a compulsory organization, then it should pay state and county taxes. If it shows a voluntary organization, I should say it would not pay state and county taxes.

You informed me that it has been your opinion that a given plantation must have at least two hundred inhabitants before it can be taxed as cities and towns are taxed, and by this expression I presume you mean state and county taxes. In reply to that I would say that I do not think it the business of the State Assessors to ascertain the number of inhabitants. On the other hand, it is the business of the county commissioners to ascertain the number of inhabitants and if there are two hundred or more, then there should be a compulsory organization, and you will notice as per section 124 that when organized by compulsory process former organizations cease.

The first duty to be discharged then is that of the county commissioners. If they have faithfully performed their duty, then the compulsory organization of a given plantation will be equivalent to saying to the State Assessors that there are two hundred or more inhabitants in that plantation and taxation will begin for state and county taxes. If the county commissioners are negligent in this respect and allow the population of the plantation to increase beyond the two hundred without compulsory organization, then how can the State assessors do anything different than to continue as if the population were less than two hundred.

I now pass to certain specific cases to which you call my attention.

I. A long list of plantations mentioned in chapter 123 of the Private and Special Laws of 1895. I confess that I think the language of the act is somewhat unfortunate in that it is not sufficiently clear as to whether these enumerated plantations are invested with the powers and privileges and subject to all the liabilities incident to a plantation organized under R. S. chapter 4, section 114, or to those plantations organized under section 115 of the same chapter.

Sections 2 and 3 of chapter 123 just referred to, would seem to raise the inference that these plantations are simply made the legal successors of former plantations of the same names concerning which there may have been some doubt as to the legality of the organization. I have an impression that this statute was passed a sort of "cure all" for the plantations therein named and that those plantations had been at various times organized but some questions had arisen as to the validity of their organization. Here again, in the absence of any explicit language in the act, I would say that the only safe rule would be to ascertain whether each plantation was originally organized by compulsory or voluntary process and tax each accordingly, inasmuch as the act says that these corporations are made "the legal successors of the former plantations of the same names."

- 2. The case of Portage Lake mentioned in chapter 127 of the Private and Special Laws for 1905. Here the language is woefully deficient and there is nothing in the act to assist the State Assessors in determining whether this plantation ought to pay state or county taxes, and I should recommend a memorandum to be made asking the legislature to amend this chapter 127 so that it will read in the last two lines "all the rights and privileges and subject to all liabilities of plantations organized under section 114 (or 115) of chapter 4 of the Revised Statutes." My alternative as to section 114 or 115 you will understand applies to the question of population. Until such amendment I should assess each as I have done in the past.
- 3. The case of Muscle Ridge Plantation in chapter 13 of the Private and Special Laws of 1905. The man who drew this act knew what he was about for he has distinctly said that this plantation should be subject to all the liabilities of plantations organized under section 115 of chapter 4, hence Muscle Ridge is not required to pay state or county taxes.
- 4. The case of Sandy River referred to in chapter 366 of the Private and Special Laws of 1905. Here again is the same deficiency of language as was found in chapter 127 of the Private and Special Laws of 1905. On the other hand, it is a little more like the long list of plantations referred to in chapter 123 of the Public Laws of 1895 for here there seems to be an attempt to confirm a former organization and until there is some amendment to this act, I should advise taxing it as it has been heretofore taxed.

I think that I have answered all of the general and special questions which you asked me with one exception which is

"whether in cases like the Sandy River case (where the legislature by special act organized the plantation) will this organization make any difference in the matter of taxation as distinguished from an organization upon petition of three or more persons."

My answer to this question is simply, when the legislature attempts to incorporate a plantation by special act, it should follow a similar form to that used in chapter 13 of the Private and Special Laws of 1905 (the Muscle Ridge case), and distinctly state whether the liability of the plantation which they are organizating be such liabilities as arise under chapter 4, section 114 or section 115. Without this clear cut legislation the assessors are not only unassisted but they are mystified, confused and embarrassed by special legislation. So you will see that where the legislature by special act organized a plantation, it will only make a difference in the matter of taxation when these distinctions arise by reference to section 114 or section 115 of chapter 4.

STATE ASSAYER. NOT TO DELEGATE AUTHORITY.

On the 8th of November, 1906, an inquiry was submitted to us by the Governor and Council relating to the right of Prof. F. C. Robinson to delegate the discharge of his powers as State Assayer to another person during his absence from the State.

On November 9th, 1906, opinion was rendered as follows:

In the early part of January of the present year, you inquired of me as to whether Prof. Robinson in his capacity as State Assayer is a State official. I reached the conclusion at that time that he is a State official, and if my conclusion were correct in that instance, the question now presented is can a State official, or in other words, can a public officer, delegate to another the powers which he is appointed to exercise.

The answer to this question depends in the first instance as to whether his powers are simply ministerial or whether they are judicial. In the broad sense of the term "official action is judicial when it is the result of judgment and discretion."

Chicago vs. Seben 56 Ill. 245.

"The power of a fish inspector to determine the quality and healthfulness of fish offered for sale in the markets of a city and if found to be unwholesome or unfit to be eaten, to condemn and destroy it, is judicial in its nature."

Fath vs. Koeppel 7 Wisc. 867.

I thus quote a principle and a simple illustration as my authority for saying that in my judgment Prof. Robinson is clothed with judicial powers and not ministerial in the discharge of his duties as State Assayer.

It has been frequently held that a person having authority to exercise judicial powers cannot delegate those powers to another.

"If discretion and judgment are to be exercised either as to time, manner or feasibility of the exercise of an official function, the body or officer intrusted with the duty to decide must exercise it and cannot delegate it to another officer, body or person."

Am. Eng. Enc. of Law, 1st, Ed. Vol. 19, P. 461.

In a case decided more than thirty years ago in our own State Curtis vs. City of Portland 59 Me. 483, Judge Barrows says on page 487:

"At present, when public trusts and duties are so often perverted and so carelessly performed, we do not feel disposed to encourage greater looseness or to open new doors for the evasion of personal responsibility by neglecting to apply the maxim delegata potestas non potest delegari to any and all cases to which it has heretofore been applied by this court."

In Lyon vs. Jerome 26 Wendall (N. Y.) 485, the court says: "In all cases of delegated authority, where the delegation indicates any personal trust or confidence reposed in the agent, and especially where such personal trust is implied by making the exercise and application of the power subject to the judgment or discretion of the agent or attorney, the general rule is, that these are purely personal authorities, incapable of being again delegated to another, unless a special power of substitution be added. From an early period of our law, this rule has been laid down as to powers given by will or deed to executors, trustees, and attorneys, to sell lands, make leases, etc.; and modern decisions have extended the principle to the less formal appointments of factors, brokers, and other commercial agents. How much more strongly then must reason and policy of the rule apply to the delegation of authority by the State, to its high public officers, made with the solemnity of a legislative act?

Again in Birdsall vs. Clark 73 N. Y. 73 we find the following: "If discretion and judgment are to be exercised either as to time or manner, the body or officer entrusted with the duty must exercise it and cannot delegate it to another officer or person."

My conclusion is, therefore, that Prof. Robinson in his office as State Assayer is charged with powers judicial and not ministerial and hence, cannot lawfully delegate those powers to another.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. ELECTION OF.

On November 23, 1906, an inquiry was submitted to us from the Governor and Council relating to the election of certain gentlemen to the office of county commissioner in Piscataquis county.

On November 24, 1906, opinion was rendered as follows:

As a preliminary and by way of making my opinion more clear, allow me to sketch the history of the legislation of county commissioners in this State in a brief way.

Under an act approved March 10, 1831, it was provided that the governor with the advice and consent of the council, should appoint three suitable persons as county commissioners in each of the several counties of the State. These appointees were to hold office for the term of four years unless sooner removed by the governor and council. In the revision of the Statutes published in 1841 the act of 1831 remained in force but the following year by an act approved February 22, 1842, it was provided that the county commissioners should be elected at the annual meeting in September for the election of their State and county officers. In the last named act it was provided that the county commissioner having the highest number of votes should hold office three years. The one with the next number, two years, and the one with the smallest number, one year, with provision as to procedure if two or more should have an equal number of votes. In the last named act it was also provided that all vacancies occasioned by expiration of term of office should be filled by the election of a sucessor on the second Monday of September next preceding such expiration. This act also provided for the election of other county officers and used the following language in respect to all such county officers including county commissioners:

"If the person chosen to either of said offices shall die, or resign, or move out of the county before the time for which he was elected shall expire, then, and in such case, the governor with the advise of the council, shall appoint some suitable person to fill the vacancy until another shall be chosen in his place, which election shall take place the second Monday of September next after such vacancy shall have happened."

Before leaving the act of 1842 it is interesting to note that this is the first provision for election by the people and the three county commissioners were all to be elected at the same time, and very properly, the act should designate some way by which the term of office should be fixed and used the provisions which I have just cited. Such a condition was not likely to arise at any future period and the question may well be asked if it would not have been wise to have omitted this provision after the election machinery of the county commissioner had become well established.

In any event the provision has been retained in the statute and has evidently been the cause of some confusion.

In the revision of the statutes in 1857 the provisions of the act of February 22, 1842, were retained and the distinction created by a vacancy occasioned by the expiration of term of office from a vacancy made by death, resignation or removal from the county, was preserved.

The revision of the statutes in 1871 (with a slight verbal change in Section 1 of the chapter relating to county commissioners) contained the exact provision of 1857. In the meantime our Maine court in the year 1863 (Opinion of the Justices 50th, Me. 607) had interpreted those sections relative to the election of county commissioners. An examination of the case will show that one Hemingway on the second Monday of September 1860, had been chosen county commissioner for the county of York (terms were then for three years). His term of office would expire January 1, 1864. He served one year and resigned. Alfred Hall was appointed by the governor to fill the vacancy thus created and entered upon the discharge of his duties January 1, 1862. During the year 1862 in which he was thus serving, Samuel Hasty was elected "to fill the vacancy by said resignation of said Hemingway" and the court was asked to answer this question "for how long a time was said Samuel Hasty elected to serve as county commissioner by force of the statutes of this State in such cases made and provided." The court answered the question by saying that Hasty was elected to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Hemingway whose original term of office would expire the first day of January 1864, and called attention to the fact that there was a provision for filling vacancies occasioned by death, resignation or removal from the county as distinguished by a vacancy created by the expiration of a full term, so that Hasty was elected for the term which would expire January 1, 1864, a short term so to speak.

Meanwhile, in 1863, the voters of York county had elected Alfred Hall as a county commissioner to begin a term of office January 1, 1864, and in view of the condition with reference to Hasty the court was asked whether Hall was legally elected and was asked in effect whether Hasty's term of office would close January 1, 1864, and Alfred Hall would begin service at that date. The court answered that Alfred Hall was to begin his term of service January 1, 1864, because Hasty had been elected for the short term, or in other words, had been elected to complete a term which had been begun by Hemingway. In 1880 by act approved March 18th, of that year, the legislature made such revision as would make the election of county commissioners applicable to biennial elections and raised the terms of office from one, two and three years to two, four and six years, but the other provisions of the statute remained unchanged.

The revision of 1883 finds no change over the provisions of 1880.

Meanwhile between the revisions of 1871 and the revision of 1883, to wit, in 1872, our court referred again to this subject in Opinion of Justices 61 Me. 601, where in referring (page 603) to the election of the members of the board of county commissioners, this language was used:

"Vacancies might occur in the board by death or resignation. To meet this contingency and still preserve the annual election of its members, the statute provided for a choice to fill the place which was vacant. Considering the clearly expressed design of the legislature to elect a board upon the different years, this phraseology of the statute was held to refer to the unexpired term. Such a construction was deemed not only reasonable but necessary to maintain and preserve the essential element in the constitution of the court."

The revisions of the statute of 1903 were identical with the revision of 1883 and an examination of the acts of 1905 do not show any change from the conditions existing in the revision of 1903.

In short, the provision for electing county commissioners (except as related to biennial elections) have remained practically unchanged in this State since February 22, 1842, and the court has twice told us that there is a distinction between the filling of a vacancy cause by death, resignation, or removal from the county and a vacancy created by the expiration of a full term. The court has very distinctly said that when there is an election to fill a vacancy of the former class, then the person so elected was to complete only the term which would have otherwise been completed had there been no death, resignation or removal from the county.

You do not inform me whether the ballots cast in Piscataquis county distinctly stated that either of the gentlemen voted for as county commissioner was distinctly voted for as one who was to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Eben M. Bray, but in view of the statements made in Mr. Hayes letter I am forced to believe that if Mr. Blanchard was nominated with a full understanding upon his part and upon the part of the voters in Piscataquis county to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Bray, then the certificate should be issued to Mr. Blanchard which would expire December 31, 1908, that being the time when Mr. Bray's term would have expired if he had lived. For the same reason I think that Mr. Holmes should receive a certificate of election for six years.

In other words, I think that the action of the governor and council with reference to this certificate of election should be based upon the provisions of R. S., chapter 80, section 3, rather than upon section 2 of the same chapter.

BONDS OF PUBLIC OFFICERS.

In November, 1906, an inquiry was submitted to us from the Secretary of State as to whether the bond for clerk of courts in Cumberland county may be signed by an indemnity or surety company instead of by individual surety and if so in what manner.

On November 27, 1906, opinion was rendered as follows:

Chapter 81, section 2 of the R. S. requires the clerk of courts before entering upon the discharge of official duty to give bond to be lodged in the office of the treasurer and approved by the governor and council, in the sum of $8,000 with two or more sureties and upon the conditions mentioned in that section.

Chapter 49, section 119 of the R. S. provides that companies duly incorporated and organized for the purpose of transacting business as surety on obligations of persons or corporations, and which would bring itself within certain conditions may be accepted "as surety upon the bond of any person or corporation required by the laws of the State to execute a bond;" and the same section further provides "it being the true intent and meaning of this section to enable corporations created for that purpose to become surety on bonds required by law." You will also notice that such a company bond may be accepted as sole surety providing the surety company can furnish satisfactory evidence of its ability to provide all the security required by law, but a provision is made that in the discretion of official authority to approve such bond other surety or sureties may be required.

From these provisions I do not hesitate in saying that I believe a bond presented by a clerk of court with an indemnity company as surety would be sufficient, providing of course the indemnity company can meet the provisions to which I have referred.
