MAINE STATE PRISON.

THOMASTON, ME., December 1, 1906.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

We have the honor to transmit our annual report for the year ending November 30, 1906.

At the commencement of the prison year, December 1, 1905, there were confined in the prison one hundred seventy-eight (178); fifty-four (54) have been received during the year; fifty-two (52) have been discharged by expiration of sentence; three (3) have been discharged by commutation of sentence by Governor and Council; and one (1) has died. The largest number of prisoners at any one time was one hundred eighty-eight (188); the smallest number, one hundred seventy-one (171); the daily average for the year, one hundred seventy-nine (179).

It is with the utmost satisfaction that we are able to make a most favorable report on the conduct of the prison for the year past, and the very gratifying financial showing that we make herewith shows that the affairs of the prison have been conducted with an eye single to the good name and reputation of our State and her Institutions.

The year has been replete with advantages for the display of good financeering ability, and it is only a simple statement of fact when we say that Warden Norton has never missed an opportunity to take advantage of the markets both in the purchase of stock and in the sale of his products. In more than one instance he has made a very handsome thing for the prison by what would ordinarily be considered unusually large purchases of stock just on the eve of a decided advance in prices. To this good business sagacity is largely to be attributed the very gratifying showing for the year just closed. While it is impossible to tell the story entire in figures and to exhibit the gain that has been made in every department of the entire prison, some idea of what has been done may be gleaned from a few statistics.

This year we are able to report that the net gain in the broom, harness and carriage departments has been $24,612.25. Last year we reported the net gain in these departments as $21,539.92, a most splendid showing, as it was acknowledged to be on every hand. But we have exceeded it this year by $3,072.33.

But the advantage is not confined to these departments alone, by any means. Last year we reported that the net loss in the subsistence and clothing departments was $6,413.28; while this year this sum has been reduced to $4,897, showing a net saving in these two departments alone of 1,516.28, and we can assure you that the saving in other expense departments is in exactly this proportion, but without lessening the quality or the quantity of the food or clothing provided for the health and comfort of the prisoners. On the contrary the saving is the result of making a careful study of the needs and requirements of the prisoners, their capacity not only to save, but to earn money for the State, and above all the employment of shrewd business methods in purchasing supplies.

So well have the finances been conducted that the special appropriation of $10,000 made by the last Legislature has not been touched, nor will it be.

We most respectfully challenge any department of the State to show better financial management than has been employed at the State Prison for the past two years.

The wise and careful expenditure of the $4,500 appropriated by the last Legislature has made further repairs on the Prison, and the outlying buildings unnecessary the past year, thus verifying the truth of the maxim that "a stitch in time saves nine."

At all of our monthly inspections we have invariably found the prison and all that pertains to it in a neat, cleanly, sanitary condition, and the very best of discipline has been maintained with comparatively few punishments. There have been no contagious diseases and but little sickness. For further particulars as to the physical and spiritual condition of the inmates we refer you to the reports of the prison physician, Dr. J. Edwin Walker, and the chaplain and teacher, Rev. C. A. Plumer.

On several of our visits to the prison we have been accompanied by Hon. Albert Peirce, visiting member from the Executive Council, whose suggestions and advice have ever been found of great value.

We would most heartily second the recommendation of the Commission on Criminal Insane looking toward the early removal of this unfortunate class from the prison to quarters prepared for them at Augusta or Bangor, where they may receive what seems to be their due—hospital treatment. This is a matter which seems to us to be one that has been altogether too long delayed, and we trust that their recommendation may receive the early and prompt attention of your honorable board.

We would most heartily recommend and urge that the Legislature authorize the purchase of a plot of land comprising some eight acres adjoining the prison property. We believe that if this land could become a part of the prison plant a very large amount of the vegetables that are used in the prison could be produced at a very small per cent of what they now cost. In other states large farms are being successfully carried on by prisoners, who are not physically adapted for work in the shops, and with a good profit to the prison. We would most respectfully recommend that an appropriation be asked for this purpose, provided, of course, that the purchase can be made on an equitable basis by your honorable board.

In closing we wish to extend our thanks to Warden Norton and his efficient subordinate officers for their most courteous treatment and attention throughout the year.

Respectfully submitted,

W. L. SCRIBNER,

A. P. GORDON,

E. P. MAYO,

Inspectors of Prison and Jails.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—I respectfully submit to you the annual report of the Maine State Prison for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1906.

From the accompanying statements and tabulations I trust you will be able to understand clearly just what the business transactions of the year have been, just what the loss or gain, and just what the actual loss to the State for maintaining this institution as a prison has amounted to.

From the summary of the loss and gain accounts, which included every expense connected with the prison except the $11,666.23 paid to officials and guards in salaries, you will note that there was a gain of $10,185.18. A little more than 95% of this gain was the actual profit of the manufacturing departments over and above all expense items, with the exception of the amount of the salaries above quoted. And I do not think that these manufacturing departments should be burdened with the pay of officers and guards whose presence would be at least equally necessary were there no business enterprises in operation. Therefore we have a gain of $10,185.18, which is the actual business balance on the right side.

Now there has been received from the State in appropriations for pay of officers, for medicine, for books and for school, all of which items can legitimately be charged to the prison in computing the cost to the State, the sum of $11,900.00. Subtracting from this amount the gain from the business transactions, and there remains a balance of $1,714.82, and this is the expense to the State of maintaining the prison for the year just past.

I would respectfully call your especial attention to that part of the Insane Commissioners' report in which they advocate the removal of the insane from the prison. I believe this is an extremely important matter, and one that cannot be urged too strongly.

I would also heartily endorse the recommendation of the prison physician, as regards the substitution of a better system of ventilation for the one now in use, and I trust this matter also will meet with your consideration.

In closing permit me the opportunity of extending my sincere thanks to the overseers of the institution for their ready co-operation in making their departments profitable, and to all officers for their cheerful readiness to enforce the discipline of the prison.

Very respectfully,

B. O. NORTON, Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—Herein find my annual medical report for the Maine State Prison, for the year ending November 30, 1906.

During the year there has been but one death. On October 23d, Alfred J. Hurd died of inanition. The general health of the convicts has been good; no epidemics have occurred; and there has been but few accidents. The food has been good and well cooked; and the clothing suitable.

In my opinion some action should be taken at once with regard to the ventilation of the corridors. As ventilated now, the men are subjected to sudden changes of temperature which produce many colds. The only way now to make a circulation of air through the chimneys or so-called ventilators, is by raising or lowering the windows, which causes the air to blow directly on the men, who are sleeping with perhaps only a light covering on account of the heat. I would advise an appropriation of money for the installment of a more thorough and modern system of ventilation. With the electric plant which the institution already has, I think the change could be made at a small cost to the State. Apart from the ill ventilated corridors, the sanitary surroundings of the prison are excellent.

Permit me to thank the warden, the deputy warden, and all the subordinate officers for the many courtesies shown me during my official duties.

Very respectfully,
J. EDWIN WALKER, Prison Physician.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith present my annual report of the work committed to me as chaplain of the Maine State Prison.

During the year ending November 30, 1906, fifty-four persons have been committed to the prison. Ten of them could neither read nor write; four could read a little but could not write; twenty-one had attended the common schools, one a few weeks others a few terms or years; ten are graduates from grammar schools; five completed the high school course in their home town or city; three are graduates from seminaries, and one has had collegiate training.

Thirty of this number were accustomed to the use of intoxicating drinks, a few only taking a drink occasionally while most of them were habitual drinkers and some drinking large quantities.

Periodicals.—The men are allowed the reading of weekly papers and magazines which they receive as subscribers or through the kindness of their friends. An unusually large number of the men are subscribers for some paper and magazine. We continue the issuing on Tuesday evening of two magazines temporarily bound together, one a late copy the other an old number. These are passed from cell to cell in regular order, each man having the book one week. Each copy is in constant use for a full year and often a few weeks longer. For this use we take Munsey, The American, McClure and the Strand. The old numbers are given from many sections of the State. We continue the weekly distribution of such religious papers and Youth's Companions and other periodicals of similar character as are given for the purpose by the members of the Epworth Leagues, Christian Endeavor Societies, Sunday schools, Women's Christian Temperance Union, churches and private individuals from various parts of the State. It is an interesting fact that I have had sent me for distribution many copies of the Youth's Companion more than fifty years old. However old these papers contain many stories and articles of interest and profit.

Instruction.—This part of my work is attended to as heretofore. Beginning with the alphabet or where the acquirement of the student indicates, he is carried forward as rapidly as his ability and time justifies. The result of the work of the year in most cases is very gratifying.

Library.—But few additions have been made to the library within the year. Many of the books were old when I took charge of the library. I found a large number of good books which had been thrown aside, worn out. Many of these I repaired, sometimes getting a whole book from two or three copies. But many of these books cannot be used much longer. They are literally worn out. A few hundred dollars could be profitably used in replacing some of these books and in providing new publications. Each man who reads is allowed the use of two books each week.

Correspondence.—The privilege of receiving weekly letters from relatives and the friends of other years and of writing one letter each week is improved by most of the men and is of inestimable value in retaining a love for home and cultivating a proper regard for the feelings and rights of others. One cannot over value these principles or their influence in leading men to an honest effort to live a worthy life. I continue the custom of writing weekly for those who cannot write, but have them compose and write their own letters as soon as they can be taught.

Religious Instruction.—This receives our first and most earnest attention. In personal interviews as well as in pulpit discourse this is the ultimate end in view. The frequent questions asked, the occasional request remember me in your prayers, the assurance your discourse encouraged and helped me, the purpose I want to lead a different life, afford reason for believing the seed sowing is not in vain.

With sincere thanks to your honorable body, to the board of prison inspectors, to the warden and each of the prison officials, to the individuals and societies who have furnished reading for the encouragement and help given me, this report is respectfully submitted.

C. A. PLUMER, Chaplain.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION RELATING TO THE CRIMINAL INSANE.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and the Executive Council of the State of Maine:

The requirements of the statutes relating to the care of the criminal insane have been fully met by your committee in whose hands you have placed their supervision. Since the creation of this department by an act of the legislature in 1893 your committee, whose names are attached to this report, have been entrusted with the immediate physical and mental requirements of its inmates. With this in view, aside from the immediate attention rendered by the warden, made practical because of being a resident officer, visits have been made each month or oftener throughout the entire period by the member of the committee from the Maine Insane Hospital and frequent stated visitations by the prison physician are afforded and in addition he has responded to all calls during the interim when the physical and mental exigencies have required his presence.

The chaplain of the prison has been prompt at all times to extend to its occupants spiritual comfort and assurance and has brought to bear moral forces in offering educational instruction, aiding in their correspondence, furnishing such reading material as is congenial to their tastes and of such a character as has in its tendencies inspired hope and assuaged apprehensive and depressed feelings which are so likely to encompass and afflict disordered minds.

Your committee have endeavored to carefully investigate into all the details of this department's affairs and so to instruct the supervisor that nothing shall be left undone which would in any manner affect favorably the welfare of its occupants. Hence the diet, ventilation, light and heat, cleanliness and daily exercise of the inmates have been carefully scrutinized at each and every visitation. While the food is plain yet it is well cooked and of such a character as is adapted to the physical wants, this being fully demonstrated in observing healthy and well nourished conditions.

Through the fall, winter and spring the temperature of the department is kept at seventy degrees Fahrenheit by steam heat and this amount of steam pressure facilitates the circulation of the ingress of fresh air from outside and its exit from the ridge-pole of the wing by which method a moderate amount of renewal of air is obtained but because of the fact that there is no appliance arranged to aid the natural ventilation either by the system of forcing or exhaustion the occupants are not furnished that amount of fresh and heated air which would be regarded as adequate. A method might be devised at small expense by converting the present heating coils of the department into hot air chambers with fresh air flues from the windows running to the lower part of these structures. This system, re-enforced by exhaust electric fans connected with the ventilators in the attic of the building, would supply an ample amount of fresh heated air and would add greatly to the sanitation of the wing. Your committee would recommend that steps be taken to furnish more adequate ventilation for this department.

A. L. Wall entered upon his duties as the department's supervisor July 19th of the present year bringing to the position the experience of more than five years employment in the prison proper. He gives evidence of being well adapted to this particular and exacting task and has entered upon his duties with a zeal which predicts efficient service. The inmates under the supervisor have performed a large amount of manual labor throughout the season and notably may be mentioned the manufacturing and preparing for fuel of 150 cords of wood, the cultivating of some portion of the garden and the caring for and harvesting more than 150 bushels of potatoes. Aside from the manual labor performed the inmates have had the opportunity of exercise in the prison yard when the weather has been suitable during much of each day. In consequence of these pursued methods the physical condition of the occupants of the department has been as fully maintained as can be expected in people suffering from the disintegrating influences consequent upon an insane neurosis.

While the construction of this department and its environments do not fully meet the requirements of the advanced methods of the treatment of the criminal insane at the present day yet notwithstanding these disadvantages we can assure the public that the physical necessities of the inmates are sufficiently met to the extent that they are made very comfortable.

Quite a space was devoted in our last annual statement emphasizing what had already been set forth in former ones advocating the desirability of treating this class in a segregate building in connection with one of the hospitals for the insane so that it seems unnecessary to further encumber this report in the advocacy of a change, the advantages of which are unquestionably apparent to all who have given the subject careful thought and your committee will simply offer a synopsis of what has been advised heretofore and which we believe will appeal to the public as being a proper course to pursue looking toward the future requirements and treatment of the criminal insane, namely:

1st. The demands of the relatives of the inmates of this department that they be placed under hospital treatment.

2nd. The requirements of the management of the prison which necessitates the occupation of this department in devoting it to the legitimate uses of the prison and by this change strengthening discipline.

3rd. The carrying into execution not only the intent but the spirit of the law as well which offers to the unfortunate insane of our State the advantages which accrue from the environments of a hospital and the treatment which it extends.

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL COMMITTEE ON STATE PRISON.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and the Executive Council:

During the past year I have made monthly visits to the prison, without giving previous notice, and invariably have found the institution in a very credible condition. I believe the warden treats all prisoners alike as far as possible, showing no partiality and demanding in return good behaviour and obedience.

At each visit I have gone into the kitchen, examined the bread, and other eatables, and have found them of good quality and well cooked. I have also frequently examined the materials under the commissary's care. The excellent health of the prisoners is unmistakable evidence that the food is both sufficient and nourishing, and that reasonable attention is given to their needs. When a prisoner is unable to work he is put under the care of the physician and his directions are carried out.

The buildings are kept painted and repaired and the grounds are well looked after.

The reports of the warden and inspectors, the prison physician, and the insane criminal commission set forth the condition of the prison and its needs.

The splendid financial showing speaks loudly in praise of the businesslike management of the carriage, harness, and broom departments. It rarely happens, as the reports show, that a prison is self supporting.

I sincerely trust that provisions may be made to transfer the insane criminals to other quarters as recommended, and that the much needed ventilation of the prison may be authorized.

Since more farming land could be used at the present time advantageously and will be more needed in the future, I would recommend that adjoining property be purchased.

Believing it would be for the best interests of the State to have the accounts audited, I employed Leroy Sanborn, city auditor of Portland, to audit the prison accounts, and take great pleasure in submitting his report.

You will notice that he speaks in the highest terms of the methods employed in keeping the books and the accuracy of the accounts.

This being my last report as chairman of the prison committee on the part of the council, I wish to congratulate the State on its good fortune in securing the services of so efficient a man as Warden Norton, and I desire here to express my thanks to him and to all his assistants for the courtesy shown me at all times when visiting the prison.

ALBERT PEIRCE, Chairman.

OUR JAILS.

The jails of the several counties have been inspected quarterly by one, and when possible by two or more members of this board. We are of the opinion that the influence of visits by more than one of the board at a time, has been very salutary, and in the future we shall try to practice this custom even more than we have in the past.

We wish to reiterate what we have previously urged upon the authorities of several of the counties relative to working their prisoners, and when not working them keeping them safely confined in their cells, rather than giving them the run of the corridors. The latter habit has been all too common in several of our jails, and more than one escape can easily be traced to this pernicious system. We ought not to be obliged to call attention to this practice in succeeding reports.

It is for the best interests of all concerned that our jails should be what they were originally intended for, places of punishment, and not loitering places where criminals are well fed, and cared for at the expense of the tax payers. Every jail should work its prisoners, either on the highways or in shops constructed for that purpose. The last legislature passed a law authorizing the employment of sentenced men on our highways, but a sentiment was immediately created and we heard much talk about the demoralizing spectacle of working men in ball and chain on the public streets. All this is simply idle talk. There is no need and there never was any intention of a ball and chain being used. A good overseer can take from six to twelve men who are serving short sentences, out on the highways, to build or repair them, or to clear sidewalks in the winter time, with perfect safety, and with real profit and advantage to the municipality. The men thus employed will be better prisoners and much less apt to return to the jail a second time. They will also be better citizens when their term expires. The practice of allowing prisoners to occupy their cots as lounging places during the day not only keeps the cots filthy but wears them out and unfits them for sleeping upon at night. The practice also makes the prisoners restless and uneasy in their confinement. The best jails have their cots folded up to the wall in the daytime and are used only for sleeping upon at night, except in cases of sickness. Good hearty toil is the one panacea for discontent and uneasiness in a jail as well as out, and the sooner the county authorities recognize this fact the sooner our jails will begin to fulfill their true mission.

Following is a summary of the condition of the fifteen jails in our State.

Androscoggin.

The jail in Auburn is one of our largest jails. A number of minor improvements have been made for the betterment of the interior the past year. We are still apprehensive for the safety of the prisoners in the wooden addition at the top of this jail, should a fire start, especially in the night time. The prisoners not employed in the work shop have done a very fine job of grading in the court house yard, which only emphasizes what they could and would do if at least a portion of them, not used in the work shop could be employed on the highways.

Aroostook.

The Houlton jail is always a pleasant place for the inspector to call, for he is sure to find a well kept institution. Since the woodshed was established the number of prisoners has fallen off very remarkably. One hundred and ninety-four commitments were made the past year, forty-one of them being for drunkenness. The food is uniformly good, and is furnished in sufficient quantity for the health of all. Jailer Lawlis is to be commended for the good discipline he maintains.

Cumberland.

This jail is one of the best conducted in our State. While it is far from a model in its construction, and should be modernized if it is to be classed among the high class institutions of its kind, the officers certainly are entitled to great credit for their efforts to make the best of what they have to do with. Last year there were 1,238 commitments. A jail caring for this number of inmates ought to be better adapted for the work. The average number of men employed in the heel shop the past year was 60.

Hancock.

At Ellsworth we find one of the small jails of the State, but one that is well conducted, and the prisoners well cared for. There were but 26 commitments last year, seven of them being for drunkenness. Sheriff Mayo is a model jailer, and maintains good discipline at all times.

Franklin.

The jail at Farmington is of modern construction, but sadly needs the addition of a work shop. There were 97 commitments here the past year, and out of that number there should have been a lot of good work done for the State. We hope to be able to convince the county commissioners of their error in this respect in the near future. Sheriff Coolidge gives his prisoners good daily rations and in sufficient quantity. If he could have a work shop he would surely have a complete jail.

Kennebec.

Augusta has one of the busy jails in our State. There were 453 commitments the past year, but 262 of them were on 30 days sentences or less, thus making frequent changes, and the average number of men worked was but 21. It is a question whether more men should not have been employed, even if they had been used in improving the streets of the city. The prisoners are well fed and the jail has presented a well kept appearance at each of our quarterly visits.

Knox.

We are unable to report much progress made in handling prisoners in a modern manner at the Rockland jail. But the county commissioners make good promises, which we trust will be fulfilled. There have been 80 prisoners committed the past year, but no work or any place to labor has been provided for them. The machinery by which the doors leading to the individual cells on the lower tier has been out of repair for some time, and the prisoners are all huddled together in idleness—about as bad a condition as can be imagined. We hope to be able to report a better condition of affairs in the near future.

Lincoln.

We have but little to say of the antiquated old jail at Wiscasset. The county commissioners, however, should be given the credit for having performed all that we have asked from them to make the place more habitable. They should also be given credit for working their prisoners with good results. The best street in Lincoln county was made possible by the labors of a handful of convicts at this jail. Why will not other counties pattern after this good example?

Oxford.

The jail at South Paris is a good one, and is well conducted in all respects, and is complete with the one exception, and that is the lack of a workshop. A large number of prisoners are committed here and kept in idleness. If the county commissioners will but provide some place for working the prisoners all would be complete. When not employed in the work about the jail the men are kept locked in their cells, as they should be, except for a brief time night and morning.

Piscataquis.

The jail at Dover is a new one, and has only been in use five years. Only 16 prisoners were committed there last year. The jail has been well conducted and the few prisoners well cared for.

Penobscot.

The jail at Bangor is one of our best kept jails. Sheriff Gilman looks after the welfare of his prisoners in a most satisfactory manner. The total number of commitments for the year was 809. In October they had three cases of mild form of smallpox, and to guard against the spread of the disease the jail was quarantined until the danger was passed. How the disease was brought to the jail is a great mystery. The workshop has been busy manufacturing brooms, paper boxes and leather buttons. The average number of men employed in the shop was 43.

Somerset.

Skowhegan has a new, but a very illy constructed jail, as the arrangement of the cells is such that both rows open into a common corridor, and it is next to impossible to grade prisoners, and old offenders are thrown in direct contact with the young and more or less inexperienced. It is extremely difficult to maintain the best discipline under these unfortunate conditions. A workshop is sadly needed here, and even an inexpensive stockade could easily be secured if the county commissioners would but take hold of the problem. We have always found the jail in good condition.

Waldo.

The Belfast jail is an old styled affair, but it is kept in as good condition, we believe, as it is possible to keep a building of this type. There were only 39 commitments made the past year, and 24 of this number had a sentence of one month or less, leaving practically only about men enough to properly care for the building. Sheriff Carleton looks after his prisoners carefully and well.

Washington.

The Machias jail is a fine large structure, but lacks a place to work its prisoners. There were 126 commitments at this jail and five men escaped, only two of whom were recaptured. The prisoners here are given the freedom of the whole jail throughout the day and are only locked up at bedtime. This we believe to be a wrong practice. Sheriff Tarbox should be allowed a turnkey to assist him in properly performing his duties. No one man can be in two places at the same time, but this is precisely what is required of Sheriff Tarbox.

York.

The jail at Alfred is one of the best kept and most business-like jails in the entire State. Jailer Rankin has a happy way of getting along easily with his prisoners, but the best of discipline is always maintained. The jail is kept scrupulously clean and freshly painted at all times, and the food is good and in every way satisfactory. A slight misunderstanding as to the duty of the overseers in the workshop was discovered a few months ago, but when the attention of the county authorities was called to the matter they quickly took steps to correct the evil, and no cause of complaint has since been noted. There were 434 commitments at this jail last year, and the average number of men in the workshop was 35.
