MAINE STATE PRISON.

THOMASTON, ME., December 1, 1907.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

We have the honor to transmit our annual report for the year ending November 30, 1907.

At the commencement of the prison year, Dec. 1, 1906, there were confined in the prison one hundred seventy-six convicts; seventy-one have been received during the year; forty-two have been discharged by expiration of sentence; two have been discharged by commutation of sentence by Governor and Council and one has died.

The largest number of prisoners at any one time during the year was two hundred and six. The smallest number in the prison during the year was one hundred seventy-three. The daily average for the year was one hundred ninety-three and five-tenths.

It is with sincere satisfaction that we are able to make such a favorable report of not only the management of the prison but its splendid financial showing. Notwithstanding the great increase in the cost of everything required for the maintenance of the prison, and the comfort of the prisoners, the report of the warden shows a very gratifying financial condition of affairs.

The financial ability of Warden Norton both as a buyer and as a seller has been shown in a marked degree, for while the cost of stock and supplies for the business departments has steadily increased during the year, he has been able to make a remarkable showing, and we find that the total cost of running the departments, and the maintenance and care of the prison and prisoners, amounts to $27,458.78, while the profits of the departments have amounted to $25,249.09, making the net cost to the State for running the institution only $2,209.69. This has largely been brought about by the warden's close attention to the several departments, and supplemented by the very efficient heads of the different departments, and has further been increased by the new method of feeding the prisoners at tables in the corridors. This new departure was inaugurated on Decoration Day and has been continued with the most gratifying success. While this is a financial saving, the improvement of the physical and social condition of the convicts is even more marked.

As reported last year, the finances has been so admirably conducted this year that the special appropriation of five thousand dollars made by the last legislature has not been touched, and not a cent of it will be drawn from the treasury.

One of the best improvements of the prison is in the system of ventilation that has been installed the past year. The legislature voted twelve hundred dollars for the work, but it was done for a little over seven hundred, and the balance will be turned back into the State treasury. This system, long much needed, is proving entirely satisfactory, and by its use the old-time prison odor is effectually eradicated, and the prisoners now enjoy the purest and best air at all times. It gives us great pleasure to be able to speak in the highest terms of the present physical condition of the prisoners under the efficient supervision of the prison physician, Dr. J. Edwin Walker.

The very excellent report of the Chaplain Rev. C. A. Plumer sets forth the moral and spiritual condition of the prisoners in a very clear and comprehensive manner. Mr. Plumer is a servant of the State and of whom we all have reason to be proud, and of his efficient labors which we are satisfied are not without gratifying results.

Hon. T. S. Burns, visiting member of the Executive Council, has been unremitting in his attention to the prison and its affairs, and no more painstaking official has ever been on the board.

We are very much pleased to be able to report the progress that has been made looking toward the removal of the criminal insane from the prison to the new quarters now being prepared for them at Augusta. Their presence here has not a little deterred from properly caring for those for whom the prison was built and is maintained, and we heartily second the suggestion contained in the report of the commission to be found elsewhere in this report. These unfortunate people deserve humane and hospital treatment, and that is what we have every reason to believe they will receive in their new home now being prepared for them.

In closing we would extend our hearty thanks to Warden Norton and his efficient corps of subordinate officials for their uniform courtesy and attention throughout the year.

Respectfully submitted,

W. L. SCRIBNER,

E. P. MAYO,

F. H. HARGRAVES,

Inspectors of Prison and Jails.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—I respectfully submit to you the annual report of the Maine State prison for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1907.

The year just completed has been a very profitable one, although the gain of the manufacturing departments over the expense departments has been slightly less than that in 1906. This is due to several reasons, chief among which has been the increased cost of raw material. Also, many of the prisoners committed during the year have been of a class whose labor is unprofitable, either through mental or physical incapability.

The demand for Prison carriages, sleighs, harnesses and brooms has been excellent, and there is a comparatively small amount of finished product on hand at the close of the year. We have been extremely fortunate in having a very small loss on bad accounts, and there is a nice balance to our credit at the bank.

The appropriations made by the last Legislature have been used along the lines intended, and there is a balance of several hundred dollars left over from the appropriation for ventilation which will be returned to the State Treasury.

A system of ventilation, composed of motor driven fans and air ducts, has been installed during the year, and has proven entirely satisfactory and very beneficial to the men. The fans are run at stated intervals during the day and night, and after a very few minutes of operation the smoke and foul air is entirely drawn out and the pure air can be felt coming in.

Another innovation put in practice during the past year has been the change in the manner of serving the prisoners their meals. Under the old method the food was carried to the cells and each man had the same ration. This custom had obvious disadvantages. A hearty eater sometimes did not have enough; a light eater had too much, and what he did not eat was wasted; and it was impossible, especially on the top corridors, to serve the food hot in every instance. Long tables have been constructed in each wing of the prison, where now the men all eat together. Every man can have all he wants; there is very little waste; and the food is hot. The men sat down to the tables for the first time Memorial Day, and this new arrangement has been in practice up to the present time, with uniformly good results.

For all information as to the business transactions of the year just closed permit me to refer you to the appended tables, which I believe are a brief and concise report of the year's work.

In closing, I wish to thank all overseers and officers of the institution for their co-operation in making the year a successful one.

Very respectfully,

BERNES O. NORTON, Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—Herein I present my annual medical report of the Maine State Prison for the year ending November 30, 1907.

During the year there have been no epidemics, and but few accidents. The general health of the convicts has been good.

Within the year a most excellent system of ventilation has been introduced into the corridors. This has long been needed and advised from year to year.

During the year there has been one death in the prison proper. James Clair died Nov. 29th of pulmonary tuberculosis.

In the Insane Department one death has occurred; Smith Brown died March 19th of dementia.

Permit me to thank the warden, deputy warden and all the subordinate officers for the many courtesies extended me during official visits.

Very respectfully,

J. EDWIN WALKER.

Prison Physician.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—The passing months remind me that it is my duty to again report the character and progress of the work committed to the Chaplain of the Maine State Prison.

Within the year ending Nov. 30, 1907, seventy-one persons have been committed to the prison. Fifteen of them could neither read nor write; two could read a little but could not write; twenty-eight had attended the common schools, three of them a few weeks, the others a few terms or years; fifteen had completed the grammar school course of study; five had graduated from the high schools; the remaining six had received seminary and collegiate training. A comparison of these figures with the figures of similar import given in the Report for 1906 will show the literary qualifications of the men to be about the same as those of the men admitted to the prison in previous years.

Instruction.—The work of instruction begins with teaching the alphabet, or with such text-book as the acquirement of the pupil demands, and is carried forward as rapidly as the ability and interest of the student justifies. The result of the work of the year in most cases is gratifying.

Correspondence.—The privilege of receiving letters from relatives and friends of former years is accorded the inmates. They are allowed to write one letter each week. These privileges are improved by most of them and serve to strengthen the love for home and the society of their fellow men, which love fosters and strengthens the purpose to lead an upright life that they may not again be deprived of the companionship of home and friends. We continue to write for those who cannot write but have them compose and write their own letters as soon as they can be taught.

Periodicals.—Many of the men are edacious readers of the weekly papers and magazines which they receive as subscribers or through the kindness of friends. We continue to furnish two magazines temporarily bound, one of recent date, the other an old copy, each Tuesday evening. These are passed in regular order from man to man, each having the use of them for one week. For this use we take Munsey, The American, McClure and The Strand. The old magazines are given by those interested in the work of reform. Various organizations as Sunday Schools, Epworth Leagues, Christian Endeavor Societies, Women's Christian Temperance Unions, churches and private individuals send collections of papers, as the Youth's Companion, Zion's Advocate, Christian Advocate, Zion's Herald, Christian Herald and others too many to name, so that we are able to give weekly some such reading to each man.

Library.—Some additions have been made to the library within the year, mostly through the kindness of the officials of the State Library. The library now numbers twenty-five hundred volumes and includes all classes of books and is profitably used by most of the men, each having a catalogue and selecting such books as he pleases.

Religious Instruction.—This is our most important work and receives our most earnest and prayerful attention. It is our constant endeavor to perform other duties in such a spirit and way as to emphasize the religious thought and work without making it offensive. Many interesting incidents lead to the belief that this work is not fruitless and will continue to yield a harvest of reformed hearts and lives.

With sincere thanks to your honorable body, to the prison inspectors, to the warden and each prison official, this report is respectfully submitted.

C. A. PLUMER, Chaplain.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION RELATING TO THE CRIMINAL, INSANE.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and the Executive Council of the State of Maine:

Your committee who is entrusted under your directions with the management of the department of the criminal insane would respectfully submit its fifteenth annual report. It is quite probable that this is the final statement under the present existing conditions, because of the action of the last legislature in creating a department for this defective class in connection with the hospital for the insane at Augusta.

It is not necessary at this time to go into details and enumerate the various arguments which were used in determining legislative procedures which has caused this prospective radical change in the treatment of the criminal insane, and it is perhaps only proper to state that in the transferal of this class to hospital treatment it is following out the methods which are being pursued in other states, and which is regarded as a step in advance in providing for the care and treatment of the insane. The citizens of the state quite largely established a sentiment which the legislative bodies were inclined to pursue.

The former belief that the criminal insane are much more dangerous to care for than the other class who have fortunately escaped committing overt and dangerous acts is gradually becoming dissipated. Those who have had experience with the insane, fully understand that there are many laboring under delusions accompanied by the loss of the power of self-control observed among both classes, and that homicidal and suicidal acts are frequently committed by those whom we term the innocent insane as well as the criminal. Hence when insanity occurs it becomes the duty of the state to throw around the unfortunate its protecting care from whatever source and cause the disease may have originated. The impulse to take life or commit suicide or perpetrate outrageous acts upon others is likely to occur at any time in any person suffering from insanity.

It may not be amiss to state at this time that the legislative action creating a criminal insane department at the Maine Insane Hospital was made effective by the appropriation of forty thousand dollars for the erection of a segregated building upon the Arsenal grounds, the property of which had been ceded to the State of Maine and which was subsequently passed over to the management of the hospital for its future use and development. A site was determined upon somewhat remote from the other buildings and will afford its inmates eight or ten acres of land for cultivation and recreation. The building is being constructed of granite ashler taken from the other granite buildings on the Arsenal grounds and will offer safe protection. The original plan when fully carried out will accommodate about fifty patients aside from the necessary apartments for its supervision. It will be a hospital complete in its entirety furnishing sleeping apartments, day-rooms, a kitchen and all of the various necessary appliances which go to make a complete department. The present construction which will be finished early another season comprises only a little more than half of the original plan, but will be ample to provide for thirty patients and its necessary help for supervision. It was hoped that the work might at this time have been further advanced; but in consequence of various obstacles thrown in the way and the inability to furnish material the construction has not progressed as we had earlier in the season reason to expect. The work however is being prosecuted at this time as fast as possible considering the lateness of the season, and will be pushed to completion as early as work can be commenced the coming spring. We trust this new departure in providing care and treatment may be made practical, meet the expectations of the citizens of the State and relieve the prison of a class who in their close proximity to the convicts of that department are evidently an incompatible element.

We are pleased to mention the marked improvement which has been made the past year in the ventilation of the wing for the insane. Changes which we advocated in our last report have been carried to completion and one cannot fail to notice the marked improvement in the sanitation. The method of ventilation is simple but exceedingly effective and will extend to the occupants much comfort and more healthful environments. Pure, fresh and heated air will be furnished to all.

No acute illness has occurred during the entire year and as a rule the occupants of the department have enjoyed a fair share of physical health. Labor and recreation are extended to all who are in a suitable mental and physical state to take advantage of the benefit derived. Every suitable day they are offered the liberty of a portion of the prison yard where they are able to enjoy sunlight and fresh air. On an average six or eight have been employed in and about the institution in the various workshops, or on the land. Two discharges have occurred during the year, one inmate having been transferred to the Government Hospital for the insane at Washington, D. C., and one has been placed in charge of relatives and thus far his care at home has been successful. One inmate has died who had been laboring under mental disease for many years and passed away from the results of terminal dementia. Several of the inmates are disposed to read and write and through the kindness of the Chaplain they quite constantly obtain books from the institution's library.

We cannot fail to mention in commendable terms the kindly interest which is taken in the spiritual and moral welfare of the patients by the Chaplain. The religious instructions rendered and the kind and sympathetic care extended in looking after these necessary requirements of the patients contribute to the well-being of all.

Before closing what is anticipated as our last annual communication in connection with the management of the insane at this institution we wish to extend our grateful acknowledgments for the courtesies which have been extended to us at all times by the Chief Executive of the State and the members of his Council. The task of supervision has been somewhat irksome, at least for the local officers connected with this department; but we shall be fully repaid if we can feel assured that we have conscientiously discharged our duty toward this unfortunate class during the long years that they have by the direction of the department of the State Executive been placed in our charge.

We trust that the change which has been determined upon in caring for the criminal insane of the State may be found to be practical and may contribute to further enlightened medical and scientific procedures. The following numerical status is herewith appended:

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL COMMITTEE ON STATE PRISON.

To His Excellency the Governor and the Executive Council:

I have visited the State Prison every month during this year and found it in a very satisfactory condition.

The discipline is excellent and all parts of the prison are clean and orderly.

The food was well cooked, abundant and made from good materials.

Two great improvements have been made. One is the system of ventilation which was installed in the wings of the prison and the other is feeding the prisoners at tables in the corridors, which is much more sanitary and economical than feeding in the cells. The financial condition of the prison is excellent, the institution now being practically self-supporting.

Mr. Norton, the Warden, seems to be the right man in the right place. He has the ability to buy products and provisions at the lowest cash prices and to sell the manufactured articles at the highest market price.

He keeps the men profitably employed and is very fortunate in his selections of foremen and helpers, who all seem to be interested in the prison and work in harmony with him.

I consider the State has made no mistake in securing the services of Mr. Norton, a man so well fitted in every respect for the responsible position as warden of an institution requiring so much ability, tact and conscientiousness in its management.

The prison has never been better conducted and I think no institution in Maine has shown greater improvement during the past two years.

For further details I refer you to reports of the Warden, Inspectors, Physician and Chaplain.

I thank the Warden, overseers and all the assistants for the uniform courtesy I have always received when visiting the institution.

THURSTON S. BURNS, Chairman.

OUR JAILS.

The jails of our State have been carefully inspected at regular intervals throughout the year by one and when possible by two members of this board, and we are more than ever of the opinion of the value and efficacy of the visits being made by more than one member when it is feasible, and it is our purpose to increase this practice even more in the future than has been done in the past.

We regret that we are compelled to report such slight progress in increasing the work of prisoners at our several jails, but we are bound to believe that the seed sown is eventually to bring forth a harvest, for already a movement has been set on foot in several counties looking toward the establishment of workshops.

One of the best evidences of the value of working prisoners confined in our jails is seen in Houlton jail. That was the pioneer jail to establish a wood yard, and the result of that establishment is already well known. When the yard was opened the jail was overrun with tramps, but the number has steadily decreased and for the past year there has been hardly prisoners enough confined in this jail to take care of the institution. Suspecting there might be an influx, however, the County Commissioners asked permission of our Board to work the prisoners on the highway, this being the first request of its nature made to us under the new law. The request was readily granted, but the tramps have given the institution a wide berth, and at no time during the year have there been prisoners enough enrolled to spare a single man on the highway. What Houlton jail officials have accomplished in saving their county big bills for boarding idle tramps, every jail in the State could and should accomplish.

We are obliged to reiterate what we have said more than once concerning the pernicious habit of jailers allowing their prisoners to roam through the corridors instead of being locked into their cells. The cells were made for the confinement of the prisoners and no well regulated jail allows its prisoners to roam about the corridors under normal conditions.

We are glad to report that the jail at South Paris is to be equipped with a workshop the coming year, suitable land for the same having been purchased; and prisoners confined in that jail will be employed at hard labor with the opening of spring. Knox, Somerset, Franklin and Washington Counties are yet without suitable accommodations for working prisoners. As one of the bad results of this omission we find Penobscot County crowded with prisoners all out of proportion to its capacity. The authorities of Washington County are sending all their long term prisoners there for confinement. This board will take prompt measures to discontinue this evil.

We are glad to be able to report that in nearly every jail in our State marked physical improvements are noticeable, all looking towards the better conditions of the inmates.

Following is the summary of the fifteen jails in our State:

Androscoggin.

The jail at Auburn is one of the largest in the State, and 850 prisoners were committed to it the past year. In our last report we called attention to the wooden addition at the top of the jail, occupied by the female prisoners, and suggested that some way of escape should be made from it, in case of a fire. We are glad to be able to report that the commissioners have put in an additional door, which will be very convenient in case of an emergency. They have also remodeled the kitchen thoroughly, and it is now one of the most up to date and sanitary of any to be found anywhere. There are 48 men employed in the workshop, not anywhere near the number that should be employed somewhere, somehow, out of the whole number of commitments. The jail has been kept in good condition throughout the year, and the prisoners well fed and cared for.

Aroostook.

The jail at Houlton is an up-to-date institution, and always kept in the prime of condition. The number of prisoners sentenced there the past year has been the smallest for a number of years, 175. Sheriff Thurlough is a model official, and has accomplished something the past year that few officials can boast of. He has worked a crew of men sawing wood in the woodyard all through the winter and spring without going to the expense of hiring an overseer to handle them, and he has solved the problem of working prisoners without expensive supervision.

Cumberland.

The Portland jail is a model for neatness, and correctness of deportment on the part of the prisoners. There were 1871 commitments there the past year, more than 600 more than the year previous. Of this number 85 were used in the workshop, and a number in caring for the jail and grounds. The institution was as well kept and the inmates as well cared for as can be expected in a jail of that size with as few architectural conveniences.

Franklin.

We have been hoping to be able to report something at the Farmington jail looking toward the working of the prisoners, but it has not been realized as yet, although we have many promises. The number of prisoners committed the past year was 112, the largest number the jail has ever had. Of this number 21 were committed for liquor selling and 40 for drunkenness. Both of these classes should have been given employment, but they had to remain in idleness.

Hancock.

The jail at Ellsworth is one of the best kept of the small jails in our State. The commitments have increased at this jail, too, 31 having been committed to it against 26 last year. Some slight repairs have been made on the interior of the jail, at a cost of nearly $100. There is but little improvement to suggest in a jail that has been kept as well as this one.

Kennebec.

The Augusta jail has been practically remodeled in the interior. A new heating plant has been added, greatly improving the physical condition of the institution and its inmates. More than a thousand dollars has been judiciously expended in this work. There were 673 commitments during the year, 265 of them being for drunkenness, 61 for liquor selling, and 317 for non-payment of fines. Mr. Choate, the turnkey, is a model officer and has kept a very acceptable jail all the year.

Knox.

There is little of encouragement to report in regard to this jail. There were 79 prisoners committed to it through the year, but no work is furnished for them and no movement made towards fitting a place for their employment. Although the lot in the rear of the jail is admirably fitted for a workyard. The commissioners have not made good in repairing the jail, and there is no immediate prospect that they intend to do so. The imperfections render the lower tier of cells unsuitable for occupancy.

Lincoln.

This antiquated old jail is made to do good service, owing to the efficient labors of Turnkey Dow. There have been 43 commitments at this jail during the year, 24 of them being tramps, and Turnkey Dow has worked them in the stoneyard to good advantage, the municipal officers of Wiscasset purchasing the prepared stone at a good price from the county commissioners. The improvement in the streets of Wiscasset can easily be traced to the stone furnished by the handful of men confined at this jail.

Oxford.

It is with much satisfaction that we are able to report that the commissioners of this county have purchased a lot of land adjacent to the jail, and a stoneyard will be established there early in the coming year. There have been 137 prisoners committed during the year, 78 of them for drunkenness and 26 for liquor selling. There is every reason to believe that the commitments the coming year will be obliged to give a good account of themselves in the stoneyard as soon as it can be established.

Penobscot.

The Bangor jail is a very popular place of resort, 1043 commitments having been made there the last year, 35 of them coming from Washington and Hancock counties. Fifty-five men have been worked in the workshop and a number employed in taking care of the county buildings and the grounds. This jail has been kept in good condition throughout the entire year, and the prisoners uniformly well cared for.

Piscataquis.

The small but model and modern jail at Dover has had 45 commitments the past year, seven of them being for liquor selling. This is a well-kept jail, and we only wish every jail in the State was modeled on the same plan.

Somerset.

This jail has been kept in as good condition as it is possible to keep any similar institution where the prisoners are not worked. We have had repeated promises of a workshop being provided at this jail, but nothing has materialized as yet, but we are by no means discouraged and believe that we are perfectly justified in believing that a place will be provided for working the prisoners committed to this jail within the next twelve months.

Waldo.

The number of prisoners committed to the Belfast jail the past year was 48, and they have been well cared for, but owing to the small number of men it is not possible to furnish them constant work. The care of the lawns, stable and garden have been given to them and the work has been done willingly. Sheriff Carleton has had the interior of the jail repainted, and its condition never was as pleasing and as satisfactory as at the present time.

Washington.

There have been 124 commitments at this jail the past year, but we are sorry to be able to report no provision has been made for working the prisoners as yet, neither have the county commissioners seen fit to furnish Sheriff Tarbox with a turnkey, although such a departure has been strongly recommended, not only by our Board but by the members of the Supreme Bench of our State. We cannot urge too strongly the importance of some further protection being given looking toward the safety of the prisoners at this jail when the sheriff is of necessity called out of town on official business.

York.

The jail at Alfred has housed 469 prisoners the past year, 254 of them being committed for drunkenness, 12 for liquor selling, 242 for non-payment of fines. Jailer Rankin has worked his men constantly in the heel shop, and the prisoners have all enjoyed unusually good health. The jail is always kept in apple-pie order and is one of the best to be found in the State.

REPORT OF KENNEBEC COUNTY JAIL.
