REPORT OF COUNCIL COMMITTEE.

To His Excellency, Gov. Fernald, and the Executive Council:

In the supervision of affairs at the prison, your chairman has endeavored to perform his duty and respectfully reports the conditions there as being very satisfactory. The last legislative assembly wisely made an appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars for the erection of a fire-proof building at the Maine State Prison to be used as a harness shop and carriage repository. We take much pride in reporting the building, 45 feet wide by 197 feet long and three stories in height, as now completed and occupied. It is beyond question, the best for which it was designed, in New England. No material excepting the best was used in the construction of this building; and yet, by the exercise of good business ability on the part of the Warden in buying material and utilizing the prison help, the full expense of foundation and building does not exceed the appropriation. From the old building which is replaced by the new a section some sixty-five feet in length was moved to one side and is found to be a very convenient store-house. From that portion of the old building razed, a fine cow barn has been constructed.

Other improvements include the addition of a broad piazza to the "Warden's House," greatly improving the property in outward appearance and enhancing the comfort of the present and future occupants.

The roof of the North wing of the prison has been thoroughly repaired, it being found necessary to strengthen with new timber and to re-slate.

While it is indeed true that much has thus been accomplished there is much more in the way of improvements that will be considered a necessity in the near future.

The nest of boilers as now situated in the pit under the wood-working, broom, and paint shops, where three score men or more are constantly engaged, are not, for more reasons than one, where they should be, and bad results may follow. A boiler house should be constructed and the boilers installed in the prison yard at the same elevation as the work shops.

Other fire-proof buildings, namely, a store-house, a blacksmith shop, and a laundry, should be erected; then the institution would be in fair condition to get along until such time as more cell room is needed; and really, that time is already at hand, for the entire prison is fully occupied.

A very important question is suggested by these necessary requirements and attendant expense; is it the part of wisdom for the State of Maine to make this institution, in its present location, all that the conditions and exigencies of the present and future may require? The prison was established at Thomaston 86 years ago, at the time when passage and transportation by water was the most feasible. The advent of the railroad, as we are all aware, has entirely changed those conditions; and the settlement, and the rapid increase in population, of the more Northern and Eastern portion of our state, seems to call loudly for a re-location of the prison, to some point on the main line of the railroad and nearer the center of population.

Taking into account the amount of work that has been done the past season by the prison help in the way of improvements mentioned, the showing for labor in the several departments is very gratifying; and re-affirms the prevailing opinion, that the prison is well managed.

Respectfully submitted,

LEROY F. PIKE, Chairman.

MAINE STATE PRISON.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and the Executive Council:

We submit to you our annual report for the year ending November 30, 1909.

At the commencement of the prison year, December, 1908, there were confined in the prison two hundred twenty-seven (227) convicts; sixty-nine (69) have been received during the year; seventy-four (74) have been discharged by expiration of sentence; three (3) have been pardoned by the Governor and Council; there have been no deaths; ten (10) insane prisoners have been transferred to the Insane Hospital at Augusta, this makes the last of the criminal insane. Total remaining in Prison December 1, 1909, two hundred nine (209).

The largest number of convicts at any one time during the year was two hundred twenty-eight (228); the smallest number in the prison during the year was two hundred nine (209); the daily average of the year was two hundred eighteen (218).

The total cost of running the departments and the maintenance and care of the prison and prisoners amounted to thirty thousand nine hundred thirty-one dollars and forty-seven cents ($30,931.47), while the profits of the departments have amounted to twenty-two thousand one hundred ninety-one dollars and sixty-six cents ($22,191.66), making the net cost to the State for running the institution eight thousand seven hundred thirty-nine dollars and eighty-one cents ($8,739.81).

It is very gratifying to be able to make such a satisfactory report on the financial condition of the Institution during the past year, considering the advance in all materials that enter into the construction of the merchandise produced, and the fact that during the four months consumed in erecting the new building there was an average of thirty convicts taken from the different departments and used in constructing this building. While engaged in this work the departments suffered to the extent of the number used for this purpose.

Warden Norton deserves a great deal of credit for the showing he has been able to make while the changes incident to re-construction has been going on, making it impossible to work the convicts to the same advantage they naturally would. The stock of manufactured goods on hand are up to date and the latest designs. The small stock on hand shows him to be alert in keeping up with the times and producing the merchandise that an exacting public demands. The goods have been disposed of to reliable firms and no losses have been made during the past year. These are some of the qualities that incline us to believe that the office of warden is filled by the right man.

The new fireproof building erected during the present season to take the place of the former harness shop and storage house is a model building. It has all the conveniences of a first-class work shop, also salesroom for carriages and sleighs being the best in the State, and the storage capacity has been more than doubled. The building is a most substantial one and will serve the purpose for all time. The amount appropriated by the last legislature was $15,000 and it has been completed in every particular at these figures, besides saving enough material to put an addition of 33 x 34 feet on the stable for the accommodation of stock and several thousand brick and other material which will be used later. It has required the closest attention and the shrewdness of a good buyer and competent judge of materials to accomplish this within the limited appropriation made for the work. It is 45 x 197, three stories, built of brick and Southern pine timbers of large dimensions, tar and gravel roof, heavy floors, all the light, heating, ventilation and sanitary conditions that are to be found in any modern building.

With the exception of the visiting member of the executive council there has been no changes in the offices since our last report. Hon. LeRoy F. Pike of the council has taken a great interest in prison affairs and his counsel has been most valuable, always ready and willing to give his time and advice in any matters pertaining to the affairs of this department.

Mr. Arthur F. Brown who has occupied the position of clerk for the past five years is a gentleman who is perfectly capable of filling the office as his term of years would indicate. He takes interest and pride in keeping a fine set of books.

Dr. J. E. Walker, prison physician, has a record for himself that speaks for itself, having filled this position thirteen years. He gives his knowledge and ability to those that require his services.

The chaplain of this institution comes in contact with the convicts in a way that no one else can. He must be a man full of sympathy, of a kindly disposition, always ready to meet the demands that are made upon him. The State has such a gentleman in Rev. C. A. Plumer who has filled the position most acceptably for so many years.

The Rev. Fr. Flynn of Rockland is one of the visiting clergy; always has the best of advice to give which is accepted by a large number of those who listen. We appreciate his calls.

The special appropriation made by the last legislature remains in the treasury, nothing having been used from it. The food furnished is of the same standard as the last report. The clothing is well looked after, comfortable and clean.

During the past year the last of the criminal insane have been transferred to Augusta.

We would recommend to the next legislature that another fire proof building be erected on the same lines as the one recently finished to take the place of the blacksmith shop and other wood constructed buildings. The wood shop which is crowded would be relieved and the combination of the different departments, such as to make a saving. The present heating plant being under the wood shop, thirty feet below the ground floor should be changed as much better results would be obtained by its being on the level with the ground floor of the prison. With these changes the State buildings would be as near fire proof as possible. The State's property has been kept up in every particular. The buildings inside the walls have received special attention, the slate on the roof has been thoroughly attended to. This, with other general repairs have put them all in prime condition.

EDWARD P. MAYO,

F. H. HARGRAVES,

WARDEN'S REPORT.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and the Executive Council:

GENTLEMEN:—I respectfully submit to you the annual report of the Maine State Prison for the year ending November 30, 1909.

This date marks the close of another fiscal year in the affairs of the Maine State Prison. It has been a year of prosperity, and today there is as small a quantity of manufactured product on hand as ever in the history of the institution. The market for our carriages, sleighs, harnesses and brooms has been excellent, and the manufacture of furniture has entered into the business transactions in no mean proportion. The erection of the new harness shop and repository, while it has affected the earnings of the harness department considerably and retarded the output, will prove of very great value for the future, and being practically fireproof, will afford a safe place for the large amount of valuable product that we have on hand at certain seasons of the year. The greatest need that the Prison now has, is another brick building of ample proportions to take the place of the remainder of the wooden shops.

The increase in value of the stock account November 30, 1909, over that of a year ago is almost nine thousand dollars. Nearly all of this increase is in raw material, and this accounts for the larger indebtedness of the institution in 1909 than in 1908. The accounts receivable and the money in the bank amount to very nearly the same as last year, and the net assets are a little rising four thousand three hundred dollars more than in 1908.

The removal of the criminal insane to Augusta has been of great benefit to the prison, and has provided cell room which otherwise would have been hard to find. Despite the fact of this removal, the daily average prison population this year has been two hundred and eighteen, one more than that of last year when the insane were still here. For the past five years the number of the convicts has been steadily and constantly increasing, and should this increase continue, it is a question of only a few years at the most when a new prison, or a substantial addition to the present one, will have to be built.

The monthly inspections of your visiting committee, Hon. Leroy F. Pike, I have appreciated, and his assistance and counsel have been valuable. My sincere thanks are also extended to the board of prison inspectors for their never failing co-operation and advise; also all overseers and officers of the institution are entitled to my thanks.

Very respectfully,

BERNES O. NORTON, Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—Herein I respectfully submit my annual report of the medical department of the Maine State Prison for the year.

The general health of the convicts has been good. There have been no deaths. Freshly raised vegetables in large quantities in their season, and other good quality of foods have been ample and served in a wholesome and palatable manner. Good warm clothing, well heated and ventilated corridors have added much to the hygienic well being of the inmates. Strict cleanliness has been observed in every department; in fact, every precaution has been taken to prevent and guard against disease.

In the early part of the year the insane convicts who were in the insane department of the Prison were removed to Augusta, Me., where a building had been properly fitted and arranged for the care of the criminal insane. During the year there have been four convicts adjudged insane and transferred to the asylum at Augusta. To you, gentlemen, the warden, deputy warden and all subordinate officers I wish to extend my thanks for the courtesies shown me.

Very respectfully,

J. EDWIN WALKER,
Prison Physician.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith submit to your consideration and through you to the citizens of the State my report of the work assigned to me, chaplain of the Maine State Prison.

Within the year closing this thirtieth day of November sixty-nine persons have been committed to the Prison. Fourteen of them could neither read nor write, one could read a little but could not write; twenty-two had attended for a few terms or a longer period the common schools; seventeen had taken the course taught in the grammar schools; ten had completed the high school studies; three had been educated in private schools; and two had been favored with academic advantages.

Forty-six of them were accustomed to the use of intoxicating drinks, some using the lighter drinks occasionally, others using the lighter drinks regularly but in moderate quantities, others using the heavier drinks occasionally or regularly and moderately, and the remaining number drank the heavier liquors in large amounts. Nearly all, there being a few exceptions, were users of tobacco in one or both ways of its common use. Many of the younger men were intemperate smokers of cigarettes, and several had associated the use of opium with their tobacco using and drinking habits.

Another donation of books has been made to the library by those having the care of the Maine State Library. Though these books have been used they are a valuable addition to the prison library which now numbers a few more than twenty-seven hundred books and six hundred bound magazines. The library is largely used by nearly all who read and is a source of much pleasure and instruction.

The privilege of writing weekly and receiving as many letters as their friends are pleased to send them is appreciated by nearly all and serves to strengthen the ties which bind one to his family and the purpose to turn to a better life and become a blessing to one's family, and in so doing to society. Six thousand and ninety-eight letters have been sent out within the year and a much larger number have been received by the inmates of the Prison.

The work of instruction has been continued as in previous years. Many have made commendable progress in their studies. An unusual number have been taking some course of profitable studies in several of the correspondence schools. The advancement of all is commendable and that of several is worthy of especial mention on proper occasions.

We have not allowed the duties of librarian and instructor to supersede the moral and religious work of the chaplain. The services of the Sabbath are as heretofore, preaching in the morning, this service being maintained in all its parts as fully as a similar service in the church, and a second service in the afternoon with the female prisoners. The morning service on the third Sabbath of each month is conducted by the Roman Catholic priest. As there is no spirit of antagonism between the priest and the chaplain we find our services mutually helpful. The other hours of the Sabbath are passed in visiting the men and conversing with them upon moral and religious subjects. Quite a number of the men are systematically studying the Bible. We have furnished them with such helps as they need and aid them as they require. Our experience in this work has taught us not to despair of the reformation of any man but to sow the seed of truth in the morning looking for the time when the stony ground shall become good soil to receive the seed and yield a rich harvest.

With thanks to you, the prison inspectors, the warden and all others who have assisted me in any measure, this report is submitted.

C. A. PLUMER, Chaplain.

COUNTY JAILS.

Your inspectors have performed their accustomed duties in the inspection of the county jails during the past year, and made such recommendations as, in their judgment, seemed necessary.

One of the principles adhered to has been, that all able-bodied, convicted violators of the laws of the State shall be made to work, and not be allowed to pass their time in slothful idleness; which is a source of demoralization to those industriously inclined, and of gratification to those whose only desire is to viciously waste time. One should be allowed to work as a safeguard and preventive, and the other should be made to work as a punishment and corrective. The employment to be along industrial lines, if possible, but if this is not feasible under local conditions, or from the small number of the prisoners, then they shall break stone for the benefit of the highways.

In the pursuance of this principle the inspectors have urged the enlargement of those jails not provided with the room and conveniences for employment. It is with pleasure that we can report, that in four counties there have been, or are being built, substantial and commodious jail additions. This plan will be followed by other counties in the spring.

These jail additions will provide means for convenient and systematic employment of the prisoners, and for more cell room.

In some of our jails the lack of cell room is a menace to the health of those confined in them, and may well be considered shameful; and, we believe that we are justified in adding, a disgrace to those counties in which they are situated.

The increase in population, which in some sections has been considerable, has brought with it, as would be expected, an increase in criminality. The future may hold much for the prevention of crime, and for the reformation of the criminal, but it has been up to this time almost a negligible quantity, and there is no reason to suppose that, for an indefinite time, the overcrowding of our jails will not be a factor to contend with. The question is a forceful one, and demands attention. The accommodations for women prisoners are especially inadequate.

Your inspectors believe in the strictest discipline for law-breakers, that especial privileges shall not be allowed, and that the welfare and protection of society require that the decrees of our judges be implicitly enforced by those to whom that duty is entrusted; all of which may be done without losing sight of the fact that the criminal is a man, and entitled to rational and decent treatment; that whatever he may have of worth and goodness shall not be utterly crushed out. Many of them are first offenders and often susceptible to good or bad treatment. With this in view one of our rulings has been against the practise of the feeding of prisoners by means of a dish of food pushed through an aperture in the lower part of their cell door, to be eaten on their cots, or as best they can, in a darkened cell. This we have considered as uncleanly and tending towards deterioration. In its place we have recommended that the prisoners be fed at tables, as is the custom at the State Prison, which is cleanly and economical as well as humane and decent.

We are pleased to report on this, that table service has been, or will be, installed in all the larger jails, and changes made in the smaller ones.

The aim of your inspectors is to bring about a higher level of conditions in the housing and treatment of prisoners; a definite system on questions of employment, diet, clothing and sanitary affairs; in the hope that our jails may not continue to be "schools of crime," but rather corrective and reformative.

Androscoggin.

We are very sorry to be able to report but little progress made in this county the past year. There has been a few shower baths provided, and some slight improvements in the convenience of the cell room, but here is a county that must of necessity have a very large expenditure made on its county buildings in the very near future, and this is one of the counties that will be taken up early in the new year. The hazardous location of the quarters devoted to women prisoners has already been mentioned in this report several times, but no attention has been paid to it by the county officials. The jail is constantly overcrowded, and as is well known the best of discipline cannot be maintained under such conditions.

Aroostook.

Here we find the usual good conditions prevailing. The jail workshop, the first to be had in our State, has solved the problem of overcrowding and good discipline, and 100 cords of wood have remained in the wood yard for more than a year, waiting to be worked up, and as at present advised it looks as though it would wait for some time to come, as this is one of the most unpopular jails in the State to the tramp fraternity.

Cumberland.

Here is another county that must needs make liberal expenditures in the way of repairs on its jail before we shall be able to report a model institution. As we were obliged to report last year, there have been over a thousand commitments this year of chronic drunks, a large majority of whom should have been sent to a farm on an indeterminate sentence, for they are chronic inebriates and not criminals. The jail has been kept in good condition, but it is far from an ideal building, and ought to be materially renovated in the very near future. We are glad to be able to report that the suggestion made a year ago for feeding prisoners from tables, has been inaugurated, and the success of the new method is already assured.

Franklin.

We are pleased to be able to report that Franklin county has risen to the occasion and is building an additional 30 x 40 feet to its jail. The lower part is to be used as a workshop, and the upper half will be fitted with cages for the better handling of prisoners. The jail has been badly overcrowded on several occasions when we have visited it, but the new addition when completed will greatly relieve the congestion for some time to come, at least. The officials of this thriving county are to be congratulated on having been one of the very first to move in this matter in the right direction.

Hancock.

Here is one of the smallest of our jails, but one that should be fitted so that the prisoners could be worked. The commitments are increasing each year as the county is developing industrially and as a summer resort. The past year there has been thirty-nine commitments, a greater number than there would have been had the prisoners been required to perform hard labor.

Kennebec.

Last year we reported material improvement at this jail, $3500 having been expended in heating and lighting the same. During the present year a new and modern jail workshop has been constructed of stone, south of the jail, and connected with the same by an underground concrete walk. The new shop is to be heated by steam and lighted by electricity. When these improvements are completed this county will undoubtedly have the best equipped jail and workshop in our State. This was one of the first jails in the State to inaugurate a system of refusing to have food brought to the prisoners by outside friends, and the change has been most salutary. The system of tables for feeding the prisoners has been inaugurated here and gives perfect satisfaction.

Lincoln.

The jail here is a relic of the musty past, and will undoubtedly soon be condemned and pass into history, but new and improved facilities will undoubtedly soon be furnished for caring for the prisoners in this county.

Oxford.

Last year we reported that a stone yard had been installed in this county for working the prisoners, but owing to building operations to provide for a jail kitchen, and a library, the prisoners have been worked on outside work more or less all the season, hence the stone yard has not been put into general use. It has now been decided to abandon this project, and erect a 40 foot addition on the western side of the jail, similar to what has been undertaken in other counties. The work will be taken up early in the new year. With this addition Oxford county will have one of the finest sets of county buildings in the whole State.

Knox.

This county has erected a brick addition to its jail of the same type as the jail itself, similar to additions made in other counties, the lower story being used for a workshop, and the upper story for additional cells, when needed for the proper classification of prisoners. The new addition is on the south of the jail and is a very neat looking structure.

Penobscot.

Here is another jail that is sadly overcrowded, and more room is greatly needed. Nearly 500 chronic inebriates were committed to this jail last year which should have been put upon a farm where they could have been treated similar to the work done on the farm at Bridgewater, Mass. Many of these prisoners are sentenced several times a year to jail, simply for drunkenness. Our recommendation of last year that table service be given at this jail, has been acted upon, and the change is much appreciated by all concerned.

Here is a new jail that has already outgrown its capacity, and an addition should be put on to the south to furnish better classification for the prisoners, better accommodations for the jailer and an opportunity to work the prisoners that are now increasing regularly with the growth of the county. We hope to be able to report this work under way another year.

Somerset.

When we visited this jail early last year we found a terribly congested condition, and no attempt to classify the prisoners could be made. After going over the matter with the officials several times it was finally decided to add 40 feet on the west side of the jail, the lower half to be used for a workshop and the upper half for cells, already sadly needed. When these improvements have been completed we confidently expect that this county will have one of the best appointed jails in the State.

Waldo.

The jail in this county while kept in as good physical condition as is possible under the circumstances, has outlived its usefulness and should give way to a modern structure. A woodshed 55 x 20 feet has been added the past year, for working the prisoners, and when complete will undoubtedly answer the purpose until a new jail is constructed, which we trust is one of the things in the near future, when a modern workshop will of necessity be incorporated.

Washington.

Last year we reported the construction of a commodious workyard connected with this jail. It was found in course of time that this did not exactly fill the bill, so a fine roof was added, which makes it possible to work the prisoners manufacturing wood in all weathers. The prisoners are kept in their cells when not at work, and tables are provided for the meals, as in other up to date jails. Here is one of the best kept jails in the State, and the jailer is the one that steers the ship under all circumstances. He is certainly to be commended for the business-like manner in which he has conducted the jail the past year.

York.

This is one of the oldest jails in the State, but it is kept in good condition, and the prisoners are worked regularly and systematically in the workshop. The food provided has been uniformly good and there is but little out of the daily routine of life to report from this jail.
