REPORT OF THE COUNCIL COMMITTEE OF THE MAINE STATE PRISON, 1910.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and Executive Council:

Having made official visits monthly to the State Prison, since submitting my report of 1909, I feel safe in assuming that I am familiar with the conditions at the prison; and I am pleased to be able to report the same in a prosperous, healthy and satisfactory state; these good results must naturally follow the efforts of so efficient a manager as Warden Norton. All the conditions, relating to sanitary and resulting good health, to discipline and attendant good work, show the results of careful and faithful service by the Warden, and Deputy Warden, Mr. Pierce, and in fact by every officer and overseer of the prison.

We much regret the resignation and retirement of Warden Norton, and sincerely hope the people of the State may be as fortunate in the selection of his successor as in securing Mr. Norton six years ago. Mr. E. C. Bucklin, a veteran overseer, in the harness department, has taken advantage of the Act of 1909, and will retire as by the provisions of that act, Feb. 1st, 1911, after thirty-eight years of approved service, a very remarkable and enviable record. Mr. John H. Feehan, a veteran overseer in the carriage department, with a record equally good, of thirty years, will retire August 1st, 1911, under provisions of the same act.

A carefully taken inventory of the stock and equipment at the prison, taken by the inspectors, is very gratifying, and reaffirms the ability of the management of the prison to achieve grand results.

I find the prison inspectors, Messrs. Leighton, Hargraves and Mayo, constitute a very strong board; they are painstaking, and interested in the welfare of both the public and the unfortunates, and are accomplishing wonderful results, with the combined efforts and help of many of the county commissioners of the State, in jail reform, all of which was very necessary, in order to be consistent with the ideas of today; we hope the good work may be continued.

Very respectfully submitted,

LEROY F. PIKE,
Chairman.

MAINE STATE PRISON.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and the Executive Council:

We submit to you our annual report for the year ending November 30, 1910.

At the commencement of the prison year, December 1, 1909, there were confined in the prison two hundred and nine (209) convicts; sixty-nine (69) have been received during the year; sixty-six (66) have been discharged by expiration of sentence; four (4) have been pardoned by the Governor and Council; there have been six (6) deaths; seven (7) insane convicts have been transferred to the Insane Hospital at Augusta. Total remaining in prison December 1, 1910, one hundred and ninety-five (195).

The largest number of convicts at any one time during the year was two hundred and nine (209); the smallest number in the prison during the year was one hundred eighty-three (183); the daily average of the year was one hundred ninety-eight (198).

The total cost of running the departments and maintenance and care of the prison and prisoners amounted to thirty-two thousand three hundred ninety-eight dollars and thirty cents ($32,398.30). This increase over the cost of last year was due to two (2) additional guards and a matron.

The profits of the departments have amounted to eighteen thousand four hundred sixty-five dollars and eighty-eight cents ($18,465.88); making the net cost to the State for running the institution, thirteen thousand nine hundred thirty-two dollars and forty-two cents ($13,932.42). A large part of this difference is due to the extreme high cost and scarcity of broom corn during the past year. It has been impossible to make and dispose of brooms at their cost. This caused a falling off in the sales of that department of ten thousand nine hundred sixty-three dollars and forty-three cents ($10,963.43), and at the same time a falling off in the profit on the above sales that the department would have shown under normal conditions.

It is pleasing to make the above report on the financial condition of the prison, considering the condition of the broom department in the year just closed. The manufactured goods on hand are all up to date and should sell quick. There is no department that has an over stock, either manufactured, in course of construction, or stock to be manufactured. The stock has been most carefully and conservatively taken at its present cash value. There have been no bad debts incurred during the year to be charged off.

In the resignation of Warden B. O. Norton, which takes effect in January, the State loses a most efficient officer. Besides being a perfect disciplinarian, he has given most careful consideration to sanitary conditions, cleanliness, fresh air, and the care of the convicts in sickness. He is not only warden in the sense of having complete discipline over those under his charge, but he is a manufacturer who is able to construct products that meet the demand of an exacting public, and sells at a price that shows on the right side of the ledger at the close of the year, as the annual reports show for the past six years of his administration.

Hon. LeRoy F. Pike, visiting member of the executive council, is particularly adapted to fill the position, taking a keen interest in everything pertaining to the welfare of the institution, and his counsel has been most helpful. A gentleman of affairs, quick to see and act.

Rev. C. A. Plumer, who has been recently reappointed prison chaplain, has by his many years of service and his marked ability as chaplain and teacher, as well as librarian, become a very valuable man for the State in the position he has so acceptably filled. He is remarkably well equipped to meet the many demands made upon him.

Mr. Arthur F. Brown, who has served as clerk through the present administration, has filled the position most acceptably. He takes pride in keeping a neat set of books and is prompt in his work.

Dr. J. E. Walker, prison physician, whose report appears, tells the story of the part he has taken in relieving those who suffer from sickness. His many years of service as a general practitioner of ability in this community is a guarantee that this department is in the hands of a responsible man.

The Rev. Father Flynn of Rockland, who often has charge of the prison service, exerts an influence for good which shows itself particularly among those convicts in whom he is especially interested. Good advice by a gentleman in his position is always acceptable.

The special appropriation of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) made by the last Legislature still remains in the treasury, not a dollar having been used. The food is well cooked and of the usual quality; although there has been an increase in the cost of material used in this department, the standard has been maintained. The table service in use allows every convict to satisfy his appetite. The clothing is in the best condition. It is comfortable and clean.

All buildings owned by the State have been kept in perfect repair. There has been a new carriage shed built during the past season.

We would recommend to the next Legislature that it follow out the plan begun and erect another fireproof building near the one built two years ago, to be used as a blacksmith shop, and also relieve the congested condition of the wood shop as well. A combination of this kind would make a saving in the cost of merchandise. We would call attention to the present heating plant, which should be on a level with the ground floor of the prison. With these changes the institution would be greatly improved.

C. A. LEIGHTON,
EDWARD P. MAYO,
F. H. HARGRAVES.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and the Executive Council:

GENTLEMEN:—I respectfully submit to you the annual report of the Maine State Prison for the year ending November 30, 1910.

In placing this report before you, I am mindful of the many things and matters of interest that might be discussed, yet it is not my purpose to go into the records of the prison during the past year in detail, but rather will refer you to statistical tables, the schedules of the transactions of the various departments and the reports of the different officials attached hereto. These, I believe, are correct, and will give you a clear idea as to the methods of business of the institution and of the life within its walls.

From a financial standpoint, two of the manufacturing departments show a gain this year over last; while the other two show a loss. In an institution of this kind the men must be employed as constantly as possible even if market conditions are not such as to make production profitable. The expense departments average just about as they did last year, with the exception of the appropriation received from the State for the salaries of officers which has been increased to the extent of two extra guards and a matron, necessary additions to the prison force.

The stock account is about the same as in previous years, both in manufactured goods and in raw material, and there is nothing on hand that is not first class in every respect, and it will all find a ready market. The accounts receivable exceed those payable by eight thousand eight hundred seventy-seven dollars and eighty cents ($8,877.80); and there is cash on hand and in the bank to the extent of seven thousand five hundred seventy-five dollars and seventy-three cents ($7,575.73). Financially the institution seems to be in a flourishing condition.

The only funds which have been drawn from the State treasury during the past year have been the appropriation for salaries of officers, amounting to fourteen thousand dollars ($14,000.00); the appropriation for medicine, one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00); and the appropriations for schools and books, fifty dollars ($50.00) each. The one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) for medicine does not nearly cover the cost of this department and this should be increased to at least five hundred dollars ($500.00) per year. There has been no occasion to use the special appropriation made by the last Legislature and that will revert back into the State treasury. Neither has any money been drawn this year on account of buildings and repairs, the expense of which having been met from the earnings of the prison. The daily cost for feeding the men has been within three mills of ten cents for each man, which is on an average with the cost of other prisons, the reports of which we receive.

Hon. LeRoy F. Pike, your visiting member, has been most punctual in his visits here, and his good advice and support I have much relied on and appreciated. The Board of Prison Inspectors has been constant and painstaking in its efforts to assist, and to them, also, my sincere thanks are due.

It comes to me very forcibly at this time that this is in all probability the last report for the Maine State Prison I shall ever make. Having determined to relinquish public for private business, I am minded that I am soon to sever my connection with the officers and employees of this institution, the greater part of whom have been in the State's employ during all the six years that I have been warden. This parting will not be a pleasant one for me, and I trust they will have of me as pleasant a remembrance as I shall always have for them. I thank them one and all for their loyal support.

Very respectfully,

BERNES O. NORTON,

Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—I respectfully submit herein my annual report of the medical department of the Maine State Prison for the year.

There have been seven convicts removed to the Insane Hospital at Augusta during the year.

There have been six deaths during the year; one from heart disease, and five from pulmonary tuberculosis. Most of these men were tuberculous when sent to the institution. Few states have yet made an effort to separate the tuberculous prisoners from the non-tuberculous, and to treat them systematically. Segregation of tuberculous prison inmates is now considered a necessity. I trust this State will not be slow in caring for these poor unfortunates in a systematic manner. I would recommend that a small building be built on a portion of the west wing for the tuberculous patients.

At all times the food has been of good quality, wholesome, well cooked, and of sufficient quantity. Well heated and ventilated corridors have added much to the comfort and health of the convicts. To you, gentlemen, the warden, deputy warden and all subordinate officers I wish to extend my thanks for the courtesies shown me.

Very respectfully,

J. EDWIN WALKER,

Prison Physician.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

GENTLEMEN:—The close of another year calls for a report respecting the work assigned to me as Chaplain of the Maine State Prison.

Within the months of the year ending this day, November thirtieth, sixty-nine persons have been committed to the prison with sentences varying from one year to fifteen years. Of these twenty could neither read or write; two could read a little but could not write, eighteen had attended one term or a longer period the common schools, seventeen had been instructed in grammar schools, seven had graduated from the high schools of their respective towns and cities, and five had been instructed in private schools and colleges. Sixty-two of this number were users of tobacco and forty of them were accustomed to the use of intoxicating drinks either occasionally and in moderate amounts or habitually and in large quantities, and several of them associated the use of opium with their smoking and drinking.

The work of instructing these and continuing the instruction of those who were studying the different branches of knowledge at the close of the previous year has not been neglected. Most of them have made commendable progress in their studies.

We have received another donation of books from the Maine State Library of three hundred and ninety-three volumes. Several of them are duplicates of books already in the library, but these are useful, for several of our copies were badly worn. With the addition of these volumes we have now a few more than three thousand books and six hundred bound magazines.

The privilege of writing one letter each week and receiving as many letters as their friends are pleased to send them is fully appreciated by nearly all. It is a means of instruction, many of the men becoming fine letter writers. And the habit of writing and receiving letters maintains and strengthens the ties which bind one to his family and cultivates the purpose to live so as to be a blessing and honor to one's friends, and in thus living, to be a useful citizen. Six thousand two hundred and thirty-one letters have been sent out during the year and many more have been received from the friends of the men.

We have given thoughtful and prayerful attention to the spiritual needs of the men. We have given the same attention to and preparation for the Sabbath services as to similar services when serving as pastor of a church. The morning service on the third Sabbath of each month has been conducted by Rev. J. A. Flynn or his assistant, of the Roman Catholic church. The Chaplain and priest do not antagonize each other but along those lines in which they can join heart to heart and hand with hand labor together to help these men to a better, a Christian life. The labors have not been fruitless. A goodly number are systematically studying the Bible. Several are leading a life of daily watchfulness and prayer. In the thought of all the seed of Gospel truth has been scattered and with faith in the assurance given by Him who gave His Son to redeem, that His word "shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please and it shall prosper in the things whereto I sent it," we wait the harvest, whether it be gathered here or elsewhere.

It is a pleasure to close this report with the statement: The advanced morale of the prison reached during the present administration has been maintained during this year with steadily diminishing need of the severer forms of discipline.

With sincere thanks to you, to the prison inspectors, the warden, and subordinate officers, each of whom have made my work pleasant, this report is submitted.

C. A. PLUMER,

Chaplain.

COUNTY JAILS.

If your inspectors were to measure progress in jail betterments by the resistance, the gain, from that point of view, would be considerable, though the net advance be of only moderate extent.

The resistance encountered, with few exceptions, is of a passive nature, and the result of the continued disposition of the public to relegate to the background all interest in the violator of the law after his conviction; other and seemingly more important affairs are pressed upon the attention of county officials and the time and the money are spent along lines of more insistent public demand. Important questions of public economy and welfare, particularly in our city counties, in the disposition and handling of law-breakers are overlooked, and it is only by the most persistent effort, supported by all the authority that the law affords, that any progress is made. There should be an awakening along these lines and the public take an interest in any reasonable and humane attempt to solve some of the simpler questions in the criminal problem.

As was outlined in our last report, we deemed it fundamental to any improvement in jail conditions that the prisoners be employed, and thus avoid the debasing and vicious waste of time which prevailed in the smaller jails.

This step has entailed considerable expense to several counties, as land had to be purchased and additions to the jail buildings constructed; but the result has furnished the means for methodical employment of the prisoners, affords more cell room when needed, and proves a source of welfare and satisfaction to all concerned.

We can report favorably, with one exception, on conditions in the smaller jails. Practically all now have workshops or worksheds, more attention is given to the cleanliness of the jails, to the food and clothing of the prisoners, and to their separation, or classification, so far forth as possible. The exception referred to is an antiquated structure, so medieval with its huge stone walls and narrow slits for windows, and so great in its capacity for suffering and discomfort, that it does not seem possible that during the one hundred and more years of its existence, there has been an epoch with which it could have been in harmony. We can but believe that, notwithstanding apathy and opposition, its days are numbered, and the grim old bastille with its mamertine conditions will be replaced by a structure more in accord with the civilization of today.

There are five jails in the more populous counties which may be classed as large. One of them enjoys the distinction of being large enough for the needs of its county. This jail is in the central, or capitol county, and is by far the largest and best in the State. Considering the date of its construction it was admirably planned and executed, and this county possesses a great advantage in being able to care for its prisoners economically and properly.

Decided improvements have been made in one of the other four, the location of the quarters for the women prisoners having been changed and enlarged, making them commodious and satisfactory in details. This jail, however, in common with the other three, is absolutely inadequate to meet the requirements of its commitments, and there are long periods when the overcrowding in all is well-nigh intolerable, large numbers of the cells being used each for the sleeping quarters of from four to six prisoners, and this situation is aggravated by the very crude sanitary conditions, and further that there is no isolation for those who are sick, and these crowded and ill ventilated cells oftentimes have a sick inmate to add danger and discomfort to his companions.

It is obvious that this state of affairs ought not to continue if we are a civilized people and with the means to correct them; and unless some other disposition is made with a part of the commitments, which, in our judgment, might be done with those committed for drunkenness and for minor offenses, and who make one-half, or more, of those sent to these jails, then the jails must be enlarged to meet the situation. Such conditions have been met in several instances in other states by a change of procedure with seeming success, as at Cleveland, Ohio, and at Bridgewater, Mass., by the establishment of institutions for this class of law violators, and by the broadening of the probation and parole systems.

It is the judgment of your inspectors that the overcrowding of these jails has now become the most important subject for consideration and should receive immediate and positive attention.

ANDROSCOGGIN.

We are pleased to be able to report very gratifying alterations in the county buildings in Auburn. The apartments formerly occupied by the sheriff as a residence have been given up to the work of the jail, the first floor being used for the sheriff's office and guard room, while the next two floors are for the exclusive use of women prisoners, and the basement is now occupied as a dining room. The male prisoners all eat there, sitting on stools at the tables, the food being served in boarding house style, each man at liberty to eat as much as he wishes. What was formerly a part of the kitchen and serving room has been utilized for this dining room. Concrete walks have been laid in the jail proper throughout, and new steel stairs have been installed. The jail, with the exception of the wooden attic, is very nearly fireproof. A central heating plant has also been installed. The stable has been set back to rear of the county lot adjoining the workshop, making a site for the sheriff's residence later. As far as the work has progressed it has been of a high order, but new cells are sadly needed in the jail, which can only come from enlarging the building. There were 1236 commitments last year, 871 of them being for drunkenness. Here is another place where a farm for chronic inebriates is sadly needed.

AROOSTOOK.

The jail in this county has been kept in uniformly good condition as well as could be expected when no conveniences are furnished for the classification of prisoners according to crime and age. The only segregation that is possible is a separation of the sexes. This jail has had 259 commitments the past year, eight of them being women. Forty of the commitments were for liquor selling, forty-three for non-payment of fines and eighty-three for drunkenness. This jail has a good commodious wood yard where the prisoners have been worked an average of 14 at a time during the year.

CUMBERLAND.

Here is one of the largest and oldest jails in the State, and as we have repeatedly suggested, one where very material renovation should be made. It was a good substantial structure when built forty or fifty years ago, when the thought uppermost was the safe keeping of the prisoners. In this enlightened age a prison that has over three thousand commitments in a year should be more modern than this can possibly be without very extensive repairs. Last year we were obliged to report 1478 commitments for drunkenness. This year there has been 2345, which calls aloud for a farm for these poor unfortunates to be sent to. We are glad to know that an effort will be made to secure such a long needed institution in the Legislature this winter. They have a well conducted workshop with this jail and work on an average nearly 100 men.

FRANKLIN.

Here is one of the small jails in the State that is enjoying the benefit of a good substantial workshop, and it has had the usual effect of depleting the number committed for drunkenness. There have been 106 commitments during the year for all offences, three of them being females. While the workshop is a marked addition to the equipment at this jail, the sheriff should have additional office room, which could easily be secured by a small brick addition in the place of the present very much crowded and very inconvenient guard room. As usual this jail has been in uniformly good condition the year throughout.

HANCOCK.

This county has no workshop, and has had but very few prisoners, much of the time having only one or two. The total for the entire year was but 25. Sheriff Silsby has been a conscientious official and we have found the jail in good condition at all our visits.

KENNEBEC.

The workshop connected with this jail has been one of the best conducted and busiest places to be found in the whole State. It has been necessary to bring prisoners from several of the other counties, where the jail accommodations were limited, or there were no workshops, to this county to serve out their sentence. Seventy-eight prisoners from other counties have thus been accommodated, the total commitment for the year being 719. One of the most marked improvements in this jail is the addition of steam heat. $1430.69 has been expended on repairs, and it has been put to good purpose. The prisoners are employed in making mattress buttons and shoe shanks, Childs & Crowley having the contract for the labor of the prisoners, and their part of the work has been carried out to the general satisfaction of all. Sheriff Getchell and his officials have conducted a model institution throughout the year.

KNOX.

The workshop at this jail has been put to good use the past year, but not to as full extent as we would wish. The whole number of prisoners committed for the year was 93, but the number in the workshop has only averaged six. There have been 59 commitments for drunkenness, five for non-payment of fines, and five for liquor selling.

LINCOLN.

There is but little to be added to what we have already said in regard to the condition of this jail. We have urged the county commissioners to remodel it and put in larger windows, steam heat it, thorough ventilation, etc., etc., but they have demurred on the ground that it would cost a county as small as Lincoln too much money. We asked the Governor and Council for authority to go ahead with the work, but their decision was delayed too late for anything to be done this season.

OXFORD.

This county has at last got well under way towards the last step in completing one of the most if not the most up to date sets of buildings. They have a well conducted jail, a fine cook room connected with it, with a law library overhead, and have purchased the land and put in the foundation for a commodious modern workshop. The building is to be constructed in the early spring. There were 205 commitments last year at this jail, 46 for drunkenness, 39 for liquor selling and 41 for non-payment of fines. When this workshop is completed here will be a good county for the hoboes to keep clear of.

PENOBSCOT.

Much has been said of late in regard to the limitations of this jail. It was built forty years ago, when the only thought was safeguarding the prisoners. There are no conveniences for toilet rooms, nor for the proper classification of prisoners, and the result, especially where there are four or five prisoners hived in a cell intended for one, is precisely what might be expected. There were 1323 prisoners committed here last year, over 600 of them being for drunkenness. Two-thirds of this latter number should have been sent to a reformatory rather than to a jail. There were 27 females committed during the year, with no adequate accommodations for their proper incarceration. The workshop had an average of 69 employed during the year, a very small number considering the large number of commitments, it would seem. This jail, like the one in Cumberland, needs material enlargement and remodeling to make it what these two cities should have, an up to date place of detention for its prisoners.

PISCATAQUIS.

This is one of the small jails that last year had only 26 commitments. It is very difficult to determine accurately just how such a jail as this should be conducted, all things considered. There are no accommodations for the classification of prisoners according to crime, age or sex. A small workshop, with a woman's prison in the second story and an enlarged office are three things sadly needed at this jail.

SAGADAHOC.

This county is still without a jail, and its prisoners are now being cared for at Kennebec jail, where they are employed in the workshop. We have repeatedly urged upon the officials of this county the necessity of providing themselves with jail accommodations within their borders, as practically every county in the State has more prisoners than they can adequately and properly care for. We have been assured that this matter shall have attention the coming year.

SOMERSET.

Here is a well conducted jail, one of the very best in the State. With only 69 commitments for the year, 64 of them being from this county, they had an average of ten in the workshop throughout the year. As a very natural result there were only 19 commitments for drunkenness, but there were 31 for liquor selling. Sheriff Moors is a model official and conducts his jail precisely as a prudent business man would a business establishment. He says that he finds the workshop a very necessary adjunct to a well conducted jail.

WALDO.

There were 66 prisoners committed to this jail during the past year, but not a single commitment for drunkenness. Why? We think the most plausible explanation is a wood yard that was conducted with fine effect as long as sufficient wood could be secured to furnish the material. This is one of the old-styled jails that as the county grows and develops will have to give way to something of more modern type.

WASHINGTON.

There were 183 commitments at this jail last year, 126 of them being for drunkenness. This institution is well managed, and the workshop would be a great help in keeping down the number of arrests for drunkenness if sufficient material could be secured to keep the prisoners at work. An effort is now being made to secure some new industry, that the prisoners may be employed the year around, and to financial advantage of the county.

YORK.

This jail had 381 commitments last year, 106 of them being for drunkenness, 33 for liquor selling. The workshop connected with this jail is let to the Manchester Heel Company, and an average of 35 prisoners are employed the year around cutting heel stock. Sheriff Emery is an efficient jailer, and his prisoners are kept out of idleness to the greatest possible extent. The prison is kept neat and cleanly and the food, as in all the jails in the State, is healthy, well prepared and sufficient in quantity.
