STATE OF MAINE.

FORTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Insurance Commissioner.

AUGUSTA, April 15, 1914.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

In compliance with the provisions of Section seventy-four, Chapter forty-nine, Revised Statutes of Maine, I herewith submit the Forty-sixth Annual Report of this Department for the year ending December 31st, 1913.

ANNUAL REPORT.

With the idea in mind that much of the statistical matter published in former reports was of no practical moment to the people of our state, I have taken the liberty of condensing statements of companies operating in the state to a point which I believe to be of advantage to those who use the report for the purpose of ascertaining the financial condition of companies reporting to this department.

The value of any report is much enhanced by having the information it contains accessible at the earliest possible period after the close of the fiscal year which the report covers. I believe that by the condensation of the report we shall be able to issue the same earlier than has been possible heretofore.

LEGISLATION.

Several acts of legislation affecting insurance were enacted by the last legislature. Principal among these was the act that created standard provisions for health and accident policies for companies doing this class of business within the state. Prior to this legislation there existed a chaotic condition relative to the policies issued by these companies; inasmuch as the consideration, benefits and exceptions were oft times handled in a manner that had a tendency to confuse the policyholder rather than to make plain the provisions of the contract. This law went into effect January 1st of this year and required that certain conditions be complied with in policies issued after that date. These conditions are briefly as follows:

First. The entire money and other considerations must be expressed in the policy.

Second. The time when the insurance takes effect and terminates must be stated in the policy preceding its execution.

Third. The printed portions of the policy and riders must be in type not smaller than ten point.

Fourth. A brief description of the contents must appear on first page and filing.

Fifth. Exceptions must be printed with same prominence as benefits and conditions which may reduce the indemnity promised under ordinary conditions must be printed with greater prominence than the other portions of the policy.

The statute relating to the licensing of agents was amended so as to require a qualification certificate from each person before license could be granted. While this adds but little to the powers of the insurance commissioner it does afford certain information by which he may judge whether or not the applicant may properly be licensed. Under the law as it was the commissioner had no means of informing himself in regard to the qualifications of the applicant, except by personal knowledge.

An amendment to the old rebate law was enacted, adding a penalty against twisting or misrepresentation of policies and further providing that in case of violation of the law concerning rebates the insurance commissioner may, after a hearing, revoke the license of the agent or broker.

As the result of legislation changing the statutory requirements and the basis of taxation for factory mutual companies, many heretofore unadmitted mutual companies writing mill business especially have become admitted. This I believe is of much benefit to the policyholders of these companies as it brings these companies under the jurisdiction of the laws of the state and under the supervision of this department.

A review of the period since the several acts of legislation referred to became effective convinces me that this legislation was well conceived and has been instrumental in bringing our insurance legislation up to date.

This legislation has placed added duties on the department's force and because no additional appropriation was made to handle this increase of business the department has been unable to accomplish all it anticipated in this respect. It is our opinion that the legislature convening in 1915 should well consider the advisability of granting this department a sufficient appropriation to enable it to secure the results desired.

INVESTIGATION OF FIRES.

The last legislature granted an increased appropriation for this work. As a result the department has investigated many more fires during the past year than was heretofore possible. To my mind this branch of the department's work has not been developed to the degree of efficiency which its importance demands. Owing to the fact that the appropriation is limited it is not possible to offer investigators continuous employment, with the result that on many investigations we are compelled to employ local officers to handle the same. While these officers do the work to the best of their ability, yet their lack of experience along this line of investigation is a serious handicap. Much better results could be obtained if this department had a sufficient appropriation for the investigation of fires that would enable it to employ a small corps of trained men that would devote their entire time to this line of work. This is a matter worthy of the consideration of the next legislature and should be placed before it.

FIRE PREVENTION.

Believing that a large majority of the many fires occurring in our state are preventable, this department has in the past six months been actively engaged in endeavoring to arouse the interest of the people of the state in a campaign of fire prevention. The department has enlisted the support of the State Grange, State Board of Trade and the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs in this movement. A review of the activity of these organizations covering a period of six months confirms our idea that much can be accomplished in safeguarding the lives of our citizens and in lessening the destruction of our property from fire causes.

LIQUIDATION OF COMPANIES.

At the instigation of this department in 1913 several mutual companies organized under the laws of this state were petitioned into the receivers' hands for the purposes of liquidation. A review of this department's experience in observing the receivers' methods of procedure would indicate to us that legislation is needed that will give this department the authority to carry out such liquidation of companies as may be required in the future. I am of the opinion that the processes of liquidation could and would be more promptly carried out if handled by this department or under its immediate supervision than is now the case.

Several states have legislation of a like nature and it is the opinion of officials in those states where such legislation prevails that this method of liquidation is much to be preferred. At the next session of our legislature we shall recommend the enactment of the necessary legislation to make this possible.
