REPORT.

STATE ASSESSORS' OFFICE,

AUGUSTA, MAINE, DECEMBER 1, 1918.

To His Excellency, Carl E. Milliken, Governor and the Honorable Executive Council:

GENTLEMEN:—In accordance with the statutes of the State, we herewith submit for your consideration the Twenty-Eighth Annual Report of the Board of State Assessors, including tabulations of statistics returned to us by all municipal boards of assessors throughout the State, as made by them on April first, 1918, and lists of all corporations on which taxes have been assessed during the present year.

There is also included as required by statute, the state valuation of the real and personal estate of all cities, towns and plantations, and the real estate of all unincorporated townships within the state as fixed by this Board as the basis on which state and county taxes are to be computed during the years 1919 and 1920.

The total valuation of the cities, towns and plantations on April first, 1918, as made and returned by the local boards of assessors is $503,437,043, representing an increase of $31,052,654 as compared with similar returns made on April first, 1917.

The following comparison is given of the counties in 1917 and 1918, exclusive of the unorganized townships:

STATE VALUATION.

As a Board of Equalization, we report the fourteenth biennial valuation of the State as follows:

Real estate of cities, towns and plantations.....	$389,987,250
Personal estate of cities, towns and plantations	125,531,712
Real estate in unorganized townships.....	59,953,719
Growth on public lots.....	1,969,848

---

$577,442,529

This represents an increase above the state valuation of 1916, amounting to $56,039,596, as follows:

Real estate of cities, towns and plantations.....	$25,193,497
Personal estate of cities, towns and plantations..	22,571,594
Real estate in unorganized townships.....	8,002,442

TAX ON PERSONAL PROPERTY IN UNORGANIZED TOWNSHIPS.

Agreeable to the provisions of Chapter 253, Public Laws of 1917, this Board prepared and sent blanks to the supposed owners of personal property in unorganized townships. Every available means for ascertaining the names and addresses of such property owners was employed. From returns received, it is the opinion of this Board that the aggregate amount of this kind of property in the State has been largely over-estimated. Three thousand blanks were mailed from this office; 968 were returned to this department, showing no personal property, and 1087 give personal property returns, from which we compile by counties the following valuation and the tax.

	Valuation	State Tax
Aroostook .....	$951,205 94	$5,707 24
Franklin .....	498,537 17	2,991 23
Hancock .....	31,538 70	189 23
Knox .....	10,809 71	64 86
Lincoln .....	5,215 00	31 29
Oxford .....	209,102 40	1,254 61

Piscataquis .....	637,498 64	3,824 99
Sagadahoc .....	6,310 50	37 86
Somerset .....	842,115 11	5,052 59
Washington .....	32,305 53	193 83
	<hr/>	<hr/>
Total .....	$3,488,923 52	$20,933 54

We find from such investigations as we have been able to make that the balance of the 3,000 blanks were either sent to transient people who have moved from the townships where they were located in 1917, or to people who have no taxable personal property and failed to make any return.

Our State constitution provides that "All taxes upon real and personal estate assessed by authority of the state shall be assessed equally according to the just value thereof." Under this constitutional provision it has been held that all taxable property shall be assessed at the full market value. In other words, the price that obtains between a willing seller and a willing buyer. The process of distributing the burden of taxes to be used to defray the expenses of local and state governments is a big and serious problem and should be approached with a mind unbiased by sentiment or locality. The assessor should have clearly defined ideas relative to property values. He should at all times recognize the fact that he is the servant of the property owners, and that it is his sworn duty to see that justice is meted out to every tax payer. He should take time enough in the performance of his duties to do conscientious, careful work, and should stand four square for the right as he sees it. This is the doctrine we have preached and tried to practice. We have not advanced as far as we had hoped to, and we now realize that valuation reform is largely an educational problem to be solved carefully and slowly, still, when we consider the magnitude of the equalization problem and the difficulties confronting us, we can definitely say that material advancement has been made in the past two years.

We have devoted much time and expended quite an amount of money in trying to ascertain just what the conditions are in Maine. We have investigated the value of many pieces and different kinds of property. We have tried to ascertain the true value of property in different parts of the state, and after comparing the results of our investigations and examining assessors' records, we find that very few officials have in the past adopted the true market value as the "just value thereof." And, as before stated, this educational feature of our work is the first valuation problem we are facing, and one which must be solved before we can hope for a state-wide reform, and on a sound and just basis. A sufficient amount of money must be raised to carry on the business of government, and what this amount shall be is largely discretionary with the property owners. They have no reason to complain of the amount raised, but they do have a right to complain if this amount is not justly and equitably distributed, and we reaffirm the statement that the only safe and sane method for distributing the public burden is on a full value basis.

Valuation of water powers, electrical developments, and wild lands are the most perplexing valuation problems that assessors have to solve. Only an expert can arrive at an actual value of these properties, and it is difficult to get reliable information relative to the same from interested parties. It is, therefore, necessary to proceed carefully and conservatively, but we feel that we can defend our position when we insist that a water power company, representing an outlay of nearly one million dollars and having an annual income of more than $300,000, shall be assessed upon a valuation more than the income amounts to. Our water powers are a great heritage and are to be a potent factor in the future development of the state, but we can see no sense or logic in the argument that, because they are an asset to and bring business into the state and assist in its development, they should be practically exempt from taxation.

One hundred and seventy-five million dollars is a conservative estimate of the amount of intangible property in Maine. In 1916, only about $15,000,000 of this property was found by local assessors. It is claimed, and no doubt truthfully claimed, that property owners will resort to almost any means to get rid of paying taxes on property, the income from which is barely sufficient to pay the tax. "All property, real, personal and intangible should pay some tax. If intangible property is paying too much, and if under our present law it cannot be found, then some method should be devised or law enacted that will find it. To leave the present system as it is defeats us in our efforts to find and assess all property. Something should be done. Inaction will not do. If action is to come, the question is what ways are open? We believe one of two things must be done. Either we must have a low flat rate on intangibles, or enact an income tax law. Either of these methods would be acceptable to a majority of our people when properly understood. They certainly accord with the past contention of the intangible property owner."

About one-half our territory lies in unorganized townships and pays only state and county taxes, averaging through a series of years perhaps five mills on the dollar, while the rate in incorporated places will average more than twenty mills on the dollar. This of course causes more or less discontent. Property owners in incorporated towns now feel that the owners of wild land properties are not bearing their share of the public burden. The wild land owners are nearly unanimous in the opinion that wild land property is now valued too high, and, unless they can soon be relieved of a part of this burden, the forest lands will be denuded. Some of these people go so far as to claim that all pulpwood lands should be exempt from taxation entirely. With more than 500 of these townships, each containing more than 20,000 acres with constant cutting going on, with destructive forest fires, and annual growth increase, the magnitude of the task in keeping up with the procession can be appreciated. So long as the present law is in force, it will be the policy of this Board, aided by such information as is available and such investigation as we can make, to place such valuation upon these properties as in our judgment is just and equitable.

Our pulp and paper mills are among the biggest industries in the State, and we readily recognize the fact that they are a tremendous asset to the State, giving employment to thousands of people and distributing large amounts of money annually. The same contentions are made for consideration relative to valuation on these properties as are made by owners of other large properties. We can see no reason why these are not properly taxable under the law as is all other property, and we contend that a tax upon this kind of property assessed upon a full valuation is not so great a burden as is the tax of some small property owners who are obliged to pay the collector in installments, and finally to pay interest on a small balance to save his property from being sold for taxes, especially is this true when a big share of the stock in some of the larger industries is held by non-resident owners, whose only interest in Maine is to draw dividends to be spent outside the State.

Maine being a little larger in area than all the rest of New England, and with its varied property interests and occupations, has perhaps as many perplexing problems to solve as usually falls to the lot of officials in other states. With 520 organized cities and towns and about the same number of unorganized townships, with our sparsely populated territory, and with many property owners being willing tax dodgers rather than willing tax payers, the magnitude of the equalization problem can in a measure be realized. Property owners should have an abiding faith in Maine, its future, its resources, and its possibilities, and should back up that faith by willingly contributing their full share toward developing those resources and keeping the machinery running smoothly and economically.

This Department was created about twenty-eight years ago. No doubt a sufficient amount of money was appropriated at that time to carry on the work efficiently. Since that time, the work of the Board has been increased and multiplied many fold and the appropriations by Legislature, for help along different lines, have not kept pace with this development and the new work involved. It seems to us a safe and sane business proposition that this department, which is expected to provide the money to keep governmental machinery moving, should have a sufficient amount of money at its disposal to do the best and most efficient work, and to this end we expect to ask this Legislature for a substantial appropriation to pay for additional office help, and for outside expert work where needed.

The Board of State Assessors is a board of equalization. Experience, research and investigation have shown that the only safe basis in valuing property for purposes of taxation is to place all property, so far as possible, at its cash market value and to this end we are working. We deal with and receive returns from over 500 local boards, and it has been demonstrated over and over again that any system that contemplates using any percentage of full value is unsafe and unjust and especially to the small property owner. Under such a system the small property owner pays much more in taxes in proportion to what his property is worth than does the individual or corporation having large property holdings.

Another serious problem by which this Board has been confronted in its efforts to secure equalization of values on the above basis is the unwillingness of many local boards to come up to the standard. A feeling prevails that, by raising values in their towns, they will be assuming more than their share of the state and county taxes, and to allay any feeling of distrust that may exist, as well as for the purpose of obtaining first hand information to enable us to equalize state values, the State

Assessors have spent much of the time during the past two years in examining property in all parts of the State,—the pulp and paper mills, the woolen and cotton mills, the water powers, shoe factories, business houses and timber and farm properties. Our aim is to work in complete harmony with local assessors, and in accordance with a wise provision of law, we have held meetings with the assessors in every county in the State. We have got next to and near to these men. We have eliminated formalities as far as possible, making these meetings get-together occasions for getting and giving information, for examining books and records, and for giving instructions as to the faithful discharge of official duties, and particularly with reference to the constitutional requirement that all property shall be assessed at full value, and while at times we met discouraging conditions and a marked unwillingness to take a broad gauge view of the situation still, on the whole, present results are gratifying, and the outlook for improvement in the future is cheering. We do not contend that farm properties or other small properties are assessed as a whole on the full valuation basis, but we do contend that they come nearer that standard than do large properties. Our aim is and our energies will be directed toward getting all taxable property recorded on this basis. The fairness and justice of this proposition must appeal to thinking people. The principle of fair play here involved, which all right minded people are bound to respect, must in time prevail.

If one last argument were necessary to win a widespread sense of justice and fairness present conditions furnish it. Surely, we are thinking, acting and serving together in the reconstruction work following a great world war. Gratitude should add logic to fairness so that the financial burdens that accompany and follow this great struggle may be borne by all alike. The temptation is natural to shift this heavy load to other shoulders wherever possible, and unless the keenest vigilance is maintained, it will rest too heavily upon those least able to bear it.

Summarized expenditures of the Board of State Assessors for the year 1918, under resolve, chapter 114, Acts and Resolves of 1917, appropriating money for the purpose of obtaining information in regard to wild lands for the purposes of taxation.
