A word about copying material contained in this report...

Any person may reproduce, without restriction, any or all material in this edition. When several copies of materials are made for distribution, credit should be given to the Maine State Government Annual Report.

When any part of the text is partially reproduced for distribution, it should be noted that it is only a part and not the whole text as published. Problems inherent to "out of context" quotes may detract from the information we have tried to provide on State Government agencies and their operations.

The text of the Maine State Government Annual Report is meant to be a lightly-edited narrative report of the organizational units of State Government and is not intended as legal authority either for judicial notice or legal citation.

ORGANIZATIONAL CHART OF MAINE STATE GOVERNMENT

FOREWORD

The Maine State Government Annual Report is compiled by the Bureau of the Budget on behalf of the Governor pursuant to the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 5, chapter 3, sections 43 - 46. It documents, in convenient reference form, the administrative and financial structure, activities and accomplishments of the agencies of the State Government. In accordance with legislative intent, it replaces a profusion of costly annual or biennial reports independently published by state departments and agencies, and it establishes accountability with respect to many agencies, boards and commissions not previously subject to reporting requirements.

The Maine State Government Annual Report reflects the scope and diversity of Maine State Government operations during the fiscal period covered by this report. The mass of reports accumulated by the Bureau of the Budget have been edited and revised as necessary to conform to statutory requirements and the overall report concept.

Individual reports of departments, their principal subdivisions, and other agencies generally feature seven basic elements of construction as follows:

1. Identification Summary
2. Purpose
3. Organizational Background
4. Program
5. Licenses, Permits, etc.
6. Publications
7. Finances, Fiscal Year

This form of construction is used wherever possible in all reports. However, in view of certain inconsistencies and questions which may arise concerning nomenclature, the following discussion of terms and report construction may be of assistance.

IDENTIFICATION SUMMARY. This section "headlines" the report of each agency and serves to identify the agency, its executive officers, central office location and telephone number. Specific items appearing in the agency heading, which may require some interpretation, include the following:

Established: This reflects the year in which the organizational unit was created as a statutory or administrative entity, despite a subsequent change of name. If, at some point in time, the department or agency experienced a major reorganization in terms of administrative structure, purpose or function, the year in which the change occurred is considered the year it was established.

Reference:

Policy Area. There are 9 broad areas of emphasis under which all activities of State Government are categorized. Each organizational unit reported in the Maine State Government Annual Report is assigned to the Policy Area which most appropriately identifies the prevailing nature of its legislation. Each of the 9 Policy Areas has been assigned a name and a 2-digit number as follows:

- 00 Governmental Support and Operations
- 01 Economic Development and Workforce Training
- 02 Education
- 03 Arts, Heritage and Cultural Enrichment
- 04 Natural Resources Development and Protection
- 05 Health and Human Services
- 06 Justice and Protection
- 07 Business Licensing and Regulation
- 08 Transportation Safety and Development

Umbrella. In order to make the list of organizational units manageable, they have been classified based on the relationship between them. This was done by two criteria:

- a) Each State Department, the Public Utilities Commission, Maine Maritime Academy, and the Board of Trustees of the University of Maine System was assigned a different 2-digit number and each unit which was, by law, determined to be a part of these was assigned to that 2-digit "umbrella" number. Thus all units carrying an "01" in front of their 3-digit unit number are part of the Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources, for example.

Each of these Umbrellas has been assigned a name and a 2-digit number as follows:

- 01 Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources
- 02 Department of Professional and Financial Regulation
- 03 Department of Corrections
- 04 Department of Conservation
- 05 Department of Education
- 06 Department of Environmental Protection
- 07 Executive Department
- 09 Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife
- 10 Department of Human Services
- 12 Department of Labor
- 13 Department of Marine Resources
- 14 Department of Behavioral and Developmental Services
- 15 Department of Defense, and Emergency Services
- 16 Department of Public Safety
- 17 Department of Transportation
- 18 Department of Administrative and Financial Services
- 19 Department of Economic and Community Development
- 26 Department of the Attorney General
- 27 Department of Audit
- 28 Office of Treasurer of State
- 29 Department of the Secretary of State
- 30 Legislative Department
- 31 Law and Legislative Reference Library
- 32 Reserve Fund for State House Preservation and Maintenance
- 33 Office of Program Evaluation and Government Accountability
- 40 Judicial Department
- 65 Public Utilities Commission
- 75 Maine Maritime Academy
- 78 Board of Trustees of the University of Maine System

- b) The many independent units - not part of the umbrellas listed above - were assigned to one of five 2-digit umbrella numbers which helped to classify the units in terms of the prevailing nature of their statutory or other authority or relationship to State Government. Thus umbrella "90" identifies those that "Regulate", "92" those that "Advise", etc. Each of these umbrellas has been assigned a name and a 2-digit number as follows:

- 90 Independent Agencies - Regulatory
- 92 Independent Agencies - Advisory
- 94 and 95 Independent Agencies - Other
- 98 Independent Agencies - Interstate Compact
- 99 Independent Agencies - Not Part of State Government

Unit. Each State Government organizational unit created by the Constitution, Statute or Private and Special Law has been assigned a different 3-digit number. Each unit created by Legislative Order, by Judicial Order, by Executive Order of the Governor - or, in a few cases, by other acceptable authority - has been assigned its parent's 3-digit number followed by a letter.

Unit Citation. Reported here is the legal citation which created the organizational unit. When one locates this citation in the appropriate document, one should find additional data relating to its purpose, authority and membership close by. If such a citation appears in the Statutes, that is the entry used since it has closer proximity to additional meaningful data than, for example, a Constitutional citation.

Average Count - All Positions and Legislative Count. The Average Count - All Positions represents the full-time equivalent of all positions authorized by the Legislature for the time frame covered by this report. The Legislative Count, where applicable, represents the count associated with only positions that have been authorized for 52 weeks per year.

Organizational Units. Listed under this heading are all organizational units, both statutorily and administratively - created, which are an integral part of the agency. Most of these organizational units are either discussed in the accompanying text or are presented separately in a successive report.

PURPOSE: This is a brief expression of the agency's overall objective, purpose or mission. This section also outlines the primary responsibilities of the agency as specified by statute or expressed in other legal instruments which authorize the agency to perform certain functions or conduct certain activities. There is no attempt to state the full extent of the agency's powers and duties which are often interspersed throughout the law. One interesting aspect of the laws relating to the Executive Branch is that the statutes seldom confer powers of the State upon administrative units, but rather upon administrative officials. This is reflected in many reports where a department or agency created by statute is indicated as functioning solely through authority vested in its executive head. There are some reports, however, where this distinction is not noted.

ORGANIZATION: It is characteristic of the State Government to exist in an organizational flux as it is modified and altered by each successive Legislature and each Administration to meet contemporary needs for programs and services. This section offers some clarification of the past and present administrative position of each principal agency in the hierarchy of Maine State Government in an effort to minimize confusion caused by name-changing, establishment, abolishment, transfer and merger of agencies and their subdivisions. The organizational background is based upon that contained in the Maine Revised Statutes Annotated, as amended, and the Public Laws of the State of Maine.

PROGRAM: Although the identification, administration and organization of state agencies are significant to the purposes of this report, an account of their specific activities and accomplishments during the past fiscal year is fundamental.

At the departmental level, the program summary generally consists of a broad review of overall departmental activity, with details provided in the reports of component organizational units which follow. Several departments are unique in that they embrace a number of somewhat autonomous units under the general administrative direction of an executive head. In such instances, the department's program summary may be comprised solely of the reports of its component units.

LICENSES, PERMITS, ETC.: Many state agencies issue licenses, permits, registrations or certificates. This heading is an attempt to assemble such information in a broad-interest document.

PUBLICATIONS: This section provides an opportunity for an agency to make known additional information concerning its programs and products by listing its available publications.

FINANCES, FISCAL YEAR: Financial data relating to agency operations during the past fiscal year displays all agency expenditures by category and type of fund.

This data is generated from the Budget and Financial Management System (BFMS) supplemented by data not included in the State's accounting system or not carried in sufficient completeness as to present a useful picture. Examples of the latter are the University of Maine System and the Maine Maritime Academy. Data relating to enterprise-type accounts reflect only those expenditure elements which are included in the work program process.

Expenditures of the agency are indicated by fund and line category detail in general accordance with the State's accounting system. Some categories are split and some are combined in an effort to meet what is interpreted to be the intent of the Annual Report law.

The chief administrative unit of each department-type umbrella will have two financial displays: one which records the summary of all expenditures for the umbrella; and one for those expenditures relevant only to the operation of the chief administrative unit. Since BFMS deals with "rounded" whole-dollars, some small dollar differences will exist between this report and the Financial Report issued by the State Controller.

This Maine State Government Annual Report is the culmination of a joint effort to produce an understandable documentation of the structure and operations of Maine State Government during a particular year in its history. It has been an attempt to create a factual, objective and definitive reference of permanent value in a manner, hopefully, in keeping with the spirit and the intent of the law and in the interests of promoting greater comprehension of the workings of the State Government and its responsibility and responsiveness to the public it serves. How closely this report achieves these objectives is left to the judgment of those who will use it.

PURPOSE:

The Department of Administrative and Financial Services is responsible for providing central administrative and financial services to the departments and agencies of State government.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Administration was established through Chapter 785 of the Public Laws of 1985, effective July 1, 1986. This legislation provided for a major reorganization of central financial and administrative units in state government. The former Department of Finance and Administration was dissolved, with fiscal management and revenue units placed in the Department of Finance, and Administrative service units placed in the Department of Administration. Public Laws of 1991, Chapter 780 merged the Department of Administration with the Department of Finance to establish the Department of Administrative and Financial Services. Public Laws of 2005, Chapter 12, authorized the Commissioner to review the current organizational structure of payroll, personnel and accounting units to improve organizational efficiency and cost-effectiveness. Six service centers were created to provide personnel administration, employee relations, general administration and budget management to departments and agencies of state government.

PROGRAM:

The programs of the Department are implemented through its bureaus, divisions, and other program component units. The primary emphasis is to provide responsive, high quality, and cost effective services to State departments and agencies and related public institutions.

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE AND FINANCIAL SERVICES

PURPOSE:

The Office of the State Controller maintains accounting policy and records according to Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) rules. The powers and duties of the Bureau are detailed in Title 5, section 1541 of the Maine Revised Statutes Annotated.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau of Accounts and Control was created in 1931 as an organizational unit of the Department of Administrative and Financial Services. The Bureau was renamed to be the Office of the State Controller during the second special session of the 121st Legislature. The Bureau is under the direction of the State Controller who is appointed for an indefinite period by the Commissioner of Administrative and Financial Services, subject to the approval of the Governor.

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE AND FINANCIAL SERVICES

PROGRAM:

The Bureau is an administrative agency responsible for maintaining and reporting all state financial transactions. Staff analyzes fiscal transactions and payrolls to ensure legality and correctness. In addition, the Office of the State Controller provides internal audit support for the agencies that comprise state government. Official financial records for all state agencies and programs are administered by the Bureau staff. The Bureau's Financial Reporting Unit prepares and publishes the state's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR), based on Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP). The CAFR includes both blended and discretely presented Component Units. The State Auditor audits the CAFR that is delivered to a wide audience. The CAFR for fiscal year 2009 received the Certificate of Excellence in Financial Reporting for the third straight year.

The Maine Financial and Administrative Statewide Information System (MFASIS) is the State's ERP or legacy IT system. Bureau staff work closely with the (OIT) MFASIS team and state agencies to maintain and enhance MFASIS. Three production systems make up MFASIS: Accounting, Budget, and Human Resources. A data warehouse for all production systems is provided for statewide budget, accounting, human resources and payroll data. Queries to the warehouses can provide ad hoc or regular management reports, valuable data sorts, or specific data required in the course of completing fiscal work. The Bureau implemented a significant upgrade of the accounting system for the start of fiscal year 2008. The accounting production system is used to process over 2.1 million payables and another 550,000 accounting transactions annually. All payments above $5,000 are reviewed and approved by Bureau staff.

The Human Resource production system keeps current personnel, payroll and position control information. This system issues over 360,000 payroll payments annually, with about 99% via direct deposit (electronic) and the balance via paper checks. The Bureau's Payroll Unit audits agency payroll input and initiates statewide payroll weekly. Other system functionality key to the work of the Payroll Unit includes tax withholding data and W-2 production. The most recent enhancement to the HR system is the introduction of MS-TAMS (Maine State Time and Attendance System). Currently, MS-TAMS is used by more than 9,700 employees.

Two of these appointees must be qualified appraisers and two must be attorneys at law. The Governor designates one of the latter as Chairman. The fifth member of the Commission is appointed for each hearing or series of hearings within the county where the land taken lies. He or she must be a member of that County's Board of County Commissioners, and is appointed by the chairperson of the State Claims Commission upon recommendation by the board of county commissioners, such service being as a member of the State Claims Commission and not in the capacity of County Commissioner.

PROGRAM:

The Commission renewed its contract with Anthem Blue Cross Blue Shield to provide health insurance benefits to active and retiree members of the State employee group health plan effective July 1, 2008. The contract provides for a point-of-service (POS) managed care plan for active employees and non-Medicare eligible retirees. The Medicare Advantage Private Fee-for-Service (PFFS) insured by Anthem also provides coverage for Medicare eligible retirees. The group health plan provides health care benefits for approximately 40,000 covered lives. The Commission has renewed the dental insurance contract with Northeast Dental through FY2011.

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE AND FINANCIAL SERVICES

The Commission has adopted the strategy of value-based purchasing in an effort to improve the quality of healthcare services provided to its members. In conjunction with this value-based purchasing strategy, the Commission is an active member of several state and national organizations including the Leapfrog Group, a national organization of health care purchasers committed to improving patient safety. The Commission is a founding member of the Maine Health Management Coalition (MHMC), an organization of employers, providers, and health plans committed to improving the value of healthcare provided to Maine citizens.

Through the MHMC, the Commission is attempting to introduce a pay for performance strategy to encourage consumers to make informed, prudent decisions about healthcare; to provide incentives for plan members to seek care from high quality providers; and to reward providers who demonstrate superior performance.

As part of this strategy, the Commission introduced a tiered hospital benefit effective July 1, 2006. All Maine hospitals are ranked according to selected patient safety and clinical quality measures. If a member receives care from a preferred hospital, the services billed by that hospital are exempt from the deductible and copayments associated with inpatient admissions and outpatient surgery. The objectives of this initiative are to engage members in a discussion of health care quality and to encourage providers to publicly disclose their performance. Effective July 1, 2007 the Commission introduced a tiered benefit for primary care physicians (PCPs). Primary care practices are ranked according to clinical office systems and the outcomes of treatment for patients with selected chronic illnesses. Office visit copays are waived for members who receive care from preferred primary care practices.

Effective October 1, 2009 statutory changes were introduced to the employer contribution for individual premium. Effective July 1, 2010 the employer contributions to individual health premiums were further reduced. The Commission was charged with implementing a "health credit" program that enables employees to restore a portion of the employer contribution for completing activities identified by the Commission. In 2010 over 11,000 employees were eligible for the health credit by completing a health risk assessment.

PURPOSE:

The statutory goals for the Bureau of Human Resources are to: 1) establish within State Government a high concern for state employees as people; 2) provide managers with the skills and knowledge needed to manage people effectively; 3) establish a civil service system that provides State Government with highly qualified and motivated employees, and to preserve the integrity of that system; 4) encourage State employees to realize their potential and thereby increase the quality of service 5) establish itself as a service agency to agencies and departments to perform their duties in an efficient and quality manner; and 6) promote effective labor relations.

The Bureau of Human Resources is responsible for centralized administration of the State's Civil Service System, the State's employee health and benefit programs, the State's development and training programs, the State's equal employment opportunity programs, and the State's labor relations responsibilities. The mission of the Bureau is to adopt, amend, and enforce Civil Service Law and Rules to ensure that positions essentially alike in duties and responsibilities are treated alike in pay and other civil service processes; to ensure that applicants for State positions are afforded fair and equal opportunity to obtain employment on the basis of merit and fitness; and through these merit programs and employee development and training programs, to promote effective services and economy for the conduct of State business.

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE AND FINANCIAL SERVICES

In addition, the Bureau also develops and executes labor relations policies consistent with the overall objectives of the Governor; conducts negotiations with certified bargaining agents under applicable statutes; administers and interprets collective bargaining agreements; represents the State in all bargaining unit determinations, elections, prohibited practice complaints and other related legal proceedings; and administers the State EEO/AA Program, the ADA, the USERRA and other civil rights related law and programs. The Bureau also is responsible for administering employee benefits including health and dental insurances and the deferred compensation program, Workers Compensation Program, and Wellness and Safety initiatives.

ORGANIZATION:

In 1937, the State of Maine enacted legislation to parallel Federal Civil Service Law. A three-member State Personnel Board and a Bureau of Personnel within the then Department of Finance were established to administer this new law. The Bureau was headed by a Director of Personnel who was appointed by the Governor and the Board to serve at the pleasure of the Board. In 1941, the Bureau was made an independent State agency referred to as the Office of Personnel. In 1953, the State Personnel Board was enlarged by adding a member selected by the Maine State Employees' Association and a member selected from department heads. In 1975, these two special memberships were deleted and the State Personnel Board returned to an all-public body. In 1976, the State Civil Service System experienced its first major change. The Office of Personnel was made a Cabinet-level department, headed by a Commissioner appointed to serve at the pleasure of the Governor. The Commissioner was given the authority formerly vested in the State Personnel Board and the State Personnel Board was redefined as an advisory and appellant body. In January 1981, the Governor placed the Office of Employee Relations under the Commissioner of Personnel and a Director of Employee Relations was appointed by the Commissioner to manage labor relations and collective bargaining activities.

In 1986, the legislature significantly altered the mission and purpose of the Department of Personnel and provided a year of transition for the Department to become the Bureau of Human Resources within the newly established Department of Administration. The State Personnel Board was discontinued and replaced by the State Civil Service Appeals Board, and an advisory Policy Review Board comprised of the leadership of the larger State departments was established. The Office of Employee Relations was established as a separate Bureau, and the former training division of the Office of Employee Relations was placed under the Bureau of Human Resources. In July 1991, the State Employee Health Insurance, Workers' Compensation, and State Employee Health and Wellness programs were placed under the Bureau of Human Resources. In July 2008, the Bureau of Employee Relations became the Office of Employee Relations and was returned to the Bureau of Human Resources.

PROGRAM:

The Merit Systems Division fosters an interactive relationship with Service Center and agency HR divisions. The objective is a shift in organizational culture: to decentralize much of the day-to-day administration of merit systems to agencies by providing agency HR professionals with the skills and information needed to accept delegated responsibility. Important to this effort is the HR Policy/Practices Manual which is available and maintained on the Internet for access by managers, employees and the public; periodic Issues & Answers Sessions with agency HR managers; and programs to develop consulting skills. Our website provides state agencies, state employees and the public with access to workforce demographics, job class specifications, key staffing reports and other information. Recent additions include expanded recruitment services and an automated application.

The Division of Employee Health and Benefits provides centralized administration of the State's health, dental, direct reimbursement, voluntary long term care insurance, and deferred compensation programs. This includes the coordination of payroll deductions, health and dental eligibility determinations and benefits communications. The Workers' Compensation Division provides direction and technical assistance in the administration of workers' compensation claims. The Employee Assistance Program utilizes the services of AllOne Health to guide and assist participating employees, family members and retirees with financial, family, substance abuse and other personal problems. In compliance with the Federal Highway Administration rules and regulations, the alcohol and drug testing program was administered for approximately 1300 employees in safety-sensitive positions.

The State Training and Development Division provided training and management consulting services to approximately 2000 participants in core competency management and professional development programs. Services include: new employee orientation, computer training, workplace skills workshops, employee recognition, special events and organizational development including establishing and coordinating the Maine Management Service (MMS). MMS emphasizes the use of core leadership competencies shared by managers across state agencies that are reflected in training and development programs and in a competency based selection process.

The Office of Employee Relations negotiated seven (7) successor collective bargaining agreements with the four (4) unions that represent State employees effective July 2009 through June 2011. It administers the agreements by providing advice and counsel to managers and human resource personnel, by conducting grievance hearings, and by representing all State agencies in grievance arbitrations. In addition, OER represents State agencies before the Maine Labor Relations Board in unit clarification and unfair labor practice proceedings, and it trains new supervisors and managers in the principles of discipline and other contract administration issues. The Office of the State Equal Employment Opportunity Coordinator is a division of the Office of Employee Relations. This Office has statutory responsibility to insure statewide compliance with all federal and state regulations governing equal employment opportunity. It provides direction and support in all areas related to EEO as well as in the conduct of personnel investigations.

PURPOSE:

The Office of the Information Technology (OIT) provides centralized direction, coordination and oversight to information technology policy making, planning, architecture and standardization, with the focus on delivery of effective information technology services in Maine State government. This includes responsibilities over information technology leadership, communications, planning, financial performance management, procurement and contract management, and resource management.

ORGANIZATION:

The Office of Information Technology was created effective July 1, 2005 with the merger of the Office of the Chief Information Officer and the Bureau of Information Services, establishing an organization that has an enterprise focus on the delivery of information technology to Executive Branch agencies and coordination and support of other State and local government entities. All Executive agency information technology services are performed by or contracted with support from OIT.

PROGRAM:

The Office of Information Technology (OIT) is currently headed by the Chief Information Officer with the following major functional areas:

Core Technology Services (CTS): CTS delivers common and shared services which include, wide area network management and support, voice services, wireless services, radio operations, enterprise data center facilities management, infrastructure services including both Windows and Unix server support, database management servers and data storage and backup services, desktop/ laptop computing services, and IT customer support for all Executive Branch agencies.

Applications Services Management: oversees application systems development and support for all Executive Branch agencies, supporting all common and specialized computer applications used by Executive Branch agencies. Eight former Agency IT Directors and their staffs were consolidated - with this organizational alignment came a strengthened commitment to promote enterprise application systems, supporting multiple agencies and lines of business.

The Policy, Planning and Oversight area are responsible for the eGov services, IT security, enterprise architecture, legislative liaison, financial management, OIT contracts, security, IT strategic planning, IT project management and internal audit. OIT also supports the InforME Board and the ConnectME Authority, whose mission is to expand broadband internet access across the State of Maine. OIT operates as an Enterprise Fund recovering the cost of performing and delivering services from state agencies/users.

Intergovernmental Radio Network: A significant effort initiated during FY 06 was the upgrade / replacement of the State's antiquated radio-based Public Safety Communications Infrastructure. It has been 30 years since the State developed a plan to upgrade its radio (wireless) communications structures. Starting in 2005 the plan was implemented to replace several radio systems used by state and local agencies. Through the efforts of the Maine State Communication Network program, these aging systems are being replaced by a single, inter-operative statewide system. Partnerships with federal and local agencies have been fostered in this process. This major initiative will continue as a multi year project with a contracted systems integrator to implement the necessary improved or new infrastructure to complete this network. The contract to implement the system was signed in early 2009 and work is progressing on the

and constantly improving access to and the utility of the public information available through InforME. InforME explores and, where appropriate, implements ways to: A. Expand the amount and kind of public information available free of charge; B. Increase the utility of the public information provided and the form in which it is provided; C. Expand the base of users who access the public information; and, D. Improve individual and business access to public information through improvements in technology. InforME provides opportunities for individuals, businesses, and other entities to review public information for accuracy and to indicate to the data custodian when corrections may be appropriate; provides a mechanism for the authorized transfer of nonpublic information; promotes opportunities for interagency cooperation; and provides opportunities for innovative uses of public information.

As a result of InforME's efforts, a national survey of state websites has identified Maine as the top-ranked state in the performance of e-governance. The research study was conducted jointly by the E-Governance Institute, School of Public Affairs and Administration at Rutgers University in Newark, and the Department of Public Administration at San Francisco State University (SFSU). The survey evaluated state websites in the areas of privacy, usability, content, service and citizen participation, and ranked the states nationally. Maine's website ranked first in the categories of service and citizen participation, and was noted as a good example of government effectively engaging citizens online and providing services that increase efficiency and effectiveness. Additionally, Maine.gov was ranked fourth in the 2009 Digital Government Achievement Awards for state government Web portals. This marks the ninth year since 2000 that Maine's official web site has been named in the top 4 state government sites by the Center for Digital Government.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Revenue Services, also known as Maine Revenue Services (MRS), was established to collect revenues necessary to support Maine state government through the assessment of taxes as required by law, and to improve the administration of tax laws in Maine at both state and local levels. The Bureau, through the State Tax Assessor (Executive Director), is empowered to assess and collect the following state taxes and fees: Sales & Use Taxes, Individual & Corporate Income Taxes, Pass-through Entity and Individual Withholding Taxes, Motor Fuel Taxes, Estate Taxes, Business Taxes, Cigarette & Tobacco Taxes, E-911 Prepaid Wireless Surcharge, Waste Motor Oil Fee, Unclaimed Bottle Deposits, Recycling Assistance Fees, Special Industry Taxes (such as blueberry and quahog taxes), and Property Taxes in the Unorganized Territory. It also exercises general supervision of local property tax assessing officials. Additionally, the Bureau administers the Real Estate Transfer Tax, and property tax reimbursements relating to the Maine Residents Property Tax and Rent Refund (the "Circuit Breaker") Program Maine Resident Homestead Property Tax Exemption, Business Equipment Tax Reimbursement, Tree Growth, Veterans' Exemption, and Animal Waste Facilities Exemption.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau of Revenue Services has evolved over time. In 1891, a three-member Board of State Assessors was created to equalize and apportion State taxes among the several towns and unorganized townships in the State and to assess all taxes upon corporate franchises. In 1931, the Board was replaced by the Bureau of Taxation within the newly-established Department of Finance, under the administrative direction of the State Tax Assessor who was appointed by the Commissioner of Finance with the approval of the Governor. In addition to the duties of the Board, the new Bureau assumed responsibility for administration of the Gasoline Tax which was transferred from the State Auditor. At the same time, a Board of Equalization was established, chaired by the State Tax Assessor, to equalize State and county taxes among the towns and unorganized territories of the State.

In 1969, the Board was abolished and its duties were assigned to the State

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE AND FINANCIAL SERVICES

Tax Assessor. At the same time, the Municipal Valuation Appeals Board was established to adjudicate State Valuation appeals. The Bureau assumed administration of the Cigarette Tax in 1941, Inheritance & Estate Taxes in 1947, Sales & Use Taxes in 1951, and Individual & Corporate Income Taxes in 1969. Administration of the Elderly Householders Tax & Rent Refund Act of 1971 was assumed by the Bureau in 1972. Also in 1972, appointment of the State Tax Assessor was changed to include approval by both the Governor and the Executive Council. Currently, the Commissioner of Administrative & Financial Services appoints the State Tax Assessor, subject to confirmation by the Governor. On July 1, 1974, all property tax functions were transferred to the new Bureau of Property Taxation, formerly a division of the Bureau of Taxation, but a year later, on July 1, 1975 all property tax functions were returned to the Bureau of Taxation and the Bureau of Property Taxation was abolished. PURPOSE:

The Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources was established to improve Maine agriculture through: the conservation and improvement of the soil and cropland of the State; the development, compilation and dissemination of scientific and practical knowledge; the marketing and promotion of agricultural products; the detection, prevention and eradication of plant and animal diseases; the protection of the public's health and well being from the consumption of harmful or unsanitary products and food preparation practices; and the sound development of the natural resources of the State.

The Commissioner of Agriculture and the appropriate boards or commissions within the Department have authority to establish and promulgate grades and standards for Maine agricultural products, and to promote the use of such products; to inspect agricultural products, and the premises and conveyors on which such products are stored, handled or processed, to inspect food establishments where food products are stored, processed, manufactured and sold, and issue licenses, permits and certificates of inspection.

The Commissioner of Agriculture and the appropriate boards or commissions within the Department have the authority to grant licenses and permits; to collect fines and legal and usual fees; to hold hearings for the purpose of obtaining essential information; to establish, promulgate and maintain a full record of necessary regulations, provide for the enforcement of the same; to establish milk prices; to establish harness racing schedules; to register pesticides and license their use; to participate in the investigation and prosecution of cases of cruelty to animals; to administer the agricultural bargaining laws; to appoint all officials, boards, and commissions as provided by law; and to employ personnel necessary to carry out these responsibilities.

ORGANIZATION:

The State Board of Agriculture was created in 1852 and continued as a Board until 1901 when the Department of Agriculture was established and the position of Commissioner of Agriculture was created.

Concurrent with the Board was the establishment of the State Cattle Commission in 1887, whose duties were granted to a Livestock Sanitary Commissioner in 1911. Ten years later, all responsibility for animal disease control was vested in the Commissioner of Agriculture. The Veterinary Examiners Board (now the Board of Veterinary Medicine) was created in 1905.

The Agricultural Development Act of 1980, enacted by the 109th Legislature and effective July 1980, changed the department's name to the Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources and authorized the reorganization of the department into four bureaus. In 1995, the Productivity Realization Task Force reorganized the department again. All Bureaus were eliminated and replaced by Divisions and Offices, whose directors report directly to the Commissioner. This change can be found in 1995 PL C. 502. The Legislature directed further organizational changes in 1999, 2005 and 2010. The result is a Department consisting of three divisions - Animal and Plant Health, Agricultural Resource Development and Quality Assurance and Regulation.

PROGRAM:

Specific activities of the divisions during FY09 are discussed in the individual reports of the various units within the department. The Department has also reached out to work with many outside organizations in order to maximize our resources, such as Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Ag in the Classroom, Agricultural Council of Maine, Maine Farm Bureau, Maine Organic Farmers and Gardeners Association, and other industry related organizations.

Reference: Policy Area: 04 ; Umbrella: 01 Unit: 020 ; Citation: T0013 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000001956

PURPOSE:

The Maine Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act authorizes producers of agricultural products to form organizations for the purposes of bargaining with handlers of those products with respect to price and other terms and conditions of their sale. The Act provides for the certification of those producer organizations which meet the statutory criteria for qualification and requires qualified associations and handlers to bargain in good faith. When an association and a handler cannot reach agreement, the statute provides for binding final offer arbitration.

ORGANIZATION:

The Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Act was first enacted in 1973 by the 106th Legislature. The Act established the Agricultural Bargaining Board, made up of five members appointed by the Governor. One member represents the interests of producers, one member represents the interests of handlers, and three public members. Subsequent changes to the Act authorize an alternate to represent both the producer and handler interests.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, FOOD AND RURAL RESOURCES

PROGRAM:

From the enactment of the statute in 1973 until 1984, only one organization was certified, representing producers of potatoes used for processing. In 1984, the Board certified an organization representing producers of poultry. In 1988, the last remaining poultry handler closed its facilities in Maine leaving only the one organization representing the producers of potatoes and peas.

Amendments in 1987, 1989, 1991 and 2003 established binding final-offer arbitration as the final step in the dispute resolution process, established criteria for the arbitrator's decision, made procedural clarifications to the contract bargaining, mediation and arbitration provisions, removed specific standards applicable only to associations of blueberry producers and established fair share fees for growers who are not members of a qualified association of producers.

LICENSES:

Certification of qualified associations.

Average Count--All Positions: 6.808

Legislative Count: 4.00

PURPOSE:

The State Harness Racing Commission was established to maintain honesty and integrity in pari-mutuel harness racing in the State of Maine and to insure that pari-mutuel racing is conducted in the best interest of horsemen, associations and the general public. The primary responsibilities of the Commission are to make rules and regulations for holding, conducting and operating all harness horse races or meets for public exhibition in the State and for the operation of race tracks on which any such race or meet is held; to assign dates for holding harness horse races or meets for public exhibition with pari-mutuel pools as will best serve the interests of the agricultural associations of Maine; to license Off-Track Betting facilities in Maine; and to oversee the enforcement of the Commission's Rules and Regulations and the Statutes governing horse racing in Maine.

The Commission grants track licenses to operate day or night harness racing; licenses off-track betting facilities to operate and accept pari-mutuel wagers; licenses or registers participants in harness horse racing, pari-mutuel employees and race officials, upon application, and charges a fee for such license not to exceed $100; regulates, supervises and checks the making of pari-mutuel pools and their distribution; establishes a schedule of fines and adopts a schedule of suspensions which may include lifetime suspensions from participating in the sport; and encourages and promotes the breeding of a strain of Maine Standardbred horses.

ORGANIZATION:

The State Harness Racing Commission was established in 1935 as the State Racing Commission. It received its present name in 1951, and in 1973 was placed within the Department of Agriculture. During 1988, the Legislature expanded responsibility for activities related to breeding farms involved in breeding Standardbred trotters and pacers in Maine; and to coordinate activities of mutual interest to the Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources and the various agricultural fairs.

The Commission consists of five members appointed by the Governor. One member must be a member of the general public with no industry affiliation. One member must be affiliated with an agricultural society that conducts an annual agricultural fair. The remaining three members must be persons with knowledge of harness racing. The members must be appointed to provide a broad geographic representation. Members of the Commission serve three-year terms. A vacancy is filled by appointment for the remainder of the unexpired term. Members whose terms expire serve until their successor is qualified and appointed. The Governor shall appoint one of the five commission members as Chair. The Commissioner of Agriculture or his designee serves ex officio as secretary to the Commission, but is not a voting member.

Pursuant to 1991 PL Ch. 579, the Commission's authority was expanded to include jurisdiction over off-track betting facilities. Pursuant to 1997 PL Ch. 527, an Executive Director's position was created to provide administrative management for the Commission's daily activities. Pursuant to 1997 PL Ch. 528, the Department of Agriculture shall have the administrative responsibilities of the Commission budget and the hiring and contracting for services on behalf of the Commission. The Commission shall have the responsibilities of rule-making, enforcement and adjudicatory hearings. The law requires that the Commission's budget be submitted unchanged to the Committee having jurisdiction over Agriculture. Pursuant to 1997 P.L. Ch. 406, the Commission may impose conditions of a license if one or more of the criteria are not met at time of licensing.

PROGRAM:

Major emphasis has been directed toward overall improvement of the sport and promotion of a breed of Maine Standardbred horses. The Maine Standardbred Sire Stakes Program received its original funding by the 108th Legislature and was increased by the 113th Legislature. The Commission feels improvement of the breed, and a desire of persons in other areas to breed to Maine studs, will guarantee future State incomes from this source and a healthy expanding industry, and will encourage involvement of youth in horse ownership, breeding and care.

Drug testing programs are used on a continuing basis in an effort to eliminate as nearly as possible drug use on racehorses and by humans within the State.

The Agricultural Fair Promotional Coordination will include Department sponsored educational efforts at various fairs and supplementing capabilities of each fair by proper exposure and utilization of Department of Agriculture resources, funds and personnel.

PURPOSE:

The State Horticulturist assists the Director, Division of Plant Industry, in the implementation of plant, insect and disease laws and quarantines, and the certification of plant materials involved in interstate and international movement.

ORGANIZATION:

A State Horticulturist was authorized in 1907 as State Entomologist under a Bureau of Entomology. These designations were changed to State Horticulturist and Bureau of Horticulture in 1911 (the State Entomologist was reestablished independently in 1929). The Bureau of Horticulture as an organizational unit was abolished in 1972. The State Horticulturist was later placed under the Division of Plant Industry and is responsible to the Director of that Division.

Professional staff in this office includes the State Horticulturist, two Assistant Horticulturists, an Integrated Pest Management (IPM) Entomologist and a State Survey Entomologist.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, FOOD AND RURAL RESOURCES

PROGRAM:

Major responsibilities of this unit include nursery, greenhouse and plant dealer inspections; licensing of plant sales outlets and providing assistance to industry and the general public on horticulture issues; managing the arborist licensing program; the IPM program and the cooperative agricultural pest survey program (CAPS).

Over 1,400 establishments were licensed and 867 inspections were made at businesses selling plants in 2009. A variety of plant pests have been the focus for the program including inspecting shipments of imported hemlock for the presence of Hemlock Woolly Adelgid, chrysanthemums for chrysanthemum white rust and tomato seedlings for late blight. It is extremely important to identify pest infested plants at the garden centers before they are sold to the public and distributed about the state.

In 2009, this Office with help from the seed potato certification program, inspected and certified 516 lots of plant material and issued phytosanitary certificates to assist growers in marketing products to other countries. The majority of these certificates were issued for seed, nursery crops, seed potatoes, feed barley and wheat.

This Office also licensed 731 arborists in 2009 to work on shade and ornamental trees in the state. Candidates must pass written examinations to be eligible for licensing, and 93 out of 101 individuals who took the exams in 2009 received passing scores.

Division staff also continued to survey for several exotic pests of importance to Maine's agriculture and forest industries through the federally funded CAPS Program. In cooperation with other agencies including the Maine Forest Service and the University of Maine Cooperative Extension, two commodity surveys and seven emergency pest surveys were conducted in 2009 to look for 21 exotic and regulatory-significant pests. Fortunately, none of these pests were found using the survey methodologies required by USDA.

Outreach information and assistance was provided on controlling the spread of invasive pests, particularly Asian longhorned beetle (ALB). The CAPS program coordinated the Forest Pest Outreach and Survey project, a multi-state effort designed to educate the public about two harmful, invasive tree pests, ALB and emerald ash borer. Additionally, unit staff presented educational programs, judged fair exhibits, attended commodity meetings and represented the Department in various capacities on plant related issues.

The integrated pest management (IPM) program promotes least risk approaches to managing pests and pesticide applications on Maine farms and in our communities. The IPM program leads initiatives to develop and promote guidelines, resources and education to minimize reliance on pesticides and safeguard the health of Maine's people and our environment. The IPM entomologist coordinates activities of the Maine IPM Council, an eleven-member group established by state legislature to promote and support IPM. In 2009, the IPM program provided technical guidance and outreach to schools, government agencies, institutions, businesses and citizens. The IPM program continues to provide expertise to the State of Maine's Property Management Division to implement new IPM requirements for state-managed office buildings. In addition, the IPM entomologist serves as the co-leader of a regional working group which has garnered grant funds to share IPM resources throughout schools in 12 northeastern states.

PURPOSE:

The Division of Market and Production Development administers programs to enhance the competitive position of Maine growers statewide, regionally, nationally, and internationally by developing new and expanded markets for Maine agricultural products. Supporting the development of agricultural diversification and new market opportunities is critical to the long-term sustainability of Maine agriculture.

The Division helps to promote the sale of Maine products and to increase awareness of quality Maine products in the marketplace through the "Get Real Get Maine!" promotional program. The Division is responsible for all events and promotions in support of Maine Agriculture including the Agricultural Trades Show and the maintenance and operation of the Maine building at the Eastern States Expo in Massachusetts.

The Division maintains data on producers, and using this information, publishes, promotes and distributes brochures, source lists, and directories to wholesale and retail buyers. The Division's services include planning assistance, issues assessment, policy formulation and representation in such areas as financing, irrigation, labor hiring and advocacy, environmental regulations and land conservation. The Division evaluates issues and reviews legislation affecting agricultural production, marketing, and economic development and land conservation and represents agricultural interests in policy formulation and strategic planning. The Division provides information and technical support to farmland owners who want to protect their land from development and sponsors applications to the Land for Maine's Future Program and assists farmers in accessing other tools and programs designed to help them remain viable.

The Division oversees the Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP).

ORGANIZATION:

The Division of Production Development was established in 1985, pursuant to C.501, as part of the reorganization of the Bureau of Agricultural Production. The Division of Market Development was established in 1980 as part of the Bureau of Agricultural Marketing, to expand and improve the domestic and foreign marketing of Maine agriculture and food products. Effective January 1, 1996, the Division of Market Development was merged with the Division of Production Development to form the Division of Market and Production Development. This action was a result of the Productivity Realization Task Force legislation enacted as 1995 PL C. 502.

In July 2002, the Division added two positions, one Policy Development Specialist and one Information Officer by moving them from the Office of the Commissioner. The Market and Production Development Division Director supervises professional staff comprised of an Agricultural Resources Development Manager, a potato storage consultant, one Project Development Officer, one Agricultural Events Coordinator, one Agricultural Promotion Coordinator, one Policy Development Specialist, two Planning and Research Associates and one Administrative Support Staff.

PROGRAM:

Market Development provides marketing support to Maine farmers, food processors, and agricultural associations and promotes Maine food and agricultural products directly to consumers, wholesale and retail buyers. Programs are implemented to increase public awareness and interest in Maine products by providing information to the media on seasonal agricultural activities (farmers markets, Christmas trees, apple picking); by coordinating special marketing and promotional events (Open Farm Day); and by promoting Maine products and businesses at local, national and international trade shows. The Division organizes cooperative marketing to enhance Maine's position in the national market, provides information and technical support to Maine businesses to take advantage of export assistance programs and to use funds available through the Foreign Agriculture Service of USDA. The Division oversees and licenses Agricultural Fairs and other special events held throughout the year.

Production Development develops and maintains programs to create and improve agricultural production by seeking out and advising growers on opportunities, management systems, and production facilities which will enhance Maine's competitive position and support critical long-term sustainability of Maine agriculture. Work includes cooperative development with the University of Maine, growers and associations, and with national and international experts, processors and partners. Staff research critical issues affecting industry development and represent agriculture in policy making and in the legislative process. Staff identifies new technology for transfer to Maine and conducts special research projects focused on production development. Staff organizes and facilitates business training for producers and manages several grant and loan programs.

The Division develops programs in conjunction with commodity associations and businesses and writes grants to bring federal development funds into the state, to take advantage of opportunities to increase profitability. The Division has taken a lead role in natural resource issues, such as water use and land conservation. The Division provides staff support and technical assistance to agriculture and food marketing associations.

LICENSES:

Market and Production Development Division licenses the Agricultural Fairs in Maine as part of the role of the Agricultural Promotional Coordinator position. The Division is also responsible for the "Get Real Get Maine!" trademark for the identification of Maine grown or processed food and farm products.

Legislative Count: 3.00

PURPOSE:

The Maine Milk Commission was established to exercise economic control over the purchasing, distribution and sale of milk within the State, while taking into consideration the public health and welfare and ensuring an adequate supply of milk. It has the power to conduct hearings, subpoena and examine under oath dealers, along with their records, books and accounts, and any other person from whom information may be desired. The Commission may have access to all books and records relating to milk for the purpose of ascertaining facts to enable it to administer the law. It may act as mediator or arbitrator to settle any controversy or issue among producers, dealers and consumers, any of whom may petition the Commission to change prices or conditions in any market area.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Milk Control Law was enacted by the 87th Legislature in 1935. Under the law, a Maine Milk Control Board was created to exercise general economic supervision over the industry. The Board initially was comprised of one milk dealer, one producer-dealer, two producers and the Commissioner of Agriculture. In 1951, a consumer was added to the membership and the agency's name was changed to the Maine Milk Commission.

Effective October 2, 1975, the law was amended requiring the Commission to be comprised of 4 consumer members and the Commissioner of Agriculture, ex officio. None of the 4 members of the Commission shall at the time of appointment or while serving as a member of the Commission, and no employee of the Commission, shall have any official business or professional connection with any person or firm whose activities are subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission.

The Commission holds regular meetings each calendar month and special meetings may be called by the chairman whenever requested in writing by 2 or more members. The Commission is financed by a fee assessment on milk produced by industry members and it receives no State tax monies. It was incorporated into the Department of Agriculture as an agency as a result of the State Government reorganization legislation of 1973.

PROGRAM:

In accordance with its statute, as interpreted by the State Supreme Court in two decisions, the Commission establishes a uniform system of accounts for reporting and allocating costs of processing, packaging and distributing milk within the State of Maine. Recent studies have been conducted to determine the cost of producing milk in Maine. The cost of production study information is used as a guide for commission members in their monthly deliberations for setting minimum prices. The information is also used for setting target prices in the Maine Dairy Stabilization Program.

The Commission does not establish prices but merely sets minimum prices based on the lowest achievable cost at which milk purchased from Maine producers can be received, processed, packaged and distributed within the State at a just and reasonable return, while ensuring an adequate supply of pure and wholesome milk to Maine consumers.

The Commission also administers the Maine Milk Pool, which balances prices paid to producers whether they ship milk to the "Boston market" or the "Maine market."

BOARD OF PESTICIDES CONTROL

HENRY JENNINGS, DIRECTOR

Central Office: AMHI--DEERING BUILDING, AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0028

Average Count--All Positions: 19.180

Legislative Count: 14.50

PURPOSE:

The Board of Pesticides Control was established to protect the public health and safety and the public interest in the soils, water, forests, wildlife, agricultural and other resources of the State, by assuring safe, scientific and proper use of chemical pesticides. The primary responsibilities of the Board are to register all pesticide products to be sold and used in Maine, to examine and license all persons involved in commercial application of pesticides and all dealers and private growers involved in the sale or application of restricted-use pesticides, to promulgate regulations regarding pesticide use, to issue permits for limited-use pesticides, to investigate use of pest control chemicals, to prosecute violations or initiate license suspension actions, to cooperate with other agencies in environmental monitoring and protection, and to promote the principles and the implementation of integrated pest management and other science-based technology to minimize reliance on pesticides.

ORGANIZATION:

The Board of Pesticides Control was established in 1965, funded in 1969, staffed with a supervisor and secretary in 1970, and in 1973 placed within the Department of Agriculture. In 1981, the Legislature transferred to the Board all the authority of the Commissioner of Agriculture to register pesticides. The original Board was composed of the commissioners of eight state agencies, but in 1980, the Legislature reconstituted the Board to comprise seven public members appointed by the Governor for a four-year term. Qualifications for three of the members are prescribed by statute to include persons knowledgeable about pesticide use in agriculture, forestry and commercial application, while one person must have a medical background and another must be an agronomist or entomologist at the University of Maine. The remaining two public members must have a demonstrated interest in environmental protection and represent different geographic areas of the state.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, FOOD AND RURAL RESOURCES

The Board annually elects a chairman from its membership and employs personnel as necessary. Current professional staff includes a Director, Manager of Compliance, Manager of Pesticide Programs, Toxicologist, Pesticides Registrar/Water Quality Specialist, Public Information Officer, and one full-time and four seasonal Pesticide Inspectors. Overall, the Director provides supervision of the staff.

PROGRAM:

The Board operates four major programs that include product registration, certification and licensing, monitoring and enforcement and public education.

PRODUCT REGISTRATION:

Every pesticide distributed in the state must first be registered with the Maine Board of Pesticides Control. As part of the process, the Board maintains a label and material safety data sheet for each pesticide product and health and environmental study data is reviewed on an "as-needed" basis. In 2009, the Board registered 9,987 products, which represents a 1.2% increase over 2008. The accompanying fees were deposited in the Pesticide Control Fund to cover normal operating costs of the Board. The fund also covers most of the costs of the State Horticulture Program; the Department's Integrated Pest Management (IPM) Program; the State Apiarist; an annual collection of obsolete pesticides; and two grants to Cooperative Extension--one for development of pesticide applicator training materials, and a second for homeowner IPM education.

CERTIFICATION AND LICENSING:

All licensing fees are also deposited in the dedicated account to help support the certification and licensing program to assure proper handling of pesticides and prevent human or environmental harm. In 2010, there were 1,178 private applicators licensed for a three-year period; 1,588 commercial applicators licensed for a two-year period; and 62 restricted-use and 865 general-use pesticide dealers, and 229 spray contracting firms licensed for a two-year period. With the registration of Bt corn in Maine, there are 117 trainees who are certified to either purchase or use this product.

MONITORING AND ENFORCEMENT:

The Board monitors the sale and application of pesticides and investigates complaints of misuse. This involves inspection of pesticide retailers and applicators. Inspectors review pesticide application practices, personal protection and application equipment, storage and mixing areas, and application or distribution records. Violations of the Board's statutes and regulations are subject to enforcement action, which could include suspension or revocation of license and imposition of fines.

PUBLIC EDUCATION:

The Board's other major program is public education, because the members feel it is the most efficient and effective means to minimize both problems and concerns with pesticide use in the state. Information is disseminated through a website, newsletters, press releases, brochures, appearances at trade shows and speaking engagements to students and civic organizations. As a result of legislation enacted in 1997, the Board continues to educate all users on methods to minimize reliance on pesticides. The Board is also involved in a number of special projects designed to protect the public health and environment. These include worker protection, endangered species protection, ground and surface water monitoring, demonstration gardens, obsolete pesticide collections and container recycling.

OBSOLETE PESTICIDE COLLECTION PROGRAM:

Since 1981, 80 tons of old, unusable and banned pesticides have been disposed of through this Board program, funded by pesticide registration fees.

PESTICIDE CONTAINER DISPOSAL/RECYCLING:

Since 1983, Board programs have ensured proper disposal/recycling of plastic pesticide containers, with 18 tons of #2 plastic recycled annually.

DIVISION OF PLANT INDUSTRY

Legislative Count: 11.00

PURPOSE:

The Division of Plant Industry was established to prevent the introduction and spread of plant pests into Maine crops. It is responsible for protecting the public from the sale of weak, diseased or insect infested plants, ensuring honeybees are free from pests, and testing and certifying seed potatoes and other crops that meet pest tolerances. This is accomplished by enforcing statutes related to the certification of seed potatoes; and licensing and inspecting greenhouses, nurseries, beekeepers and their hives.

The Division enforces regulations dealing with the quarantine, seizure, disinfections, destruction or other disposition of diseased or insect infested plant material or bees. Division staff also survey for insects and diseases, which could cause economic damage to Maine's agricultural and forest industries.

The Division licenses arborists and enforces the statutes and rules that govern this occupation associated with the care of shade and ornamental trees.

The Division also conducts the winter potato disease-testing program on a farm owned by the State of Maine in Homestead, Florida. This program assesses the disease content of samples of Maine seed potatoes to ensure that they meet tolerances established by State rule.

ORGANIZATION:

The Division of Plant Industry was established in 1919. In the early years, the Division was primarily involved in insect control having to do with the corn borer, gypsy moth, browntail moth, Japanese beetle, and greenhead fly. As these functions were transferred to other agencies, the emphasis of the Division shifted to work with commercial seed potato growers, nursery operators, florists, beekeepers, and small fruit and vegetable growers.

Prior to the establishment of the Division of Plant Industry, a State Horticulturist was authorized in 1907 as State Entomologist under a Bureau of Entomology. These designations were changed to State Horticulturist and Bureau of Horticulture in 1911. The State Horticulturist later was placed within the Division of Plant Industry. The Bureau of Horticulture as an organizational unit was abolished in 1972. The State Horticulturist is administratively located in the Division of Plant Industry. The purpose of the Horticultural Unit is to implement plant, insect and disease laws and quarantines, and the certification of plant materials involved in interstate and international movement. The activities and accomplishments of the Horticultural Unit are reported in the (Office of) State Horticulturist.

The Division provides administrative oversight for the Board of Pesticides Control, the Maine Seed Potato Board, the Arborist Advisory Council and the Integrated Pest Management Council.

The Division's professional staff is comprised of a state apiarist, a state horticulturist and two assistants, an integrated pest management entomologist, six seed potato specialists (one specialist also serves as a grain inspector), a supervisor to the specialists and a state survey coordinator. Funding for this latter position is provided through a cooperative agreement with USDA to survey for exotic plant pests of economic concern to Maine agriculture. Following a re-organization within the Division, this position is now supervised by the state horticulturist and the program activities and accomplishments are also reported under the Office of the State Horticulturist.

PROGRAM:

A major activity of the Division is the certification of seed potatoes, which is primarily funded through fees charged to seed potato producers. The Maine Seed Potato Certification Program inspected and certified 10,774 acres of potatoes produced by 93 growers in 2009, a 7.44% increase in acreage compared to 2008 and a reduction by one in the number of growers. The certification staff also certified 382 acres of barley and 18.3 acres of oats. In addition, the staff collected 4,283 five-pound soil samples from the fields of 27 seed growers. All of these samples were analyzed for the presence of potato cyst and golden nematodes and found negative so the growers were allowed to export their seed to Canadian buyers.

The State Apiarist licensed 567 Maine beekeepers that registered 6,788 colonies in the state in 2009. These numbers reflect an increase in hobby beekeeping that is primarily due to media attention concerning the array of problems associated with honey bees, beekeeping and crop pollination. Unfortunately, this renewed interest in beekeeping has resulted in an increase in nuisance complaints from residents and officials in suburban and urban areas of the state. During the spring, 66,084 hives managed by migratory commercial beekeepers based in 15 states entered Maine primarily for blueberry production. In total, approximately 67,684 hives were used for crop pollination in 2009. Hives were also used to pollinate apple, canola, cranberry, small fruits, squash and buckwheat crops. In 2009, 16,892 hives were issued health certificates for movement from Maine and 6,743 hives were surveyed at random with 2,207 opened and inspected for disease and parasites. American Foulbrood, European Foulbrood, Sacbrood virus and Chalkbrood disease were all detected at varying levels. Significant time was again spent with survey and lab analysis of honeybees for Nosema disease (intestinal honey bee parasite) which is thought to be a contributing factor in the Colony Collapse Disorder (CCD) phenomenon reported by the media. Nosema was found in 87.6% of commercial colonies versus 48% of hobby colonies showing that colonies that pollinated three crops had higher levels than those that only pollinated one or two crops. During 2009, the state apiarist also gave 30 presentations (lectures, workshops, field sessions and displays) throughout the state to beekeepers, farmers, students, civic groups and city/town councils.

Division staff also continued to distribute federal cost share reimbursement funds to organic producers and processors who meet the standards of USDA's National Organic Program. The Division is now able to reimburse up to 75% of an operator's organic certification costs up to a maximum of $750. In 2009, the Division reimbursed 352 producers a total of $167,366 at an average of $475.47 per farm.

The Division continued to update its website at <http://www.maine.gov/agriculture/pi/> to better serve the public as well as conserve state funds. Examples include expanding a description of the National Organic Program and providing additional information and resources for arborists, the IPM program and for invasive pests like the Asian longhorned beetle and emerald ash borer.

M.R.S.A., Sect. 000002151

Legislative Count: 5.50

PURPOSE:

The Maine Seed Potato Board was established to foster and improve the seed potato industry of the State of Maine. Its primary responsibilities are to produce, or cause to be produced, through contract or otherwise, sufficient acreages of foundation seed potatoes of various varieties for distribution and sale to Maine potato growers; to work with and through the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Maine in conducting a program of foundation seed potatoes annually; to purchase, own, sell or convey farm real estate and farm equipment as necessary for the purpose of producing seed potatoes; and to make rules and regulations pertaining to its program of production, distribution and sales of seed potatoes. Proceeds from the sale of seed potatoes are credited to the operating account of the Board.

ORGANIZATION:

The Seed Potato Board was organized in April 1945. It initially consisted of six members appointed by the Governor from specified areas for terms of three years, and the Commissioner of Agriculture served as chairman. A number of changes in the Board's structure have occurred since then, and the last one occurred in 2009 when the Legislature voted to transfer oversight of the Board from the Department to the Maine Potato Board. The Commissioner now serves as a member and appoints two members to include a representative of the potato industry in a county other than Aroostook County and a person producing potatoes in Aroostook County primarily for processing. The Maine Potato Board appoints six members representing the potato industry in Aroostook County and to include one grower producing primarily tablestock potatoes and another grower producing potatoes primarily for processing. The Board is authorized to elect a secretary, who need not be a member of the Board.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, FOOD AND RURAL RESOURCES

PROGRAM:

The Board carries out its mission through the operation of a foundation seed potato production facility known as the Porter Farm in Masardis, Maine. Over 200 different varieties are maintained in a tissue culture bank and nearly sixty varieties of seed potatoes are produced in the fields each year. The facility is equipped with tissue culture production, disease testing laboratories, seed storages with climate control systems, greenhouses and an irrigation system to support the production of nuclear and foundation seed. In 2009, the Board began producing minitubers in a state of the art greenhouse using hydroponics that allowed them to produce high quality minitubers at very competitive prices. It also enabled them to increase the volume of seed at a much faster rate to meet growing demands for new varieties.

The department transferred the assets and its oversight of the Seed Potato Board to the Maine Potato Board effective January 1, 2010 pursuant to Public Law 2009, chapter 379. Since then, the department has not had any involvement in the operation of the Board other than for the Commissioner serving on the Board and participating in its meetings.

ORGANIZATION:

The Division of Quality Assurance and Regulations was created in 1995 as a result of the Productivity Realization Task Force. The former Divisions of Quality Assurance and Regulations established in 1917 and 1919, respectively, were merged into one division because of similar missions. The Division provides voluntary quality control services for Maine's agricultural industries on a fee basis and provides diverse consumer protection activities ranging from inspection of retail food stores to ensuring the accuracy of weighing and measuring devices used in commerce. The internal organization is comprised of a Division Director, Inspection Program Manager, a State Veterinarian, 2 Food Inspection Supervisors, three Inspection Process Analysts, a Metrologist and full-time and seasonal staff consisting of an Assistant Metrologist, and Consumer Protection, Produce and Poultry and Shell Egg Processing Inspectors.

Inspectors protect the consumers, while educating and working with food businesses in the state. This partnership assures consumers of a safe food supply while providing marketing assistance to small and large businesses alike. The Division works in cooperation with the Federal Food and Drug Administration and the United States Department of Agriculture on inspections of food shipped interstate and on product recall inspections to benefit industry and the consumer. It responds to consumer complaints regarding food establishments and products and investigates product damage incurred in fires, floods, power outages and other natural disasters.

The Weights and Measures Program maintains a level playing field, where weighing and measuring forms the basis for payment in commercial transactions within the State of Maine, by testing and evaluating weighing and measuring devices. The Program investigates cases of fraud, and provides training, supervision, and calibration services to municipalities which have local Weights and Measures Sealers. It performs random inspections of packages packed prior to sale for correct labeling and correct net weight and measure. The Metrologist is responsible for traceability of the State's Standards to the standards of the National Institute of Standards and Technology located in Gaithersburg, Maryland. Maine's metrology lab, considered one of the best on the East Coast, is utilized by some other New England states on a fee basis.

The Department of Audit has the authority to audit all accounts and other financial records of State Government and its departments or agencies, including the judiciary, with the exception of the Governor's Expense Account. It has the authority to audit counties, municipalities, and any organization, institution or other entity receiving or requesting an appropriation or grant from State Government. The Department conducts its financial and compliance audits for all State agencies subject to the Single Audit Act Amendments of 1996, United States Code, Section 7501-7507 (1998) and in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. The Department is also authorized to review departmental budgets and capital programs for better and efficient management of State Government, to serve as a staff agency to the Legislature and the Governor in making investigations of the State's finances, and to ensure that an annual audit is performed of the municipal cost component and the Unorganized Territory Education and Services Fund. In addition, the Department was authorized by the Maine Legislature to establish a fraud hotline to improve efficiency and eliminate waste in state government by encouraging state employees and citizens of our State to report incidents of suspected fraud, waste, inefficiency or abuse to the State Auditor for further investigation.

The State Auditor is required to prepare and publish an annual report and to notify the Governor and Legislature immediately of any improper transactions, unacceptable practices in keeping accounts or handling funds, or any other improper practice of financial administration. The State Auditor has access to all information required to perform the above duties including confidential records that the Department protects as provided by law.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Audit originated in 1883 with the establishment of a three-member Committee to examine accounts of the State Treasurer. In 1907, the Committee was replaced by a State Auditor who examined all accounts and demands against the State, including all matters requiring payment from the State Treasury.

In 1931, the Department of Audit was created under the administrative direction of the State Auditor who is elected by joint ballot of the Legislature for a term of four years. In January, 1945, the position of Deputy Auditor was established.

In 1987, the Department assumed responsibility for conducting the State of Maine's annual Single Audit in accordance with the Single Audit Act. The audit is conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

In 1992 the position of Fiscal Administrator of the Unorganized Territory was officially added following the Department's performance of this function for several years.

DEPARTMENT OF AUDIT

The Department is headed by the State Auditor who is responsible for the overall executive management of the Department and receives support from staff who carry-out the duties and responsibilities outlined in Title 5 MRSA Sec.241.

PROGRAM:

The programs of the Department are implemented through its Bureaus.

PURPOSE:

Dorothea Dix Psychiatric Center (DDPC) operates under laws established by the Maine Legislature to provide care and treatment for both voluntary and court committed patients as well as outpatients. The hospital has its own Advisory Board with by-laws covering organization, purpose, duties, appointment process, committees and relationship to the Medical Staff.

DDPC is part of a comprehensive mental health system of services in northern and eastern Maine which includes community mental health centers with multiple branch offices, private psychiatric and community hospitals and private providers. In addition to the inpatient services, DDPC provides outpatient services for clients who require such support in order to transition to, or remain in, the community.

ORGANIZATION:

The Dorothea Dix Psychiatric Center was established in 1901 as the Eastern Maine Insane Hospital. In 1913, it was renamed the Bangor State Hospital, and in 1931, was placed within the Department of Health and Welfare. In 1939, the hospital was placed under the Department of Institutional Service, now the Department of Health and Human Services. In 1973, its name was changed to Bangor Mental Health Institute. Its present name was established by the Legislature in 2005.

The hospital received its first accreditation under the Joint Commission in 1976 and has continued to be accredited. It is fully licensed as a hospital of the Maine Department of Health and Human Services and is certified by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to provide acute psychiatric care.

PROGRAM:

DDPC is a 64-bed psychiatric hospital and is organized into major clinical, administrative, and support service departments. DDPC has four inpatient treatment units, admitting approximately 300 people per year. All four coed units provide an acute level of care. The Outpatient Program includes a Dental Clinic and a Psychiatric Medication Clinic for both the adult and geriatric population.

Coordinated Efforts

For the past two years the two state psychiatric hospitals have been working to create efficiencies by sharing and integrating administrative functions where feasible. To date the following have been implemented:

Chief Financial Officer shared between DDPC and RPC supervising business office, facilities, safety and utilization management functions;
An Integrated Quality Director responsible for developing and implementing a unified performance improvement program and supervising medical records and information management functions at both hospitals;
An electronic medical record program and support shared between hospitals;
Shared business office functions;
Shared clinical risk management;
Shared survey readiness;
Occupational Therapy consultation provided to RPC from DDPC staff.

Evaluating processes in all aspects of hospital functions is ongoing to maximize efficiency and offer patients treatment that is evidenced based and focused on personal recovery.

PURPOSE:

The Office of Adult Mental Health Services (OAMHS) has primary responsibility for developing, maintaining, and improving a system of mental health services and supports, including community based mental health services and psychiatric inpatient services for persons age 18 years and older who have serious mental illness. Several primary functions are identified in statute: 1) Promotion and support of the development and implementation of comprehensive community support systems to ensure community integration and the maintenance of a decent quality of life for persons with severe and persistent mental illness; 2) Strengthening the capacity of families, natural networks and other community resources in order to improve the support for persons with severe and persistent mental illness; 3) Provision of technical assistance for program development and the promotion of effective coordination of services; 4) Observation, security, treatment and rehabilitation services for persons committed under criminal statutes; 5) Assessment of service needs, monitoring delivery of services, and the evaluation of programs.

OAMHS adopts and promulgates rules, regulations and standards relating to the administration of the services authorized, as well as assuring compliance with a wide range of state and federal requirements. There are many additional functions, including those related to the Consent Decree from the class action suit, Bates v. DHHS, 1990.

ORGANIZATION:

A Bureau of Mental Health was created in 1959 and reorganized as a division in 1993 to provide centralized direction and administration for mental health programs in Maine. Currently, OAMHS is organized as an office with a central team, which has a programmatic and a supervisory relationship with regionally based staff, and with the two state psychiatric facilities, Riverview Psychiatric Center and Dorothea Dix Psychiatric Center, as well as the State Forensic Services.

PROGRAM:

The mission of the office is to support, empower and enable individuals with mental illness to enjoy an improved quality of life. In this capacity, and guided by consumer-centered values and strategies, OAMHS acts as an advocate for the prevention of and recovery from mental illness and as an agent for the provision of individualized, flexible treatment and rehabilitative mental health services in the least restrictive settings that are the most appropriate to the needs of the individuals.

The OAMHS Office of Consumer Affairs developed a nationally recognized Intentional Peer Support Specialist training curriculum and a certification process that includes ongoing supervision and training. The first class received its certification in 2008. Also in 2008 legislation was passed to create an independent statewide consumer council system. The Consumer Council System of Maine became fully operational in 2009 as a vehicle for consumers of mental health services to provide input on mental health public policy, services and funding decisions.

In 2010 OAMHS launched a major initiative to transform adult mental health services to a system of recovery-oriented care and support. This collaborative process will specifically define a recovery-oriented mental health system and will determine how policy, contracts, programs and evaluation procedures can support that system. The transformation effort will also include an evaluation component and a toolkit using OQ Measures, the Recovery Assessment Scale, LOCUS and the Data Infrastructure Grant survey to measure individual change and for program evaluation to assess aspects of recovery. This data will be used to continuously improve the adult mental health system.

OAMHS continues its focus on meeting the requirements of the Bates vs. DHHS Consent Decree and on strategies to both review and improve services. The structure of the overall adult mental health system underwent a major change with the development of seven Community Service Networks (CSNs) in 2006. The purpose of the CSNs is to coordinate services among network providers to ensure that mental health consumers receive seamless, integrated care within their geographic area. Participants in the CSNs are the providers of core services in the network area, designated consumers representatives, family members, community hospitals, Dorothea Dix Psychiatric Center, Acadia Hospital, Riverview Psychiatric Center, Spring Harbor Hospital and the Office of Adult Mental Health Services. These CSNs hold monthly teleconferences and quarterly meetings.

PURPOSE:

The Office of Adults with Cognitive and Physical Disability Services will provide leadership and be an active partner in Maine's comprehensive system of support to individuals with cognitive and physical disabilities. At the foundation of this system is the belief that all individuals can achieve a quality of life consistent with the community in which they live. Supports will be flexible and designed in a manner that recognizes people's changing needs throughout their lifetimes.

DEPARTMENT OF BEHAVIORAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL SERVICES

ORGANIZATION:

The Division of Mental Retardation was established in 1969. In 2004 the Legislature created a new DHHS by merging the former Department of Behavioral and Developmental Services and Department of Human Services. In doing so, the Division of Mental Retardation became Developmental Services as part of the Office of Adults with Cognitive and Physical Disability Services. The new office provides policy and direction for services to adults with Developmental Disabilities and/or Autism, Brain Injury, and Physical Disabilities.

Developmental Services is administratively divided into eight districts. District staff assist individuals through the intake process and in obtaining services, assist in developing programs, provide personal planning services, advocacy services, crisis services and monitor quality provided. A comprehensive array of community based services are provided through a network of provider agencies funded by MaineCare programs. Community programs are also supported through contracts and grants with individual families, medical professionals and provider agencies.

Brain Injury Services are administered centrally and services are provided through a network of providers funded by MaineCare programs. The Office supports the work of the Acquired Brain Injury Advisory Council who also oversees Brain Injury Services.

Physical Disability Services are administered centrally and services are provided through a network of providers funded by a combination of State funds and MaineCare programs.

PROGRAM:

The Office is responsible for funding oversight of a variety of Long Term Care Programs, including personal support, residential programs, day treatment/habilitation, supported employment, self directed personal care assistance services and neuro-rehab services. The majority of these services are funded by MaineCare programs and provided by a network of community service providers. Within the Office, Developmental Services directly provides case management, crisis services, advocacy and protective services through the district structure. Supports and services to all populations served by the Office are designed to promote self-advocacy and self-direction whenever possible.

The Office collaborates with self advocates, families, other DHHS offices, state agencies, legislature, advocacy groups and service providers in the development, provision and evaluation of supports and services.

PURPOSE:

Riverview Psychiatric Center (RPC) operates under laws established by the Maine Legislature to provide care and treatment for both voluntary and court committed patients as well as outpatients. The hospital has its own Advisory Board with by-laws covering organization, purpose, duties, appointment process, committees and relationship to the Medical Staff.

RPC is part of a comprehensive mental health system of services in Maine which includes community mental health centers with multiple branch offices, private psychiatric and community hospitals and private providers. In addition to the inpatient services, RPC provides outpatient services for clients who require such support in order to transition to, or remain in, the community.

ORGANIZATION:

Riverview Psychiatric Center was built in 2003 and occupied in June 2004. Prior to Riverview, state inpatient psychiatric care for the southern part of the State was provided by the Augusta Mental Health Institute (AMHI). AMHI was established in 1840 as the Maine Insane Hospital and was the only public mental hospital in Maine until the second hospital was built in Bangor in 1901. The name was changed in 1913 from Maine Insane Hospital to Augusta Mental Health Institute and then Riverview Psychiatric Center in 2004.

The hospital received its first accreditation under the Joint Commission in 1976 and has continued to be accredited. It is fully licensed as a hospital of the Maine Department of Health and Human Services and is certified by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to provide acute psychiatric care.

PROGRAM:

RPC is a 92-bed psychiatric hospital and is organized into major clinical, administrative, and support service departments. RPC has four inpatient treatment units, admitting approximately 300 people per year. All four coed units provide an acute level of care. The Outpatient Program includes a Dental Clinic and a Psychiatric Medication Clinic for both the adult and geriatric population. RPC is also the State of Maine's only forensic psychiatric hospital.

Coordinated Efforts

For the past two years the two state psychiatric hospitals have been working to create efficiencies by sharing and integrating services and functions where feasible. To date the following have been implemented:

Chief Financial Officer shared between DDPC and RPC supervising business office, facilities, safety and utilization management functions;
An Integrated Quality Director responsible for developing and implementing a unified performance improvement program and supervising medical records and information management functions at both hospitals;
An electronic medical record program and support shared between hospitals;
Shared business office functions;
Shared clinical risk management;
Shared survey readiness;
Occupational Therapy consultation provided to RPC from DDPC staff.

Evaluating processes in all aspects of hospital functions is ongoing to maximize efficiency and offer patients treatment that is evidenced based and focused on personal recovery.

PURPOSE:

The Office of Substance Abuse was established by the 114th Maine Legislature to establish a single administrative unit responsible for creating an integrated approach to the problem of alcohol and other drug abuse and to focus all the varied resources of the State on developing a comprehensive and effective range of alcohol and other drug abuse prevention and treatment activities and services.

DEPARTMENT OF BEHAVIORAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL SERVICES

ORGANIZATION:

The 117th Maine Legislature merged the Office of Substance Abuse with the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to form the Department of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse Services, subsequently called the Department of Behavioral and Developmental Services and now the Department of Health and Human Services. The Office of Substance Abuse continues its responsibility for planning, developing, implementing, coordinating and evaluating all of the State's alcohol and other drug abuse prevention, intervention, and treatment activities. The Office of Substance Abuse is composed of four divisions: Prevention/Information Resource Center, Intervention (including the Driver Education and Evaluation Program and the Prescription Monitoring Program), Data and Research, and Treatment.

PROGRAM:

The Office of Substance Abuse is responsible for developing a comprehensive plan for combating alcohol and drug abuse, administering services through contracts with community service providers, and establishing statewide standards for substance abuse prevention, intervention, treatment and recovery. The Office of Substance Abuse regularly assesses the extent of substance use and abuse in Maine by collecting data from a number of sources, including required reporting from all providers and regular surveys of a variety of populations.

The Office of Substance Abuse serves as the primary liaison with other DHHS agencies, departments, the Legislature, citizen's groups and service providers on issues pertaining to substance abuse. The Office of Substance Abuse provides training, consultation, technical assistance and service delivery strategies to help schools and communities reduce tobacco, alcohol and other drug related problems.

Within the Intervention Division, the Driver Education Evaluation Program (DEEP) provides or oversees education, evaluation, and/or treatment for all operating under the influence offenders in the State of Maine in order to lessen the incidence of injury and fatalities which result from driving under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

The Prescription Monitoring Program (PMP) is an intervention tool created to prevent and detect prescription drug misuse and diversion. The PMP maintains a database of all transactions for controlled substances dispensed in the State of Maine. The database is available free online to prescribers and dispensers.

LICENSES:

The Office of Substance Abuse assists the Division of Licensing and Regulation, DHHS in promulgating regulations for substance abuse licensing that included integrated language for co-occurring disorders.

The Office of Substance Abuse works in conjunction with the Division of Licensing and Regulation, DHHS in the approval of methadone facility licensing applications.

PURPOSE:

The Coastal Island Registry was established to identify and secure title to those coastal islands remaining within the State of Maine.

ORGANIZATION:

The 106th Legislature created the Coastal Island Registry in 1973, assigning it first to the Bureau of Forestry and then, in 1974, to the Bureau of Public Lands. It currently resides in the Bureau of Parks and Lands, 33 M.R.S.A., Chapter 25.

PROGRAM:

The Coastal Island Registry Act provides that all coastal islands within the State of Maine (having less than four residential structures thereon) shall be registered with the Bureau of Parks and Lands by their purported owners. Those islands for which such a determination discovers against a purported owner, as well as those islands for which no registration was submitted, fall to the care and custody of the State of Maine, until such time as a "true" owner comes forward to establish title. DIVISION OF FOREST HEALTH AND MONITORING

DAVID STRUBLE, STATE ENTOMOLOGIST

TTY: (888) 577-6690

Central Office: HARLOW BLDG., 18 ELKINS LANE, AUGUSTA, ME 04330

Mail Address: 22 STATEHOUSE STATION, AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0022 FAX: (207) 287-8422

Telephone: (207) 287-2791

Reference: Policy Area: 04 ; Umbrella: 04 Unit: 058E; Citation: T0012 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000008101

PURPOSE:

The Division of Forest Health & Monitoring within the Bureau of Forestry was originally established to protect the forest, shade and ornamental tree resources of the state from significant insect and disease damage and to provide pest management and damage prevention for homeowners, municipalities, and forest landowners and managers; thereby preserving the overall health of Maine's forest resources. By action of the 118th Legislature, responsibilities were expanded to incorporate conducting a permanent inventory of Maine's forest resources on a 5-year annualized cycle.

In accomplishing its mandate, the Division of Forest Health & Monitoring: gathers, analyzes, and reports pest levels and trends and similar information regarding forest condition/forest response; evaluates actual and potential impacts of such forest pests; and develops integrated pest management techniques. Additional responsibilities include providing technical assistance, implementing control actions when justified, and administering existing state and federal laws pertaining to insect and disease quarantine. In those situations where quarantine regulations are necessary but are not preexisting, the director may, by rule, establish a quarantine to address the situation.

The state entomologist is authorized to go onto any lands for the purpose of surveying and inspecting any shade, ornamental, or forest trees whenever he suspects the presence of any dangerous native or exotic insect or disease. If the survey work requires the placing of "trap" material on developed lands in incorporated areas, the state entomologist is required to first notify the landowner of his plans.

ORGANIZATION:

The Division of Forest Health & Monitoring (FHM) originated in 1921 as the Division of Entomology for the purpose of protecting Maine's forest land shade trees from insects and diseases. The Director of the Maine Forest Service appoints the State Entomologist, who serves as the Director of the Division of FHM. Operating within an administrative division of the Maine Forest Service, the State Entomologist is statutorily responsible for answering all calls for information on forest insects including their identification and control. The State Entomologist is also required to assist other departments working in this field.

To protect and enhance the health and sustainability of Maine's forest resources across the extent and diversity of the resource, ranging from 17.2 million acres of commercial timberland to individual shade trees scattered across 488 municipalities, requires that the FHM Division utilize its limited resources such that all operations be integrated and interactive. Although the Division is organized into two Work Units (Insect & Disease Management and Forest Inventory & Monitoring), which have primary responsibility for discrete functions, activities are coordinated and all staff are intersupporting.

Internal Division capability is augmented through collaboration with other agencies within the state, with neighboring jurisdictions and with the federal government to optimize efficiencies by sharing resources, analyses and information. At the local level, the Division is maintaining and expanding cooperative efforts and technology transfer through a network of client/cooperators to augment internal capacity and to address local problems.

PROGRAM:

Insect and Disease Management Work Unit- The IDM unit is centered at the IDM Lab in Augusta and is primarily responsible to: conduct localized and statewide surveys to detect and monitor current and potential insect, disease and other environmental stresses of the forest and shade tree resource; develop and provide predictive evaluations and both preventative and remedial prescriptions for known major stressors to landowners so as to allow managers to make timely and informed site specific pest management decisions; provide information, technical advice and assistance to individuals, municipalities, and other state and federal agencies on identification, significance and control of any forest and shade tree insects and diseases; and (if requested) provide, to the extent possible, similar information for non-forest insects on non-agricultural crops.

This unit is responsible for developing and championing use of best management practices for pest management and forest resource damage prevention, and has responsibility to: provide technical advice and assistance, including design, oversight, administration and funding infrastructure (when justified) for large and small scale pest management and remediation projects; serve as lead agency and liaison for cooperative federal, state, municipal, neighborhood and private pest control efforts; and conduct applied research, designing pest control strategies and proactive managerial prescriptions.

This unit also has specific responsibility for overseeing and enforcing State and Federal quarantine laws for those quarantines directly relating to the forest resource (Hemlock Woolly Adelgid, Gypsy Moth, Pine Shoot Beetle, European Larch Canker, White Pine Blister Rust) in order to protect the resource base and minimize constraint of commerce. This unit also administers the insect and disease reference collection and library which serves FHM and other cooperating agencies.

Forest Inventory and Health Monitoring Work Unit- The FIM unit is primarily responsible to maintain the Maine Forest Service's statewide forest health and sustainability monitoring surveillance system; conducting and reporting on the annualized 5-year cyclical inventory of the condition/extent of Maine's forest resources. This unit also provides field staff support to conduct specific projects initiated in the IDM units.

The responsibilities of the Bureau are: to encourage and promote appropriate forest land management practices on public and private lands to provide maximum benefits from forest products, recreation and related resources such as soil, water and wildlife; to provide advice and assistance in forest management to woodland owners; to produce, aid in accomplishment of forest land management practices; to promote improved markets, utilization and manufacture of forest products, to maintain a thriving forest industry; to initiate and maintain up-to-date economic data, including a forest inventory for purposes of identifying current and future forest industry trends; and to promote productivity and current use as the basis for forest land taxation. Responsibilities also include: to encourage long-term forest management objectives; to protect the forest resource from fire, insects, diseases and other natural enemies; to encourage and promote the planting, care and protection of shade trees, shrubs and forest growth by individuals, municipalities and State agencies; to maintain and improve the scenic beauty, wildlife habitat and recreational values of Maine; to determine, encourage and conduct needed research in forest resource and shade tree management; and to develop through information, education and formal publications a greater public awareness and appreciation of forests as Maine's basic economy and renewable resource, of the need to protect the forest resource, and of the economic and social benefits to be derived from multiple use of forest lands.

DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau is divided into 3 functional divisions: Forest Protection, Forest Policy and Management, and Forest Health and Monitoring. Each division is administered by a chief executive officer who is in charge of all division activities. Field operations are administered through functional regional supervisors.

PROGRAM:

The Bureau of Forestry's total program is reflected in the program statements of the various Divisions. In addition, the Director's office manages Maine State forestry related issues with the USDA Forest Service including all grants and other forestry related federal agency programs; directs the Maine Forest Service participation in the North East State Foresters Association (NEFA); is responsible for budget preparation and management; manages legislative proposals; and is responsible for overall administration of federally funded forestry programs including; landowner assistance, education, cost share and urban forestry grants programs.

PURPOSE:

The Forest Protection Division's primary objective is to provide forest fire and forest resource protection at the least cost with minimum damage to Maine's 17.7 million acres of forest land. This objective is accomplished by: (1) prevention - 25% to 30% of time and funds are expended in this effort; (2) detection utilizing Civil Air Patrol, Division and other state agency aircraft; (3) presuppression training of municipal, forest industry, and Division employees and maintenance and development of specialized equipment; (4) suppression containing and controlling fires that do occur; and, (5) law enforcement.

ORGANIZATION:

In 1891, the Legislature established the Office of Forest Commissioner and a Forest Commission to oversee the protection of Maine's forests. Before then, this office was known as the Land Office and the Land Agent. In 1909, the Legislature created the Maine Forestry District to provide forest fire protection throughout the "unorganized Towns" and some plantations. The disastrous forest fires of 1947 led to statutory changes in 1949 that made the Forest Commissioner responsible for forest fire control across the entire state.

The Department of Conservation was established in 1973, and the Maine Forestry Department, also called the Maine Forest Service, became the Bureau of Forestry within Conservation. Fire Control was assigned to the Bureau as the Division of Forest Fire Control with a subsequent name change to Forest Protection in 1999. The Division operates by staffing a state office that includes the Director, the Planning and Training coordinator, Fire Prevention Specialist, and Federal Excess Property Specialist. Operational units are divided into 3 regional offices, which are further broken down into 9 district field offices. The Division also operates an aircraft operations and maintenance unit.

PROGRAM:

The Division's primary goal is to keep annual acreage burned to less than .02% (3500 acres) of the total acreage of the State and hold annual fire occurrence to 59 fires per million acres protected (1,000 fires). The fire season of 2009 had significant fire potential early but summer rains prevented large fire growth. The spring fire season was very active. Many small human caused fires kept fire crews around the state busy. During the 2009 fire season the Division recorded over 500 fires. Most fires occurred as a result of human activity. The Division generally experiences an average of over 600 fires annually. Acreage burned varies but is generally less than 1000 acres, although as recently as 2006, over 1700 acres were lost to wildfire. Another major goal of the Division is to enforce all laws dealing with forest and forest preservation.

These include fire laws, forest practices, timber theft and trespass, liquidation harvesting, Christmas tree laws and all terrain vehicle and snowmobile laws. Forest fire prevention continues to play a very important role in meeting the Division's objectives. Fire Prevention consists of activities such as public service announcements, newspaper articles, Smokey Bear Programs in schools, the Wildland Urban Interface Program, law enforcement, and spark arrester inspections on chainsaws, skidders, and other forestry equipment.

Presuppression or preparedness is another key to a successful forest fire control program. Fire planning is a critical component in preparing for and executing forest fire suppression tactics. Many hours of training, both in-service and with volunteer and municipal groups, are conducted annually throughout the state, including advanced fire fighting courses at the Maine Wildfire Training Academy. In addition, special training programs are developed for hotshot crews, scouts, prison and industry personnel in forest fire suppression techniques. Specially trained and equipped incident management teams are trained and maintained.

All Forest Rangers are trained in Conservation Law Enforcement, a Code of Conduct is in place, entry level requirements for rangers reflect the present ranger job and require a 2 year degree including 15 credit hours of natural science courses; Physical Fitness requirements meet national standards. A Forest Ranger and Law Enforcement Academy is conducted for new hires. The National Interagency Management System is used to manage emergency incidents worldwide. The Forest Protection Division spends many hours training other agencies and fire departments in the use of this global incident management system.

PURPOSE:

The Forest Policy and Management Division promotes informed decisions about Maine's forests. Division staff provide technical assistance, information and education services to a wide variety of publics. Staff also provides outreach and enforcement services on timber harvesting rules. The division anticipates and responds to forest policy issues and reports on the state of Maine's forests.

The division provides assistance through education workshops, field demonstrations, media presentations, and one-on-one contact between District Foresters and landowners. Statute limits technical assistance to individual landowners.

ORGANIZATION:

The Division has four components: District Foresters who work directly with landowners and others; policy, planning and education specialists; program specialists who oversee water quality, stewardship and community forestry programs; and shared responsibility for enforcement of timber harvesting rules. The Division Director reports to the State Forester.

PROGRAM:

During FY 2010, staff provided assistance on forest management and conservation laws to over 7,000 private forest landowners and numerous municipalities, civic organizations, consultants, educational institutions, state and federal agencies. The successful "Be Woods Wise" outreach campaign to promote wise decisions by the owners of small woodland acreages continued. Project Canopy, a program to enhance community forestry in towns, continued to build support in Maine's communities.

The division's regulatory program focuses on preventing violations through educational outreach and field intervention. Regional Enforcement Coordinators continue to improve enforcement policy and procedures and deliver customized compliance training. All staff deliver educational programming, including water quality best management practices and participation in numerous education workshops and training sessions, including Envirothon, teacher tours, and Project Learning Tree. Staff continue to focus on reaching new audiences, including small woodland owners and non-traditional, underserved groups, such as women woodland owners.

Division staff have increased efforts to improve understanding of the Tree Growth Tax Law by landowners, foresters, and municipalities and provided significant amounts of technical assistance to towns over the last year. The division participates in the Atlantic Salmon Conservation Plan. The division's policy team acquires, analyzes, and publishes information about the forest resource to fulfill statutory requirements and report to the public information about trends in Maine's forests.

Legislative Count: 18.00

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Geology and Natural Areas hosts the Maine Geological Survey and the Maine Natural Areas Program. The Bureau's mission is to provide the people of Maine with quality information to facilitate informed decision-making for natural resource management, economic development, conservation planning, and regulation. The Bureau assesses Maine's geology and ecology by conducting field inventories, mapping natural features, and providing data, maps, and reports to landowners, conservation groups, local officials, and state and federal agencies to guide land use decisions.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Geological Survey was originally established in 1957 in the Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) and moved to the Department of Conservation in 1973. In 1993, the Maine Natural Heritage Program (DECD) merged with the Maine Critical Areas Program in the State Planning Office (SPO) to form the Maine Natural Areas Program. The Maine Natural Areas Program moved from DECD to the Department of Conservation in 1995 and was combined with the Maine Geological Survey to form the current bureau, with the State Geologist as the Bureau Director.

PROGRAM:

The Bureau has 3 divisions:

1) Applied Geology:

Geologic Mapping Program provides geologic mapping and interpretation of surficial materials, rock types and structures. Mapping provides the foundation for the identification of aquifers, minerals and geologic hazards.

Hydrogeology Program assesses ground water resources, emphasizing ground water supply, aquifer delineation and ground water quality.

Marine Geology Program conducts research and mapping for shoreline stability, landslides, sea-level rise, beach nourishment, and dredge spoil disposal sites.

2) Resource Data Services Division publishes, in paper and digital form, the results of field investigations and research projects, using GIS.

3) Natural Areas Program serves as the most comprehensive source of information on rare plant and natural communities. With landowner permission, the Program inventories lands that support rare and endangered plants, rare natural communities and outstanding examples of common natural communities. The Program works with landowners, foresters, conservation groups and state/federal agencies to provide objective information to help make responsible conservation decisions.

2010 Accomplishments:

Ground water -Conducted groundwater investigations in the Freeport area, as directed by the Water Resources Planning Committee. With the Citizen Trade Policy Commission, investigated the potential for international trade agreements to override Maine's ground water withdrawal regulations.

Coastal geology -Mapped erosion hazard areas on southern Maine beaches. Worked with coastal communities on resiliency planning.

Geologic Mapping -Completed maps in the Augusta and Bangor areas.

Publication sales -6000 digital geologic maps downloaded each month.

Average Count--All Positions: 24.500

Legislative Count: 24.50

PURPOSE:

The Maine Land Use Regulation Commission was established in 1971 to serve as the planning and zoning board for the State's unorganized areas that have no form of local government; for plantations, which have limited local government but have chosen not to administer local land use controls, and for some towns that choose not to administer such controls at the local level despite having the option to do so. The Commission is responsible for promoting public health, safety and general welfare by encouraging the appropriate well-planned use of the resources within its jurisdiction and by guiding land use activities. The Commission's jurisdiction includes 10.4 million acres, consisting of 410 unorganized townships, 32 plantations, and 7 organized towns. Most of the area is within Aroostook, Penobscot, Somerset, Piscataquis, Washington, Hancock, Franklin, and Oxford Counties, with single plantations or townships located in Lincoln, Knox, Sagadahoc and Kennebec Counties. Often thought of as "The North Woods," the Commission's jurisdiction also includes 780 coastal islands including Monhegan and Matinicus. The Commission's responsibilities are to prepare a comprehensive land use plan for its jurisdiction, to prepare land use standards for each zoning district, to review applications for development, to educate, and to enforce compliance with those standards.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Land Use Regulation Commission is governed by a 7-member independent decision-making body, with members appointed by the Governor subject to review by the Joint Standing Committee on Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry and approval by the Legislature. Appointees to the commission must be familiar with the needs and issues affecting the commission's jurisdiction. All appointees must reside in the commission's jurisdiction; work in the commission's jurisdiction; be a former resident or be retired after working within the commission's jurisdiction for a minimum of 5 years; or have expertise in commerce and industry, fisheries and wildlife, forestry or conservation issues as they affect the commission's jurisdiction. Three members must be residents of the Commission's Jurisdiction. Commissioners serve 4- year staggered terms. The Commission has a staff of 24.5, including an Executive Director. The Commission makes decisions on permit applications, enforcement actions, zoning boundaries and land use standards at regular meetings held monthly. The Commission also conducts Public Hearings and informational meetings at locations in or near its jurisdiction.

DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

PROGRAM:

During the past year, the Commission adopted a revised comprehensive land use plan for the unorganized areas and approved a 330,000 acre concept plan for the Moosehead Lake Region. 692 permit applications were processed. There were 89 permit applications pending at the end of the fiscal year. Staff reached resolution on 36 enforcement cases within the fiscal year. 581 notifications were processed for forest management activities. Commission staff made numerous site inspections, including public assistance visits and compliance inspections.

In addition, Commission staff hosted five educational outreach sessions in Greenville, Rangeley, Ashland, East Millinocket and Matinicus Island to speak to visitors about permitting and compliance matters as well as to answer questions about land use regulations. The Commission's staff is available in 5 regional field offices to assist customers firsthand for permitting, education, compliance, and enforcement needs.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Parks and Lands was established in 1995 by the consolidation of the Bureau of Parks and Recreation and the Bureau of Public Lands. The Bureau manages and administers programs on 591,098 acres of Public Reserved and Non-Reserved Lands, 348,457 in conservation easements including easements along the Appalachian Trail and the Penobscot River Corridor, 625,000 acres in public access easements including the West Branch easement in Somerset County and the Typhoon LLC easement in Washington County, 34 staffed state parks totaling 84,739 acres including the Allagash Wilderness Waterway, 22 staffed and unstaffed state historic sites, 2.3 million acres of submerged lands, 1,333 coastal islands, owns or manages 300 miles of abandoned rail bed managed as multi-use trails, and other public lands as provided by law. The Bureau also administers special programs related to boat access sites, navigational hazard marking, snowmobile and ATV trails, and the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund and Recreational Trail Program.

The Bureau acquires land, designs and constructs facilities for public use, distributes information, develops and implements management plans, carries out appropriate land management, administers grants, and coordinates with other state and federal agencies that have related programs.

Bureau staff provide assistance including grants to other agencies and municipalities, and provide landowners assistance on land management and recreation issues, provide information to legislators and other individuals and organizations, conduct or supervise research within their area of expertise, and conduct workshops, seminars, and field trips for the public or special interest groups.

ORGANIZATION:

A director, who reports to the Commissioner of the Department of Conservation, heads the Bureau and is assisted by a deputy director and director of operations and maintenance. The Deputy Director's primary responsibility is to manage the Planning, Acquisition, and Special Services Division and the Grants and Community Recreation Division, which includes the Maine Conservation Corps. Six regional offices, three supervising the state park system and three supervising the Public Reserved Lands system, oversee operations and management activities. The six heads of these regions, and three central office programs: engineering and realty, silviculture, and admin services all report to the Director of Operations and Maintenance. The central office includes three divisions that report to the director including off-road vehicles; boating facilities; and submerged lands divisions. Park system field staff provide direct services to park and historic site visitors, maintain and repair facilities, provide information and education programs, and ensure public safety. Public Reserved Lands field staff conduct multiple use land management activities including timber, wildlife, and recreation; plan and oversee the construction of roads, trails, and bridges; and maintain campsites and other visitor amenities. The Off-Road Vehicle Division administers motorized trails on public & private land, and provides extensive grants to clubs, municipalities and counties for the development and maintenance of snowmobile and ATV trails. The Division has also coordinated, funded and managed the acquisition of 215 miles of multi-use rail trails throughout the state. The Boating Facilities Div, through direct state involvement, grants and contracts, provides and maintains boat access sites. It also marks certain lakes to ensure navigational safety. The Submerged Lands Program is responsible for the management of the State's submerged lands. The Planning, Acquisition, and Special Services Division oversees the acquisition of land, develops management plans and provides technical information on wildlife, interpretation, recreation, historic sites and silviculture management. It also conducts research, secures grants, reviews comprehensive plans, and administers a leasing program for camp lots, telecommunications, utility right-of-ways, and agriculture on Bureau lands. PURPOSE:

The Department of Corrections is responsible for the planning, direction and management of adult and juvenile correctional facilities, community corrections and programs within the state. The department administers the state's correctional facilities, provides for the safety of staff and clients, undertakes appropriate programming for the classification, education, rehabilitation and maintenance of clients and assures an effective system for the supervision of parolees and probationers. The department is responsible for the direction and administration of the Maine State Prison, the Maine Correctional Center, the Charleston Correctional Facility, Long Creek Youth Development Center, Mountain View Youth Development Center, the Downeast Correctional Facility, Central Maine Pre-Release Center and the Women's Reentry Center. The department also administers community corrections programs for adult and juvenile probationers.

The department is authorized to establish and maintain programs, inside and outside of correctional facilities that provide rehabilitation services and opportunities for clients. The Department of Corrections may provide or assist in the provision of correctional services throughout the State as authorized by Maine law, and the department is responsible for setting standards and inspection of municipal and county jails.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Corrections was created by the Legislature in 1981 to improve the administration of correctional facilities, programs and services for committed offenders.

In 2008, the department reorganized internally to establish a division of juvenile services and a division of adult services. The institutional and community corrections functions are now included in the juvenile or adult divisions.

In 2007, in response to the increasing prisoner population and the lack of adequate housing capacity within the state's correctional facilities, the department opened the Women's Reentry Center in Bangor and contracted to house state prisoners in county jails. In the 2008, the Legislature created a Board of Corrections to oversee the adult correctional services administered by the department and the county jails with the goal of establishing a unified corrections system.

PROGRAM:

The program activities of the department are discussed in the individual reports of its program components except for the following:

JAIL INSPECTIONS - the department has the statutory responsibility to establish, inspect and enforce standards for county jails, municipal holding facilities, juvenile detention areas, correctional community residential and electronic monitoring. These standards are based on established and emerging professional practices and case law requirements. Additionally the department provides technical assistance to all entities in establishing and maintaining compliance programs.

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SERVICES - the department is expanding its information management system for adult and juvenile offenders. Corrections Information System (CORIS) is a fully integrated, web based offender information system built from the ground up using Microsoft.NET technology. The result is an industry leading, enterprise class system that, being fully scalable, effectively supports the needs of all state correctional functions. CORIS also supports case management, offender financial management, restitution collection and central office information reports. The department has implemented a customized Inmate Phone System which is integrated with CORIS. The phone system uses Voice over Internet Protocol, voice recognition, CORIS's inmate trust accounts and the telecommunication industry's new prepaid flat rates.

PURPOSE:

The primary purpose of the Charleston Correctional Facility is to provide public safety through effective security operations and programming aimed at reducing the likelihood that offenders will re-offend when in the community through evidenced-based practices. All prisoners housed at the Charleston Correctional Facility are classified as minimum or community based security. The prisoners participate in education, treatment and vocational programs in addition to industries programs and work release.

ORGANIZATION:

The Charleston Correctional Facility is located on the site of the former Charleston Air Force Radar Station in Charleston, Maine. The facility opened under the administrative control of the Maine Correctional Center in 1980. In 1985, the facility assumed primary responsibility for its own development and operation. During 2001, the facility was downsized through a major restructuring of the Maine Department of Corrections. This brought the facility under the administrative oversight of the Chief Administrative Officer of Mountain View Youth Development Center including all support services for fiscal, business, human resources, food service, maintenance, warehouse and supply. The Charleston Correctional Facility received American Correctional Association accreditation in January of 2007. The facility expanded in July 2007, opening another dormitory and taking on another 50 prisoners.

PROGRAM:

The Charleston Correctional Facility currently houses approximately 145 male prisoners. Prisoners are received from higher security level institutions, such as the Maine State Prison in Warren, the Maine Correctional Center in Windham and the Downeast Correctional Facility in Bucks Harbor. A comprehensive classification process reviews the prisoner's need for rehabilitative services such as educational and vocational training, psychological and substance abuse treatment. An educational learning center and library is located on facility grounds. Instruction is offered in GED preparation and testing, adult basic education, and basic computer skills. Substance abuse services are provided at an intensive level through the Differential Substance Abuse Treatment program known as DSAT. The facility has started a cognitive skills based program called Thinking for a Change which teaches prisoners new skills to deal with daily challenges. Parenting skills, life skills, and employment skills training are also available through collaboration with other community agencies. Vocational programs and industries programs are provided in wood harvesting and small saw mill operation.

Finished lumber is sold to other correctional and state agencies in addition to being utilized in our industry program to manufacture fine furniture, woodcrafts, prefab shelters, and construction products. This program is accomplished through a cooperative agreement with the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. The cooperative agreement allows the Charleston Correctional Facility wood harvesting program to provide land management services to over 7,000 acres in the Bud Leavitt Wildlife Management Area that abuts the facility property. During Fiscal Year 2009-2010 the wood harvesting program produced hundreds of cords of fuel wood and slab wood for the facility's boiler plant to supplement the use of oil in order to provide heat and hot water for the entire facility. This has saved the facility considerable funds annually by reducing fuel oil costs. In addition, the industry program produced approximately 300,000 board feet of lumber.

The Charleston Correctional Facility's total progressive corrections program has a very strong public restitution element providing public restitution to communities, non-profit agencies and state agencies including the Maine Department of Transportation. Last year close to 26,000 hours were expended on community restitution projects. There are over a dozen prisoners trained and ready to be utilized to fight forest fires and several prisoners that have earned that privilege are offered an opportunity to enter the facility's unique work release program. Prisoners in the program are required to contribute to their living expenses, provide family support, pay victim restitution, pay unpaid fines and save money to utilize upon their release.

PURPOSE:

It is the mission of the Maine Correctional Center to improve public safety by decreasing the recidivism of both male and female prisoners by providing opportunities for correctional rehabilitation within a supervised and secure setting, while assuring the safety of the public, the staff, and the prisoners. While striving to complete this mission, the Maine Correctional Center recognizes the indispensable and valuable contributions of its security, program, and support staff and is committed to the ongoing development of a professional and skilled work force.

This mission is accomplished through the Maine Correctional Center's responsibility as the Department of Corrections' (DOC) primary reception center, and the utilization of professional correctional practices, objective risk assessment and research-based rehabilitation programs, which have been proven to reduce the likelihood that an offender will re-offend. Within this mission, the Maine Correctional Center recognizes its responsibility to educate prisoners as to the harm criminal conduct causes to the victim and to the community and to provide prisoners with opportunities to repay the community through participation in public service work and restitution.

Throughout their Maine Correctional Center commitment, prisoners are expected to accept increasing levels of personal responsibility for their conduct and for successful participation in rehabilitative programs. Acceptance of responsibility for their own behavior, for their family, and for their actions in the community is the basis of the Maine Correctional Center's mission. Maine Correctional Center is designated as a minimum, medium security institution with a maximum security capability for short duration confinement. The Women's Center is a separate, comprehensive housing and programming unit.

ORGANIZATION:

The Multi-Purpose Unit (MPU) is a high custody correctional setting, which provides Reception and Orientation, Administrative Segregation, Disciplinary Segregation and Protective Custody for both male and female prisoners. In addition, it holds a limited number of prisoners awaiting trial in the Federal court. Unit One is primarily a medium custody housing area and includes the department's forty (40) bed Correctional Recovery Academy (CRA) which provides intensive residential substance abuse treatment and the Department of Corrections' RULE program, a 60 bed residential program for the treatment of sexual offenders. Unit Two is primarily a minimum custody housing area. Programs in Unit Two include public service work crews and a transition skills re-entry program for men. Unit Three is the Women's Center, which is a separate comprehensive housing and programming unit for females. It includes industries, education and substance abuse treatment. The Maine Correctional Center in Windham received re-accreditation in January 2009 by the American Correctional Association. The facility is expected to go through its recertification audit in October of 2011.

PROGRAM:

The Maine Correctional Center is the primary reception center for the DOC. Prisoners with sentences of five (5) years or less, and all female prisoners, enter the department through the Maine Correctional Center. At the completion of the intake and orientation process, prisoners may be placed in a unit at Maine Correctional Center or transferred to another facility.

Programs for prisoners confined at the Maine Correctional Center focus on teaching appropriate conduct, personal responsibility, and work skills. The center has specialized programs to assist prisoners re-entering the community. Prisoners work various jobs within the institution which include kitchen, laundry, grounds maintenance and landscaping. Public restitution crews work in the community under the supervision of correctional trades instructors completing public service projects. Industry programs in upholstery, wood construction and garments provide basic work skills. Education programs include General Educational Development (GED) preparation and testing. Vocational training offers graphic arts and computer repair. Medical, mental health and psychiatry services are available to all prisoners through a contract with Correctional Medical Services (CMS). Prisoners are assigned to a unit team which monitors prisoner adjustment to case management and transition/release planning. The substance abuse programs for both men and women are provided through a partnership with the State Office of Substance Abuse.

The Women's Center is designed as a secure correctional community with focus on personal development, trauma recovery, substance abuse treatment and community re-entry. Through these programs the Maine Correctional Center strives toward its mission to improve community safety by teaching personal responsibility, involving prisoners in rehabilitation programs and lowering recidivism.

PURPOSE:

The Downeast Correctional Facility was established by the Legislature in September 1984 for the confinement and rehabilitation of persons who have been duly sentenced and committed to the Department of Corrections.

ORGANIZATION:

Funds were appropriated to purchase and renovate the former Bucks Harbor Air Force Station into a fully operational medium security correctional facility. The facility is a medium/minimum security institution with an average prisoner population of 143 to 150.

PROGRAM:

Programs offered at Downeast Correctional Facility consist of educational, industry, treatment, and community restitution.

The educational programs offered at Downeast Correctional Facility are academic and vocational based. The academic programs are geared toward high school equivalency (GED) and courses emphasizing everyday life skills. A NovaNet system allows prisoners to enroll in courses ranging from grade school level up to and including college level via a closed circuit of the Intranet.

The vocational programs offer training in the following career fields: upholstery, welding, automotive repair/restoration and building trades. Each career field is staffed with an instructor who oversees the program and its participants.

In July 2001 a garment industry program was initiated at Downeast Correctional Facility wherein denim jeans and jackets are manufactured by the facility's prisoners. The jeans and jackets manufactured at Downeast Correctional Facility furnish the entire Maine Department of Corrections' adult prisoner population.

The treatment programs offered at Downeast Correctional Facility focus primarily on mental health issues and substance abuse. These programs are directed and monitored by the facility's medical, caseworker, and psychological support staff.

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

The Community Restitution Program at Downeast Correctional Facility provides assistance to other state agencies, local municipalities and non-profit organizations. The program is a unique tool which benefits the prisoners, the agencies receiving the services and the Department of Corrections. The prisoners receive rehabilitative and therapeutic benefits as well as basic work habits and skills, the agencies and communities reap financial savings as does the Department of Corrections through reduced incarceration rates and improved prisoner behavior. The Community Restitution Program enables the Department of Corrections and prisoners to give back to the State and in the case of Downeast Correctional Facility, give back to the agencies, communities and people of Washington County. The Program allows agencies to use fewer financial resources maintaining their facilities thereby allowing them to channel more resources towards pursuing their organizational goals. Some restitution work is performed within the confines of the correctional facility while a select group of prisoners work in the community under constant security supervision.

The Classification and Caseworker Committee has a direct impact on each prisoner. The Committee's primary focus is to orientate new prisoners with the facility and provide social services, guidance and counseling for each prisoner. The Committee develops specific case plans which establish goals and recommendations based on the needs assessment of each prisoner. The case plans allow the prisoners to take advantage of the facility's programs and services. The Committee also works with the prisoner, their family, community corrections and outside agencies in establishing transition and reentry planning and implementation.

The Juvenile Justice Advisory Group (JJAG) was created in response to the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974, as amended (the Act). The Act creates a voluntary partnership between states and the federal government for the purpose of improving the administration of juvenile justice. In return for an annual formula grant, based on the state's juvenile population, each state undertakes to meet four congressionally defined standards ("Core Requirements") for the management of juvenile offenders. These core requirements relate to; 1) the handling of status offenders; 2) the separation of juvenile from adult prisoners; 3) the detention of juveniles in places other than adult jails; and 4) the protection of minority youth from discrimination in the juvenile justice system. Maine has participated in the Act since its inception.

The JJAG operates as the supervisory board for all planning, administrative, and funding functions under the Act.

ORGANIZATION:

The JJAG was first established as a committee of the Maine Criminal Justice Planning and Assistance Agency. It was formalized by Executive Order 4FY80 on October 5, 1979, and authorized by statute in 1984 (34-A M.R.S.A., Section 1209). Since July 1, 1982, the Department of Corrections (DOC) has acted as the JJAG's administrative and fiscal agent.

As provided by the Act, the JJAG consists of not less than 15 and not more than 33 representatives of various constituencies concerned with juvenile justice and related areas, including: units of local government; public agencies responsible for law enforcement, juvenile justice, corrections, probation, and the juvenile courts, and those responsible for delinquency prevention or treatment, including welfare, social services, mental health, education, and youth services; private organizations concerned with delinquency prevention or treatment, neglected or dependent children, and the quality of juvenile justice, education, and social services for children, public and private agencies that utilize volunteers to work with delinquents or potential delinquents; businesses and business groups employing youth; and persons with special experience and competency in addressing the problem of school violence, vandalism, and learning disabilities.

Neither a majority of members, nor the chairman, may be full-time employees of a governmental entity. At least one fifth of the members must be under the age of 24 at the time of appointment, and at least three members must have been or currently be under the jurisdiction of the juvenile justice system.

PROGRAM:

The JJAG and its committees advocate for youth through recommendations for legislative and policy reform, monitor state compliance with federal requirements, and provide technical assistance to jurisdictions needing support for compliance or program development efforts.

The federal allocation for Maine Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Program for federal fiscal year 2010 was $600,000. Up to 10% of the award is available for planning and program administration, determined by need and available state matching funds, and $30,000 is allocated for the activities of the JJAG. The remainder of the formula grant is allocated to a variety of programs to support improvement of the juvenile justice system. In accordance with their three-year plan, JJAG will support prevention and early intervention programs designed to keep at-risk youth out of the juvenile justice system, develop a comprehensive strategy to address delinquency among Native American youth, and monitor and provide technical assistance for, jails to maintain compliance with the Federal JJDP Act.

The JJAG further supports community prevention efforts with the pass-through of federal funds from the Title V Local Delinquency Prevention Program. The FY 2010 allocation of will be distributed by a competitive process with eligibility restricted to general units of local government.

The Juvenile Accountability Block Grant is administered by the JJAG. The Juvenile Accountability Block Grants (JABG) program is administered by the State Relations and Assistance Division of the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice. Through the JABG program, funds are provided as block grants to states for programs promoting greater accountability in the juvenile justice system. Maine supports community-based diversion programs, with the $371,800 award.

PURPOSE:

Juvenile Community Corrections was established to provide effective supervision to youth under its jurisdiction who are residing in the community. Using a risk reduction case management model, staff assess risk domains and strengths presented by juveniles, develop case plans, access and advocate for appropriate resources to implement case plans, collaborate with other State agencies and public and private providers to ensure that appropriate interventions are provided, and monitor progress of the case plan. This approach targets dynamic risk factors that lead to continued criminal behavior, provides and directs appropriate interventions that will mitigate those risk factors, which ultimately assists the juvenile to remain crime free. Concurrently, the Juvenile Community Corrections Officers (JCCO) will divert youth from the correctional system, supervise those on probation or aftercare status, and manage those youth detained or incarcerated to protect public safety. Juvenile Community Corrections is also responsible for the administration of the Interstate Compact for Juveniles.

ORGANIZATION:

Three regional offices provide services to juveniles across the state. A Regional Correctional Administrator, who reports directly to the Associate Commissioner for Juvenile Services, administers each region. JCCOs accept referrals from law enforcement officers and supervise and case manage juvenile offenders in the community. Regional Supervisors provide case management consultation and direct supervision to JCCOs and assist them to find appropriate resources for juveniles on their caseloads. Two Contract Managers assure that all contracted services are provided in a manner consistent with the assessed needs of juvenile offenders. Outcome performance measures are incorporated into all contracts to ensure program effectiveness. Support staff assists in the overall management of the regional offices.

PROGRAM:

Regional offices receive referrals from law enforcement officers for detention decisions or to screen for possible diversion. The JCCOs, based on specified criteria, determine whether juveniles should be detained pending a court hearing. They also decide whether a youth can be safely diverted from the correctional system. In the latter case, youth are dealt with informally through a contract specifying conditions to which the youth and his/her family agree to comply in lieu of going to court. Using an evidence-based risk management and risk focused intervention approach, the JCCO's supervise and case manage youth placed on probation or on aftercare from one of the juvenile facilities. JCCOs also serve as the primary case managers for juveniles

PURPOSE:

The Long Creek Youth Development Center was established to rehabilitate clients committed to the Center as juvenile offenders so that they eventually return to the community as more responsible, productive, law-abiding citizens. The Center is responsible for the rehabilitation of juvenile offenders committed by Maine courts, applying the disciplines of education, casework, group work, psychology, psychiatry, medicine, nursing, vocational training, and religion, as they relate to human relations and personality development. Boys and girls between the ages of eleven and eighteen may be committed to the Center for the term of their minority, or, in some cases, until their 21st birthdays. The Superintendent acts as a guardian to all children committed and may place any such child on aftercare with any suitable person or persons or public or private child care agency. The Long Creek Youth Development Center is also required by law to detain juveniles pending their court appearances.

ORGANIZATION:

Long Creek Youth Development Center in South Portland was established in 1853 as the State Reform School, administered by a Board of Trustees. It was renamed State School for Boys in 1903. The Board of Trustees was abolished in 1911, and its duties were assumed by the Trustees of Juvenile Institutions. In 1931, the State School for Boys was placed under the Department of Health and Welfare and, in 1939, transferred to the Department of Institutional Services, which later (1959) became the Department of Mental Health and Corrections. In 1981, The Department of Corrections was established. In 1959, the School was renamed the Boys Training Center. In 1976, when the Stevens School for Girls closed and the girls were transferred to the Boys Training Center, the 107th Maine State Legislature, in special session, established the Maine Youth Center as the only coeducational institution for juvenile offenders. On July 1, 2001 the Maine Youth Center changed its name to Long Creek Youth Development Center.

PROGRAM:

Long Creek Youth Development Center functions as the correctional facility for the juveniles from the southern part of the state. The purpose of the center is to provide for the detention, diagnostic evaluation and confinement of juvenile offenders. In addition, the center promotes public safety by ensuring that juvenile offenders are provided with education, treatment, and other services that teach skills and competencies; strengthen pro-social behaviors and require accountability to victims and communities.

PURPOSE:

The purposes of the Mountain View Youth Development Center are:

1. Detention. To detain juveniles prior to juvenile court appearances when a court orders that juveniles are to be securely detained;
2. Diagnostic evaluation. To administer court-ordered diagnostic evaluations pursuant to Title 15, section 3309-A and court-ordered examinations pursuant to Title 15, section 3318; and
3. Confinement. To confine juveniles ordered detained pursuant to Title 15, section 3314, subsection 1, paragraph F and H.

ORGANIZATION:

The Mountain View Youth Development Center in Charleston was established to provide juvenile correctional services for the fourteen Northern and Central counties of Aroostook, Franklin, Androscoggin, Oxford, Lincoln, Sagadahoc, Kennebec, Knox, Penobscot, Piscataquis, Somerset, Waldo, Hancock and Washington.

Formerly known as The Northern Maine Juvenile Detention Facility, the programs, services and physical plant were expanded and reorganized into the current Mountain View Youth Development Center in 2002.

The Center provides services to both a short term detention population as well as longer term committed youth. Detention services include short term secure detention, pending court disposition of youth accused of committing juvenile crimes and is placement for juveniles sentenced to brief periods of incarceration of less than 30 days, known as "Shock Sentences" or periods of less than seven days "Drug Court Sanction". Residents sentenced to indeterminate periods of confinement or committed to the Department of Corrections are also served by the facility.

The Mountain View Youth Development Center achieved national accreditation from the American Correctional Association (ACA) in May 2006. The facility received its ACA Re-Accreditation in 2009 with a score of 100%.

PROGRAM:

The facility offers numerous programs and services to provide all residents the opportunity to change inappropriate behaviors, attitudes and beliefs into those that are socially acceptable. These services focus on providing the youth with attainable skills and competencies that are effective and demonstrable. The primary method of achieving these changes is cognitive, behaviorally based and individualized to meet the specific needs of all youth and reduce targeted high risk behaviors.

A full array of mental health and substance abuse services, which include evaluation, diagnostics, appropriate counseling and therapy are available through licensed practitioners using individual and group processes. Other services provided include volunteer and religious services, leisure recreation and full medical and dental.

The facility provides all educational services including special education programs within the guidelines of the "Maine Learning Results" in a unique alternative, experiential approach through the facility's approved school. The educational programs encourage individual success for residents to become life long learners. Available services range from GED preparation to college entry and college classes.

In August of 2007, the facility was recognized by the Council for Juvenile Correctional Administrators (CJCA) and the Performance-based Standards Learning Institute (PbS Li) as one of the top three facilities in the country earning the Barbara Allen-Hagen Award for outstanding and exemplary work in ensuring safety for youths and staff, holding youths accountable and providing effective rehabilitation services that prevent future crime.

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

PURPOSE:

The State Parole Board was established to evaluate and adjudicate applications for parole as well as to provide oversight and management of offenders already admitted to parole. The two primary responsibilities of the Board were to determine the eligibility for access to parole or to sanction parolees when warranted due to rule violations. The Board also determined the time of discharge of parolees from parole supervision, formulated policies, adopted regulations and established procedures.

ORGANIZATION:

The State Parole Board, created in 1931 under the name of Parole Board, originally consisted of three members: the Commissioner of Health and Welfare and any two members of the Executive Council designated by the Governor. From 1931 to 1939, the Board was under the Department of Health and Welfare, and from 1939 to 1957 under the Department of Institutional Service. In 1957, the Parole Board's duties were assumed by the State Probation and Parole Board. In 1967, a Division of Probation and Parole was created within the Bureau of Corrections to administer probation and parole services in conjunction with the Board's parole duties. The Board was re-designated State Parole Board in 1971, to consist of five members appointed by the Governor, for terms of four years. In 1976 the State of Maine abolished Parole though the Board continues to serve in a limited capacity providing services to offenders placed on parole prior to its 1976 abolition.

In January 1984, the Board began to hear entrustment revocation proceedings for those juveniles alleged to have violated their conditions of release on entrustment from the state's juvenile correctional institutions. As of September 1990, the Board is no longer responsible for hearing juvenile entrustment revocation hearings. The Board elects its own chairman and meets at least bi-monthly. It may meet as often as necessary.

PROGRAM:

The State Parole Board hears cases at the Maine State Prison for those offenders who were sentenced prior to May 1976 (the abolition date for parole in Maine) to determine if or when inmates should be released on parole. If parolees have been accused of violating the terms of their parole, the Board sits as an adjudicatory body to determine if a violation has occurred and if they find that a violation has in fact occurred, they impose sanctions as they see fit.

PURPOSE:

The State Prison was established to confine convicted offenders and to provide correctional treatment and rehabilitation programs designed to prepare such offenders for eventual release. The institution is responsible for the custody, control, employment and government, as provided by law, of adult male offenders lawfully committed to the prison.

ORGANIZATION:

The State Prison at Thomaston was opened officially in July of 1824, to serve as a penitentiary where convicts were sentenced to hard labor for life or for any term one year or longer. The prison has always been a maximum security facility for adult felons. Women were sentenced to the institution until 1935 when they were transferred to the Women's Correctional Center in Skowhegan. The prison was plagued by fires in 1837, 1841, 1851, 1873 and 1923. Renovations and additions took place throughout the years and in 1992 high risk prisoners were transferred from Thomaston to a new maximum security facility in Warren known as Maine Correctional Institution (MCI). It was built to house male prisoners who posed the highest risk to the public, staff, other prisoners, and the security and orderly management of the department's facilities. An increasing population and an antiquated prison resulted in the construction of a new facility in Warren, adjoined to MCI. On February 13, 2002 prisoners were transferred to the new prison and the former Thomaston facility was demolished in June 2002. Only a section of the wall remains at the site beside the prison cemetery.

The new facility was built to house 916 prisoners. It also houses a 6 bed infirmary for the adult population. In 2008, the first female prisoner from Maine Correctional Center was transferred to receive infirmary level medical care. Additionally, 200 minimum security prisoners are housed at the Bolduc Correctional Facility (BCF) in South Warren. In 1978 the official name of the minimum security unit became the Ronald P. Bolduc Unit in honor of Ronald P. Bolduc the first Director. The former barracks now serves as the Bolduc Correctional Facility. Prior to 1970 a fire destroyed the working farm at BCF which had previously supported the prison with beef, dairy and produce.

The prison is organized under the philosophy of unit management and direct supervision. It was designed to separate prisoners into three separate housing units: Special Management, Close and Medium, each with their own housing pods. The units operate semi-autonomously under the authority and guidance of the Warden. Staff are trained in the concepts of unit management which improves control and relationships by dividing a large population into smaller, more manageable groups. The Bolduc Correctional Facility also operates under the same philosophy.

PROGRAM:

A 32 bed Mental Health Unit operates in the Special Management Unit. Mental Health Services assure assessment and treatment planning for all prisoners with major mental health illnesses or behavioral disorders. Treatment may include medication management, supportive counseling, cognitive-behavioral psychotherapy, group therapy and discharge planning. Mental Health Workers collaborate with security and medical personnel, as well as community agencies to provide consistency and continuity of patient-prisoner care and treatment. Substance abuse services are provided by licensed alcohol and drug counselors. Services include the DSAT (Differential Substance Abuse Treatment), education programs and Alcoholics Anonymous (AA). Case management services are provided to all prisoners. Staff develop an Individual Case Plan and monitor compliance. They also act as advocates and serve on their unit's multi-disciplinary Unit

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

Team. For prisoners nearing release, the workers focus on community resources and re-entry programs. They frequently play a role in defusing potentially disruptive situations and provide a more stable environment.

Educational programs at the prison include literacy and remedial reading with individual instruction. General Educational Development (GED) or High School diplomas are offered through the prison teachers and a "live" college program through a grant. Instructional Television (ITV) college courses are also available through the University of Maine at Augusta Thomaston Center. Typing, computer, music, literature, writing, art, horticulture, a Long Distance Dad's program and languages provide additional choices. Religious services are provided by ordained clergy who support a varied faith group base. In addition, recreational programs available to all prisoners include basketball, softball, soccer, pool and physical fitness.

Industrial programs offer a variety of paying jobs which include wood working, upholstery, plate shop, machine shop and a prison showroom. These programs are designed to establish meaningful work programs for prisoners and to help reduce the financial burden of correctional programming to the general public.

Bolduc Correctional Facility supports a variety of programs and services similar to the prison. The Education Department offers GED or High School Diploma preparation work, college programs, literacy services through Literacy Volunteers of America (LVA) and tutors, New Books, New Readers program and life skills programs. Library services, recreation and legal research opportunities are also available to the population. Vocational education programs such as auto body, auto mechanics, electrical, plumbing, building trades and culinary arts are offered. Participants can learn a trade and develop marketable skills to earn a livable wage. In addition, a cooperative work arrangement with the Department of Transportation and selected prisoners work on DOT community projects. Community restitution is also supported and plays a major role in giving back to the community. The farm program continues to provide potatoes and in season fresh produce for the prison, other facilities and offers surplus to community food banks.

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

PURPOSE:

The Division of Adult Community Services (formerly the Division of Adult Community Corrections though more commonly referred to as Probation and Parole) was established to provide community based supervision and related services to convicted offenders sentenced to probation or parole. The Division's primary role is to motivate a change in the probationer's behavior in order to lessen the likelihood of the probationer to re-offend. The enhancement of public safety is achieved through the reduction of victimization. Over the years the role of the probation officer has changed dramatically. Thus while monitoring and supervision are still important activities performed by probation officers, they are also actively involved in risk and needs assessment, interventions, case management, treatment and program referrals, etc. Traditional duties such as pardons and commutation investigations for the Governor's office, pre-sentence investigations for the courts, and post-sentence and other investigations for the state's correctional institutions remain a part of their assignment.

In addition, activities such as sex offender registration, restitution/fine collection, DNA and substance abuse testing, data collection, community notification and supervision of adult probationers under the interstate compact are also some of the newer duties that have had to be assumed by probation officers as new laws and court cases impact their duties and responsibilities. The demands on probation officers continue to escalate and therefore the need for ongoing training has never been greater in the history of this Division.

ORGANIZATION:

When the Division of Probation and Parole was created in 1967 it included adult and juvenile offenders. In 1976 Parole was abolished in the State of Maine and the only available post-release supervision was probation ordered by the Courts (that said the State of Maine still maintains a parole supervision function for offenders sentenced to parole before 1976 and more importantly for all offenders on parole who come to Maine through the Interstate Compact for Adult Offender Supervision). In 1984 the juvenile intake function was developed and incorporated as part of the Division's mission. In 1986 an Intensive Supervision statute was passed and in 1991 the Supervised Community Confinement Program was created through a legislative initiative. Both these programs were directed at providing responsible alternatives to incarceration.

In 1996 the Division was reorganized and all adult services were consolidated into the newly formed Division of Adult Community Corrections headed by a newly authorized Associate Commissioner. At the same time juvenile services were similarly reorganized. Adult Community Corrections consists of 4 regional offices, 20 sub offices and numerous reporting sites. Each regional office is administered by a Regional Correctional Administrator (RCA), and more recently with the assistance of an Assistant RCA. In addition to regular Probation Officers, there are other specialty officers known as Supervised Community Confinement Officers, Sex Offender Specialists and Domestic Violence Specialists.

PROGRAM:

The Division of Adult Community Services is dedicated to balancing the needs of public safety, victim and community restoration, offender accountability and using effective approaches to reduce re-offending and enhance effective reintegration into communities. MAINE EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY

MILITARY BUREAU
BUREAU OF MAINE VETERANS' SERVICES

PURPOSE:

The Department of Defense, Veterans and Emergency Management is responsible for all military, veterans and emergency management related operations within the State of Maine. National Guard personnel and units have recently transitioned from a strategic to an operational force mobilizing in support of Operations Iraqi and Enduring Freedom. Our Soldiers and Airmen are also readily available to respond to the Governor during emergencies or disasters in Maine. The Bureau of Veterans' Services provides numerous support services to Maine's 154,000 veterans and manages Maine's Veterans' Memorial Cemeteries. The Maine Emergency Management Association is charged with all disaster mitigation, preparedness, response, recovery and Homeland Security operations within the State of Maine.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Defense, Veterans and Emergency Management was created by legislation in 1972 under the original name of Department of Military, Civil Defense and Veterans Services. In this legislation, the administrative offices of the Adjutant General became the Military Bureau; the former Civil Defense and Public Safety Agency became the Bureau of Civil Defense; and the former Department of Veterans Services became the Bureau of Veterans Services; with the Adjutant General designated as both Commissioner of the new department and Director of the Military Bureau.

Effective in June 1974, the 106th Legislature revised the law to direct the appointment of the Deputy Adjutant General as Director of the Military Bureau, thus freeing the Adjutant General to function solely as Commissioner of the Department. This revision also renamed the Bureau of Civil Defense as the Bureau of Civil Emergency Preparedness. Subsequently the Department was re-designated as the Department of Defense and Veterans Services.

During the 113th Legislature the Bureau of Civil Emergency Preparedness was renamed the Maine Emergency Management Agency (MEMA). At the direction of the 115th Legislature, the Bureau of Veterans Services was changed to the Division of Veterans Services. In 1995 the 117th Legislature added the requirement that the Adjutant General/Commissioner's appointment be subject to Legislative confirmation. In 1997 the 118th Legislature re-designated the department as the Department of Defense, Veterans and Emergency Management, re-designated the Division of Veterans' Services as the Bureau of Maine Veterans Services and designated its leader as the Bureau Director. In October 2001, the Department was assigned responsibility for coordinating the homeland security activities of the State, to include interface in such matters with federal, county, and local government. The Commissioner was assigned the additional duty of directing these activities.

PROGRAM:

The programs of the Department of Defense, Veterans and Emergency Management are outlined in the reports of its operating units.

PURPOSE:

The Administrative Services Division provides for centralized control in planning, data processing, budgeting, accounting, purchasing authorization, auditing, personnel management, affirmative action, training, and other administrative resources necessary to the general operations of the Department's various major programs and activities.

ORGANIZATION:

The Administrative Services Division originated from a nucleus of the Adjutant General's Department in 1973 as a result of the reorganization and consolidation of State Agencies. Part of this action included the Bureaus of Veterans Services and Civil Defense.

PROGRAM:

Bureau/Agency Directors and Program Managers assist the Commissioner in the various daily operations of the department including the following tasks: developing biennial budget requests, annual work programs, and preparing financial and budget orders; initiating purchase requisitions/orders when appropriate; processing invoice and contract payments; participating in workers' compensation activities; billing for federal service contracts, and other funds due the State; maintaining revenue/expenditure ledgers, accounts receivable, and real property/capital equipment inventory control records; processing personnel actions, including labor related activities; maintaining Bureau/Agency personnel and time records; providing training and orientation sessions for supervisory personnel and new employees; conducting internal audit reviews and providing other administrative services as required.

Additionally, staff members offer a centrally coordinated information base to Program Managers to assist them in their daily operational decision-making process thereby enhancing management effectiveness through a much higher degree of control by those delegated that responsibility.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) statutory mission is "to lessen the effects of disaster on the lives and property of the people of the State through leadership, coordination and support, in the four phases of emergency management: mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery." This Agency coordinates the mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery from disasters or catastrophes, such as forest fire, flood, earthquake, nuclear power accident, or hurricane. It also provides guidance and assistance to county and local governments in their efforts to provide protection to citizens and property. Since 2001, the Agency has been the focal point for the implementation of programs regarding Homeland Security, integrating these programs into its all-hazard mission.

The Agency uses planning, training, exercising and public education to accomplish this mission. A five step planning process developed by the National Governor's Conference has been adopted: 1) hazards are identified; 2) mitigation actions are considered; 3) capabilities are identified; 4) procedures are developed to meet the threat; and 5) resources are identified to aid in preparedness, response and recovery. The Agency's commitment is to develop a comprehensive emergency management plan containing guidelines flexible enough to address the unforeseen, as well as the identified hazards. Emergency plans and all other related activities are coordinated to the maximum extent possible with other departments of the State, Federal agencies, county and local governments, as well as neighboring states and Canada.

ORGANIZATION:

MEMA was originally established under the Maine Civil Defense and Public Safety Act of 1949, which authorizes the Governor to establish, within the Executive Department, a Civil Defense and Public Safety Agency. A 1972 amendment, re-titled the Maine Civil Defense Act, caused the agency to be re-designated as the Bureau of Civil Defense within the Department of Military. In 1974 the Department of Military was re-designated as the Department of Defense and Veterans Services and the bureau name changed to the Bureau of Civil Emergency Preparedness. Public Law, Ch. 370, signed by the Governor on June 19, 1987, re-designated the Bureau of Civil Emergency Preparedness as the Maine Emergency Management Agency effective September 29, 1987.

The Emergency Management Assistance Compact was enacted in 1998 and provides for and facilitates the use of mutual aid between states to cope with a disaster regardless of cause. The Governor, through Executive Order, created the State Emergency Response Commission in April of 1987 to coordinate the state government's role in carrying out Maine's planning and preparedness responsibilities for hazardous materials in compliance with Title III of the Federal Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986, Emergency Planning and Community Right-To-Know. The Maine Emergency Management Agency carries out the planning and preparedness activities for the Commission.

The Agency coordinates state government operations with county and local governments for emergencies resulting from natural disaster, technological hazards or national security incidents. During an emergency, the Agency's effectiveness is dependent upon representatives from numerous state agencies staffing the State Emergency Operations Center. In addition, the Agency relies upon the county and local organizations throughout the state which are comprised of paid and volunteer personnel.

PROGRAM:

In one form or another, the Federal Government has been granting money to the states for civil emergency preparedness (emergency management) for more than 30 years. The Emergency Management Performance Grant (EMPG) has been the instrument of FEMA/State Agreement since 1998.

The Agency receives funding from FEMA for administration and administrative services. In addition, the Agency distributes EMPG funds to 16 counties to reimburse 50% of the daily operating costs of their emergency management agencies. In addition to EMPG funding, the Agency also distributes the following grants; State Homeland Security Grants, Citizen Corps for Citizen Emergency Response Team training (CERT), Operation Stone Garden grants for border protection and Interoperable Emergency Communications Grant Program funds.

PURPOSE:

The Military Bureau provides the Army and Air National Guard with units organized, equipped, and trained to function efficiently at authorized federal strength. Units muster on order of the Governor to perform disaster relief, control of civil disturbance or provide other support to civil authority as required. In the event of war or other national emergency, designated National

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE, VETERANS AND EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Guard personnel will report for federal service on call of the President of the United States. Should the National Guard be federalized and moved out of State, other forces may be organized under the law (M.R.S.A., Title 37-B, Chapter 3), to be known as the Maine State Guard.

The Military Bureau was created in July, 1972, under State Government reorganization legislation. It previously had been the Office of the Adjutant General, established in 1921 by the Maine Constitution. In the reorganization, the Governor, as Commander in Chief of the Maine militia, appointed the Adjutant General as administrative head of the Department of Military, Civil Defense and Veterans Services and as Director of the Military Bureau. The law has been revised several times to more appropriately reflect and meet the needs and actual functions of the Department. The most recent revisions have eliminated the requirement that the Director of the Military Bureau be the Deputy Adjutant General and changed Civil Defense to the Maine Emergency Management Agency (MEMA).

ORGANIZATION:

The Military Bureau's two components, the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard, both report to the Adjutant General. The Maine National Guard, as a professional military institution, performs a dual role. One role supports our State, and the other supports our Nation. In support of our State, the Maine National Guard provides the people of Maine with a highly skilled and disciplined military force. These soldiers and airmen, when called upon by the Governor, assist other State agencies during times of floods, hurricanes, forest fires, snow emergencies, and other civic needs. In its other role, the Maine National Guard acts as a supplement to the active military. In this capacity, units of the Maine National Guard can be called to Active Duty by the President of the United States in support of our national security.

PROGRAM:

The Maine Army National Guard's authorized strength is 2,125 soldiers. These soldiers are trained in a wide range of skills, including carpentry, plumbing, electrical, maintenance, medical, heavy equipment operations, aviation, military police and combat arms.

The Directorate of Facilities Engineering under the Military Bureau is responsible for operating, constructing, maintaining, and repairing over 200 Maine Army National Guard facilities to include Armories, Field Maintenance Shops, Barracks, Dining Halls, Billets, Hangars, an Army Aviation Support Facility, Armed Forces Reserve Centers, Warehouses, Storage and Administrative buildings statewide. The Directorate is also responsible to ensure that 8 Training Centers are maintained to support troop training and to ensure all environmental impacts and safety requirements are properly managed.

The Maine Air National Guard's authorized strength is 1,129 airmen who are combat ready to serve in Federal missions of Air Refueling, Combat Communications and Engineering Installations. The 101st Air Refueling Wing is composed of 15 units including Groups, Squadrons and Flights and when called to active duty reports to the Air Mobility Command. The Wing provides world-wide air refueling in support of all major commands of the United States Air Force, United States Navy, United States Marines, Air Force Reserve, Air National Guard and all NATO countries. The 243rd Engineering Installation Squadron and the 265th Combat Communications Squadron train for mobility. The 243rd EIS and the 265th CBCS when called to active duty report to Air Force Space Command. Their high state of readiness enables them to deploy in support of the Department of Defense worldwide. The Air Guard deployed over 418 personnel worldwide; maintained three alert aircraft and crews 24 hours a day, seven days a week; and processed more jet fuel than any other Air Guard base in the country this past year.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Maine Veterans' Services provides support services to Maine's 150,000 veterans and their dependents. These programs include, but are not limited to, housing, medical and hospital care, educational aid and compensation, vocational rehabilitation, burials and nursing homes. The seven regional offices located throughout the State provide support to veterans statewide in addition to supplementing the USDVA claims offices at Togus and Vet Centers at Lewiston and Springvale. The Bureau's regional offices also provide support to bedridden veterans. The State Claims Office, located at Togus, administers the claims support and appeals advocate program.

The Central Office, located at Camp Keyes in Augusta, administers the Financial Aid program for needy veterans, awards educational benefits to dependents of totally disabled veterans, maintains records of military service, and provides for the burial and perpetual care of eligible veterans and their dependents at the Maine Veterans Memorial Cemetery, and issues certificates of eligibility for Veterans' Small Business Loans. The Maine Veterans Memorial Cemetery System serves veterans throughout Maine with two cemeteries in Augusta and one in Caribou.

Additionally, the Director sits on the Board of Trustees for the Maine Veterans Homes and serves as the primary public advocate for Maine veterans.

ORGANIZATION:

After the Civil War, service to veterans was provided through specific acts or laws. The earliest coordinated service to veterans was the Soldiers Board of 1919. Maine Veterans' Services was created by Council Order in 1945 as The Division of Veterans Affairs. The agency received authorization in 1947 and was established with a state office and seven local offices. In 1950, a claims office was established at the Veterans Administration Center at Togus. The Division was renamed the Department of Veterans Services in 1963. In the spring of 1970, the Maine Veterans' Memorial Cemetery became operational. Under reorganization legislation of 1972, the agency was placed within the new

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE, VETERANS AND EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Department of Military, Civil Defense and Veterans' Services which, in 1974, was redesignated the Department of Defense and Veterans' Services.

PROGRAM:

Major Programs: CLAIMS SERVICE. The seven regional offices represented 38,006 clients during the past Fiscal Year. These offices also received 2,064 requests to represent them to the US Department of Veterans Affairs. The Claims Office at Togus, acting as the veterans advocate, filed 1,045 Powers of Attorney on the behalf of veterans or their dependents. Actions taken by Maine Veterans' Services have resulted in new awards of $37,851,951 by the US Department of Veterans Affairs. OFFICE OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

PURPOSE:

The Department of Economic & Community Development is responsible for administering Maine's programs related to business growth, tourism and film development, and community development. These programs fall within six divisions: the Office of the Commissioner, the Office of Business Development, the Office of Small Business and Entrepreneurship, the Office of Tourism and Film, the Office of Community Development and the Office of Innovation. In most cases the department's programs require a significant amount of interaction with other organizations in the public and private sectors.

The Office of the Commissioner is responsible for policy development, including legislative activities and participation on numerous boards, commissions and task forces; financial management, including purchasing, contracting and human resources; facilities management; the administration of tax-based development incentives; the development and implementation of the State Economic Development Strategic Plan and several grant programs.

ORGANIZATION:

The department traces its roots back to the Maine Development Commission which was established in 1933. A State government reorganization in 1955 created the Department of Development of Industry and Commerce, and further reorganization in 1957 established the agency as the Department of Economic Development. In 1971 another reorganization reconstituted the department as the Department of Commerce and Industry, and shortly thereafter, in 1975, the department was abolished and many of its functions transferred to other agencies. As part of this process, the State Development Office was established within the Executive Department, and assumed responsibility for Maine's general business development functions.

On October 1, 1987, the State Development Office was abolished to be replaced by the newly established Department of Economic and Community Development, which also assumed the development-related activities of the State Planning Office and the Department of Conservation. In 1995, the department transferred its Natural Areas, Growth Management, Coastal Zone Management and Code Enforcement programs to the State Planning Office and the Department of Conservation.

In 1996, the Department was reorganized for efficiency by consolidating the Energy Conservation Division within the Office of Business Development. This reorganization also shifted the department's primary accounting, personnel and information services functions to the Department of Administrative and Financial Services under a "clustering" arrangement, and established the Maine International Trade Center, which assumed the department's international commerce functions. In 1999, the Legislature established the Maine Technology Institute with the purpose of coordinating grants to businesses to commercialize new products and processes. The Directors of the Maine Technology Institute and the Maine International Trade Center are employees of the Department of Economic & Community Development. In 2004, the Energy Resource and Conservation programs were transferred to the Public Utilities Commission as a part of their energy office. DECD underwent a reorganization in 2003 when the Office of Innovation was established to support research and development throughout the State. In 2006, the Legislature created the Office of Small Business and Entrepreneurship in realigning the small business programs in the Office of Business Development but this office was left vacant by budget cuts in 2008.

PURPOSE:

The Office of Community Development (OCD) provides financial assistance to municipalities for community revitalization, enhancing economic growth and planning. The OCD accomplishes this by providing technical assistance and grant funds (through a competitive application process) to municipalities to assist with economic development initiatives, to develop, repair and establish public facilities, services and infrastructure, create and/or to rehabilitate affordable housing units and plan for future growth.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Economic and Community Development assumed responsibility for administration of the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program in October 1987, when it was transferred from the State Planning Office. The program is funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and administered by a professional staff of seven full-time and one half-time employee.

PROGRAM:

The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program distributes funds to municipalities in three general areas; community development, economic development, and planning. The primary focus is to benefit low and moderate-income persons, but may also be used to address slums and/or blighting conditions, or for the purpose of addressing conditions having a particular urgency because of serious health/safety conditions affecting the community. CDBG funded programs include Public Infrastructure, Public Facility, Housing Assistance, Community Enterprise Program, Public Service, Downtown Revitalization, Economic Development, Urgent Need and the Community Planning Grant program. The OCD also offers technical assistance to communities that want to access the program and to provide information on other available funding resources. The state program is not available to the communities of Auburn, Bangor, Biddeford, Lewiston, Portland and all of Cumberland County except Brunswick and Frye Island. These are entitlement communities, which receive an annual allocation directly from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

These include the Maine Learning Technology Initiative (MLTI), The Maine School and Library Network (MSLN), Federal ESEA Title II-D Enhancing Education Through Technology grants, the Maine Online Learning Program (MOLP), Library/Media center support.

The MLTI distributes equipment, services, technical support, and professional development in support of Maine statute Title 20-A, Chapter 801, section 19101 which defines the program. Management of MLTI includes procurement, contract management, and on-going support for over 72,000 wireless laptop computers, wireless network infrastructure in each 373 secondary schools, and professional development activities in support of over 11,000 secondary educators, administrators, and technology support specialists.

The MSLN provides advanced broadband Internet connectivity to virtually all K12 public and private schools in Maine through a cooperative effort of the Maine Department of Education, Maine State Library, Maine Office of Information Technology, and the University of Maine System. Together, these agencies have formed NetworkMaine which serves as the entity that procures services, manages contract relationships with telecommunications providers, and coordinates with schools and public libraries to ensure that schools and libraries have sufficient broadband Internet connectivity to support their educational and public service needs. MSLN/NetworkMaine provides oversight and management of both the Maine Telecommunications Education Access Fund (Maine statute Title 35-A, section 7104-B) and Federal E-Rate funds which together provide funding to support all network operations and management.

The team provides management and distribution of Federal funds provided through the ESEA Title II-D Enhancing Education Through Technology program. In addition, the team oversees the approval of online learning providers through the Maine Online Learning Program (Maine statute Title 20-A, Chapter 802, section 19151). The team also provides technical assistance and support to school libraries to ensure schools meet approval guidelines (Maine statute Title 20-A, Chapter 206, section 4501 and Maine statute Title 27, Chapter 1, section 39).

Staff on this team provide a wide array of services and technical support to school systems, teachers, and other organizations across the state and the world. This done by staff and through contracted services managed by the staff (ie Apple, Inc., Maine Distinguished Educators, CEPARE, etc.) They provide direct technical assistance to schools in for the form of professional development for teachers, administrators, and technology support specialists as well as project management support. The team coordinates with other professional development efforts within the Department of Education as well as with other organizations in Maine such as the Maine Mathematics and Science Alliance, Maine Council of Social Studies Educators, Association of Computer Educators of Maine, Gulf of Maine Research Institute, the University of Maine System, and many others. The team provides school and regional in-person professional development opportunities as well as online professional development opportunities (<http://www.maine121.org>). In addition, the team creates professional development content for online publication (<http://deimos3.apple.com/WebObjects/Core.woa/Browse/education-maine.gov>).

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

The team also coordinates and partners with organizations from outside of Maine to provide educational content and expertise that is not otherwise available in Maine. These partnerships include Common Sense Media, the United Nations World Food Program, Anytime Anywhere Learning Foundation, World Bank, Korea Education Research and Information Service, and others.

The staff manage relationships and cooperative agreements with the University of Maine System in order to provide broadband Internet connectivity to schools and libraries in Maine. These efforts also include advocacy and collaborations with Maine's Federal congressional offices, the Federal Communications Commission, and other national organizations in support of continued Federal E-Rate funding and Federal Education Technology funding.

Through the distribution of Federal ESEA Title II-D funds to local schools, the team supports the creation and evaluation of Open Education Resources (OER). OER allow teachers to leverage, modify to local need, and distribute to students free, digital content in lieu of traditional media (textbooks). The team provides support to school library/media specialists with a goal of enhancing classroom instruction through the effective use of library and media services. In addition, through the approval of online providers, the team provides support to both providers and schools with making available high quality online instruction and learning opportunities to Maine students, helping to eliminate geographic isolation and local capacity issues.

PURPOSE:

The Department of Environmental Protection is charged by statute with protecting and improving the quality of our natural environment and the resources which constitute it, and with enhancing the public's opportunity to enjoy the environment by directing growth and development in a sustainable fashion. The Department, through authority vested in the Commissioner and the Board of Environmental Protection, exercises the policy powers of the State to prevent the pollution of the natural environment. It recommends to the Legislature measures for elimination of environmental pollution, administers grants, issues licenses and initiates enforcement actions. Department staff negotiate agreements with federal, state and municipal agencies, administer laws relating to the environment and educate the public and regulated community on environmental issues and obligations.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Environmental Protection descends from the Sanitary Water Board, created in 1941 to study, investigate and recommend means of eliminating pollution and to prevent pollution of waters used for recreational purposes in the state. On July 1, 1972, the Department was formally created with a broad mandate of responsibilities extending well beyond recreational waters.

The Department is organized by program responsibility. Three bureaus administer programs and laws according to environmental media: Air; Land and Water; and Remediation and Waste Management. In addition, the Office of the Commissioner provides day-to-day support for the chief executive and directs intra-agency programs and initiatives. The Office of the Commissioner coordinates legislation, department-wide initiatives, enforcement, education and outreach, environmental innovation, technical assistance and policy development and implementation.

PROGRAM:

The Department of Environmental Protection's activities, goals, objectives and plans are reflected in the reports of the individual bureaus.

The Bureau of Air Quality administers state air pollution laws and the Federal Clean Air Act. The bureau conducts air monitoring and modeling, licenses air emissions, enforces license conditions and manages technical data.

The Bureau of Remediation and Waste Management is responsible for managing hazardous wastes, hazardous substances, petroleum products and biomedical waste; administering the State's solid waste facility licensing program, the asbestos and lead abatement programs, and the sludge and residuals landspreading program; responding to discharges or spills of oil products or hazardous matter; and directing the cleanup or mitigation of adverse effects associated with uncontrolled hazardous substance sites.

The Bureau of Land and Water Quality is responsible for regulating large-scale land development, reviewing activities that affect critical resources of state significance, assessing the quality of Maine's waterways, licensing waste water discharges and reporting water body uses and recommended classifications to the Legislature.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Air Quality implements state air pollution laws and the federal Clean Air Act.

ORGANIZATION:

There are three divisions in this bureau; the Division of Field Services, the Division of Licensing and Enforcement, and the Division of Program Planning.

PROGRAM:

The Field Services Division is responsible for all ambient air monitoring activities in the state and for all field compliance activities associated with air emission sources. The Monitoring Section maintains the State's ambient monitoring networks, provides technical assistance to tribal monitoring programs, and assists with reports on air quality in the state. This section operates and maintains 32 monitoring sites, 28 of which require at least weekly visits. The Laboratory and Quality Assurance Section is responsible for providing analytical and QA support for all the various ambient air monitoring programs operated by the Monitoring Section. This section analyzes air toxics and ozone precursor samples for volatile organic compounds (VOCs), certifies calibration standards, and during Fiscal Year 2010, conducted 215 performance audits of DEP and tribal monitors that collect air quality data statewide. The Compliance Section inspects air emission sources to determine their compliance status. In Fiscal Year 2010, the Compliance Section conducted or reviewed 801 compliance actions at 333 facilities. This Section also inspected approximately 40 gas stations.

The Licensing and Enforcement Division has three sections. The Licensing Section issues new, renewal, and amended air emission licenses within the state and federal licensing programs: in Fiscal Year 2010, the section processed 215 new licenses, renewals and/or transfers. The Meteorology Section is responsible for conducting air dispersion modeling analyses to demonstrate compliance with ambient air quality standards, issuing daily state-wide ozone and particle pollution forecasts and performing technical analyses for state implementation plans (SIP), Northeast States for Coordinated Air Use Management (NESCAUM) and the Ozone Transport Commission (OTC). During this same time period, the Enforcement Section issued 20 notices of violations and resolved 13 Consent Agreements. In addition to processing and resolving enforcement cases, the Enforcement Section administers the Bureau's emission testing and monitoring program and, during Fiscal Year 2009, it observed or coordinated the observation 65 emission tests and 54 relative accuracy audits of emission monitors.

The Program Planning Division develops and implements regulatory and public education/outreach initiatives to reduce pollution from industrial, mobile, and area sources. The Division's ongoing responsibilities include policy and program development and implementation through rulemaking, legislation, and voluntary mechanisms for attainment and maintenance of the National Ambient Air Quality Standards; the Maine Air Toxics Initiative; statewide air emissions inventories; and evaluation of emerging national and regional air quality and climate change issues. The Division continues to implement the low emission vehicle program, a statewide heavy-duty diesel-testing program and Cumberland County's enhanced motor vehicle inspection program. In FY 2010, this Division's focus was primarily on: the regulation of Control Technique Guideline (CTG) categories for Cutback Asphalt, Graphic Arts Printing, Flexible Package Printing, and Coating Operations; the maintenance of the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative (RGGI) program; the development of Maine's Regional Haze Implementation Plan; and implementation of the Maximum Achievable Control

The Board of Environmental Protection exists to provide informed, independent and timely decisions on the interpretation, administration and enforcement of the laws relating to environmental protection and to provide for credible, fair and responsible public participation in Department decisions. The Board fulfills its purpose through rulemaking, decisions on selected permit applications, review of the Commissioner's licensing and enforcement actions and recommending changes in the law to the Legislature.

ORGANIZATION:

The Board of Environmental Protection consists of 10 members appointed by the Governor, subject to review by the Joint Standing Committee on Natural Resources and approval by the Legislature. Members are selected to represent a broad range of professional backgrounds and experiences. State law requires that at least four members reside in the First Congressional District and four in the

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

Second Congressional District. Members serve four-year terms for up to two consecutive terms. The Governor appoints one member to serve as chair. The Board has a staff of two: an Executive Analyst and an Administrative Assistant. Members receive $55 per day for each meeting or hearing attended and reimbursement for travel expenses incurred while attending meetings, public hearings or participating in other official Board business. Regular meetings are held twice monthly in Augusta; additional meeting and hearing times and places are scheduled by the Board as needed to address pending matters. Six members of the Board constitute a quorum for the purposes of conducting a meeting or rule-making hearing, and three members are a quorum for an adjudicatory hearing.

PROGRAM:

The Board holds regular meetings on the first and third Thursdays of each month to consider proposed Administrative Consent Agreements; appeals of Commissioner licensing decisions; petitions to revoke, modify, or suspend a license; and special licensing matters that require Board approval. These meetings are open to the public. In addition, the Board holds public hearings on proposed rules, individual applications of significant public interest, and contested enforcement orders. Board members receive material on all pending matters in advance of the regular meetings. The Board's agenda and the documents presented for Board consideration are available on-line for public review prior to each Board meeting. [<http://www.maine.gov/dep/bep/index.htm>]

LICENSES:

The majority of license applications are processed at the staff level and decided by the Commissioner; however, state law provides that the Board shall assume jurisdiction over and decide those applications that involve important policy questions, have the potential to affect a broad geographic area or a natural resource of statewide significance, or that have generated substantial public interest.

PURPOSE:

The Land for Maine's Future program functions as the primary vehicle for funding public land acquisition in Maine. Originally established in November 1987 by referendum, when voters overwhelmingly approved a $35 million bond, the program administers funds to acquire land and interest in land for conservation, water access, outdoor recreation, fish and wildlife habitat protection, and farmland preservation. In 2005, the Legislature added protection of commercial marine fishery access points ("working water fronts") to the programs mandate in cooperation with the Maine Department of Marine Resources.

Its legislative mandate is to acquire lands of state, regional, or local significance that "make a substantial and lasting contribution towards assuring all of Maine citizens, present and future, the traditional Maine heritage of public access to Maine's land and water resources or continued quality and availability of natural resources important to the interests and continued heritage of Maine people."

Since the creation of the fund in 1987, over 530,000 acres have been acquired entirely from willing sellers, including about 285,000 acres in conservation easements. These acquisitions include mountain summits, working forests, farmland, river shore, lakes, ponds, coastal islands, pristine beaches, commercial marine fishing properties and wildlife habitat. Permanent protection has also been provided to many irreplaceable natural areas including eagle nesting sites, spotted turtle habitat, critical spawning habitat for Atlantic and landlocked salmon, and rare natural communities. The State's dollars have been matched by more than $147.7 million, largely from private and federal sources.

ORGANIZATION:

The Land for Maine's Future Board manages the Land for Maine Future's Fund and Water Access Fund; these together comprise the Land for Maine's Future Program. The board consists of eleven members, including the commissioners of the departments of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources, Conservation, Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, and Marine Resources and the Director of the State Planning Office. The remaining six are private citizens appointed by the Governor. The Governor also appoints the board's chairperson. The program director is a staff member of the State Planning Office. SPO also provides technical staff and clerical support to the program.

The board meets regularly to provide policy direction, oversee the funds, and pursue its land acquisition strategy under its legislative authority (5 MRSA section 6202). The board works with citizens, land trusts, municipalities, nonprofit conservation organizations, and federal and state agencies to identify special lands of statewide significance to accomplish the State's goals.

Funding has been drawn from a $35 million bond to purchase lands of statewide importance followed by a supplemental appropriation of $3 million in General Funds in 1998. A subsequent bonds have been authorized for a total of $82 million; virtually all of which is now committed for ongoing land protection projects. A $9.75 million bond will go before the voters in November, 2010. All funds for conservation, recreation, working waterfront and farmland protecting have been committed. Limited funding remains for projects that create recreational public access to Maine rivers, lakes, and the coast.

PROGRAM:

In 1998, based on the recommendations of the Land Acquisition Priorities Advisory Committee, the Legislature set aside funds for farmland protection. It also funded the Public Access to Maine Waters Fund for the first time in 1999. The board has established a process for the public to nominate lands and a scoring system to evaluate proposals based on criteria in keeping with the Legislature's directives. There are four proposal categories: 1) Conservation and Recreation Lands; 2) Farmlands; 3) Working Waterfronts and 4) Water Access Lands. Conservation and recreation land proposals are further divided into three sub-categories; those of statewide, regional, or local significance. Only projects in each sub-category compete against one another.

The LMF Board administers the working waterfront program jointly with the Department of Marine Resources.

By law, the LMF program seeks matching funds at a ratio of at least $1 of match for every $2 of public funds expended. Since 1999, the program has drawn more than three times the required match in the form of federal funds and private donations. The match requirements of the working waterfront program and all new LMF funds under the November 2010 bond (if approved) will be 1 to 1.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the council is to advise the Governor, Legislature, and state agencies in the formulation of policies for management of the State's land and water resources to achieve state environmental, economic, and social goals. Originally established by Executive Order in 1976, the Legislature established the council by statute in 1993. This enabling legislation requires the council to: recommend coordinated state policy on major programs or proposals that may affect the natural environment and land use management issues that concern multiple state agencies; support integration of information useful for management of land and water resources; provide direction and coordination for state agency land and water use planning and management programs; periodically evaluate and recommend any needed changes to the State's environmental regulation and growth management programs; study specific land and water resources management issues of state concern as needed. The enabling legislation further requires the council to: develop sound and coordinated policies; seek cooperation with federal agencies responsible for the management of land and water resources; administer the Lakes Heritage Trust Fund; and prepare a biennial report on the state land use mediation program. In addition, the state growth management law requires the council to approve certain state, growth-related capital investments if located outside downtown or locally designated growth areas.

The council carries out studies and policy development on specific issues, as required by the Legislature or Governor.

ORGANIZATION:

The council is established by 5 MRSA Section 3331. The Governor appoints the Chair and has appointed the State Planning Office Director to chair the council.

PROGRAM:

In recent years, the Council's primary policy development-related assignments have involved oversight of agency implementation of select recommendations in the State's Bay Management Study and oversight of the State Water Resources Planning Committee.

The fundamental goal of the Public Advocate office is to represent the interests of the consuming public in utility-related proceedings before the Public Utilities Commission, federal agencies and the relevant courts.

This year the Public Advocate's office completed its twenty-eighth year of advocacy on behalf of utility consumers before Maine's Public Utilities Commission. During the past twenty-eight years the Public Advocate has saved ratepayers more than $600 million through its efforts.

consumers before regulatory bodies, the courts and the Legislature. Beginning in 1988 the Public Advocate also represented the Governor's Office in negotiations for access to disposal facilities capable of accepting shipments of low-level radioactive waste from generators of this waste in Maine, such as the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Compact.

Beginning in 1989 the office moved from a General Fund basis for its budgets and operations to a system of utility assessments. In 1999-00 the office received no General Fund appropriations. In addition to the Public Advocate, Richard Davies, the office currently employs eight staff people which include three support staff, four attorneys, and the Director of Energy Independence and Security. Mr. Davies was appointed Public Advocate in February 2007 by Governor Baldacci and was confirmed by the Legislature in March 2007 following a confirmation hearing.

PURPOSE:

The mission of the Maine Department of Health and Human Services is to provide integrated health and human services to the people of Maine, and to assist individuals in meeting their needs, while respecting the rights and preferences of the individuals and families it serves. All of the department's functions and activities are directed toward one or more of the following goals: a) to protect and enhance the health and well being of Maine people; b) to promote independence and self-sufficiency; c) to protect and care for those who are unable to care for themselves; and d) to provide effective stewardship for the resources entrusted to the department.

ORGANIZATION:

Effective July 1, 2004, the Governor and the Legislature created a new Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) by combining and reorganizing the former Department of Human Services (DHS) and the former Department of Behavioral and Developmental Services (BDS). The organizational framework for the new department was established the following year by Public Law 2005, Ch. 412. The creation of the new department provided an unprecedented opportunity to improve the health and well being of all Maine citizens through more coordinated and responsive systems. In addition, the structure:

- " Supports, strengthens, and integrates primary prevention efforts for all programs across the department;
- " Integrates mental health and physical health with social services throughout the entire department;
- " Recognizes the value and importance of population-based public health efforts in making Maine people healthier and in reducing health-care costs; and
- " Eliminates barriers to a holistic, cross-disciplinary approach to service delivery.

PROGRAM:

The department's statutory mandate requires it to provide the following programs and services to adults, children and families:

- A. Economic assistance and employment support services;
- B. Behavioral health services, including mental health and substance abuse prevention and treatment services;
- C. Developmental disability and brain injury services;
- D. Physical health services; and
- E. Public health services.

Services targeted specifically for children, families, and adults include:

- A. Child welfare services;
- B. Early childhood services including Head Start and child care services;
- C. Maternal and child health services, including home visiting programs;
- D. Paternity establishment and child support enforcement services;
- E. Residential and community support services for children and adults with disabilities;

F. Adult protective services; and

G. Long-term care services for the elderly and adults with disabilities.

The department delivers programs and services through an integrated delivery system that focuses on meeting the needs of individuals and families. The department uses a combination of public personnel and contracts with private agencies to administer programs and deliver services.

The department administers the health insurance program funded jointly by the Federal Government's Centers for Medicare and Medicaid (CMS) and the State. MaineCare provides for Maine's children and adults who are elderly, disabled or with low income.

More information about the Department of Health and Human Services may be found at <http://www.maine.gov/dhhs>.

PURPOSE:

The Office of Child and Family Services was created in 2005 to assure integrated services for children in Maine. The Office is comprised of four divisions focusing on services to children: Child Welfare, Children's Behavioral Health, Early Childhood, and Public Service Management.

The Child Welfare Division is responsible for: protecting children who are abused, neglected or exploited, to rehabilitate and reunify families when children are separated from them, to secure durable family relationships for children who can not return to their own families, and to provide for the acquisition of skills and abilities for productive adulthood. The division also promotes quality out of home care for Maine children through the licensing of providers, resource and policy development, and advocacy for providers and children.

The Children's Behavioral Health Services Division serves children, ages birth through their 20th year, who have treatment and rehabilitation service needs related to mental illness, intellectual disabilities, autism spectrum disorders, developmental disabilities, or serious emotional disorders. The division is mandated to strengthen the capacity of families, natural helping networks, self-help groups, and other community resources to support and serve children in need of treatment and to provide in-home, community-based, and family-oriented services.

The Early Childhood Division offers a focus on the development of healthy children and families. This division integrates home visiting services, child care, Head Start (0-5), and other early childhood services into a family support system that is the prevention arm of the Office of Child and Family Services. The Director of the Division is responsible for leading a team of child care, Head Start, and home-visiting program directors and specialists and developing linkages with other DHHS offices, divisions, and units, the Department of Education, and other State agencies. The goal in creating such a network is to create and support a coordinated, effective, quality-based early childhood system focused on prevention, early intervention, and the healthy growth and development of children and their families.

The Division of Public Service Management administers programs and Acts of the State and of the United States relating to human services which are not the specific responsibility of another state agency under state or federal law; prepare, adopt and administer policies, priorities, procedures, rules and regulations to govern the development and operation of programs and activities; and define contractual terms, conditions of agreements, quality of performance standards and such other rules as are necessary. Within OCFS' Public Service Management Division there are three units; Community Services Unit, Information Services Unit, and Residential Services Unit.

ORGANIZATION:

Child Welfare Services Division: The major task of the Child Welfare Division, through 8 district offices statewide, is to assess allegations of abuse and neglect to determine if children are in need of protection. Caseworkers assist parents to recognize and fulfill their responsibility so children may remain safely in their own homes. Children that are removed are provided coordinated services to promote personal growth and healing, and services to promote rehabilitation to safely return the child. Permanency for the child is assured through an adoptive placement or other permanent placement including relative placements if the custodial family cannot be preserved without serious harm to the child. Studies on child abuse and neglect have focused attention on the need to expand the department's capability to address safety, permanency and well-being for this vulnerable target population. A 24-hour capability for response has been operative since 1977.

Children's Behavioral Health Services Division: Children's Behavioral Health (CBHS) provides leadership in the development of a comprehensive mental health system of care to ensure that each child develops to their fullest capacity. In FY'10, CBHS provided contracted services to over 24,000 children and their families. Services are geared to address three populations: Early Childhood Intervention for children ages birth-5; Mental Health/Behavioral Health Treatment for children & adolescents through their 20th year; and Rehabilitation for children and adolescents through their 20th year with intellectual disabilities or autism spectrum disorders. Foundational to this care are, Family Support Services such as respite care and flexible services that address needs that would not otherwise be met through dedicated conventional sources and are key to keeping families together and providing a safety net for children and families.

Early Childhood Division: The Early Childhood Division provides leadership to state government ensuring that Maine's early childhood services system addresses the needs of young children, shares common standards for quality, and respects the diversity and uniqueness of all Maine's children and their families. Current quality initiatives include: a quality rating system for child care providers, developing guidelines for early childhood learning, and the creation of an Early Care and Education Career Development Center. The division continues its work on initiatives to improve quality and service delivery of home visitation, parenting education, as well as revisions to the structure and work plan of the Maine Children's Growth Council.

Public Service Management Division: The Division of Public Service Management consists of three units which provide services to ensure the efficient operation and management of OCFS, in order to improve the outcomes for the children and families of Maine. The Community Services Unit is responsible for the administration of over 10 federal grants, as well as the management and oversight of over 130 contracts. The Information Services Unit provides financial, data, and communication services, and supports functionality of the Maine Automated Child Welfare Information System. The residential services unit is responsible for the administration and oversight of children's residential services, treatment foster care, transitional living, and infant mental health services.

Studies on child abuse and neglect have focused attention on the need to expand the department's capability to address safety, permanency and well-being for this vulnerable target population. A 24-hour capability for response has been operative since 1977. The office continues to explore better methods of service delivery.

Children's Behavioral Health Services Division: Children's Behavioral Health provides leadership in the development of a comprehensive mental health system of care to ensure that each child develops to their fullest capacity. In FY'10, Children's Behavioral Health Services provided contracted services to over 24,000 children and their families. PURPOSE:

The Family Health and Chronic Disease Divisions (formerly the Division of Community and Family Health) promote health and prevent disease, injury and disability through a variety of public health interventions ranging from primary prevention through broad based community health promotion initiatives, early detection, health systems interventions, delivery of health services and the promotion of healthy public policies.

ORGANIZATION:

The Division of Community and Family Health was created in 1996 by the merger of several divisions, Public Health Nursing, Oral Health, Maternal and Child Health and Health Promotion. In 2000, a Bureau of Health reorganization created two distinct divisions, Family Health and Community Health. In 2005, the Community Health Division was renamed the Division of Chronic Disease.

PROGRAM:

The Division of Family Health (DFH) Director also serves as the State's Title V Director (Title V of the Social Security Act of 1935). Through the federal Title V statute, the state Title V agency is responsible for the development of systems of services and care for the maternal child health (MCH) population (women of reproductive age, children with special health needs, children prenatal through young adulthood and their families). Areas of focus for developing systems of care and services within the division include Children with Special Health Needs, Genetics, Newborn Screening, Public Health Nursing, Population Health and Prevention (Women's Health, Adolescent Health, Injury Prevention, and MCH Epidemiology) and the Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC). The programs work collaboratively with other programs within the Maine CDC, DHHS and other departments such as Education, Corrections, Public Safety, and Labor, as well as with agencies and organizations external to state government.

Issues that are priority concerns for the MCH population include: improved birth outcomes; reduce suicide and self-inflicted injury in the MCH population, reduce the prevalence of domestic violence and sexual assault and associated health disparities, reduce the prevalence of overweight and obesity among children and adults in Maine, improve reproductive health outcomes for Maine women, improve behavioral/mental health and trauma status of infants, children and adolescents by offering responsive support, services and educational information, ensure early identification and a comprehensive and coordinated family-centered system of care for children with autism spectrum disorder, reduce the incidence of unintentional injuries to Maine's MCH population, improve adolescent sexual health, improve women's mental health and access to mental health treatment for women suffering from a mental health condition, including postpartum depression, and reduce children's exposure to violence at home, in school and the community.

The Division of Chronic Disease works through four cross-program teams that contain 11 programs: Maine Cancer Registry, Comprehensive Cancer Control, Maine Breast and Cervical Health, Oral Health, Diabetes Prevention and Control, Asthma Prevention and Control, Cardiovascular Health, Coordinated School Health, Healthy Maine Partnerships, Physical Activity - Nutrition - Healthy Weight, and the Partnership For a Tobacco-Free Maine. Issues that are primary concerns include: reducing risk for chronic disease through lifestyle changes and environments that promote healthy behaviors including cessation and prevention of tobacco use and obesity prevention and control through increased physical activity and improved nutrition; increasing access to effective dental care (prevention and treatment); recognizing signs and symptoms of heart attack and stroke and improving timeliness of treatment for acute episodes; increasing effective self-management behaviors among people with chronic conditions; improving the quality of health care for chronic disease; strengthening early detection and treatment of cancer (especially breast and cervical, skin, colon); and chronic disease surveillance.

PURPOSE:

The primary goal of the Office of Elder Services (OES) is to promote independence for elders and adults with disabilities through the provision of services including evidence-based prevention programs and comprehensive home and community-based services. The office also acts as Public Guardian and/or conservator for incapacitated and dependent adults who have no friend or family member able to serve in those capacities.

The office, subject to the direction of the Commissioner of DHHS, establishes the overall policy objectives for functions and activities relating to Maine's older population. The office assists State Government in the coordination of efforts relating to older people. Pursuant to federal and state laws, it prepares and administers a comprehensive State Plan for older persons. The office also plans for, develops, and leverages resources; develops and enforces rules; and conducts training relating to aging, long term care, and adult protective services.

ORGANIZATION:

The Office of Elder Services originated in 1966 as the Services for Aging office in the Division of Family Services, Bureau of Social Welfare within the Department of Health and Welfare. In 1973, the office was established by statute as a separate and distinct organizational unit of the department, called the Bureau of Maine's Elderly.

Legislation was passed in 1989 to bring the Division of Adult Services into the bureau and it was renamed the Bureau of Elder and Adult Services. When the Legislature created the new Department of Health and Human Services in 2004, the agency was renamed the Office of Elder Services. The office operates from a central office in Augusta and district offices of the Department of Health and Human Services. It also has designated five private non-profit area agencies on aging across the State, under federal and state law, to receive and administer funds from the Older Americans Act programs for the elderly and state funds for these services.

PROGRAM:

The OES' programs assist older adults and adults with disabilities to maintain their independence. Services are provided directly by Office staff or through contracts with Agencies on Aging and other service providers. More than 120,000 people are served annually.

Community programs include: home delivered meals; community dining sites; outreach information and assistance with benefits and services; senior employment; independent housing with services; adult day services; legal services; transportation; independent support services; money management; evidence-based programs for healthy aging; family caregiver support program; health insurance information, counseling and assistance; and help from trained volunteers to identify errors, fraud and abuse regarding medicare benefits. There is also a respite program for caregivers of persons with dementia.

Long-term care programs administered by OES prevent or delay nursing home placement. Services include: long-term care assessment conducted by a nurse, home care coordination and services to assist with daily activities, consumer-directed services, and long-term care ombudsman services.

The office provides Adult Protective Services to incapacitated and dependent adults in danger of or at substantial risk of abuse, neglect or exploitation including public guardianship and/or conservatorship. The Adult Protective Services and Public Guardianship programs received over 4,000 referrals in FY 09. As required by law, the program provides or arranges for services to remove or reduce the danger. The office works closely with social services and medical professionals, banks, law enforcement, and various advocacy groups to protect vulnerable adults. The office is also responsible for the public guardianship and conservatorship of incapacitated adults under the Uniform Probate Code. When less restrictive arrangements are not possible, the office petitions the Probate Court for guardianship and/or conservatorship of individuals who are unable to make or communicate responsible decisions for themselves and no family member or private person is able, willing or suitable to assume these responsibilities. The intent is to protect and provide continuing care and supervision and to protect, preserve and manage the incapacitated person's estate.

The Policy, Planning, and Resource Development Unit is responsible for helping OES to prepare for both the challenges and opportunities resulting from the dramatic increase in elders in Maine. The unit identifies the needs and strengths of the aging population of today and tomorrow; develops evidence-based and cutting edge policies and programs; is involved in pursuing grant opportunities, writing rules and policies, and identifies, leverages, and coordinates resources to support services for older persons. The unit is also responsible for the development of residential care beds funded by MaineCare through Appendix C (case mix) of the MaineCare Benefits Manual, and for the ongoing review and approval of capital expenditures in existing residential care facilities in which those beds are located. OES also has responsibility for policy and planning for nursing facilities across the State.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention (MaineCDC) serves as the State's public health agency. As such, its overall purpose is to preserve, protect, and promote the health of all Maine people. Key strategies include: tracking the health of Maine's population; implementing public health policies and programs; diminishing environmental health hazards; educating the public on health issues; and preparing for public health emergencies.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Board of Health was established in 1885 with the overall purpose of having "the general supervision of the interests of health and life of the citizens of the state." In 1917, the board was redesigned into the Maine Department of Health, headed by a physician commissioner. In 1931 a major reorganization relocated the Department of Health as the Bureau of Health within the newly-created Department of Health and Welfare, which became the Department of Human Services in 1975 and the Department of Health and Human Services in 2004. The Bureau of Health became the Maine CDC in July, 2005.

Maine CDC has five divisions: Environmental Health; Public Health Systems; Infectious Disease; Chronic Disease; and Family Health. It has two offices as part of the administrative offices: Office of Minority Health and Office of Local Public Health which includes the Primary Care and Rural Health Program.

The Director of the Maine CDC also serves as the State's Health Officer. As such, the director is instrumental in furthering relationships with the medical and public health communities in the state and nation.

PROGRAM:

The Maine CDC's programs, about 45 in number, cover a wide area of topics, including: collecting and monitoring vital statistics (a function since 1892); providing laboratory tests which are in the best interests of the public's health such as rabies, drinking water, and lead poisoning tests (a function since 1903); ensuring safe drinking water and food safety in public eating places; working with communities to address health issues at the local level; and conducting surveillance and control measures of acute infectious diseases.

Some issues that are priority concerns include: preparing for a possible pandemic influenza or other public health emergency; monitoring and controlling emerging infectious diseases; addressing preventable chronic diseases related to tobacco and obesity; and improving public health capacity statewide by building a statewide public health infrastructure. Maine CDC also pursuing National Accreditation in Public Health and will be preparing for this over the upcoming year.

PURPOSE:

The Division of Health Engineering, now known as the Division of Environmental Health (Division) protects and promotes the health of Maine's population by insuring the safety of our public drinking water and food, and the proper disposal of subsurface wastewater; by minimizing exposure to contaminants including lead, radon and mercury; through the licensing and inspection of radiation sources and the oversight of high-level nuclear waste; and by conducting surveillance to minimize exposure to potentially harmful substances or events.

ORGANIZATION:

The Division of Sanitary Engineering was established in 1917 within the State Bureau of Health to carry out the Department of Health and Welfare's ongoing responsibility in the investigation of drinking water supplies following the great typhoid epidemic that occurred in 1902-1904. Later, the Division issued rules relating to the sanitary conditions of hotels and food handlers, plumbing, occupational health and the registration of x-ray machines and radioactive materials. The name was changed to Division of Health Engineering in 1972. The Division's responsibilities lie primarily in the areas of inspection and enforcement of public health codes established through departmental regulations. In September 2005, the Division's name was changed again to more accurately reflect its broad responsibilities, this time to the Division of Environmental Health. At this time the Environmental and Occupational Health Unit was merged into the Division.

The Division includes four major programs: the Drinking Water Program, which now includes the Subsurface Wastewater Unit, the Health Inspection Program, the Radiation Control Program, and the Environmental and Occupational Health Program.

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

PROGRAM:

The Division performs its work in the following key areas:

The Health Inspection Program provides statewide 24/7 response for public health emergencies such as fires, floods and power failures, water and food borne disease outbreaks, and to over 400 public complaints each year. The program's Health Inspectors work throughout the state performing inspections of eating establishments such as restaurants, takeouts, and mobile food vending carts; public pools and spas; campgrounds; youth camps, sporting camps, day camps; mass gatherings and other large festivals; lodging places such as B&Bs, hotels, motels and cottages; and body artists including body piercing, tattooing, micropigmentation and electrology.

The program issues about 10,000 annual licenses including 2,000 retail tobacco vendors.

The Radiation Control Program is responsible for providing radon information; minimizing unnecessary radiation exposure through the licensing and inspection of all sources of radiation including X-ray, mammography, radioactive materials and tanning facilities; oversight of low-level radioactive waste generators; radioactive emergency preparedness and response; registration of radon testers and mitigators; and oversight of Maine's high-level nuclear waste storage facility.

The Drinking Water Program is responsible for protecting human health by insuring that public water systems provide safe and reliable supplies of drinking water. The program administers the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act and the State's Rules Relating to Drinking Water and regulates nearly 2000 public water systems. The program provides education and outreach to the public and the water industry and provides funds for land acquisition to better protect drinking water sources. The program also provides grants and low interest loans to eligible systems for infrastructure improvements through the Drinking Water State Revolving Loan Fund. The program provides assistance to systems with security and emergency preparedness and provides training to water operators, well drillers and pump installers.

In 2009, the Subsurface Wastewater Unit, was integrated into the Water Resources Section of the Drinking Water Program, is responsible for minimizing health and safety hazards associated with improperly installed subsurface wastewater disposal systems to include the licensing of soil evaluators for subsurface wastewater disposal systems, and promulgation of the Subsurface Wastewater Disposal Rules, Minimum Lot Size Rules, Seasonal Conversion Rules, and LPI Appointment Rules. The program also collects internal and external plumbing permit fees from municipalities.

The Environmental and Occupational Health Program (E&OHP) is responsible for ensuring that threats of the health of the people of the State posed by natural phenomena or the introduction of potentially toxic substances into the environment are identified, appropriately considered, and responded to by those responsible for protecting the public's health and environment. The designated functions of the E&OHP are to develop and maintain systems to monitor health status in Maine, identify and investigate health problems focusing on those which may be related to environmental factors, advise state agencies regarding potential health implications of their actions and provide the public with information and preventative and corrective actions in the area of environmental health. The E&OHP includes the Childhood policies, procedures, budgets and strategies. Financial Management Services is responsible for managing the resources entrusted to the Department in an efficient and effective manner.

ORGANIZATION:

Financial Management Services is composed of the Division of Audit, Division of Program and Fiscal Coordination, Division of Purchased Services and MaineCare Finance, with significant support from the DHHS Service Center (Department of Administrative and Financial Services).

The Division of Audit performs compliance and cost settlement audits on approximately 600 provider organizations and community agencies that receive over $1.5 billion of state and federal funds, either through the MaineCare program or from contracted services.

MaineCare Finance is responsible for the financial management of the $2.1 billion Medicaid program in Maine, including MaineCare. The Medicaid program provides medical assistance to certain low-income individuals and families who fit into an eligibility group that is recognized by federal and state law. Medicaid does not pay money to consumers; instead, claims payments are made directly to health care providers.

MaineCare Finance is responsible for the budget and cash management of state and federal funds for medical claims paid through the Maine Integrated Health Management System (MIHMS), for fiscal oversight of the MaineCare administrative budget, and for compliance reporting to its federal oversight agency, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).

The Division of Program and Fiscal Coordination is responsible for the financial analysis and coordination of fiscal management activities within the Department. The Division oversees the budget management of several major programs, including tracking expenditures and forecasting future obligations, and reporting budgeted and actual expenses to executive leadership, program managers, the Legislature, and others.

The Division of Purchased Services (DPS) provides for the effective administration of purchased services agreements and contracts. DPS reviews, approves, and processes over 2000 legal agreements each year. It provides management tools for recording information, measuring results, and monitoring performance. DPS offers technical assistance about agreement development and bid management, and promotes best business practices in contracting to ensure consistency, accountability, and cost effectiveness so that services delivered meet the needs of consumers, the public mission of the Department, and the requirements imposed by the various state, federal, and other granting organizations that provide funding.

The Financial Service Center establishes internal controls to ensure reliable financial reporting, effective and efficient operations, and compliance with applicable state and federal statutes, rules and regulations. The Service Center is responsible for budget preparation, federal grant program accounting, revenue forecasting, cash management, payment processing, and employee travel.

PURPOSE:

The Commissioner of the Department of Health & Human Services created the Office of MaineCare Services to administer the department's Medicaid Services in compliance with Federal and State Laws. The office manages some of the programs, assures that all operate according to aligned policy in keeping with the department's goals and mandates, and provides accountability, assuring that they are administered in an effective and efficient manner.

ORGANIZATION:

The office currently contains the following divisions: Operations (consisting of Provider and Member Services, Data & Reporting, Quality Management, and MMIS/MIHMS), Health Care Management, and Policy.

Health Care Management is responsible for implementing systems to assure continuing improvement in the health status of MaineCare members and the services they receive from health care providers. Health Care Management administers managed care services, primary care case management, pharmacy benefits, case mix, and all prior authorization activities. It also oversees operations related to member services and inquires as well as the pharmacy help desk.

The Operations division includes units for Claims / Adjustments, Provider Relations and Third Party Liability. The claims unit is responsible for processing non-Pharmacy claims for reimbursement submitted by health care providers. Claims examiners manually review and troubleshoot claims if the computerized billing system can not adjudicate automatically. Staff in the Adjustment unit work with providers to reconcile and process adjustments in response to a provider's Request for Review, related to overpayment or underpayment of claims.

Third Party Liability (TPL) secures reimbursement from other payers in situations where MaineCare enrollees or their family members have other insurance coverage. According to federal law, Medicaid is almost always the payer of last resort, with only Indian Health Services being secondary to Medicaid. TPL may seek reimbursement for medical costs already paid by the MaineCare program, in cases where the MaineCare member is covered for the services by: Private Health Insurance, Casualty Insurance (such as Auto or Homeowner's policies), or other entities. Additionally, pursuant to federal mandate, TPL may recoup expenditures upon an inheritance or settlement of a member's estate.

The Division of Policy develops rules and regulations, defines the scope of coverage, maintains and revises the State Medicaid Plan to incorporate administrative and legislative changes into the Medicaid program, and submits waiver requests to the federal government that support the State's desire to adopt innovative solutions to coverage issues.

The Maine Integrated Health Management Solution (MIHMS) team oversees both the transition to our new technical MIHMS computer platform, which was implemented on September 1, 2010, as well as Molina, our Fiscal Agent. Molina as fiscal agent, has assumed day to day operations in Prior Authorizations, claims processing, provider services, and some TPL functions. Additionally, they are responsible for data reporting and quality. The MIHMS unit works with the management in other units to ensure departmental operational needs are met by the Fiscal Agent.

PURPOSE:

Commission duties include: determining proportion of Drinking Water Program effort dedicated to each type of public water system; evaluating Drinking Water Program workloads; evaluating staffing and resource needs; determining funding requirements, fee formula, fee assessments and collection schedules for each type of public water system.

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Public Drinking Water Commission, created by the 116th Legislature, consists of nine members. Eight who represent the interest of the regulated community. The Commissioner of the Department of Health and Human Services, or the designee thereof is the ninth member. Commissioners are appointed by the Governor and serve for a term of four years. The first meeting of the commission was held September 29, 1993. The commission meets at least quarterly.

PROGRAM:

The Maine Drinking Water Program, under agreement with the United States Environmental Protection Agency, is responsible for implementing, administering and enforcing federally mandated drinking water laws as applicable to all public water systems in Maine. Because deficient water systems can subject consumers to biological, chemical and physical hazards which may cause significant public health problems, the goal of the Maine Drinking Water Program is to ensure that the general public is provided with safe and reliable sources of public drinking water.

Federal regulation of public drinking water systems began in 1974 with passage of the Safe Drinking Water Act. In 1976, under authority of this act, the State of Maine entered into a formal primacy agreement with the federal government and was delegated primary enforcement authority for regulating public water systems in the State.

The 1986 Amendments to the Safe Drinking Water Act greatly expanded the regulatory authority of the original act and required water testing for 83 known water contaminants. The 1996 Amendments further expanded regulatory requirements and rule complexity. More frequent water testing is required and the list of potential water contaminants has continued to increase. State rules relating to drinking water were adopted for the first time in 1977. These rules are updated at least once annually to remain current with newly promulgated federal requirements.

Legislation enacted in June 1993 created the Maine Public Drinking Water Commission to serve as an oversight board and to represent the interests of the regulated community. The annual drinking water fees currently support the salary and expenses of five full-time employees.

PURPOSE:

The Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife was established to preserve, protect and enhance the inland fisheries and wildlife; to encourage wise use of the resources; to ensure the resources are maintained and perpetuated for their intrinsic and ecological values, for their economic contribution and for their recreational, scientific and educational use by the people of the State. In addition, the Department is responsible for the establishment and enforcement of laws and regulations governing fishing, hunting and trapping; the registration and operation of snowmobiles, watercraft, and all-terrain vehicles; propagation and stocking of fish; acquisition of wildlife management areas; safety programs for hunters, snowmobiles, all-terrain vehicles and watercraft, and the issuing of licenses and permits (hunting, fishing, trapping, guide, wildlife possession/importation, as well as many other miscellaneous permits).

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife (formerly Game) traces back to 1830 when wardens were first appointed by the Governor to enforce the moose and deer laws enacted that year. Two Commissioners of Fisheries were appointed in 1867. In 1880, the Commissioners were assigned responsibility for enforcing game laws as well as fish laws, and in 1895, their title was changed to Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game. The two Commissioners were later replaced by the Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Game in 1917. Function Divisions were added as the Department mandates and responsibilities were expanded, e.g. Warden Service Aviation in 1937; Wildlife Division in 1938; Fisheries Division in 1951; Information and Education in 1955; Program Development and Coordination in 1968; Snowmobile Registration in 1969; Realty in 1970; Watercraft Registration and Safety in 1974.

Effective October 1, 1975, the Department was renamed the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. In 1984, the Department underwent its first Sunset Review by the Legislative Committee on Audit and Program Review. As a result, the Department was reorganized into the following: 1. Bureau of Administrative Services; 2. Bureau of Resource Management; 3. Bureau of Warden Service; 4. Office of the Commissioner including the Division of Public Information and the Division of Program Development and Coordination.

In 2006, a statewide reorganization removed the financial and information technology functions of the agency and placed them within the newly created Natural Resources Service Center and the Office of Information Technology. The Bureau of Administrative Services, as it was known prior to this reorganization became the Division of Licensing, Registration and Engineering in 2009 to more accurately reflect the duties of the Division.

The Department also includes several boards and committees, including the Advisory Board for the Licensing of Guides, the Disabled Hunter, Trapper and Angler Advisory Committee, the Advisory Board for the Licensing of Taxidermists, Landowners and Sportsmen Relations Advisory Board, and the Advisory Board for the Licensing of Whitewater Guides.

DEPARTMENT OF INLAND FISHERIES AND WILDLIFE

PROGRAM:

The Department's program focuses on the management of the State's inland fish and wildlife, enforcement, applied research studies, surveys and inventories, program development (planning), artificial propagation and stocking of fish and wildlife, coordination of Department interests between state and federal agencies and the private sector, environmental coordination, the search for lost persons, the registration of watercraft, snowmobiles, all-terrain vehicles, and hunter/trapper education programs, and hunter, snowmobile, boating and ATV safety programs.

The establishment of rules is an important part of the program carried out by the Department. The Commissioner provides copies of abstracts of the inland fisheries and wildlife laws and rules for distribution to the public (Six summaries are updated, printed and distributed, plus migratory bird regulations). The Open Water and Ice Fishing Regulations, upon filing with the Secretary of State, as printed and distributed to the public, are declared to be official consolidations of fishing rules.

A complete reporting of these programs will be included in the reports for the various Bureaus and Divisions.

Average Count--All Positions: 22.000

Legislative Count: 22.00

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Division is to administer the issuance of department licenses, stamps and permits and the registration of snowmobiles, watercraft and all-terrain vehicles; and to oversee the design, maintenance and report of department-owned facilities, including the preparation of a capital improvement plan to be printed in the budget document. The responsibilities of the Bureau include, but are not limited to: 1) licensing and registrations, 2) information technology (IT), and 3) engineering.

ORGANIZATION:

In 1984, the 111th Legislature reorganized the Department, thus creating the Bureau of Administrative Services as one of the major Bureaus. This Bureau was structured in the following manner: Accounting Section-headed by a Chief Accountant; Division of Engineering and Realty-headed by a Supervisor; Division of Licensing and Registration-headed by a Director; Personnel Section-headed by a Personnel Officer; Central Purchasing and Supply Section-headed by a Property Officer.

During FY 2006 a statewide reorganization of administrative functions substantially changed the make-up of Administrative Services. A new entity, the Natural Resources Service Center under the Department of Administrative and Financial Services, was established to provide budget, accounting, human resources and payroll services to all of the Natural Resource Departments within State government. These functions were removed from the Department during that consolidation. In addition, the Office of Information Technology centralized all of the Department's IT functions under a consolidated Natural Resources IT cluster. The licensing and registration, engineering and land acquisition functions were left in Administrative Services. In 2009, legislation was passed to change the name from the Bureau of Administrative Services, to the Division of Licensing, Registration and Engineering to more accurately reflect the responsibilities and duties of the Division.

PROGRAM:

Until the reorganization at mid-year 2006, the Bureau carried on its obligation to coordinate the accounts of all Department revenues and expenditures providing the Commissioner, Deputy Commissioner, various Legislative Committees, and others with facts, figures, and reports as needed. This is now done at the Natural Resources Service Center.

DEPARTMENT OF INLAND FISHERIES AND WILDLIFE

The Personnel Section coordinated all staff personnel activities of the Department including processing all personnel actions, advising employees on personnel rules and regulations and providing other personnel information and statistics as required. These functions are now carried out by the Natural Resources Service Center.

The Licensing Section continues to provide the public with hunting and fishing licenses and miscellaneous permits through the Department's main office and designated license agents. The Section also registers all watercraft, snowmobiles and All-Terrain vehicles. The operation of these machines is regulated in cooperation with all law enforcement agencies and information is provided as required.

The Engineering Section coordinated the design, maintenance and repair of all Department owned facilities either by utilization of Department staff or outside contractors.

The Storehouse (now also part of the Natural Resources Service Center) coordinates the purchase of capital equipment and supplies and disperses these items on a Department-wide basis. Adequate inventories of vehicle, snowmobile, and outboard motor parts, clothing, footwear and miscellaneous items are held in stock to be issued to all field personnel.

MAINE OUTDOOR HERITAGE FUND BOARD

CAROL GAY, SECRETARIAT

Central Office: 284 STATE ST., AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0041

Mail Address: 41 STATE HOUSE STATION, AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0041 FAX: (207) 287-8094

Established: 1995

Telephone: (207) 688-4191

Reference: Policy Area: 04 ; Umbrella: 09 Unit: 585 ; Citation: T0012 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000010308

PURPOSE:

The Maine Outdoor Heritage Fund was established by the Legislature in 1995 after it became clear there was insufficient funding for worthwhile projects that would perpetuate Maine's outdoor heritage -- the state's endangered species, wildlife habitat and pristine lands for outdoor recreation. By funding the program solely with revenue from the sale of special Outdoor Heritage lottery tickets, the legislature was able to support financially worthwhile projects without using revenue from the General Fund.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Outdoor Heritage Fund is governed by a board of seven members. The Commissioner of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, the Commissioner of the Department of Conservation and the Coordinator of the Natural Areas Program are permanent members. With approval from the Legislature, the Governor appoints four citizen members to staggered 4-year terms. One citizen member must represent a state sportsman's organization, one must represent a state wildlife conservation organization and one must work in a field related to natural resources. The Board has hired an executive director on a contractual basis to perform the duties of administering the grants once they are awarded, organizing the application process for grants and coordinating with the Lottery Commission and other state and private organizations.

PROGRAM:

The Board awards grants semi-annually to natural resource agencies for conservation and recreation projects that meet the guidelines stated in the Outdoor Heritage Fund's Strategic Plan.

The grants are awarded in four categories:

- fisheries and wildlife, and habitat conservation projects;
- acquisition and management of public lands, parks, wildlife conservation areas, public access and outdoor recreation sites and facilities;
- endangered and threatened species conservation projects;
- natural resources law enforcement.

Revenue is raised from the sale of instant lottery tickets, which are available at most outlets that sell other Maine State Lottery tickets. The Outdoor Heritage ticket design changes every six months.

Legislative Count: 13.00

PURPOSE:

The major function of the Public Information and Education Division is to create and maintain public understanding and support for Departmental objectives and programs.

ORGANIZATION:

The Division was created in 1952, as the Information and Education Division, under authorization granted by the 96th Legislature in 1951. It was reorganized into the Public Information Division, effective July 1, 1980; it was again reorganized, as the Division of Public Information and Education under the Office of the Commissioner, effective April 24, 1984. Another reorganization, effective July 1, 1993, established the Division of Public Information and Education as its own unit.

PROGRAM:

The major programs of the Public Information and Education Division are the Information Center, media relations, public relations, educational outreach, law book publications, youth activities, and marketing; the Safety Division, and the Maine Wildlife Park.

The Information Center provides a knowledgeable staff responding to telephone inquiries and directing calls to appropriate Department Divisions, as well as e-mail requests. The Information Center also maintains the Department's web page.

Media relations provides press releases about the Department and its programs to newspapers, radio and television in both written and electronic formats as well as a media contact point. This program publishes The IF&W Insider, the Department's monthly e-newsletter. It also provides feature articles for magazines and periodicals, and utilizes the new technologies of social networking to expand our outreach capabilities.

The Safety Division provides a number of programs that inform and instruct the public on how to hunt, trap and operate recreational vehicles safely. The Recreational Safety Program reaches more than 9,000 participants each year using a cadre of more than 500 volunteers and 11 part-time staff.

The Maine Wildlife Park hosted over 90,000 visitors last year. A variety of wildlife and conservation school programs and tours are offered here, reaching well over 3,000 Maine school children annually. Teacher workshops are offered statewide using Project WILD to assist classroom teachers and other educators to become more informed about Maine wildlife and conservation. The Division provides support for the popular Maine Conservation Camp scholarship program and the "Becoming an Outdoors-Woman" workshops.

The Division represents the Department at trade shows and produces and distributes a variety of advertising intended to promote outdoor recreation in the state, safety, and our landowner relations program. The Division organizes the Maine Migratory Waterfowl Stamp art contest, Governor's Cup Charity Bass Tournament, and the annual open house at the Maine Wildlife Park.

The unit has expanded the focus of public outreach to habitat conservation, wildlife and non-game and endangered species, as well as all outdoor recreational activities that thrive on our natural resources.

Maine Fish and Wildlife Magazine went on-line with four quarterly issues focusing primarily on the Department and its projects, programs and personnel.

Information and Education also provides support to other divisions for video, photography, displays, presentations, and the design, development, and distribution of printed material.

The youth activities program is designed to expose young people to a variety of outdoor activities. Finally, the division produces multiple law books covering the rules and regulations for hunting and trapping, snowmobiling, ice fishing, open water fishing, boating and ATV's.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Resource Management is responsible for the management of the State's inland fisheries and wildlife resources and the development of rules governing the effective management of these resources.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau of Resource Management was established by the 111th Legislature as a result of recommendations made by the Legislative Program Audit and Review Committee. The Bureau presently consists of the following:
Division of Wildlife Management

Division of Fisheries and Hatcheries
Computer Services Section
Environmental Coordination Section

PROGRAM:

Division of Wildlife Management. Wildlife Management - The abundance and use of the major wildlife species are monitored utilizing the latest tools, techniques, and information available. Periodic assessments are made to identify supply and demand imbalances, associated problems and management needs.

Wildlife management programs are implemented to accomplish the long-term goals and objectives of species management plans. Habitat improvement work is actively carried out in the Department's Wildlife Management Areas. These include approximately 100,000 acres of upland and wetland habitat strategically located throughout the State, as well as nearly 300 coastal seabird nesting islands.

Division of Fisheries and Hatcheries. Fisheries Management - Field studies designed to monitor the status of the major game species are routinely carried out. These include habitat and fisheries inventories of lakes, ponds, rivers and streams that are undertaken to obtain basic information regarding the abundance and condition of fish populations in specific waters. Creel surveys and aerial angler counts provide important information on fishing pressure and quality. Much of the biologists' time has been utilized in tracking an undue number of illegal, invasive species introductions. They also continue to work with biologists from the hydro industry in assessing needs of fish in the project areas. The regions have also been involved in comprehensive species management plans which are formulated every five years and guide the overall statewide fisheries management programs. More work has been conducted on many of the state's bass waters. Propagation of Fish - The fish needed to support statewide fisheries management programs are produced and reared in the Department's fish hatcheries and rearing stations. Approximately 1.3 million salmon and trout are stocked annually. Fish culturists continue to work with DEP staff in order to comply with wastewater discharge licenses.

Habitat Management - In conjunction with the Department's environmental permit review responsibilities, Division biologists assessed environmental impacts of more than 1,500 project applications submitted to State agencies and this Department. They included Natural Resource Protection Act applications, LURC applications, Highway Project and Hydroelectric Projects. Recommendations pertaining to the impact of the State's fisheries resources on each project were forwarded to the permitting agencies. Fisheries Research - Research work focuses on the development of biological principles and management techniques needed to support fisheries management programs. Some of these projects have included statewide hydro-acoustic surveys to evaluate smelt populations, habitat improvement projects on streams, radio telemetry studies associated with hydroelectric projects, as well lake trout spawning and northern pike spawning and a special arctic charr study following an illegal smelt introduction. One of our larger statewide projects is a study of more than 2000 reaches of wild brook trout streams, and two UM contracted studies on lake whitefish and sea run brook trout.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Judicial Branch is to administer the State courts.

ORGANIZATION:

Until the signing of the Articles of Agreement for Separation in 1820, Maine was part of Massachusetts and therefore included in the Massachusetts court system. In 1820, Article VI, Section 1, of the new Maine Constitution established the judicial branch of government stating: "The judicial power of the State shall be vested in a Supreme Judicial Court, and such other courts as the Legislature shall from time to time establish". From the start of statehood, the Supreme Judicial Court was both a trial court and an appellate court or "Law Court". The new State of Maine also adopted the same lower court structure as existed in Massachusetts, and the court system remained unchanged until 1852. The Court Reorganization Act of 1852 increased the jurisdiction of the Supreme Judicial Court to encompass virtually every type of case, increased the number of justices and authorized the justices to travel in circuits. The Probate Courts were created in 1820 as county-based courts and have remained so.

The next major change in the system came in 1929, when the Legislature created the statewide Superior Court to relieve the overburdened Supreme Judicial Court. Meanwhile, the lower courts continued to operate much as they always had until 1961 when the municipal courts and the trial justices system was abolished and the new District Court created. The Administrative Court, which was created in 1978, was abolished on March 15, 2001.

The administrative structure of the Maine Judicial Branch is similar to that of a corporation. The Supreme Judicial Court serves as the Branch "board of directors" and by statute has general administrative and supervisory authority over the Branch. This authority is exercised by promulgating rules, issuing administrative orders, establishing policies and procedures, and generally advising the chief justice. The chief justice is designated as head of the Judicial Branch and is assisted by the state court administrator. Each of the two trial courts has a chief justice or judge, appointed by and responsible to the chief justice, who also heads the Law Court. The Administrative Office of the Courts under the direction of the state court administrator, assists in meeting the operational needs of the courts.

PROGRAM:

JUDICIAL BRANCH COMMITTEES. Efforts to improve efficiency and enhance communication are ongoing through the creation of the Judicial Resource Team, the enhanced involvement of the Trial Court Chiefs in coordinated scheduling, the solicitation of feedback from the system's users, a Judicial Branch newsletter, and a greatly expanded employee training program. The Performance Council (made up of court staff and external volunteers) continued to serve as a sounding board for the Judicial Branch, overseeing key areas of change and improvement.

DISTRICT COURT FOR THE STATE OF MAINE

HON. CHARLES C. LAVERDIERE, CHIEF JUDGE

Central Office: 65 STONE STREET, AUGUSTA, ME

Mail Address: 163 STATE HOUSE STATION, AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0163

Established: 1961

Reference: Policy Area:06 ; Umbrella: 40 Unit: 279 ; Citation: T0004 M.R.S.A., Sect. 0000000151

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the District Court is to serve as a court of general jurisdiction in law and equity for the State, excluding jury trials.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

ORGANIZATION:

The District Court was originally created by the Legislature in 1961 as Maine's Court of limited jurisdiction. The Court's jurisdiction has expanded substantially. In criminal matters, it has original jurisdiction in non-felony cases and may conduct initial appearance, probable cause, and bail hearings in felony cases. The District Court also has original jurisdiction over civil violations. Until March 15, 2001, the Court had concurrent jurisdiction with the Superior Court in divorce and non-equitable civil cases involving not more than $30,000. As of March 15, 2001, the monetary claim limit for civil cases was eliminated, creating concurrent jurisdiction with the Superior Court. The District Court now has exclusive jurisdiction of divorce and family cases. The District Court also may grant equitable relief in a wide variety of cases including unfair trade practices and cases involving environmental law violations. The District Court hears all child protection cases, and protections from abuse and harassment cases.

The District Court is the small claims court (for cases involving not more than $6,000) and the juvenile court. In addition, the Court hears mental health, forcible entry and detainer, quiet title and foreclosure cases. It is the only court available for the enforcement of money judgments. The District Court also has exclusive jurisdiction over violations bureau matters.

There are 36 judges in the District Court, including the Chief Judge, who is designated by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court. In March 2001, the Administrative Court was abolished, and the last remaining judge of the Administrative Court was transferred to the District Court. All District Court judges are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Legislature for seven year terms. Pursuant to Administrative Order, District Court judges may also sit in the Superior Court. In the District Court, judges are assigned by the Chief Judge to sit in any District Court in the State.

PROGRAM:

Within the District Court, there are administrative units and systems designed to enable the Court to achieve its purposes.

The Family Division of the District Court was established by the Second Session of the 118th Legislature, which enacted 4 M.R.S.A. section 183 as follows: "There is established within the District Court a Family Division that has jurisdiction over family matters filed in District Court. The Family Division shall provide a system of justice that is responsive to the needs of families and the support of their children." In May of 1998, Family Case Management Officers, renamed Family Law Magistrates in 2005, began to hear and dispose of the following matters as allowed by statute:

(1) Interim orders in actions involving the establishment, modification or enforcement of child support; (2) Interim actions involving divorce, legal separation, paternity or parental rights; (3) Final orders in matters when the proceeding is uncontested; (4) Final orders in a contested proceeding when child support is the only contested issue and (5) Other actions as assigned by the Chief Judge of the District Court.

The District Court Judges, along with Superior Court Justices, preside over Adult Drug Treatment Court proceedings. The Adult Drug Treatment Courts operate in York, Cumberland, Androscoggin, Penobscot, Hancock, and Washington Counties. Adult Drug Treatment Courts hold criminal offenders accountable and increase the likelihood of successful rehabilitation of offenders through early, continuous and intensive judicially supervised substance abuse treatment and other appropriate rehabilitation services.

The Family Treatment Drug Court is operating within the Maine District Court in the Lewiston-Auburn area, the Bangor area and in Central Maine. This federally funded docket works with families in child protection proceedings when substance abuse is a major problem in the family. The family treatment drug court combines frequent judicial supervision of participants with intensive substance abuse treatment and other rehabilitative services.

The District Court also operates Domestic Violence Monitoring Courts in eleven locations throughout the State. This grant funded docket provides ongoing court monitoring of individuals that have admitted to criminal acts of domestic violence.

The Chief Judge of the District Court rosters all Guardians ad Litem (GAL), who are appointed by the Court in part to provide children with a voice in family and child protection matters in the District Court. GAL's must attend a core training program, be a member of the legal or other recognized profession and meet continuing education requirements. Complaints regarding GAL's are processed through the Office of the Chief Judge in completed cases. They are referred to the presiding judge in pending cases.

The Chief Judge of the District Court also appoints all Bail Commissioners and Justices of the Peace.

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND DISABILITY

H. CABANNE HOWARD, ESQ., EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Central Office: P.O. BOX 8058, PORTLAND, ME 04104-8058

Mail Address: PO BOX 8058, PORTLAND, ME 04104-8058

Reference: Policy Area:06 ; Umbrella: 4Q Unit: 276J ; Citation: J1978 M.R.S.A., Sect. SJC-00109

PURPOSE:

The Committee on Judicial Responsibility and Disability was created by the Supreme Judicial Court by court order in 1978. The Committee is empowered to receive and investigate complaints of judicial misconduct and disability. Judicial misconduct is defined by the Maine Code of Judicial Conduct, which was promulgated by the Supreme Judicial Court. By order of the Court, the Code of Judicial Conduct is binding on all state judges, as set forth in the Code and the Court's order.

ORGANIZATION:

The Committee on Judicial Responsibility consists of seven members appointed by the Supreme Judicial Court. One member is either an active or active retired justice of the Superior Court, and one is an active or active retired judge of the District Court. Two members are attorneys at law admitted to practice in the State of Maine, and three public members are appointed by the Supreme Judicial Court upon the recommendation of the Governor. Four alternate members are also appointed to serve with respect to any matter from which a regular member is excused or otherwise unavailable.

PROGRAM:

Proceedings before the Committee are typically begun upon receipt of a complaint concerning the conduct of a judge. If the Committee members decide that the facts involved in the complaint appear to come within its authority, a copy of the complaint is submitted to the judge for a response, unless the allegations or facts available to the Committee show that no disciplinary misconduct is involved. At the time a complaint is submitted to the judge, an investigation is conducted appropriate to the circumstances of the complaint. Based upon its investigation and the judge's response, the Committee determines whether the complaint should be dismissed or whether an evidentiary hearing is necessary.

The Committee cannot itself impose disciplinary sanctions. Unless the complaint is dismissed, the Committee's findings and conclusions, together with recommendations, are reported to the Supreme Judicial Court in any matter in which the Committee finds misconduct warranting formal disciplinary action. Thereafter, the matter is in the hands of the Court. The Committee may also seek informal correction of any judicial conduct or practice that may create an appearance of judicial misconduct.

Upon written request of the Governor, the Legislature's Joint Standing Committee on Judiciary, or an appropriate federal agency or official, in connection with consideration of the appointment of a person who has been a judge, the Committee is directed to provide information on any complaints made against that person and the Committee's disposition thereof. The Committee reports annually to the Supreme Judicial Court a summary of each year's activities.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

PUBLICATIONS:

The Committee has available for distribution material describing the Committee's operation and function, as well as the rules that govern the Committee's jurisdiction and procedure. Copies are available upon request. Copies of the available Annual Reports of the Committee are also distributed upon request. The purpose of this Board is to act on behalf of the Supreme Judicial Court, and by its appointment and order, to supervise attorneys admitted to the practice of law in this state, and to assist the Supreme Judicial Court in disciplining of attorneys who may violate the Court-mandated ethical or other rules of practice.

ORGANIZATION:

The Board of Overseers of the Bar was created by order of the Supreme Judicial Court, effective November 1, 1978 (Maine Bar Rules). The Board consists of nine (9) members selected by the Court, three (3) of whom are lay persons and six (6) of whom are members of the Bar of the State of Maine.

PROGRAM:

This unit's activities are limited to the performance of its duties as provided in the Maine Bar Rules and the Maine Rules of Professional Conduct (See Maine Rules of Court.) In general, it supervises and administers the registration of all attorneys admitted to practice in this state; investigates and processes claims and reports of violations by attorneys of the rules of practice set forth in the Maine Bar Rules and the Maine Rules of Professional Conduct; provides a procedure for the arbitration of disputes between clients and attorneys with respect to legal fees; maintains limited consulting and advisory services with respect to the interpretation and application of the Code of Professional Responsibility (Rule 3 of the Maine Bar Rules relating to the ethical standards); and engages in a continuing review and study of the Bar in relation to the public and the Courts for the purpose of making recommendations to the Supreme Judicial Court with respect to the Maine Bar Rules.

SUPERIOR COURT

HON. THOMAS E. HUMPHREY, CHIEF JUSTICE

Central Office: 142 FEDERAL STREET, PORTLAND, ME

Mail Address: PO BOX 287, PORTLAND, ME 04112-0287

Established: 1930

M.R.S.A., Sect. 000000101

PURPOSE:

The Superior Court serves as a court of general jurisdiction in law and equity for the State of Maine, but excluding matters designated by law as being within the exclusive jurisdiction of the District Court (e.g., divorce; family matters; child protection and protection from abuse and harassment). The Superior Court has exclusive jurisdiction over all felony-level criminal proceedings, medical malpractice cases, civil and criminal jury trials, and administrative appeals from most State and local agencies and boards. It also has limited concurrent original jurisdiction with the Supreme Judicial Court over certain proceedings and limited appellate jurisdiction.

ORGANIZATION:

The Superior Court was created by the Legislature in 1929 as Maine's trial court of general jurisdiction. Since 2001, the Court no longer has jurisdiction over family matters and its appellate jurisdiction is limited to appeals from decisions of administrative and governmental agencies, and to questions of law and de novo proceedings in certain District Court cases.

There are 17 justices of the Superior Court who hold sessions of the court in each of the State's 16 counties. The justices are appointed by the Governor for seven year terms, with the consent of the Legislature. A single justice is designated by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court to serve as the Chief Justice of the Superior Court.

The Chief Justice of the Superior Court is responsible for establishing the regular and special assignments of the justices, for specifying when the Grand Jury shall be summoned in each county, and for assigning justices to the Single-Justice program and to other matters throughout the State on a regionalized schedule that is coordinated with the District Court's regionalized schedule. The Chief Justice also supervises the Medical Malpractice Pre-Litigation Screening Panel program for all medical malpractice cases in the Superior Court.

PROGRAM:

In 2004, the Superior Court established a statewide Single-Justice system in which an individual justice is assigned for all purposes to each civil and criminal homicide case filed in the State. As a result, only one justice is responsible for all decisions and matters in each of those cases.

The Superior Court also conducts several types of problem-solving courts throughout the State, including the Business and Consumer Docket (aka The Business Court), the Adult Drug Treatment Court and the Co-occurring Disorders Court. The Court also has pioneered the use of judicially assisted settlement conferences, a highly successful form of mediation in which a judge not involved with the case being mediated serves as the neutral. This system is now used throughout the trial court system.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

HON. LEIGH I. SAUFLEY, CHIEF JUSTICE

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Supreme Judicial Court sitting as the Law Court is to serve as the final appellate tribunal for the State. The Supreme Judicial Court also has general administrative and supervisory authority over the Judicial Department and shall make and promulgate rules, regulations, and orders governing the administration of the Judicial Department.

ORGANIZATION:

The Supreme Judicial Court is the highest court in Maine, and as the Law Court is the court of final appeal. As of January 1, 2001, the Law Court hears appeals of civil and criminal cases from District and Superior Courts; appeals from all final judgments, orders and decrees of the Probate Court; appeals of decisions of the Public Utilities Commission and the Workers Compensation Board.

A justice of the Supreme Judicial Court may be assigned by the Chief Justice to sit in the Superior Court or the District Court to hear cases of any type, including post-conviction matters and jury trials.

In addition, the Supreme Judicial Court defines and regulates the practice of law and the conduct of attorneys in Maine by the promulgation of Maine Bar Rules, published in the annual Maine Rules of Court. It also is the ultimate authority for admitting lawyers to the bar, and for administering lawyer discipline including disbarment. The justices of the Supreme Judicial Court may be called upon to make decisions regarding legislative apportionment and render advisory opinions concerning important questions of law on solemn occasions when requested by the Governor, Senate, or House of Representatives. Three members of the Maine Supreme Judicial Court serve as the Sentence Review Panel for the review of sentences of one year or more.

The Supreme Judicial Court has seven members; the Chief Justice and six Associate Justices. The justices must be trained in the law and are appointed by the Governor for seven year terms, with the consent of the Legislature. By statute, the Chief Justice is head of the Judicial Branch, and the Supreme Judicial Court has general administrative and supervisory authority over the Judicial Branch. Upon retirement, a Supreme Judicial Court Justice may be appointed an Active Retired Justice by the Governor, for a seven year term, with the consent of the Legislature. On assignment by the Chief Justice, an Active Retired Justice has the same authority as an active justice.

PURPOSE:

The mission of the Department of Labor is to promote the safety and economic well-being of all individuals and businesses in Maine. The department's purpose (as stated in 26 MRSA Section 1401-A) is "... to achieve the most effective utilization of the employment and training resources in the State by developing and maintaining an accountable state employment and training policy, by ensuring safe working conditions and protection against loss of income and by enhancing the opportunities of individuals to improve their economic status."

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Labor, which is comprised of six units, was created in 1971 during a reorganization of state government. The oldest of these units is the Bureau of Labor Standards, which has been functioning since 1873, and provides for safe and fair workplaces. The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, originally established in 1936, provides economic stability for Maine people impacted by unemployment. The Bureau of Employment Services, functioning since 1974, helps increase workers' skills and matches workers to openings in Maine businesses. The Bureau of Rehabilitation Services, which became part of the department in 1996, provides vocational rehabilitation and independent living services to people with disabilities. The Division of Labor Market Information Services provides statistics and projections on the Maine workforce. The Office of the Commissioner oversees the other units and is the point of contact for customers and stakeholders. Other units included in this report fall under the umbrella of the Department of Labor, but are not considered subsidiary units.

PROGRAM:

The long-range goals of the Department of Labor are: to provide accurate and timely benefits to unemployed workers and facilitate their reemployment; to increase employment opportunities for Maine residents; to improve knowledge, skills and abilities, promote lifelong learning and support the independence of Maine residents; to ensure safe and fair treatment of all people on the job; and, to supply Maine businesses and industries with information and resources and connect them with a qualified workforce.

In order to improve services and reduce operating costs, the department embarked on a new initiative called Bend the Curve, based on the principles of Lean Government. Development of the initiative began in June 2005. Since that time, approximately 20% of the department employees have become involved in a systematic review of department processes. Services are being improved and savings are beginning to be identified as a result of eliminating redundant process steps, making information more readily available, and by simplifying the delivery of services. Work on this initiative will continue into 2009.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Board of Arbitration and Conciliation was established to further harmonious labor-management relations in the State of Maine by endeavoring to settle disputes, strikes and lockouts between employers and employees. It serves as a Board of Inquiry, as a Board of Conciliation in the private sector, or as a Board of Arbitration with power to inquire and to investigate labor-management disputes in the public or private sector.

A new law enacted this year requires that employers who file for certification with the U.S. Department of Labor to hire a bond worker in a logging occupation must be members and "active participants" in a recruitment clearinghouse that assists in evaluating and referring potential logging occupation workers. The law provides that the Maine Department of Labor must maintain a list of logging contractors who are in compliance with these requirements and must, after notice and hearing, remove from the list any employer found to have violated the requirements of the law or the applicable federal regulations. One may appeal to the board the placement or removal of an employer on the approved list.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Board of Arbitration and Conciliation originally was created in 1909, and experienced major reorganization in 1955 and procedural reform in 1985. The board consists of three primary members representing labor, management and the public. There are six alternates, two for each of the primary positions. All primary and alternate members of the board are appointed by the Governor for terms of three years. Appropriations for the board are included in the budget of the Maine Labor Relations Board.

PROGRAM:

In FY2010, requests for board services were higher than in FY2009. In FY2010, 22 requests for services were received, compared with 21 requests in FY2009. The variety of employee and employer units requesting service in the past few years reflects the growing perception in the public sector labor relations community of the board's stature in providing quality and professional arbitration and conciliation services.

In addition to the new matters filed in FY2010, there were 10 cases carried over from the prior year which required hearing and disposition by the board or other action. Of the 22 filings in FY2010, 21 were grievance arbitration requests; there was one request for fact finding services. Under the statutes governing public employee collective bargaining, the board is given authority to hear fact finding and interest arbitration matters when there is a mutual submission for such services. In all, the board issued 14 formal Decisions and Awards during FY2010.

In addition to the matters proceeding to hearing and formal Decision and Award, 2 other issues were conciliated with the assistance of board panel members or were settled at the hearing. The board convened to hear 15 matters, 14 concluded by formal Decision and Award and 2 resolved at hearing, 17 more than the number of cases disposed of through the hearing process in FY2009. Several matters were withdrawn or are scheduled for withdrawal. Withdrawals usually indicate settlement on the issues by the parties, often after a hearing has been scheduled.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Division for the Deaf, Hard of Hearing and Late Deafened (DDHHLD) is to ensure equal opportunity for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or late deafened to fully participate in, contribute to, and benefit from Maine's community. This is accomplished through contracts that provide individual and systemic advocacy, as well as the provision of telecommunications equipment. The Division for the Deaf, Hard of Hearing and Late Deafened was established on November 1, 1982, and was known as the Office of Deafness. In 1985, Governor Joseph E. Brennan signed Public Law Chapter 160 (22 MRSA c. 714) establishing the division as a statutory unit of the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services. The Director of the Division reports directly to the Director of the Bureau of Rehabilitation, and is a member of the bureau leadership team. The division received its present name in July of 2009 as the result of a five year plan goal to make the division more inclusive.

PROGRAM:

The Division maintains a toll-free number and responds to approximately 100-150 calls per month concerning information, referral, training, advocacy and other related services for people who are deaf, hard-of hearing or late deafened. The division also administers the state's telecommunication device program, which provides telecommunications equipment for people with any disability on either a cost-share or loan basis depending on the individual's income. This program was expanded by Public Law Chapter 553 (26 MRSA subsect. 1419) to include equipment

This is accomplished through self directed and consultative worker services including job placement, career guidance, education and training, and layoff assistance. Workforce consultation, worker recruitment, direct referral to business resources, layoff assistance, and access to training resources are among services available to businesses. Occupational information and training is provided to educators, employment training program managers, and policy makers. These services are available through the statewide network of CareerCenters.

ORGANIZATION:

As a bureau within the Maine Department of Labor, services are funded through State General Fund, Federal Workforce Investment Act, Federal Wagner-Peyser, and Trade Act, and other federal funds. The BES, in consultation with the four local workforce boards, the Division of Labor Market Information Services, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, Bureau of Rehabilitation Services, the Bureau of Labor Standards and other community based service providers including education and economic development partners ensures that workforce services are provided through Maine's CareerCenter network.

PROGRAM:

The Bureau of Employment Services, in consultation with several other organizations, oversees and administers the design and delivery of services aimed at building the workforce of the state and connecting workers with employers. Through the CareerCenter network and on the Web, individuals have access to a library of resources designed to help individuals explore career options, learn about the labor market, search for employment, interview for jobs, explore self employment possibilities, and much more. They may use a variety of electronic equipment to write, copy, e-mail and fax resumes and cover letters, search Maine's Job Bank and other internet resources, and pursue training opportunities. A variety of workshops related to employment and training topics are available to interested parties. For individuals meeting eligibility criteria, assessment services, job counseling, employability enhancement, and occupational skills training are available.

Businesses have access to a library of resources on topics relating to human resources, safety, business incentives, ADA, labor laws, labor market information, licensing, and more. They may attend free seminars on safety, labor laws, labor market information, employee retention and training options. CareerCenter rooms are available at no charge for businesses to use for recruiting and interviewing. CareerCenter staff trained in workforce consultation are available for on-site services including developing service strategies, packaging of services, referral, development of job descriptions, etc. Training assistance is available in the form of apprenticeships as well as new hire and incumbent worker training resources.

The Rapid Response Team of the bureau provides special on-site information services to laid-off workers. The team gives employees information about training, job opportunities, unemployment benefits, health care, and emergency services.

PUBLICATIONS:

The bureau publishes state policy and operational guidelines for the One-Stop CareerCenter system. Planning instructions for the operation of programs are issued to Maine's four Local Workforce Investment Areas and other contracted providers. Various fiscal reports required for the Maine Legislature and U.S. Department of Labor are routinely published. All publications are public domain and may be obtained by contacting the bureau.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Unemployment Compensation Program is to provide an economic safety net for individuals who are out of work through no fault of their own. It is an insurance program that provides a temporary financial bridge from one job to another and promotes economic stability for the State during periods of high unemployment.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation of the Department of Labor is organized into four divisions and a small administrative unit that report to a bureau director. The largest of the four divisions is the UC Field Services which is responsible for delivering unemployment claim services including claim filing, processing and adjudication functions for all state and federal unemployment benefit programs out of three telephone claim centers. The Program Integrity & Compliance Division houses the bureau's quality control unit and unemployment fraud investigation units, as well as the field tax unit that ensures Maine workers are properly classified for unemployment insurance protection coverage and provides technical assistance to employers on unemployment laws and regulations. This division also includes a small unit that carries out the delivery of claim services for special unemployment programs. The Internal Operations Division is responsible for all processes associated with banking and the issuance of benefit checks, imaging and records management functions, employer account setup and account maintenance and collections activities. The Division of Administrative Hearings provides dispute resolution for the Maine Unemployment Insurance Program when either an employer or individual disagrees with a benefit eligibility decision. Federal funding reporting and financial management activities are performed primarily by the Service Center assigned to the Department of Labor and by working closely with the bureau and deputy bureau directors. The bureau's administrative unit provides liaison activities with the program's federal partners, implements state and federal legislative initiatives, oversees internal program security requirements, researches and analyzes program data to assess program performance and inform strategic decision making, responds to constituent matters and provides support to the divisions and bureau director in program-related matters.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

PROGRAM:

Unemployment compensation workloads encompassed a wide variety of claim processing activities during FY2010. Financial benefits were paid out to Maine workers who lost their jobs through no fault of their own from the following state and federal unemployment insurance programs: State Unemployment Insurance (UI), Unemployment Compensation for Federal Employees (UCFE), Unemployment Compensation for Ex-Service Members (UCX), the Dislocated Workers Benefit (DWB) program, the Disaster Unemployment Assistance program (DUA) and from the federal Trade Readjustment Allowances (TRA) program. Additionally as a result of severe economic downturn experienced the last two fiscal years, the bureau processed claims and paid benefits through additional federally funded and stimulus funded benefit programs including the Emergency Unemployment Compensation program, Federal Additional Compensation Program and a fully federally funded Extended Benefit program.

The Reemployment Eligibility & Assessment Review program, a collaborative initiative between the Unemployment Compensation and Employment Services Bureaus, provided special eligibility review and strategic job search planning to aid unemployed workers in finding employment quickly. The Benefit Payment Control Program was responsible for collecting non-fraud overpayments and detecting claimant fraud through a variety of sources, such as automatic cross-matching of employer wage files, employer protest of charges, anonymous tips, and Benefit Quality Control Program audits. In addition, a Benefit Quality Control Program reviewed a random selection of active claims to detect any claims that were improperly filed and processed. The results of these audits are used to further improve operational procedures. A similar program evaluated the quality of the functions performed in the UC Tax Division.

The bureau worked in collaboration with Maine Revenue Services to collect Unemployment, State withholding and Competitive Skills Scholarship taxes from employers and to collect and maintain wage information for all workers in covered employment. Additionally, the UC Field Tax personnel audited approximately 2% of all employer businesses in Maine to ensure that workers were being properly reported and covered under the Maine Unemployment Insurance Program. Particular emphasis was placed on identifying and eliminating worker misclassifications.

During FY2010, the Unemployment Compensation Bureau primarily focused on improving program response to dramatically high benefit claim and appeal workloads resulting from a severe economic recession. Additional claims and appeal staff were hired to better respond to service demand which remained at unprecedented levels. Additionally, staff sought ways to streamline existing processes to address backlogs.

The benefit costs of the Unemployment Insurance Program are financed through a payroll tax on most of the State's employers. The monies collected are placed in an Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund and used solely to pay unemployment benefits, they are not used to fund the administration of this program. During FY2010, Maine's Trust Fund remained solvent and one of the top 5 most stable trust funds in the country while maintaining one of the lowest unemployment insurance tax rates nationally. This was in marked contrast to most states who are grappling with trust fund solvency issues. 41 states are currently borrowing funds to pay unemployment benefits.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Labor Standards enforces State laws regulating the employment of minors and the payment of wages; State laws established for the protection of the health and safety of workers; and those enacted for the protection of working people in general. This includes the review and approval of employer substance abuse testing policies. The bureau also has significant resources to encourage and support employers in compliance with state and federal labor laws.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau was established in 1873 as an activity under the Secretary of State to collect and print statistics on manufacturing, mining, commercial and industrial interests, together with the valuation and appropriations of municipalities. In 1887, the Bureau of Industrial and Labor Statistics was established by the Legislature. In 1911, this was changed to the Department of Labor and Industry with added responsibilities for enforcing laws regulating employment of children and women, the protection of the physical well-being of factory workers and the payment of wages. The department remained as a separate entity until 1972, when in the reorganization of State government; it became the Bureau of Labor and Industry within the new Department of Manpower Affairs. In 1975, the Bureau's name was changed to the Bureau of Labor. In 1981, when the name of the Department of Manpower Affairs was changed to the Department of Labor, the bureau's name changed to the Bureau of Labor Standards.

PROGRAM:

The Outreach and Education Unit identifies training needs relating to health, safety, and wage and hour regulations; develops and coordinates training programs, administers special projects, and oversees marketing activities. The Unit also coordinates and implements marketing for "SafetyWorks!."

The Technical Services Division includes two units. The Research and Statistics Unit collects and publishes statistical data concerning labor and industry, and it performs epidemiological studies to determine the prevalence and causes of occupational injuries and illnesses and to evaluate interventions towards lessening their number and effect. Regular data series prepared by this unit include the Census of Fatal Occupational Injuries in Maine, Report on the Substance Abuse Testing Law, the Construction Wage Rate Survey, the Survey of Occupational Injuries and Illnesses, the OSHA Data Initiative, and the Census of Case Characteristics. The Customer Service Unit, which functions as the bureau's and department's information center, assists callers, distributes brochures, maintains the video library, registers customers for classes, and processes work permits, labor complaints, and statistical surveys.

The Wage and Hour Division enforces State laws relating to employment including, but not limited to, child labor, equal pay, minimum wage, overtime, nonpayment of wages, and severance pay. It investigates all complaints alleging violations of these laws. In addition, the division approves employer drug-testing policies and work permits for minors.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

The Workplace Safety and Health Division conducts a variety of programs to assist employers in improving their occupational safety and health performance. Training and on-site consultation are offered through the SafetyWorks! program. State-funded activities are augmented by two federal grants. Under a grant with the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration the division provides free consultation services to employers whereby they can receive recommendations without penalties. A grant with the Mine Safety and Health Administration supports training in mine safety. The division also has a public sector enforcement program that enforces rules adopted by the Board of Occupational Safety and Health.

Legislative Count: 5.00

PURPOSE:

The Maine Labor Relations Board was established to improve the relationship between public employers and their employees by providing a uniform basis for recognizing the right of public employees to join labor organizations of their choosing, and to be represented by such organizations in collective bargaining. State, county, municipal, school department, university, community college, judicial, legislative, and certain agricultural employees come within the board's jurisdiction.

If employers and employee organizations are unable to agree on appropriate bargaining units, they are created through the unit determination process. Once an appropriate unit is constituted, and absent voluntary recognition by the public employer, the board conducts a representation election to determine whether a majority of unit employees wish to be represented by an employee organization for purposes of collective bargaining.

Established bargaining units may be modified by agreement of the public employer and the bargaining agent or through the unit clarification process. Unit employees seeking to terminate an organization's status as their bargaining agent may petition the board to conduct a decertification election. Board staff conduct unit proceedings and representation elections, subject to review by the board. The board also adjudicates alleged unfair labor practices, referred to as "prohibited acts" under the five labor relations statutes.

The various labor relations statutes administered by the board prohibit public and agricultural employees from engaging in work stoppages, strikes or slowdowns and provide dispute resolution procedures in lieu of the self-help options available to employees and employers in the private sector.

The dispute resolution procedures include mediation, fact finding, interest arbitration, and, in the case of judicial employees, an option for mediation-arbitration. The board and its executive director are responsible for the administration and assignment of members of the Panel of Mediators. Services of panel members are available to parties in both private and public sectors.

The State Board of Arbitration and Conciliation is also administered by the MLRB Executive Director. The board serves in both the private and public sectors, and is primarily engaged in resolving grievance arbitration disputes in the public sector.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Labor Relations Board was first established as a Public Employees Labor Relations Board in 1972. Prior to the existence of the board, the Municipal Public Employees Labor Relations Act of 1969 was administered by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, but governmental reorganization in 1972 terminated this relationship. In 1975, the board became the Maine Labor Relations Board and acquired responsibility for administering the Municipal Public Employees Labor Relations Law, the State Employees Labor Relations Act, and the Panel of Mediators. The University of Maine System Labor Relations Act was enacted, effective July 1, 1976, and was amended to cover employees of the Maine Maritime Academy as of October 1, 1976. Bargaining rights were extended to county employees in September 1981, to Judicial Department employees in July 1984, to employees of large agricultural employers on September 9, 1997, and to Legislative Branch employees on July 1, 1999.

The board consists of three primary members, one representing each of the elements of public sector labor, public sector management and the general public interest, with the member representing the general public interest serving as chair. These members, and their alternates (two for each of the primary positions), are appointed by the Governor and serve for terms of four years.

PROGRAM:

The municipal sector continues to be the most diversified and most active of all sectors utilizing the services of the Maine Labor Relations Board. During FY2010, 31 voluntary or joint agreements relative to bargaining units were received, up from 15 in the prior fiscal year. During FY2010, 12 unit determination or clarification petitions were filed, compared with 13 such filings in FY2009.

There were 11 election requests received by the board in FY2010. In addition to this, the board received 4 decertification/certification requests but no straight decertification election requests. With respect to election activities, there were 19 election requests in all requiring attention during the fiscal year; this compares with 22 requests in FY2009 and 28 in FY2008. In all, board officials conducted 11 elections pursuant to the various petitions filed.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

The activities of the Panel of Mediators are summarized for purposes of this report and are more fully reviewed in the Annual Report of the Panel of Mediators. The number of new mediation requests this fiscal year was 64, compared with 39 last year. There were 16 carry-over matters from the FY2009 filings which required mediation activity in FY2010. The success ratio for the panel has exceeded 70 percent of matters handled by its members over the past several years. The success rate in FY2010 increased to 80 percent for mediations, including carry-overs, concluded in FY2010.

Fact-finding is the second step in the three-tiered process of statutory dispute resolution. Fourteen (14) fact-finding requests were filed in FY2010, up from 9 in FY2009. The range in fiscal years 2005 through 2010 has been a low of 2 filings in FY2008 to a high of 13 in FY2010.

The Board received 15 prohibited practice complaints in FY2010. This compares to 16 in FY2009. The administration and processing of these complaints involves both the board and its staff in the details of docketing, arranging hearings before the board members, processing prehearing conferences, scheduling post-hearing memoranda, meeting for deliberation of cases, research, and preparation involved with the decisions themselves.

PANEL OF MEDIATORS

PURPOSE:

The Panel of Mediators was established to implement the public policy of the State of Maine of providing a full and adequate facility for the settlement of disputes between employers and employees or their representatives and other disputes subject to settlement through mediation. Mediation procedures, as provided in the statute, are followed whenever either party to a controversy requests such services, and the Maine Labor Relations Board or its Executive Director finds that the dispute is subject to settlement through mediation and that it is in the public interest to mediate.

ORGANIZATION:

The Panel of Mediators, originally established in 1951, came under the administrative auspices of the Maine Labor Relations Board in 1973, at which time the number of members on the panel was increased from the previous figure of five to consist of not less than five nor more than ten impartial members nominated by the Maine Labor Relations Board and appointed by the Governor for terms of three years. There are currently nine members on the Panel of Mediators.

PROGRAM:

This fiscal year, the number of new requests for mediation services increased slightly from the level experienced last year. New mediation requests received during FY2010 numbered 64 (40 last year). In addition, there were 16 matters carried over from FY2009 that required mediation activity in FY2010. Thus, the number of matters filed, pending, and requiring attention in FY2010 reached a total of 80, up from 55 the previous year.

There have been repeated positive comments from practitioners and users regarding the quality and competence of various State mediators. The panel achieved a settlement rate of 82% for matters concluded this year, including those carried forward from FY2009. The settlement rate for the past several fiscal years has exceeded 70% of the matters mediated.

This year, despite having achieved a 96% settlement rate over several years, no requests for preventive mediation services were received. Upon the joint request of the parties, members of the panel train bargaining team members at the outset of negotiations and then facilitate collaborative, problem-solving bargaining for our client community.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services (BRS) is to help Maine people with disabilities find or maintain employment and achieve full participation in the community.

Working in partnership with the Maine Department of Labor and the rehabilitation services community, the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services administers state and federal rehabilitation services for people with disabilities through three primary service divisions including: 1) the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR); 2) the Division for the Blind and Visually Impaired (DBVI); and 3) the Division for the Deaf, Hard of Hearing and Late Deafened (DDHHLD).

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

ORGANIZATION:

State administered rehabilitation services originated in 1921 with the creation of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division under the supervision of the State Board of Education. In 1969, the Legislature directed that a functional unit of rehabilitation services be created within the then Department of Health and Welfare to consolidate rehabilitation programs and to administer services under the federal Rehabilitation Act.

The Bureau of Rehabilitation Services was created under this legislation. The Bureau consolidated the administration of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division, the Division of Eye Care and Special Services, and the Division of Disability Determination Services. The Legislature created the Division for the Deaf within the Bureau in 1982. In 1994, the Legislature moved the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services to the Department of Education, and in 1996, moved the Bureau to the Department of Labor.

PROGRAM:

The bureau provides a comprehensive program of rehabilitation, employment and independent living services focused on persons with disabilities. Through the bureau, Maine residents can access information about general services for persons with disabilities, services for the blind and visually impaired, and services for persons who are deaf, hard of hearing or late deafened.

MAINE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE COMMISSION

TONY PEVERADA, CHAIR

Established: 1936

Reference: Policy Area:01 ; Umbrella: 12 Unit: 172 ; Citation: T0026 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000001081

PURPOSE:

The Maine Unemployment Insurance Commission was established to hear higher authority appeal cases involving disputed claims for unemployment compensation benefits and challenged determinations of employer status and liability under the Employment Security Law. The commission may promulgate, amend or rescind rules, require reports, make investigations, and take other actions as necessary or suitable. The commission also conducts public hearings, upon proper petition or upon its own initiative, to determine the seasonal nature of an industry for unemployment benefit purposes.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Unemployment Insurance Commission consists of three members: a representative of labor, a representative of employers, and a representative of the general public who shall be impartial. The general public member must be an attorney admitted to the practice of law in the State, and is the chair of the commission. The Governor appoints three members, subject to review by the Joint Standing Committee on Labor and to confirmation by the Senate. Each member holds office for a term of six years, or until a successor has been duly appointed and confirmed.

PROGRAM:

The Unemployment Insurance Commission conducted adjudicatory hearings, in part by telephone in response to budgeting constraints. However, when warranted by caseload or complexity, in person hearings were held to ensure that claimants and employers were able to pursue their rights to a fair hearing. The commission's conducting of telephone hearings also allows for timelier processing of cases and has had a positive budgetary impact by reducing travel expenses. The largest number of cases that came before the commission during the fiscal year were disputed unemployment benefit appeals. The commission's processing of higher authority benefit appeals continue to exceed the Federal timeliness standards.

The commission also considered requests for waiver of overpayments pursuant to 26 MRSA, Section 1051(5), held hearings for tax setoffs under 36 MRSA, Section 5276(A), and considered Unemployment Tax Assessment and employer liability appeals. Also, the commission approved training programs for participation by claimants in accordance with 26 MRSA, Subsection 1192(6) and (6-C). The commission regularly reviews the Rules Governing the Administration of the Employment Security Law for possible revision.

The Commission itself was repealed by Public Law 2001, Chapter 352, effective September 21, 2001.

PROGRAM:

This program includes Maine's annual dues to two national organizations that serve as clearinghouses for information on State programs of national and international interest and provide support to state legislatures: the Council of State Governments and the National Conference of State Legislatures. The Council of State Governments/Eastern Regional Council is a bipartisan organization serving all 3 branches of government and provides a regional network for identifying and sharing ideas with state leaders and monitors activities in the federal government and their impact on state issues and programs. The National Conference of State Legislatures is a bipartisan organization which serves the legislators and legislative staff of the nation's 50 states, its commonwealths and territories with the objectives of improving the quality and effectiveness of state legislatures, fostering interstate communication and cooperation, and ensuring states a strong, cohesive voice in the federal system.

ORGANIZATION:

The Office is responsible for the operation and support of legislative computer systems, as well as for coordinating the design of the major applications that support the legislative process and the operations of individual legislative offices.

PROGRAM:

During Fiscal Year 2010, the Office of Legislative Information Services (LIS) completed the first phase of server consolidation into a virtual environment. File services, as well as many applications and databases, have been migrated from servers to virtual servers.

Software enhancements and upgrades were made to the Bill Drafting and Bill Status systems. A Fiscal Analysis system was developed to provide more detail and better access to fiscal information.

Database changes were designed to allow for the integration of several independent systems and ultimately improve the work flow process of bills and related information. The application changes are expected next fiscal year.

The Office of Information Services also supported production offices, the House of Representatives, the Senate and individual members, resolving problems and providing instruction in the use of technology throughout the fiscal year.

PURPOSE:

The Senate is the upper chamber of the Maine Legislature, and serves as the final confirming body of all bills passed before they are sent to the Governor. Under Article IV, Part Third, Section 9 of the Constitution of Maine, the Senate may originate all bills except those proposed for the purpose of raising revenue. It may, however, amend bills for the raising of revenue, provided that the amendment is not in fact used to introduce new raising of revenue.

The Senate is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members. It maintains sole authority to punish or censure its own members; it has the power to imprison persons who are not Senators for contempt; it determines its own rules for Senate proceedings; and it maintains a permanent journal of its proceedings.

By Constitutional Resolution, passed during the First Regular Session of the 107th Legislature and adopted by the voters in November, 1975, the Senate is empowered to confirm all gubernatorial nominations requiring Legislative approval (formerly confirmed by the Executive Council). Article IV, Part Second, Section 7, empowers the Senate to try all impeachments.

ORGANIZATION:

The Senate has remained constant in its form of organization as a Constitutional body since its establishment in 1820. As defined under Article IV, Part Second, Section 1 of the Constitution, the Senate currently consists of 35 Senators. Each Senator is elected for a term of two years, and limited to four consecutive terms. A Senator must be a citizen of Maine for at least one year, be a resident of the district for at least 3 months prior to the election and continue to reside within the district during the term of office, and be at least 25 years of age at the time of election.

The Constitution requires that the Senate be reapportioned every 10 years, by the Senate itself or, if the Senate fails to do so within the required time, by the Maine Supreme Judicial Court. In 2003, the Maine Supreme Judicial Court apportioned the Senate.

The Senate elects a President, who presides over all its proceedings; a Secretary and Assistant Secretary, who serve as chief administrative officers. The major political parties in the Senate each elect their own leaders and assistant leaders who, by statute (3 MRSA, Section 168), are permitted to hire their own staff assistants, with the approval of the presiding officer.

PROGRAM:

Under Article IV, Part Third, Section 1 of the Constitution of Maine, the Second Regular Session of the 124th Maine Legislature convened on Wednesday, January 6, 2010, met for 37 legislative days and adjourned sine die at 4:57 p.m. on Monday, April 12, 2010.

During this session, the Senate considered 182 Legislative Documents, 22 Senate-sponsored Joint Resolutions/Orders, and 94 Gubernatorial Nominations. The Senators submitted 199 proposed Amendments to the Secretary of the Senate for reproduction prior to consideration by the Senate.

The First Regular Session of the 125th Maine Legislature will convene on Wednesday, December 1, 2010.

The Constitution of Maine requires that the House of Representatives be reapportioned by the Legislature itself, or, if this is not done within the required period of time, by the Supreme Judicial Court. The Legislature's reapportionment plan must be enacted by a vote of 2/3 of the Members of each House and such action is subject to the Governor's approval.

Units:

*ADVISORY COUNCIL (TO MARINE RESOURCES)
DIVISION OF COMMUNITY RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER*

BUREAU OF MARINE PATROL BUREAU OF RESOURCE MANAGEMENT BUREAU OF SEA RUN FISHERIES AND HABITAT

PURPOSE:

The Department of Marine Resources was established to conserve and develop marine and estuarine resources of the State of Maine by conducting and sponsoring scientific research, promoting and developing the Maine commercial fishing industry, and by advising agencies of government concerned with development or activity in coastal waters.

Through the authority vested in its Commissioner, the Department of Marine Resources is empowered to conserve and develop the marine resources of the State, and to enforce the laws relating to marine resources. The department has the authority to enter into reciprocal enforcement agreement with other states, interstate regional authorities and the Federal Government; to cooperate, consult and advise with other appropriate state agencies on all interrelated matters involving the coast and its marine resources; to assist the industry in the promotion and marketing of its products; to close contaminated shores, waters and flats; to make regulations to assure the conservation of renewable marine resources in any coastal waters or flats of the State; and to hold hearings and to publish notices as may be required by law.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Marine Resources originated in 1867 with the establishment of Commissioners of Fisheries. In 1895, the Commissioners were renamed Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Game and a new Commissioner of Sea and Shore Fisheries was authorized, representing the first clear distinction between inland and coastal natural resources. In 1917, the Commissioner was replaced by a Commission of Sea and Shore Fisheries, and in 1931, the Commission became the Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries and the post of Commissioner was reestablished. Both the Advisory Council of the Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries and The Atlantic Sea Run Salmon Commission were created in 1947.

In State Government reorganization legislation of 1973, the 106th Legislature established the Department of Marine Resources, along with an expanded Marine Resources Advisory Council. Additional duties and responsibilities were assigned to the agency and its Council, along with those which previously were the responsibility of the Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries and its Advisory Council. Advisory councils are established by statute for the Lobster, Scallop, Sea Urchin, Shellfish and Recreational Fisheries, as well as Commercial Fishing Vessel Safety and Aquaculture. In addition, seven lobster policy management councils (Zones) are established with authority to hold referendum regarding lobster fishing regulations.

PROGRAM:

There has been significant effort to put needed management programs in place to assure sustainable fisheries. As management constraints are placed in traditional fisheries, participants in the fishing industry look to find other fisheries to move into; this places additional strain on those fisheries. The department continues to focus on conservation and management of marine resources, on seafood safety, boating safety, and marine education.

Significant fisheries management issues have occupied large amounts of time by the commissioner and staff involving both the New England Fisheries Management Council and the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission. The fisheries involved include: lobster, herring, groundfish, shrimp, striped bass, menhaden, herring, scallops, mahogany quahogs, and others. The scallop and groundfish plans as put forth by the New England council have caused significant concern with regard to the impact they would have on Maine's fishing fleet. Much energy has gone into guiding the process so that both fisheries management objectives and maintenance of the fleet could be attained. There will be continued demands on agency time to participate in development of federal and interjurisdictional fisheries management plans. The Department has specific regulation authority to place immediate restrictions on emerging new fisheries. The Department gathers both commercial and recreational fishery landings statistics.

Aquaculture is a significant component of the fisheries contribution to the state's economy. Most of the finfish development is concentrated in the eastern portion of the state in the Cobscook Bay area. Shellfish is more evenly distributed with significant concentration in the Damariscotta River area. As the industry develops new techniques, opportunities for economic growth of the industry will continue.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Marine Patrol (BMP) is the enforcement arm of the Department of Marine Resources. Marine Patrol Officers are responsible to enforce all marine commercial and recreational fishing laws and rules. This includes the enforcement of all shellfish harvesting, closed areas, processing, and interstate shipment laws and rules that are required by the National Shellfish Sanitation Program (NSSP). Under the NSSP Model Ordinance, the BMP is required to record and monitor over 230 closed areas, not to mention Red Tide and Flood Closures up and down the coast of Maine. The enforcement and monitoring of public safety and health laws have always been a high priority within patrol. Recently the Bureau has been given additional authority from the Maine Legislature to assist the United States Coast Guard with homeland security as warranted. Maine has 5,337 miles of coastline with some of the most productive fishing grounds in the world. Industry voluntary compliance and stringent enforcement of Marine Resources laws help to protect all natural resources. BMP enforces recreational fishing and boating laws. Maine has 125,000 state registered vessels.

ORGANIZATION:

The Warden Service, so named in 1947, was originally established as Fish Wardens in 1843, and was appointed by the Governor and Council. In 1917 the appointment authority was transferred to the Commissioner of Sea and Shore Fisheries (renamed Commissioner of Marine Resources in 1973). The Bureau has been an integral segment of the department throughout its existence. Division offices are located in Boothbay Harbor and Lamoine

PROGRAM:

The Bureau enforces the state's marine fisheries laws, federal regulations under a joint enforcement agreement, boating registration and safety laws, and environmental laws in cooperation with the Department of Environmental Protection; assist the United States Coast Guard with search and rescue operations on coastal waters; enforces all marine-related criminal laws; and, serves as a general service agency to coastal residents and visitors. The BMP partners with the Maine Emergency Management Agency for emergencies resulting from natural disasters, technological hazards and national security incidents.

PUBLICATIONS:

A pamphlet containing marine resource laws is published biannually following adjournment of the first regular session of each legislature.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Resource Management conducts scientific research and monitoring to conserve, restore, and manage the marine and estuarine fishery resources of the State of Maine; assures public health through sanitation of shellfish harvesting areas, harvesting, and processing, and distribution under the National Shellfish Sanitation Program standards; and conducts educational programs on marine resources. Long-term fishery monitoring programs and research are conducted to provide information on stock levels and environments of commercially and recreationally valuable marine organisms, and to provide scientific information, services and assistance to the public, industry and governments. The Bureau conducts water quality monitoring and pollution source identification for the classification of shellfish growing areas and biotoxin monitoring to ensure shellfish are safe for human consumption, and works with municipalities that are involved in municipal shellfish management programs. Approximately 71 towns of the 90 along the coast participate in shellfish management. The Bureau also assesses the impacts of construction and dredging projects proposed by individuals, municipal and federal governments, conducts oil spill response activities, and marine education programs for students and the general public.

The Bureau of Resource Management is engaged in interstate management of commercially and recreationally important species including American lobster, northern shrimp, Atlantic herring, striped bass, Atlantic menhaden, bluefish, horseshoe crab, and winter flounder through the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission. The Bureau participates in the Atlantic Coastal Cooperative Statistics Program, a coast wide initiative to improve the collection of commercial and recreational statistics. Scientific staff participates in data collection, stock assessment, and management plan development for species including groundfish, monkfish, sea scallops, ocean quahogs, and Atlantic herring that are managed by the New England and Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management

Councils and National Marine Fisheries Service.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau of Resource Management was established administratively in 1946 and is the oldest continuously operating marine research agency in the Gulf of Maine with a laboratory at McKown Point in Boothbay Harbor that includes fishery, microbiology and biotoxin laboratories; GIS mapping facilities; wet lab; scientific and fishermen's library; and the Maine State Aquarium. A microbiology and biotoxin laboratory located at Lamaine State Park serves the eastern section of the coast. The Bureau is comprised of four divisions: Biological Monitoring and Assessment, Ecology, Public Health, and Marine Education.

PROGRAM:

The Biological Monitoring and Assessment Division collects detailed catch, effort, and biological data from the fisheries for American lobster, Atlantic herring, northern shrimp, green sea urchin, groundfish, sea scallop, and sea cucumber. Samples are processed for length, weight, sex, state of maturity, gonad weight, and age composition for use in stock assessments and management. Fishery-independent surveys are conducted for sea urchin, juvenile lobster, ocean quahog, shrimp and sea scallop for assessment and management decisions. Commercial landings data are collected from seafood dealers and fishermen, and provided to the National Marine Fisheries Service and Atlantic Coastal Cooperative Statistics Program. Tagging studies are conducted on selected species such as Atlantic halibut and winter flounder. Scientists participate in stock assessments and fishery management plan development through the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission and New England Fishery Management Councils.

The Ecology Division conducts spring and fall surveys of marine resources along the coasts of Maine and New Hampshire; monitors the distribution of juvenile fish and their habitats in shallow coastal waters; surveys rainbow smelt spawning areas and develops conservation programs for finfish species of concern; reviews aquaculture lease applications; coordinates volunteer-assisted horseshoe crab spawning area survey; monitors fisheries for rockweed, blue mussels, and periwinkles; and conducts submerged aquatic vegetation mapping. Saltwater angler catches are sampled along the coast for the National Marine Fisheries Service Marine Recreational Fishery Statistics and Large Pelagics surveys. Long-term monitoring of atmospheric and oceanographic conditions in Boothbay Harbor is conducted. Bay management plan development and implementation is conducted with a focus on Taunton Bay in collaboration with local stakeholders.

The Public Health Division evaluates shellfish growing areas and conducts a wholesale dealer evaluation and certification program to protect public health under the National Shellfish Sanitation Program. Staff and volunteers conduct water quality monitoring of shellfish growing areas and shoreline surveys to identify pollution sources with the goal of increasing the amount of shellfish-producing areas open to harvesting. Biotoxin sampling is conducted to monitor the occurrence of Paralytic Shellfish Poisoning from "Red Tides" and close shellfish harvest areas as necessary to protect public health. Volunteers monitor phytoplankton in coastal waters to determine the presence of harmful algae. Area biologists work with municipalities with shellfish management programs.

The Marine Education Program operates the Maine State Aquarium from May through September and provides education programs for numerous school groups and others throughout the year. Educational and living history programs are conducted at the Burnt Island Lighthouse Station Resource Center. Educational materials are provided to schools throughout the year and presentations of living marine organisms are made at sportsman shows and other events throughout the year.

Central Office: 6 BEECH STREET, HALLOWELL, ME 04347

Legislative Count: 24.00

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Sea Run Fisheries and Habitat was created in 2007 when the Maine Atlantic Salmon Commission (Commission) was consolidated with DMR's Division of Stock Enhancement. The Bureau has the management responsibility for twelve diadromous species and is engaged in interstate management as it relates to their commercial and recreational importance.

The Bureau's overall mission is to conserve, manage restore and enhance diadromous fish populations to their historic range within the State; to secure sustainable commercial and recreational fisheries for diadromous species; and to conduct and coordinate projects involving research, planning, management, restoration or propagation of diadromous species.

Until 2010 the Maine Atlantic Salmon Commission remained as a policy board for the Management of sea-run Atlantic salmon. The Commission was ultimately abolished during the 124th Maine Legislature due to budget cuts and recognition that a single species management program had limited value within a multi-species management program. All responsibilities including policy direction and research programs were transferred to the Bureau.

The Bureau remains very active in the management of Atlantic salmon. Because this species is listed by the NOAA and the USFWS, the coordination and collaboration on projects involving research, planning, management, restoration or propagation remains a top priority. The Bureau has the sole authority to introduce Atlantic salmon into the inland waters, other than in commercial aquaculture facilities. In addition, the Commission has management responsibility for the Atlantic Salmon Conservation Plan and has cooperative management responsibilities with the Federal Atlantic Salmon Recovery Plan and the newly developed Atlantic Salmon Management Framework.

There are eleven other species of native diadromous fishes, each of which has specific habitat requirements and differing management needs. The historical ranges of commercially harvested species were fairly well documented by Maine's first Commissioners of Fisheries. Shortnose sturgeon and Atlantic sturgeon spawned only in the Kennebec and Penobscot rivers. Populations of Atlantic tomcod, rainbow smelt, and striped bass were more widely distributed along the coast, but generally did not migrate above the head-of-tide. Most watersheds had runs of alewife, American eel, American shad, Atlantic salmon, and blueback herring, and in large rivers these fish traveled almost 100 miles from the ocean. Sea lamprey and sea-run brook trout were not harvested commercially, and their historic ranges were not described. By the time the Commissioners of Fisheries were appointed in 1867 most runs of diadromous fishes were greatly reduced or extirpated. Much of the focus now is to restore access to historic habitat to restore these species to their fullest potential.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau's main office is in Hallowell with a field office in Bangor and another in Jonesboro. Because of the Maine's larger river systems and the nature of diadromous fishes life cycle, staff work in all counties of the state.

The Bureau Director with the oversight of the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner oversees management activities.

PROGRAM:

The Bureau has several major recovery areas:

Atlantic salmon focus areas are historic salmon rivers including the Aroostook, Penobscot, Kennebec, Androscoggin, Saco River, Dennys, East Machias, Machias, Pleasant, Narraguagus, Cove Brook, Duck Trap, and Sheepscot. This program involves stocking salmon at various life stages, enumerating and tagging wild salmon parr, identifying and restoring salmon habitat and access to the habitat, and water quality monitoring studies.

The Kennebec and Androscoggin Rivers are the focus of the most intense shad and river herring restoration on the east coast. This program is funded by the hydropower owners on the river who settled with the State and many NGOs at the time the Edwards Dam was removed. Beginning in 2010 the Bureau has begun a new effort on the Penobscot to restore river herring and shad. This effort is made possible by the success of the Penobscot River Restoration Program and the State of Maine's Penobscot River Multi Species Management Plan developed by DMR, IF&W, federal fisheries agencies and other NGO partners.

A major focus for diadromous fish restoration is the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's (FERC) licensing process for hydropower dams. This provides the best opportunity for state agencies to obtain fish passage. The re-licensing process often leads to comprehensive settlement agreements that encompass multiple projects, provide for sequential fish passage, eliminate the need for extensive litigation, and sometimes provide funding for restoration programs. State fisheries agencies expend considerable time and effort in the development of these agreements. Obtaining passage at hydropower projects within historic diadromous fish habitat remains a priority for DMR, because these dams are located on the mainstem of large rivers and impact the greatest number of diadromous fishes.

Habitat restoration and access to historic habitat remains has become a higher priority focus over the past 3 years. Aside from FERC re-licensing the Bureau has also refocused on the connectivity of smaller rivers and streams. Non hydro dams as well as road crossings continue to impact the passage of fish to historic habitat. The Bureau has organized a Stream Connectivity Working Group to prioritize barriers state wide and to secure funding to address passage needs.

PURPOSE:

Maine Maritime Academy is a college specializing in ocean and marine oriented programs at the undergraduate and graduate level, with emphasis on engineering, transportation, management, and ocean studies, as well as preparing officers for the merchant marine and the uniformed services of the United States. The mission of the college is to provide an educational environment which stimulates intellectual curiosity, fosters professional competency, encourages rigorous self-discipline, and develops leadership potential through a learning environment which emphasizes active student involvement in both the curricular and co-curricular educational process. The college provides public service to the state while perpetuating Maine's heritage of the sea.

ORGANIZATION:

The administrative organization of Maine Maritime Academy is structured to fulfill the mission set forth in its charter. This is accomplished through the following three divisions: Academic Affairs Division; Administrative Division; and Student Services Division. Under the policy guidance furnished by the Board of Trustees, the President of the Academy is the principal executive, being assisted by three division heads, each of whom oversees the respective operating departments. The operation of the Academy is subject to review by the Federal Government through the Maritime Administration, under regulations prescribed in 46 CFR, 310A. Fiscally, the Academy is supported by state appropriations, student fees and a subsidy from the Maritime Administration. The training ship 'State of Maine' is made available to the Academy by the Maritime Administration, which funds major repairs. The Academy pays the cost of operating the ship on training cruises and while in port in Castine from its operating budget.

The Academy, through its Board of Trustees, is empowered to provide facilities and support services; to hire instructors and other employees; to determine compensation and dispose of property; arrange for actual experience for its students; to borrow money not in excess of $10,000,000 in aggregate at any time outstanding for the construction of any buildings, improvement, or equipment; and to mortgage its property and pledge its revenues.

PROGRAM:

Academy headcount enrollment continues to average approximately 900 students. Students from the State of Maine typically represent about two thirds of this total. Over 95 percent of the year's graduating class is now professionally employed in a wide range of marine and non-marine related professions.

At the Bachelor of Science degree level, Power Engineering Technology supplements the traditional marine engineering majors. This course of study prepares graduates for positions as plant engineers, operating engineers, and plant managers in the shoreside power production industry. Additional majors are Marine Transportation Operations, Small Vessel Operations, International Business and Logistics and Marine Sciences. The Academy has also instituted a program which will enable graduates in certain majors to earn certification as teachers of science and mathematics in Maine.

The Academy also owns and operates the historic Arctic schooner Bowdoin. She provides training for students leading to an auxiliary sail license, aids in student recruitment and public information, and serves as an enduring symbol of Maine's seafaring heritage. The Corning School of Ocean Studies at Maine Maritime Academy prepares students for careers in resource management, aquaculture, and environmental protection.

PURPOSE:

The Department of Professional and Financial Regulation serves and protects the public through a broad range of responsibilities and activities, such as examining and overseeing state-chartered financial institutions; regulating bank holding companies; regulating insurance companies, agencies and producers; regulating grantors of consumer credit; administering and enforcing the Maine Uniform Securities Act; and by licensing and regulating numerous professions and occupations.

The Department protects Maine consumers through its licensing, examining and auditing activities. It conducts programs aimed at increasing voluntary compliance with State laws, investigates possible violations of law and undertakes enforcement actions. The Department responds to consumer complaints and requests for information and conducts educational and outreach programs to make consumers aware of their rights under Maine laws.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Business Regulation was created in October 1973 as part of State government reorganization designed to consolidate related agencies along functional lines and strengthen executive direction. Some of the agencies originally placed under the jurisdiction of the Department were the Bureau of Banking, the Bureau of Insurance, and the Real Estate Commission.

The Special Session of the 106th Legislature established the Bureau of Consumer Protection (eventually renamed the Bureau of Consumer Credit Protection) to enforce the Maine Consumer Credit Code, which became effective January 1, 1975. In 1987 the name of the Department was changed to Professional and Financial Regulation.

The special session of the 107th Legislature established a central licensing division, now called the Office of Licensing and Registration (OLR). Since that time, several new state licensing programs have been created and placed within OLR. Licensing programs have also been transferred to OLR from other departments, and existing independent agencies have been moved into OLR. Today, the Office oversees 37 professional and occupational licensing boards and directly administers 5 licensing programs without boards.

Today, the Department consists of a centralized Administrative Services Division, which includes the Commissioner's Office, and 5 agencies: the Bureau of Financial Institutions (formerly the Bureau of Banking), the Bureau of Insurance, the Bureau of Consumer Credit Protection (formerly the Office of Consumer Credit Regulation and renamed in 2007), the Maine Office of Securities, and the Office of Licensing and Registration.

In addition to the 37 licensing boards and 5 licensing programs directly administered by OLR, 6 professional licensing boards are also affiliated with the Department: the Board of Licensure in Medicine, the Maine State Board of Nursing, the Board of Dental Examiners, the Board of Registration for Professional Engineers, the Maine State Board of Optometry and the Board of Osteopathic Licensure.

PROGRAM:

The Commissioner is the administrative head of the Department. In this capacity, the Commissioner provides centralized budgeting coordination, initiates and monitors all policy implementation and strategic planning, and directs the day-to-day management of the Department. The Commissioner develops the Department's legislative program and coordinates it within the Department and with the Administration.

The Commissioner is responsible for reviewing the policy and operation of agencies within the Department to insure that each complies with its statutory and public service responsibilities. The Commissioner may not interfere with the exercise of discretionary regulatory or licensing authority vested by statute directly in the bureaus, offices, boards and commissions of the Department.

In the case of affiliated boards, the Commissioner acts as a liaison with the Governor and with other units of state government. Affiliated boards submit their budgets through the Department.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Consumer Credit Protection was established to protect the citizens of Maine from unfair and deceptive practices with respect to consumer loans, credit sales and debt collection. A primary responsibility of the agency is to protect Maine consumers through implementation of the Maine Consumer Credit Code. The Code requires the agency to promote the development of equitable consumer credit practices; encourage competition among credit grantors; and ensure that the regulation of consumer credit transactions in Maine conforms to the policies of the federal Truth-in-Lending Act.

In addition, the agency is responsible for administration of consumer-related state laws regulating retail creditors, mortgage companies, collection agencies, "plain language" consumer loan contracts, credit reporting agencies, loan brokers, mortgage loan originators, rent-to-own companies, pawnbrokers, personal finance companies, money order issuers, check cashers, foreign currency exchangers, non-bank ATM operators, debt management and debt settlement companies, repossession companies, payroll processors, credit and loan servicers, foreclosure purchasers, litigation funding companies, I.R.S. Code Section 1031 exchange facilitators, real estate transaction settlement agents, bad check diversion program providers, refund anticipation loan facilitators, insurance premium finance companies and payday lenders.

The agency is also responsible for facilitating the state's foreclosure prevention and education program, collecting information from mortgage lenders and servicers relating to financial consumers in default, and providing those consumers with information detailing the availability of counseling, mediation and legal defense resources. The agency administers and staffs a mortgage foreclosure prevention hotline (1-888-NO-4-CLOZ), providing financial counseling and referral services for consumers.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Consumer Credit Code, enacted by the 106th Legislature, became effective on January 1, 1975 and provided for the establishment of an independent Bureau of Consumer Protection within the Department of Business Regulation. All personnel of the Division of Personal and Consumer Finance of the Bureau of Banking were absorbed by the Bureau of Consumer Protection. The 110th Legislature changed the name of the agency to the Bureau of Consumer Credit Protection. Public Law 390 (1995) again changed the name of the agency, to the Office of Consumer Credit Regulation, effective January 1, 1996. This legislation also shifted responsibility consumer credit code for compliance by banks and credit unions to the Bureau of Financial Institutions. The 123rd Legislature re-designated the agency as the Bureau of Consumer Credit Protection, effective September 20, 2007.

PROGRAM:

During FY 10, the agency's Complaint Division responded to 4,920 consumer grievances, including 1,785 formal written complaints. Many were resolved through direct communications with creditors and lenders, while others required conferences or formal resolutions. As a result of the efforts of the Complaint Division, $235,336.09 was credited or refunded to consumers.

The Bureau's Compliance Examination Division conducted examinations of 158 creditors, 25 collection agencies, 25 loan brokers and 61 payroll processors, 4 credit reporting agencies, 12 money transmitters, 14 loan servicers, 2 repossession companies, and 4 debt management service providers. After reviewing 16,852 transactions, the Bureau cited creditors for 137 violations of Truth-in-Lending laws and 497 Consumer Credit Code violations. The number of serious violations discovered was greatly reduced from previous years, however, and the majority of disclosure violations did not require restitution to Maine consumers.

Examination violations resulted in $44,244.09 on behalf of Maine consumers. During FY10 the Bureau's foreclosure prevention and education staff mailed informational packages to over 40,000 homeowners in default on their home loans, received 2,300 calls on the foreclosure hotline, and made over 2,000 referrals to housing counselors under contract with the Bureau.

The agency licensed or registered the following creditors and businesses in FY 10: Supervised Lenders (235 main offices, 223 branches): 458; Other Creditors (excluding branches): 792*; Sales Finance Companies: 122; Insurance Premium Finance Companies: 4; Collection Agencies (773 main offices, 727 branches): 1,500; Loan Brokers: 138; Mortgage Loan Originators: 3,378; Credit Reporting Agencies: 30; Money Order Issuers: 40; Non-bank ATM Machine Operators: 981; Debt Management Service Providers (debt adjusters): 36; Check Cashers: 2; Payday Lenders: 11; Repossession Companies: 28; Litigation Funding Providers: 2; Foreclosure Purchases: 1; and Payroll Processors: 174. PURPOSE:

The Board of Dental Examiners was established to protect the lives and health of the people of the State of Maine through regulation of the practice of dentistry so as to maintain high professional standards. The primary responsibilities of the Board are to license qualified applicants for a certificate to practice dentistry, dental hygiene, denturism, dental radiography, expanded function dental assisting, or independent practice of dental hygiene in Maine; collect payment of specified fees to register dentists, dental hygienists, denturists and IPDH's biannually, and radiographers and EFDA's every five years who are practicing in the State; to make such rules, not contrary to law, as the Board deems necessary for the performance of its duties; to investigate all complaints and all cases of noncompliance with, or violations of, the provisions of laws relating to all licensees and to institute or cause to be instituted appropriate proceedings in connection therewith; and to affiliate with the American Association of Dental Boards as an active member.

ORGANIZATION:

The Board of Dental Examiners originally established in 1891 as the Board of Examiners for dentists, consists of five dentists, two dental hygiene members, a denturist member and one public member, all appointed by the Governor for a term of five years. Dentist members must be graduates of an accredited dental college and have been in the practice of dentistry in Maine for at least ten years immediately preceding the appointment. Dental hygienist members must be graduates of an accredited dental hygiene college and have been practicing dental hygiene in the State for at least 6 years immediately preceding appointment. Likewise, the denturist member must also be a graduate of a program approved by the Board. The Board, at its annual meeting, elects from its members a president, vice president and secretary-treasurer. The National Board and the Northeast Regional Board serve as examinations for licensure. As members of the Northeast Regional Boards, each year Board members are assigned schools at which they administer the exam.

PROGRAM:

During fiscal year 2010, the Board of Dental Examiners met at least monthly with lengthy agendas, including interviews for licensure, consumer and licensee complaints, informal conferences, and adjudicatory hearings with licensees, consumers, and their attorneys.

Twenty-four dentists became newly licensed in the State of Maine for a total of 825 dentists currently registered for the biennium 2009-2011. Of these, 159 list an out of state residence and/or practice. The Board issued 52 new licenses to hygienists totaling 1389 licensees, 117 of which are out-of-state. The Board issued no new denturists licenses this fiscal year, making the total number of Maine licensed denturists 49. Of these, 22 list an out of state residence and/or practice. Registered dental radiographers now total 1317. Ninety-eight dentists hold permits to administer moderate sedation or general anesthesia/deep sedation.

The Board issued 45 new local anesthesia permits to Maine-licensed hygienists this fiscal year, which brings the total number to 510. Twenty-seven new nitrous oxide permits were issued to licensed hygienists this fiscal year, which brings the total number to 169. The Board also issued thirteen new certificates to practice as an expanded function dental assistant bringing the total number to sixteen. In addition, the Board issued six independent practice dental hygiene licenses during fiscal year 2010. The Board also employs Public Health Supervision Status for dental hygienists, which allows them to provide services in settings outside a dental office (as well as in the dental office outside the

PURPOSE:

The State Board of Licensure for Professional Engineers was established to protect the public through regulation of the practice of engineering in the

DEPARTMENT OF PROFESSIONAL AND FINANCIAL REGULATION

State of Maine so as to maintain high professional standards. The Board is authorized to examine, certify, and grant licenses to applicants who satisfactorily qualify as Professional Engineers or Engineer-Interns in the State, upon payment of specified fees; to publish and distribute a roster of all licensed professional engineers; to make rules not inconsistent with state laws relating to engineers; to investigate complaints of alleged violations of such laws, conduct hearings, subpoena witnesses and institute disciplinary action as warranted.

ORGANIZATION:

The State Board of Licensure for Professional Engineers, established in 1935, is composed of 7 members. Six members are appointed by the Governor, of which 5 must be Professional Engineers, and one must be a public member. The 7th member is the Chief Engineer of the Department of Transportation who shall serve as an ex officio voting member. Members serve for terms of five years. The Board annually elects from its membership a Chair and Vice-Chair. The Board maintains membership in the National Council of Examiners for Engineering and Surveying (NCEES). Members participate in the activities of the Council, with serving on Council Committees. Individual members of the Board also maintain membership in state and national engineering societies. These efforts help in keeping abreast of the activities of the engineering profession. The Board uses the Uniform Written Examination as provided by the NCEES for both the Fundamental (FE) and Principles and Practice (PE) examinations. Boards of all 50 states, the District of Columbia and 4 territorial jurisdictions use the NCEES examinations. This helps in attaining better uniformity in conducting comity among the States and assures minimum competence to practice.

PROGRAM:

During FY 2010, 333 candidates successfully completed the requirements for licensure as Professional Engineers. Of that number, 77 qualified through written examination, 255 by Comity with other jurisdictions, and 1 by oral examination. Comity candidates are rapidly licensed as their credentials have been previously gathered and verified. As of June 30, 2010, a total of 5,571 engineers were licensed. Approximately 65% reside out of state. During FY 2010, 257 applicants were examined for certification as Engineer-Interns. Of those examined, 182 passed.

Two periods of written examinations are given each year by the Board, in the fall and in the spring. Fall examinations were given at Orono on October 23, 2009 for 40 Professional Engineer candidates and on October 24, 2009 for 112 Engineer-Intern candidates. Of those taking the PE exam, 21 passed. Of those taking the FE exam, 70 passed. Spring examinations were given at Orono, on April 16, 2010. 46 candidates sat for the PE exam in Orono. Also on April 17, 2010, 187 candidates sat for the FE exam Orono. Of those taking the PE exam, 30 passed. Of those taking the FE exam, 112 passed. There were no oral exam candidates in FY 2010. The Board held 5 meetings during FY 2010. These were held August 6, 2009, November 19, 2009, January 28, 2010, March 25, 2010 and June 17, 2010.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Financial Institutions was established to supervise all financial institutions chartered by the State to maintain and promote: safe and sound financial practices; strength, stability and efficiency of financial institutions; security of deposit and share funds; reasonable and orderly competition; and development and expansion of financial services advantageous to the public welfare.

The Bureau has been given the authority and responsibility to: promulgate rules and regulations to govern the activities, operations and procedures of financial institutions; conduct an on-site examination of each financial institution supervised by the Bureau at least every 36 months; require reports and information necessary for proper supervision; summon persons and subpoena witnesses in connection with Bureau matters; order any person to cease violating any law or regulation or cease engaging in any unsafe and unsound financial practice; and approve or deny applications for new charters and applications by existing financial institutions to merge, acquire, consolidate, close offices or convert to another charter. In January, 1996, the Bureau assumed the responsibility for enforcing Title 9-A M.R.S.A., the Maine Consumer Credit Code, with respect to financial institutions. In 2004, the Bureau assumed the responsibility for licensing payroll processors that are financial institutions or subsidiaries of financial institutions.

ORGANIZATION:

From the date of Maine's statehood until 1831 only occasional committees were appointed by the Legislature to examine certain banks whenever deemed expedient. In 1831, the Legislature directed the Governor and Council to appoint two Commissioners who were required to examine each incorporated bank at least once a year. The powers and duties of the Commissioners were gradually broadened to: include authorization to supervise every state bank and savings bank in the state; set forth procedures to guard against unsafe practices; approve mergers and new charters under a public convenience and advantage standard; act as conservator and receiver of troubled institutions; and supervise and regulate credit unions. In conjunction with a 1973 state government reorganization, the Bureau of Banks and Banking was placed within the Department of Business Regulation. Legislation enacted during the 1st Regular Session of the 120th

DEPARTMENT OF PROFESSIONAL AND FINANCIAL REGULATION

Maine Legislature changed the name of the agency to the Bureau of Financial Institutions effective January 1, 2002.

In early 1985, a re-organization resulted in the implementation of the current structure for the Bureau of Financial Institutions. It is currently an agency within the Department of Professional and Financial Regulation and divided into two functional groups with the responsibility for coordination and development of each area delegated to a senior manager. The Deputy Superintendent, Examinations, supervises the Bureau's field examination staff, coordinates and monitors examinations and provides close supervision of problem institutions. The Deputy Superintendent, Research and Administration, is responsible for the development of the Bureau's database, bank monitoring systems, legislative and rulemaking activities, financial analyses, applications processing, consumer complaint resolutions, consumer outreach activities, and management of the office staff.

PROGRAM:

The Examination Division is responsible for examining in the areas of safety and soundness, information systems, bank holding companies, trust services and compliance. During Fiscal Year 2010, 19 safety and soundness examinations and 42 specialized examinations (i.e., trust, compliance and information technology) were completed. In addition, 2 joint examinations were conducted with the FDIC. A computer-based system also monitors bank performance between on-site visits.

In Fiscal Year 2010, the Bureau received and processed 19 notifications from Maine financial institutions to establish, close or relocate one or more branches in Maine. The Bureau also processed an application from a Maine financial institution to purchase certain assets and deposits from another Maine financial institution, an application to establish a nondepository trust company and an application by an out-of-state company to acquire control of a Maine financial institution holding company. The latter two applications were still pending at fiscal yearend.

The Consumer Outreach Program provides a source of information for users of financial services in Maine. Through this program, the Bureau mediates disputes and interacts with the regulated community to resolve individual situations. In Fiscal Year 2010, the Bureau responded to 1053 consumer complaints and inquiries and assisted Maine consumers in obtaining $25,660 in restitution and other projected savings. The Bureau maintains a Consumer Information Web site, an Internet-based resource where consumers can learn about identity theft, computer scams, foreclosure assistance tools, and a variety of other topics related to financial products and services. In addition, Bureau Outreach Staff makes presentations to various consumer groups.

PURPOSE:

To regulate all insurance entities and persons authorized to transact the business of insurance in Maine for the purpose of protecting the public interest. To accomplish this purpose the Bureau is empowered to license insurance companies, non-profit hospital, medical or other health service organizations, health maintenance organizations, medical utilization review entities, third-party administrators, advisory organizations, captive insurance companies, multiple employer welfare arrangements, and reinsurance intermediaries/managers. The Bureau registers preferred provider organizations, risk purchasing groups, risk retention groups, managing general agents, and employee leasing plans.

The Bureau examines domestic insurers not less than once every five years to assess the soundness of the insurer's financial position. In addition, the Bureau has certain limited responsibilities for the examination of foreign insurers authorized to do business in the state. The Bureau also reviews the annual financial statements of insurance companies, and examines and issues licenses to all qualified applicants for licenses as insurance producers, consultants, adjusters and corporations. The Bureau is responsible for the administration of the rate-regulatory law of the State of Maine, and all policy forms, contracts, illustrations, and the advertising/marketing materials for several lines of business used in Maine which must be filed by insurance companies for approval by the Bureau. The Bureau is responsible for authorizing and reviewing self-insurance status for both individual and group self-insurers for workers compensation.

The Bureau may seek suspension or revocation of licenses, or impose financial penalties in instances where insurance companies, producers, consultants or adjusters have failed to comply with the lawful regulations of the Bureau or the statutory provisions of Title 24 or of Title 24-A. Such enforcement action may result from a complaint or other investigation or a market conduct examination undertaken by the Bureau.

ORGANIZATION:

In 1868 a State Bank and Insurance Examiner was appointed and charged with making annual examinations of banks and insurance companies. Two years later, in 1870, the Office of the Insurance Commissioner was created, with the provision that this person could not at the same time serve as the Examiner of

DEPARTMENT OF PROFESSIONAL AND FINANCIAL REGULATION

Banks. The Office of the Insurance Commissioner became the Insurance Department in 1959.

Under the plan for State Government reorganization, the Insurance Department became the Bureau of Insurance and was placed within the Department of Professional and Financial Regulation, effective October 3, 1973.

PROGRAM:

The programs of the Bureau are implemented through various work units.

The Property and Casualty Unit provides consumer assistance, analyzes and regulates policy forms and rates for property and casualty insurance. The Property and Casualty Unit also receives and resolves complaints and disputes involving workers' compensation rating and reviews all workers' compensation rate, rule, and form filings.

Alternative Risk Markets Unit reviews and evaluates applications for workers' compensation self-insurance authority, captive insurance, multiple employer welfare arrangements, continuing care retirement communities, health alliances and reinsurance arrangements. Alternative Risk Markets Unit also oversees the Maine Self-insurance Guaranty Association and coordinates document filing and report completion as well as other related information requests with other agencies and departments.

The Administrative Unit is responsible for the organization and maintenance of administrative and legislative files; the Licensing Unit processes licenses for producers, adjusters, consultants and agencies; the Examination Unit examines domestic insurance companies; the Financial Analysis Unit performs financial reviews of insurance companies and licenses companies seeking to do business in Maine. Legal assistance is provided to each unit and the Superintendent through in-house attorneys who work closely with the Department of the Attorney General.

Enforcement actions undertaken by the Bureau are pursued in coordination with the relevant section.

The Life and Disability Unit, within the Consumer Health Care Division, reviews life, disability, and annuity policy (and rates), processes consumer complaints and requests for information, and processes licenses for viatical settlement entities.

The Consumer Health Care Division reviews health and long-term care policy forms, processes license applications for medical utilization review entities and preferred provider organizations, reviews managed care networks, and provides information to consumers regarding health care plans, assists enrollees to understand their rights and responsibilities under health care plans, and assists consumers with health care plan complaints.

The Life and Health Actuarial Unit reviews rates and maintains databases for and evaluates mandated health insurance benefits. The Market Conduct Unit examines companies for specific areas of compliance where adverse trends are noted as well as performs general market conduct examinations.

BOARD OF LICENSURE IN MEDICINE

SHERIDAN OLDHAM, MD, CHAIRWOMAN
RANDAL MANNING, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Central Office: 161 CAPITOL ST., AUGUSTA, ME 04330

Legislative Count: 9.00

PURPOSE:

The Board of Licensure in Medicine was established in 1895 to safeguard the lives and health of the people of Maine, and through regulation to maintain high professional standards and quality of medical practice. To accomplish this duty to protect the public, the Board was authorized to license, educate, monitor, and discipline physicians and physician assistants and to establish appropriate rules and standards for medical practice.

The responsibilities of the Board are to: 1) LICENSE - by determining the qualifications for licensure by examining and/or certifying candidates desiring admission to medical practice in Maine; registering physician supervision and delegation relationships; biennially re-licensing physicians and surgeons based upon documentation of standards of practice for physicians and surgeons; promulgating rules and regulations deemed necessary; 2) EDUCATE - by directing medical education programs; notifying the public of a licensee's status and of disciplines taken by the Board; 3) DISCIPLINE - by investigating complaints and allegations of non-compliance with the laws, rules, and regulations relating to physicians and physician assistants; holding hearings and taking disciplinary action as appropriate (i.e. probation, warning, censure, reprimand, fine, suspension or revocation).

The Board is also authorized to: 1) approve training programs for physician assistants and to determine the qualifications for licensure; and 2) biennially renew licenses of qualified physician assistants. Physician assistants must enter into a registered delegated relationship with a licensed Maine physician, allowing the physician to significantly extend the physician assistant's scope of practice, and making access to patient care more available and less costly.

ORGANIZATION:

When established in 1895, the Board of Registration of Physicians and Surgeons consisted of 6 physicians appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Council, for terms of 6 years. The Board began licensure in January 1896. Today, members are appointed by the Governor only. In 1975 the Legislature increased membership to 7 by authorizing the appointment of a public member. In 1983 the Board was enlarged by 1 physician and 1 public member to total of 9. A third public member position was created by the Legislature effective in 1991. Legislation in 1994 changed the name to the Board of Licensure in Medicine. In 1998 the Legislature reduced membership to 9, by eliminating 1 physician member.

It also created the function of "consumer assistant" to help citizens understand the complaint and disciplinary process. Currently the Board is composed of 6 physicians and 3 public members appointed by the Governor to staggered 6 year terms.

In July of odd-numbered years the Board meets and elects a chairman and a secretary-treasurer. Regular meetings as required by law are held each March, July, and November. Other meetings are held as necessary. The Board held 11 meetings during the last year. Meetings are open to the public and are announced in newspapers and in the "Weekly Legislative Calendar." Any person may receive a public agenda in advance of any meeting by visiting the Board's Internet Address: <http://www.maine.gov/md> or by telephone request to the Board office.

The Board became an affiliate of the Dept. of Professional and Financial Regulation in 1991, while retaining operational management and decision-making autonomy.

DEPARTMENT OF PROFESSIONAL AND FINANCIAL REGULATION

Physician appointees to the Board must be graduates of legally chartered colleges or universities which confer allopathic medicine degrees and must have actively engaged in the licensed practice of medicine in Maine for at least 5 years preceding appointment. Public members or an immediate household member may earn no income from activities related to the practice of medicine.

To aid in the formulation of rules and regulations governing Physician Assistants, the Board appointed a Physician Assistant Advisory Committee, and participates in a Joint Conference Committee with the Maine Board of Nursing to exchange views regarding overlaps in the practice of medicine and nursing. The 1995 Legislature created the Advanced Practice Nursing Joint Advisory Council, on which the Board had a seat, to help guide the development of regulation and scope of independent practice of Advanced Practice Nurses. This Council was dissolved by the 119th Legislature. The 124th Legislature repealed a provision in the laws governing registered nurses relating to delegated medical procedures that are already within the scope of practice of certain advanced practice registered nurses, thus ending physician delegation of Advanced Practice Registered Nurses (APRN).

Organizations in which the Board participates include the Eastern Region Medical Boards, the Federation of State Medical Boards, and Administrators In Medicine.

PROGRAM:

LICENSURE: The Board uses the nationally recognized United States Medical Licensing Examination, a series of three exams, to evaluate basic science, clinical knowledge, and practice skills. A written examination of Maine laws and Board rules, policies and guidelines must be passed by every applicant before permanent licensure is granted.

COMPLAINTS, INVESTIGATIONS, AND DISCIPLINE: The Board receives allegations of unprofessional conduct or incompetence from the public, hospital governing bodies, the profession, other state and national agencies, and law enforcement agencies. If grounds for discipline are found by the Board, it may, after holding a due-process public hearing, suspend or revoke a license, or for less serious offenses issue warnings, censures, reprimands or impose fines. The Board may order license suspensions of up to 90 days in situations of imminent danger to the public. Disciplines are reported to the National Practitioner Databank, the Health Improvement Protection Act Databank and the Federation of State Medical Boards' Databank.

License and discipline information is available at no cost at the Board office, by telephone, and at the Board's Internet Address: <http://www.maine.gov/md>

Legislative Count: 7.00

PURPOSE:

The State Board of Nursing was established to protect the public through regulation of nursing practice in the State of Maine so as to maintain high professional standards. The primary responsibilities of the Board, by law, are to license, by examination or endorsement, all applicants qualified to practice as registered nurses, licensed practical nurses or as advanced practice nurses; to renew the licenses of all qualified registered nurses, practical nurses and advanced practice nurses; to investigate complaints of unsafe nursing practice or any violation of laws relating to nursing; and determine, in collaboration with the Attorney General, if the case should be presented for a formal hearing by the Administrative Court; to adopt rules and regulations governing licensure of nurses and other matters within its jurisdiction; to approve programs of training that prepare certified nursing assistants to perform selected nursing services when such services are delegated by a registered nurse. Additional responsibilities of the Board are to prescribe curricula and establish standards for educational programs preparing persons for licensure as registered nurses or as licensed practical nurses; to approve nursing educational programs in the State as meet the requirements of law and the standards established by the Board; to survey all such nursing educational programs as deemed necessary to determine that the requirements of the law and Board standards are being maintained; to deny or withdraw approval from such nursing educational programs for failure to meet requirements; and to approve the credentials of registered nurses who have completed an educational program that prepares the registered nurse to function as an advanced practice registered nurse. An advanced practice registered nurse includes the following: certified nurse practitioner, certified nurse-midwife, certified registered nurse anesthetist and certified clinical nurse specialist.

ORGANIZATION:

The State Board of Nursing was originally created as the Board of Examination and Registration of Nurses in 1915 and received its present name in 1959. From 1947 until 1961, the Board's office was located in Lewiston. In 1961, the office was moved to Portland, and in 1973, it was relocated to Augusta. In 1991, the Board of Nursing was affiliated with the Department of Professional and Financial Regulation.

DEPARTMENT OF PROFESSIONAL AND FINANCIAL REGULATION

In 1995, an advanced practice registered nurse member was added to the Board of Nursing, which changed the composition of the Board as follows: six registered professional nurses, one licensed practical nurse, and two representatives of the public. All members are appointed by the Governor for terms of four years. The Board annually elects from its membership a chairperson and a secretary. Also, the Board appoints and employs an executive director, assistant executive director, and other qualified persons, not members of the Board.

PROGRAM:

During fiscal year 2010, the Board met in four regular sessions for a total of eight days; the Board met in seven subcommittee sessions for a total of seven days; the Board met in five adjudicatory hearing sessions for a total of four days. In addition, Board members participated in committee meetings; served as visitors on site visits to educational programs in nursing; served on committees of the National Council of State Boards of Nursing; and represented the Board at conferences or meetings with individuals or groups on matters pertinent to Board business. A major responsibility of the Board of Nursing is the licensure of practitioners of nursing. The law provides that licensure as a registered nurse or as a licensed practical nurse in this State may be obtained by examination or endorsement of a license legally issued by the licensing authority of another state or country. On July 1, 2001, Maine implemented the Interstate Compact which allows for recognition of the registered professional nurse's license and licensed practical (or vocational) nurse's license if the nurse is from another Compact state.

A second major responsibility of the Board of Nursing is approval of all basic nursing programs that prepare persons for licensure in Maine, either as registered nurses or as licensed practical nurses. Maine has 19 Board-approved nursing programs: 14 to prepare registered nurses and five to prepare practical nurses. The names of these programs follows: Baccalaureate degree nursing programs: University of Southern Maine; St. Joseph's College; Husson University/E.M.M.C.; University of Maine; and University of Maine at Fort Kent. Associate degree nursing programs: Central Maine Medical Center; University of Maine at Augusta; Kennebec Valley Community College; Westbrook Campus of the University of New England; Northern Maine Community College; Central Maine Community College; Eastern Maine Community College; and Southern Maine Community College. In addition, the University of Southern Maine has a generic Masters in Nursing Program for Non-Nurses. Practical nursing programs are approved to be offered at the community colleges and currently, Intercoast Career Institute has an initial approval to offer a practical nursing program.

A third major responsibility of the Board of Nursing is to impose sanctions on licensees who violate the law through the exercise of its legal, investigative and disciplinary program. During fiscal year 2010, the Board received 278 provider reports or complaints of illegal or unsafe nursing practice. The Board took the following actions in FY 2010: revocation of license (7); suspended license (3); accepted voluntary surrender of license (8); placed license on probation (29); warned, censured, reprimanded or fined (8); terminated probation (1); took no action/dismissed complaint (147); license renewal denied (0); fined for unlicensed practice (127); denied licensure by endorsement (4); denied licensure by examination (0); denied reinstatement (2); letters of concern were issued (64).

In November, 2005, the Board successfully launched its online licensure renewal program with an average utilization rate of 92%.

PURPOSE:

The Board of Osteopathic Licensure was established to protect the public through regulation of the practice of osteopathic medicine so as to maintain high professional standards. Its primary responsibilities are to determine the eligibility of, certify and license qualified applicants to practice osteopathic medicine in Maine. The Comprehensive Osteopathic Medical Licensing Examination-USA (COMLEX-USA) is the accepted exam for licensure in Maine. Upon payment of specified fees, the Board can issue, renew, withhold, suspend or seek revocation of all licenses. Furthermore, the Board has the power to make rules it considers necessary for the successful enforcement of its authority and the performance of its duties. As part of the biennial renewal process, the Board prepares and distributes its rules relative to continuing medical education and its code of ethics to each osteopathic physician licensed to practice in Maine.

DEPARTMENT OF PROFESSIONAL AND FINANCIAL REGULATION

ORGANIZATION:

The Board of Osteopathic Licensure, when it was established in 1919, consisted of 5 members appointed by the Governor with the advice of the Council, for terms of 5 years. In 1976, the Legislature increased the Board to 6 members, all to be appointed by the Governor. Currently, the Board consists of 9 members appointed by the Governor. 6 of these members must be graduates of a legally chartered college of osteopathic medicine and must be, at the time of appointment, actively engaged in the practice of the profession of osteopathic medicine in the State for a period of at least 5 years, and 3 of these members must be public members. A chair, vice-chair, and secretary-treasurer, elected annually, are chosen by and from the members of the Board.

PROGRAM:

Revision of statutes relating to the Board of Osteopathic Licensure in 1973 specified an increase in the registration fee from four to twenty-five dollars per year voted in the June, 1982 meeting to become effective January, 1983. The Board, at its meeting on July 8, 1987, made plans for increasing the registration fee to increase the revenue to meet expenses. Currently, licensees renew biennially on their birth month with the renewal fee capped at $600. Statutes specify one annual meeting with special meetings authorized by the Chair of the Board. Currently, the Board meets monthly.

Continuing medical education requirements have been increased to 100 hours biennially. The Board insists that at least forty percent of the credit hours must be Category 1 hours as approved in the rules established by the Board. Each licensee must furnish to the Board satisfactory evidence of attendance in the 2 preceding years at education programs sponsored by recognized associations, colleges or universities, hospitals, institutes or groups approved by the Board. PURPOSE:

The principal mission of the Office of Securities is to protect Maine investors.

To accomplish this mission, the Office administers and enforces the Maine Uniform Securities Act. The Office reviews applications to register securities for sale in Maine and filings for exemptions from registration; licenses broker-dealers, agents, investment advisers, and investment adviser representatives doing business in Maine; suspends or revokes those licenses for misconduct, as defined in the Act; conducts on-site examinations of the operations of licensees; administers an investor education program; responds to consumer complaints; investigates possible violations of the securities laws; and, when warranted by the circumstances, issues cease and desist and other administrative orders or refers matters to the Attorney General for civil or criminal action. The Office also enforces the State Commodity Code and the Regulations of the Sale of Business Opportunities.

ORGANIZATION:

In 1913, two years after Kansas adopted the first "blue sky" law, Maine enacted a statute relating to "Dealers in Securities," to be administered by the Bank Commissioner. Over the years, that law was the subject of numerous changes, including the creation of a Securities Division, the establishment of a requirement for the registration of securities offerings, and the addition of antifraud and civil liability provisions. In 1986, legislation was passed giving the Securities Division enforcement powers over the sale of certain types of business opportunities and commodity contracts. In 1989, the Legislature transferred from the Bank Superintendent to the Securities Administrator the responsibility for administering and enforcing the securities laws, and, in 2001, the Securities Division was separated from the Bureau of Banking, becoming the Office of Securities.

In 2005, the Legislature approved the Maine Uniform Securities Act (MUSA) which became effective on December 31, 2005. MUSA represented the first major overhaul of the state's securities laws since 1985. Maine adopted MUSA as part of a national effort to increase uniformity in state securities law, thus eliminating unnecessary burdens on the regulated industry, while still maintaining strong investor protection.

DEPARTMENT OF PROFESSIONAL AND FINANCIAL REGULATION

PROGRAM:

In fiscal year 2010, the Office received and processed 29,487 applications to register securities or notice filings for federally covered securities (decrease of .4% over fiscal year 2009), and 282 private placement filings (increase of 4%). As of June 2010, there were 1,313 broker-dealers licensed to do business in Maine (1% decrease over June 2009), 82,184 licensed agents of broker-dealers (increase of 8%), 944 investment adviser licensees or notice filers (increase of 1%), and 1,827 licensed investment adviser representatives (5% increase). In connection with the Office's review of licensing applications, the Office processed 116 broker-dealer applications (30% increase), 21,788 agent applications (2% increase), 9 investment adviser license applications (50% increase), and 291 investment adviser representative applications (25% increase). The Office now receives and processes most securities filings and license applications electronically.

In fiscal year 2010, the Office conducted 10 examinations of licensee offices. In fiscal year 2010, through its enforcement efforts, the Office sanctioned 14 respondents. The Office obtained $6,522,924.02 in restitution for investors and assessed $2,128,275.92 in penalties for violations of Maine's securities and business opportunity laws. The Office entered into 4 consent agreements, 9 consent orders, and 1 summary cease and desist order. The Office referred 3 cases for civil or criminal prosecution and has 3 criminal cases awaiting trial.

With assistance from the Office of the Attorney General, the Office of Securities successfully prosecuted 3 additional criminal cases, 2 of which resulted in prison terms and 1 which is awaiting trial. Additionally, the Office has one criminal case involving an individual who is a fugitive. In fiscal year 2010 the Office collected $25,963,331 for the General Fund (6% increase over 2009) through its filing fees (registration, licensing, and notice filing fees) and penalties.

PURPOSE:

The Office of Program Evaluation and Government Accountability assists the Legislature in ensuring that public funds are expended in the most effective, efficient and economical manner possible. It also aids the Legislature in ensuring that such funds are used to support activities and functions that produce satisfactory results and comply with State and Federal mandates.

ORGANIZATION:

The Legislature created this non-partisan office by statute, PL 2001, chapter 702, with an effective date of July 25, 2002, but the start-up of the office did not occur until the Director was hired in January 2005. The Director is appointed by the Legislative Council for a term of 5 years. By Joint Rule, the Legislature established the 12-member, bi-partisan and bi-cameral Government Oversight Committee which oversees the activities of the office.

PROGRAM:

The Office of Program Evaluation and Government Accountability conducts independent and objective performance audits and evaluations of state agencies, programs and functions. As necessary, OPEGA also conducts reviews of other entities receiving public funds administered by the State, or which expend private monies for public purposes. Such other entities include: local and county governments, special districts, utility districts, regional development agencies, municipal or nonprofit corporations, state contractors and any public official or public employee.

Performance audit and evaluation topics are selected by the Government Oversight Committee according to an established process. The Office defines the scope of each project in conjunction with the Committee, but then performs the review without any further direction from the Committee. The work of the Office is normally guided by the GAO Government Auditing Standards and follows an established process that provides for on-going communication with the entity under review.

The Office produces a final report on each review discussing the work performed, the conclusions reached, and any identified areas for improvement with related recommendations. The report is released and orally-presented to the Committee during a public meeting and is then distributed as a public record.

PURPOSE:

The Department of Public Safety was established to serve the people by providing, coordinating and leading a responsive and comprehensive public safety system to protect their lives, rights and properties.

Employees of the Maine Department of Public Safety will continue to serve the public to the best of our ability by being dedicated and accountable and by managing resources effectively and efficiently. We seek to preserve the public order and to protect the persons, property, rights and privileges of all people in the State through ethical leadership and the development of our employees, while upholding and respecting the constitutional rights of all persons to liberty, equity and justice.

ORGANIZATION:

The Department of Public Safety was created in 1971, consolidating the former Department of State Police, the Enforcement Division of the State Liquor Commission, the employees of the Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission, the Division of State Fire Prevention of the Department of Insurance and the Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Academy, under the Commissioner of Public Safety. In 1978, the Bureau of Capitol Police was added to the organization of the Department. The responsibility for the administration of the Highway Safety Program from the Department of Transportation was added and in 1990 the Legislature changed the name to the Bureau of Highway Safety.

The Maine Drug Enforcement Agency and the Maine Drug Enforcement Agency Advisory Board were created by the 113th Legislature to develop and carry out a Statewide Drug Enforcement Program. Beginning on January 1, 1989 the E911 Advisory Committee was established to assist and advise the Department in the implementation of a statewide E911 System. Chapter 566, P.L. 1993, created the Emergency Services Communications Bureau within the Department which is responsible for statewide implementation and management of the E911 System and the E911 Advisory Board was changed to the E911 Council. In 2004, the Emergency Services Communications Bureau was transferred to the Maine Public Utilities Commission by the Legislature. Chapter 588, P.L. 1991, transferred the responsibility for Emergency Medical Services from the Department of Human Services to Public Safety.

During 1993, the 116th Legislature created the Missing Children Information Clearinghouse requiring the Department to collect and disseminate complete information related to missing children. In 2003, the Maine Bureau of Liquor Enforcement was abolished by the Legislature. Public Safety now has jurisdiction over liquor licensing and liquor administrative matters.

The 121st Legislature passed LD 1683, An Act Relating to the Establishment of a Central Maine Regional Public Safety Communication Center, as Public Law Chapter 678. Historically, emergency communications dispatch has been the responsibility of the Bureau of State Police within the Department of Public Safety. The State Police ran four dispatch centers in Houlton, Orono, Augusta and Gray which provided services not only for themselves, but for several other state agencies, some municipalities, the Maine Turnpike Authority and for Aroostook County. The Policy Board legislation called for a separate communications unit within the Department. This administrative change was achieved in FY07. Fifty-four existing Emergency Communications Specialist positions and six Emergency Communications Supervisor position were transferred from the Bureau of State Police into the new Consolidated Emergency Communications Bureau. In addition, to provide the unit with a civilian director, the position of Director, Bureau of Consolidated Emergency Communications was created. The new Director began on October 25, 2006. The Bureau of Building Codes and Standards was established within the Department of Public Safety to provide administrative support and technical assistance to the Codes and Standards Board, established in Title 5, section 12004-G, subsection 5-A.

PROGRAM:

Other than Administration of the Department, the activities during 2010 are discussed in the individual reports of its Bureaus. During FY2006, all financial and human resources functions were consolidated into the Department of Administrative and Financial Services.

FINANCES, FISCAL YEAR 2010: The expenditure information for this unit was generated from the Budget and Financial Management System (BFMS).

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Capitol Police is a law enforcement agency responsible for the safety of the people and the security of the buildings that make up Maine's seat of government. Areas of responsibility include the State House, the other State buildings within the Capitol Area campus, and the properties on the eastside of the river within the old Augusta Mental Health campus. The Bureau patrols the State owned or controlled property in Augusta, enforces laws, including parking and traffic regulations, and responds to alarms and other calls for help or assistance on the two campuses. The Bureau's night watchpersons check the security of approximately 50 State owned buildings and properties in Augusta and Hallowell at night and on weekends.

ORGANIZATION:

The Capitol Security Police Force was created by the legislature in 1977 as a branch of the Department of Public Safety. So as to better reflect the Bureau's law enforcement role; in 2009 the Legislature changed the name of the former Bureau of Capitol Security to the Bureau of Capitol Police. There currently is a staff of ten: The Capitol Police Chief, a sergeant, four police officers, three night watchpersons, and one part-time administrative assistant. Prior to 1977, the functions of the Bureau were the responsibility of the Bureau of Public Improvements.

PROGRAM:

During Fiscal Year 2010, the police officers and watchpersons within the Bureau found, initiated or responded to 30,929 documented events, incidents or activities. Eighty of these incidents resulted in criminal investigations being initiated. These range from thefts of property to assaults or criminal threatening. Officers investigated a number of threatening communications aimed at legislators or state employees. Bureau officers also investigated 12 motor vehicle crashes, issued 358 traffic summonses or warnings, and issued 985 parking tickets. Officers also kept the peace at numerous controversial public hearings, rallies and protests. The major objectives of the Bureau are the safety of members of the legislature, staff, employees and visitors; and the security of the State buildings and property for the complexes to which we provide service.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Criminal Justice Academy was established to provide a central training facility for state, county and municipal law enforcement and corrections officers. The campus is located at the former Oak Grove-Coburn School in Vassalboro, Maine. From 1972 until December 28, 2000, the Academy was located at 93 Silver Street in Waterville, at the former Thomas College facility. The Academy has eleven (11) classrooms, four (4) conference rooms, a full cafeteria and can house 130 students. The building has a state of the art special training center, an indoor running track and formal parade grounds. The mission of the Maine Criminal Justice Academy is to provide the highest level of training, within given resources, to law enforcement and correctional officers in the State. By statute, the Academy is required to provide a basic training program for all full-time law enforcement officers, pre-service training for all part time law enforcement officers, basic court security, capitol police officers and basic corrections training for all county and state correctional officers. The Academy also coordinates the eight (8) Regional Training Districts across the state, which provides in-service training to officers in remote areas.

ORGANIZATION:

The Academy has a staff of eleven (11) full-time people and operates with an annual budget of $1,981,609 from Special Revenues. In addition to the full-time staff, the Academy relies heavily on volunteer instructors from state, county and municipal law enforcement agencies, county and state corrections agencies and other criminal justice fields. The Academy provides many instructor development classes in order that these students can be the future volunteer instructors. This partnership philosophy has been supported by the Police Chiefs and Sheriffs in Maine to provide very cost effective training to their respective agencies. In 2009, the Academy had 13,624 hours of donated instructor time.

PROGRAM:

During the year, the MCJA Board of Trustees certified 68 full-time State, County and Municipal law enforcement officers who graduated from the Basic Law Enforcement Training Program, 154 corrections officers who graduated from the Basic Corrections Training Program, and 256 part-time law enforcement officers who graduated from the Law Enforcement Pre-service Training Program. The Board waived 16 law enforcement officers from the Basic Law Enforcement Training Program and 0 corrections officer from the Basic Corrections Training Program. The Board awarded 66 Instructor Certificates, 7 Executive Certificates, and 27 Canine Handler Certificates. During the training year, 142 Specialized and In-service courses were offered. For law enforcement and/or corrections officers, the Board decertified 28 for criminal conduct/convictions, waived 5 for criminal conduct/convictions and gave 13 consent agreements and /or suspensions for criminal conduct/convictions. The Academy also provided four classes online during FY 2010 through JPMA.

MAINE DRUG ENFORCEMENT AGENCY

Central Office: 45 COMMERCE DRIVE, SUITE 1, AUGUSTA, ME 04330

Mail Address: 166 STATE HOUSE STATION, AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0166 FAX: (207) 287-3042

Established: 1987

Telephone: (207) 626-5850

Reference: Policy Area: 06 ; Umbrella: 16 Unit: 230 ; Citation: T0025 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000002955

Average Count--All Positions: 3.000

PURPOSE:

The purpose is to provide a central administrative structure for the establishment, coordination, and oversight of specialized narcotics and narcotics-related investigative units within the State of Maine through a multi-jurisdictional drug task force approach. The task force concept brings together the resources of adjoining and overlapping enforcement entities, particularly in situations in which sparse resources are spread over great distances. This approach has proven to be one of the most effective tools in proactively addressing the proliferation of illegal drug activity through the pooling of skills, enhanced intelligence sharing, increased personnel resources, more equipment available, concentration of effort on a clear goal, and reduced jurisdictional boundary problems. In addition to the consolidation of investigatory resources, the Maine Drug Enforcement Agency also integrates prosecuting personnel with the day-to-day case work investigators.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau of Intergovernmental Drug Enforcement was created by the 113th Legislature by passage of 25 M.R.S.A., Chapter 353. Funding of the Agency was established by the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986. In 1991 the Legislature changed the Agency name to the Maine Drug Enforcement Agency. This Agency has been placed within the organizational structure of the Department of Public Safety and is managed by a Director who reports to the Commissioner of Public Safety. The Maine Drug Enforcement Agency is a statewide multi-jurisdictional task force, and its personnel are assigned to the task force by municipal, county, state and tribal law enforcement agencies.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

PROGRAM:

MDEA's mission is to disrupt the drug market, thereby undermining the ability of drug suppliers to meet, expand, and profit from drug demand while supporting prevention efforts and contributing to treatment efforts. Its goals are to: reduce the availability of drugs; protect the State's borders by stemming the flow of drugs into and through Maine; strengthen the State's drug law enforcement infrastructure; strengthen intelligence and information sharing; enhance collaboration and coordination with all law enforcement agencies; and establish effective partnerships with the State Legislature and other State agencies.

CONSOLIDATED EMERGENCY COMMUNICATIONS BUREAU

CLIFFORD S. WELLS, DIRECTOR

PURPOSE:

The Consolidated Emergency Communications Bureau shall carry out the policies, procedures, and standards as established by the Maine Communications System Policy Board for the cooperative use of the Department of Public Safety's communications systems by municipal, county, and state government entities.

ORGANIZATION:

The 121st Legislature passed LD 1683, An Act Relating to the Establishment of a Central Maine Regional Public Safety Communication Center, as Public Law Chapter 678.

Historically, emergency communications dispatch has been the responsibility of the Bureau of State Police within the Department of Public Safety. The State Police ran four dispatch centers in Houlton, Orono, Augusta and Gray which provided services not only for themselves, but for several other state agencies, some municipalities, the Maine Turnpike Authority and for Aroostook County. The Policy Board legislation calls for a separate communications unit within the Department. This administrative change was achieved in FY07. Fifty-four existing Emergency Communications Specialist positions and six Emergency Communications Supervisor position were transferred from the Bureau of State Police into the new Consolidated Emergency Communications Bureau. In addition, to provide the unit with a civilian director, the position of Director, Bureau of Consolidated Emergency Communications was created. The new Director began on October 25, 2006.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

The 121st Legislature also passed LD 1423, An Act To Facilitate the Implementation, Maintenance and Operations of the E-9-1-1 Emergency System, which directed the Emergency Services Communications Bureau at the Public Utilities Commission to seek reduction of the number of Public Safety Answering Points (PSAP) to between 16 and 24. This resulted in the closing of a number of local PSAPs and in some cases caused not only emergency call-taking to be relocated, but also emergency dispatch may have been moved. Last year, the 123rd Legislature, passed 2008 Public Law Chapter 622, which required that this Bureau submit to a rate setting case through the Maine Public Utilities Commission (PUC). The resulting Order on Docket 2008-225 would be the rates that the Bureau can charge to all it's State and Local partners for Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) call-taking and public safety dispatching services. With the issuing of that Order, several jurisdictions did not renew contracts and went to agencies that provided services for a lesser rate.

PROGRAM:

These Communications Centers provide emergency and non-emergency call taking and dispatching for seven state agencies and twenty-four municipal agencies. They also provide backup Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) capabilities for local and county PSAPs and receive almost all the cellular 911 calls in the state.

PURPOSE:

The State Bureau of Identification, a Division of the Maine State Police, is the central repository of criminal history record information for the State of Maine. The Bureau provides information to agencies and persons authorized by law to receive such information, gathers data and provides statistics on crime in Maine, and maintains all State Police criminal and civil investigative reports.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau was created in 1937 as the central repository of criminal history record information.

PROGRAM:

The Bureau is developing and implementing software to computerize its record systems. The automated Fingerprint Identification System went on-line in August 1998. These systems will maintain and provide complete and accurate criminal history record information. Also, the system will capture the information in a way that enables the Bureau to provide statistical and research data on crimes, offenders and the criminal justice process to the criminal justice community and to others. Along with criminal history records information, the Bureau operates and maintains the sex offender registry.

PURPOSE:

The primary mission of the State Police is to safeguard the constitutional rights, liberty, and security of its citizens by enforcing the motor vehicle and criminal statutes of Maine and to provide professional aid in times of need and crisis. The Bureau was established to patrol the highways, especially outside the compact portion of cities and towns without local law enforcement agencies. The Bureau also provides security for the Governor and family on a twenty-four hour basis.

ORGANIZATION:

The State Police was established as an independent branch of State government in 1925. In 1931 a reorganization act was passed by the Legislature designating the Chief as executive head of the State Police under the direction of the Governor. Six years later, the Division of Highway Safety and the State Bureau of Identification were created by the Legislature, under the control of the State Police. In 1939, the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and the Communications Division were established, along with the division of the State Police into six districts. Because of the increased demands for State Police services, the Bureau was reorganized several times during the 1950s and 1960s. In 1971 the Legislature incorporated the State Police into the Department of Public Safety.

In June of 2003, the State Police assumed responsibility for the oversight of Liquor Licensing, which previously had been a separate bureau. The compliment of Public Safety Inspectors to inspect licensees or applicants for suitability and compliance grew to a total of 5, with a supervisor overseeing the unit.

PROGRAM:

The programs of the Maine State Police have primary goals of 1) Patrolling rural areas of Maine without organized police departments for the purpose of preventing and investigating criminal activity; 2) Enforcing traffic safety laws in rural areas, Maine Turnpike and Interstate System; 3) Overseeing the Motor Vehicle Inspection Program and enforcing the Commercial Motor Vehicle laws and rules; 4) Investigating homicides that occur outside Portland and Bangor; 5) Investigating child abuse cases; 6) Providing crime laboratory services to all law enforcement agencies; 7) Providing a repository for criminal history and records information; 8) Provide specialized administrative, licensing, and enforcement services.

EMERGENCY SERVICES COMMUNICATION BUREAU

E-9-1-1 COUNCIL

PURPOSE:

The Public Utilities Commission's purpose is to protect the public by ensuring that utilities in the State of Maine provide adequate and reliable service to the public at rates that are reasonable and just. The Commission acts as a quasi-judicial body which decides cases involving rates, service, financing, and other activities of the utilities it regulates. The Commission also has investigatory and rulemaking authority. The Commission currently has jurisdiction over approximately 155 water utilities, 14 electric utilities, 4 gas utilities, 24 local telephone utilities, 1 water carrier, 145 competitive electricity providers, and 227 competitive local and interchange carriers. The Commission is divided into six operating divisions with respective powers and duties as follows:

The ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION is responsible for fiscal, personnel, contract and docket management, as well as physical plant. The Division provides support services to the other divisions and assists the Commission in coordinating its activities. The CONSUMER ASSISTANCE DIVISION (CAD) receives, analyzes and responds to complaints from Maine utility customers. The LEGAL DIVISION represents the Commission before Federal and State appellate and trial courts and agencies. It provides hearings examiners and staff attorneys in cases before the Commission and assists in preparing and presenting Commission views on legislative proposals. The TELEPHONE AND WATER DIVISION is responsible for financial, technical, and policy related investigations and analyses conducted by the Commission on telephone and water utilities. The DIVISION provides expert advice to the Commission on such matters as revenues, expenses, engineering, economics, technology and other technical aspects related to the telephone and water industries. The ELECTRIC AND GAS DIVISION is responsible for financial, technical, and policy related investigations and analyses conducted by the Commission on electric and gas utilities. The DIVISION provides expert advice to the Commission on such matters as revenues, expenses, engineering, economics, technology and other technical aspects related to the electric and gas industries. The ENERGY PROGRAMS DIVISION administers "Efficiency Maine" and the State Energy Program. Efficiency Maine is the set of statewide, ratepayer funded, electric energy efficiency programs. The State Energy Program is the federally funded set of programs that promote energy efficiency and renewable energy. These responsibilities were transferred to the Efficiency Maine Trust, effective July 1, 2010, pursuant to P.L. 2009, ch.372.

ORGANIZATION:

The Public Laws of 1913, effective by Proclamation, after referendum on October 30, 1914, created the Public Utilities Commission. It was organized December 1, 1914. The Act abolished the Board of Railroad Commissioners, established in 1858, and conferred upon the Public Utilities Commission all powers vested in that Board, as well as the State Water Storage Commission, including custody and control of all records, maps, and papers pertaining to the offices of the Railroad Commissioners and the State Water Storage Commission, the latter of which was not legally abolished until 1916. The Commission also acquired jurisdiction over all "public utilities," and through subsequent legislation any person, firm, or corporation operating motorbuses or trucks transporting passengers or freight for-hire over any street or highway in Maine. The Commission retains jurisdiction over the transportation of passengers and property for compensation by vessel in Casco Bay under Chapter 174 of the Private and Special Laws of 1963. Chapters 207 and 617 of the Public Laws of

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION

1983 specifically exempted dealers of gas in liquid form from Commission jurisdiction, which had not been previously exercised. Central tanks serving more than 10 customers are still subject to PUC jurisdiction. Chapter 304 of the Public Laws of 1983 deregulated one-way paging service. PL 1987, ch. 141 conferred to the Commission jurisdiction over cable television systems providing service like telephone companies and pole attachment charges for cable television systems. Public Laws 1991, chapter 342 exempted cellular telephone providers, from regulation as public utilities, as long as one provider does not "exclusively control" the assigned service area and unless the Commission determines that the cellular provider is engaged in providing basic exchange telephone service. P.L. 1999, ch. 718 gave the Commission enforcement authority over the Dig Safe damage prevention statute. PL 2001, ch. 624, which required the Commission to develop and administer conservation programs funded through assessments on Transmission and Distribution utilities, became effective on April 5, 2002. PL 2003, ch. 20 moved the federally funded State Energy Program from Department of Economic and Community Development to the Commission. PL 2003, ch. 359 moved the Emergency Services Communication Bureau to the Commission giving it oversight responsibility for the E-911 program.

The present Public Utilities Commission consists of three Commissioners appointed by the Governor subject to review by the legislative committee having jurisdiction over public utilities and to confirmation by the Senate, for terms of six years. The Governor designates one Commissioner as Chairman and all three Commissioners devote full time to their duties.

PROGRAM:

The Commission regulates the State's electric transmission and distribution companies, telephone, gas, and water utilities, as well as water carriers. The basic purpose of this regulatory system is to assure safe, reasonable and adequate service at rates that are just and reasonable to customers and public utilities. During the 12 months ending June 30, 2010, 424 cases were filed with the Commission and the Commission closed 401 cases.

The Commission's Consumer Assistance Division (CAD) is charged with ensuring that consumers and utilities receive fair and equitable service through CAD educational and complaint resolution programs. During the 12 months ending December 2009, CAD handled 10,475 consumer contacts, including 6,699 information requests and 3,357 complaints. The vast majority of complaints (94%) were related to the electric and telephone utilities with 36% attributable to telephone utilities and 58% attributable to electric utilities, 2% attributable to gas utilities, and 4% attributable to water utilities. In addition, the CAD ordered $402,320 to be abated to 240 customers. The CAD received 21 utility exemption requests during 2009. Finally, CAD received 214 requests from utilities to disconnect customers from service during the winter of 2009.

LICENSES:

LICENSES, PERMITS ETC: The Commission issues orders approving schedules of rates, terms and conditions; certificates of public convenience and necessity to construct, own, or contract for major transmission facilities or to rebuild or relocate major transmission facilities; applications by providers of telephone, electric or gas utility services to provide telephone, electric or gas service in a municipality in which an existing utility is furnishing or authorized to furnish service, upon declaration by the Commission that the public convenience and necessity requires a second public utility; and issues certificates of convenience and necessity to provide service to carriers of passengers and freight by water in Casco Bay.

PURPOSE:

The Emergency Services Communication Bureau, established in 1994, has been part of the Maine Public Utilities Commission since September 13, 2003. The Bureau is responsible for the implementation and management of the Enhanced 9-1-1 system. The Bureau, in consultation with the E9-1-1 Council, will develop all system elements, standards and cost estimates necessary to provide for the installation and operation of a statewide E9-1-1 system.

PROGRAM:

In December of 2006, the Bureau started implementation of a second generation system hardware and software PSAP replacement upgrade to address Federal Communications Commission wireless cellular and voice over internet protocol (VoIP) requirements. The technology upgrade was completed in February 2008. Concurrent with the PSAP upgrade the Bureau implemented a legislative requirement for PSAP consolidation reducing the number of PSAPs from 48 to 26. Currently 100% of the population of Maine has E9-1-1 access from their home, business, wireless, or VoIP telephones. The Bureau is currently planning for the third generation of 9-1-1, known as NextGen 9-1-1, that will allow alternative methods of communication access to 9-1-1.

In 2010, the Bureau completed the transitioning of PSAP call takers to uniform Emergency Medical Dispatch (EMD) program and adopted a nationally recognized 40 hour curriculum entitled Emergency Telecommunicator Course (ETC). This ETC training covers such topics as roles & responsibilities, technology, interpersonal communications call management, police/fire/emergency medical call classifications, radio dispatch procedures, quality improvement, catastrophic events, legal aspects and stress management and provides for a uniform base of knowledge for all newly hired emergency dispatchers state-wide. The Bureau delivered seven courses, attended by 125 newly hired dispatchers. These courses are in addition to the on-going PSAP technology training and Emergency Medical Dispatch Training offered by the Bureau to all new employees.

Through a cooperative agreement with the Maine Office of Geographic Information Systems, local municipalities and counties are receiving technical assistance in the naming and numbering of all streets and road networks. Statewide, 99% of addresses are numbered within the 9-1-1 database, with most municipalities working within a road maintenance mode.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Office of the Secretary of State is to provide administrative and policy oversight for the Department of the Secretary of State. The Office of the Secretary of State is provided for in the Constitution of the State of Maine and is therein required to attend the Governor, the Senate and the House of Representatives as they shall respectively require, to keep and preserve the records of all their official acts and proceedings, and to perform such other duties as required by law.

Maine statute provides for additional duties of the Secretary of State as follows: Title 4 (notaries); Title 5 (address confidentiality program, archives, notaries, boards and commissions, executive disclosure, and the Administrative Procedures Act); Title 10 (service and trade marks); Title 11 (Uniform Commercial Code filings); Titles 13, 13-A, and 13-B (corporations); Title 21-A (elections and citizen initiated legislation); Title 29-A (motor vehicles); Title 30-A (election of county officers) and Title 31 (limited partnerships and limited liability companies). In all, 870 separate sections of Maine law make reference to duties of the Secretary of State.

Specifically, the Office of the Secretary of State is responsible for the overall administration, including finances, personnel and programs, of the Department of the Secretary of State's respective bureaus: the Maine State Archives; the Bureau of Corporations, Elections and Commissions; and the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

ORGANIZATION:

The Secretary of State, as established by the Constitution of the State of Maine in 1820, is elected biennially by joint ballot of both Houses of the Legislature. In 1862, certificates of incorporation were required to be deposited with the Secretary of State, leading to the formation of a Corporation Division in 1870. The Elections Division originated in 1891 when the Secretary of State became responsible for printing and distributing ballots to towns, providing returns and performing other duties related to elections.

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles was established in 1905 to provide for the registration of motor vehicles by the Secretary of State. In 1919 registration of legislative counsel and employers became a function of the Secretary of State. In 1963, the State adopted the Uniform Commercial Code to be administered by the Secretary of State, becoming a function of the Corporation Division. Also in 1963, the Department of the Secretary of State was first recognized under law, with the Secretary of State designated as its executive head.

The Maine State Archives, created in 1965 and administered by the State Archivist, was made a bureau of the Department in 1973. The Administrative Procedures Act became effective July 1, 1978.

DEPARTMENT OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

PROGRAM:

In fiscal year 2010, the department's Election Division conducted one primary candidate recount, certified one People's Veto Petition and one Citizen Initiative. The initiative met the Constitutional threshold and was transmitted to the Legislature.

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles launched the Motor Carrier services module of the computer migration project and began work on the final module; vehicle registrations. The Animal Welfare specialty plate, approved by the legislature, was made available to the public.

The department worked closely with InforME to simplify and enhance the online absentee ballot request service to comply with the Federal Military and Overseas Voter Empowerment (MOVE) Act. Additionally, the online Organ Donation website was developed and made available to all driver license and ID card holders. The Rapid Renewal service expanded to include 148 municipalities offering vehicle registration online.

PURPOSE:

The powers and duties of the State Archivist include responsibility for establishing rules, standards and procedures governing the creation, use, maintenance, retention, preservation, and disposal of State records. Under this general authority, the Maine State Archives assists the three branches of State government, as well as county and municipal government agencies, in making their operations more efficient and economical by applying modern records management techniques, including establishing disposition schedules under which agencies may destroy records having exhausted their value to the State; providing technical assistance in specialized fields such as files, forms, general paperwork and electronic records procedures and office equipment management; and providing centralized storage and retrieval facilities for records that must be temporarily retained, but which need not be maintained in high-cost office space.

Professional archival services include the selection and preservation of records that have permanent value to the State, accompanied by the application of specialized technology and techniques designed to make such records readily accessible for use by the government and public. These efforts include identifying and arranging records, developing finding aids (e.g., inventories, indexes, and guides) to record groups or series, assisting in-person users, responding to mail and electronic mail requests, publishing by microfilm, printing selected records in high demand by the public, and posting databases and electronic documents on the Internet.

The Division of Records Management Services audits State microfilm and other imaging applications for feasibility and economy to ensure that all State filming and other production and preservation of records meets standards of quality established by Maine State Archives rules.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Legislature created the State Archives in 1965 and in 1973 designated the Archives as a central staff agency extending its jurisdiction to the counties and municipalities.

Two operating divisions comprise the Maine State Archives: the Division of Records Management Services and the Division of Archives Services. The Office of the State Archivist is organized to supervise overall administrative and programming responsibilities and exercises general control over publications and agency participation in intergovernmental and public activities.

The State Archivist and the Archives Advisory Board are responsible for authorizing the destruction of government records.

The Archives works with the Maine Historical Records Advisory Board to serve historical records repositories throughout Maine. The State Archivist serves as chairman of that Board.

PROGRAM:

The Archives distributes microfilm or electronic copies of records to selected repositories across the state, including, vital records (births, deaths, and marriages up to 1955.)

Records management consulting is available to all government agencies including counties and municipalities.

A comprehensive data base system encompassing Archival and Records Center holdings allows rapid retrieval of records by keyword searches. Special projects included refilming of vital records whose microfilm copies were in poor condition and deploying searchable databases in the Research Room. The databases are accessible via the Internet. The Archives makes financial grants available for archival preservation and access projects.

PUBLICATIONS:

The Archives has an internet site which includes information about collections, related cultural organizations, databases and e-mail contacts. The address is: www.maine.gov/sos/arc/.

The Division also suspends licenses based on administrative determination that a person operated a motor vehicle with an excessive alcohol level or was under the legal drinking age and was operating a motor vehicle with any amount of alcohol. The Division revised the Maine Point System with an effective date of 7/1/90.

In FY08 the division implemented the residency law which requires holders of a driver's license or identification card to provide a residential address before obtaining or renewing a credential.

In FY09 the division implemented the legal presence law which requires holders of a driver's license or identification card to provide legal presence in the United States before obtaining or renewing a credential.

In FY09 Ignition Interlock was implemented allowing us the ability to reinstate the driving privileges of a person convicted of a second or subsequent alcohol related offense if that person satisfies all other conditions for license reinstatement and installs an approved ignition interlock device. Installation of the device is voluntary for a second or third offense.

Average Count--All Positions: 374.000

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles was established to provide public safety and better regulation of traffic through administration of the laws of the State relating to motor vehicles and to the operators and operation thereof. Under the auspices of the Secretary of State, the Bureau provides the general public with a main office and thirteen branch office locations throughout the state, where motor vehicle registration and operator's licenses may be obtained.

The Bureau insures that applicants applying for operators licenses have the ability, knowledge and necessary skills for safe vehicle operation; investigates and licenses motor vehicle and trailer dealers; conducts hearings on violations of motor vehicle laws to determine if the individual's privilege to operate or register a vehicle should be suspended, withheld or revoked and also determines when reinstatement is permissible.

The Bureau provides a method of titling motor vehicles and collects sales tax due when a vehicle purchased from other than a dealer is registered. In FY97 the Bureau began regulating driver education programs.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau was organized in 1905 for the purpose of issuing lifetime licenses. In 1911, the Legislature changed the registration and licensing from a lifetime issue to an annual issue. In the 1920's, the Bureau had grown to the extent that it was headed by a Chief Clerk, had a Registration and Licensing Section and a Court Records Section. In 1935, the requirements for semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles became a responsibility of the Bureau and in 1939 an Examination Section was added to administer the required rule on new licenses.

In 1942 the Bureau was reorganized and placed under the direction of the Director of Motor Vehicles, with an Assistant Director named in 1943. This organizational structure remained until 1970 when the Bureau was reorganized into four bureaus; Public Services, Finance and Administration, Data Processing and the Bureau of Driver Licenses. Several minor structural changes were made between 1970 and 1976 when the Bureau was reorganized into the Executive Section and three Bureaus. Duties and responsibilities were added and the Bureau evolved into an Office of the Deputy and six divisions; Administrative Services, Commercial Vehicles and Reciprocity, Driver Licensing and Control, Enforcement and Regulation, Information Services and Public Services.

In 1999 the Bureau of Motor Vehicles was reorganized once more into the Office of the Deputy, The Office of Investigations and three divisions; Division of Administrative Services, Division of Driver License Services, and the Division of Vehicle Services. In FY01, the functions of the Planning Office were transferred to the Administrative Services Division. In 2007 the Division of Public Services was created to focus on customer service. In 2009 the Division of Driver License Services was reorganized resulting in the creation of the new Division of Legal Affairs, Adjudications, and Hearings.

PROGRAM:

During Fiscal Year 2010, the State Records Center provided nearly 45,000 records to State agencies. The Center provides safe, cost effective, environmentally controlled storage for records (including computer media and microfilm records as well as paper files). The Division works with the Office of Information Technology to ensure the preservation of permanently valuable electronic records throughout State government.

By law, the Maine State Archives furnishes copies of archival materials in its possession. The Imaging Center provides this service and microfilms paper records that are deemed too fragile to be handled. A microfilm copy is generated for safe Research Room use and for preservation. The Imaging Center duplicates and preserves thousands of images in Archives holdings and provides large format preservation scanning and image reproduction for records such as maps, muster rolls and charts.

BUREAU OF TRANSPORTATION SERVICES

PURPOSE:

The Maine Department of Transportation was established to plan and develop transportation facilities and services designed to contribute to the economic growth of the State of Maine and the well-being of its people. The department plans for future transportation needs, and assists in the development, operation, and maintenance of services and facilities, while promoting transportation safety. Key links in the transportation network are a highway system developed to promote safety, personal mobility, economic considerations, community values, and environmental conservation; port and water transportation facilities that support development of coastal resources; freight- and passenger-rail facilities to serve commerce and provide transportation alternatives; transit services for inter- and intra-city travel, and for elderly and disabled populations; and an aviation infrastructure developed with the assistance of the department. The department, on behalf of the state, also administers all federal or other monies intended for transportation uses.

ORGANIZATION:

Maine Department of Transportation had its origin in 1905, when a Commissioner of Highways was appointed by the governor and charged with compiling statistics, disseminating information, working for better highways, and advising local officials on the best means of building and maintaining roads and sidewalks. In 1907, the Commissioner became head of a new State Highway Department, which was created to apportion money to political subdivisions, plan road improvements, and let contracts for road construction. In 1913, both the department and the office of Commissioner of Highways were abolished and replaced by a State Highway Commission, which consisted of three members whom the governor appointed.

When the state highway system began to grow and state responsibility for highway construction and maintenance increased, the State Highway Commission expanded to include a central office in Augusta and seven offices located throughout the state. During the state government reorganization of 1972, the Commission was dissolved, and all of its functions were transferred to a newly established Department of Transportation headed by a commissioner appointed by the governor.

At the same time, several independent, transportation-related agencies such as the Maine Port Authority were integrated into the department. Major changes occurred once again in 1981 when the commissioner was authorized to organize the department into bureaus and other units.

PROGRAM:

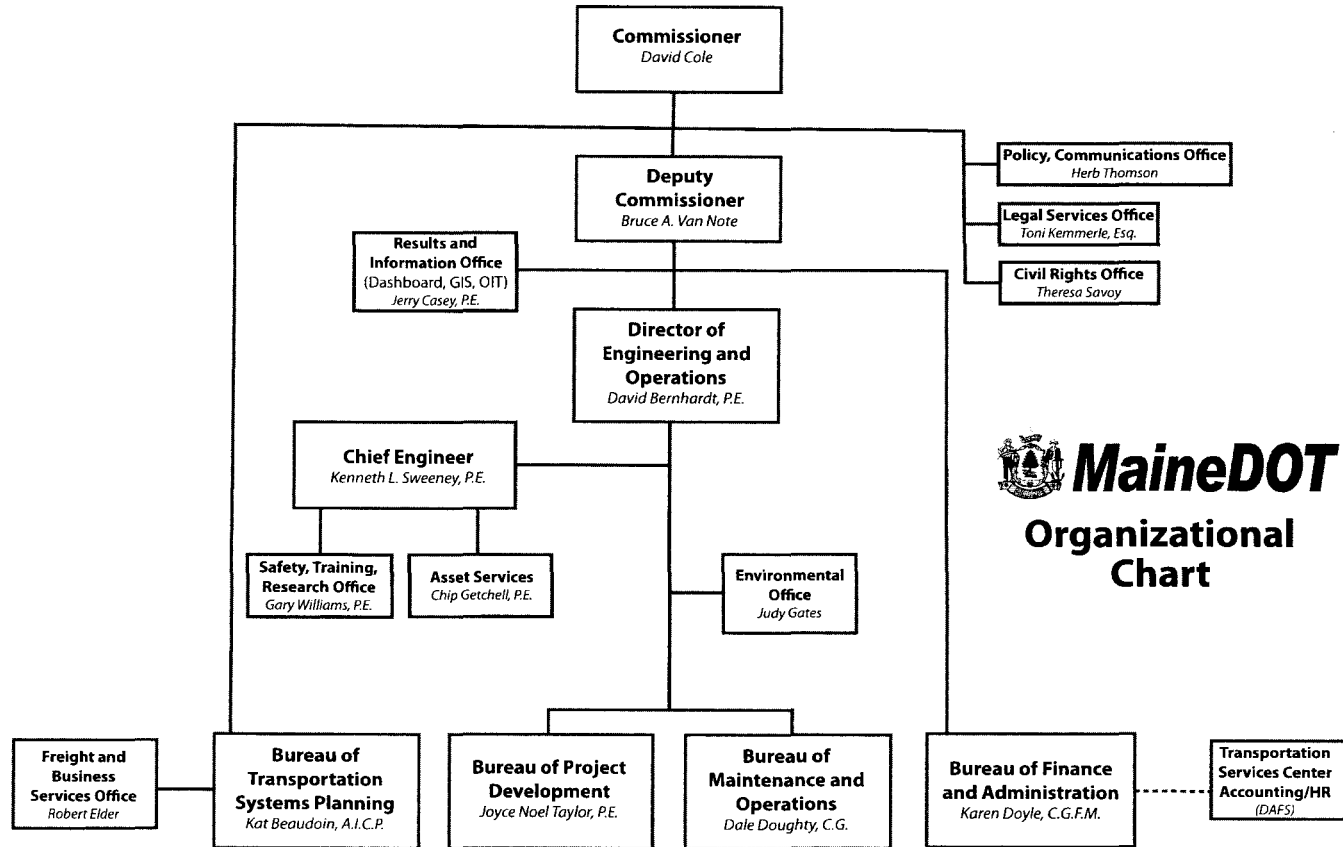

The program of the Department is accomplished through its statutorily and administratively created units and the various activities of these units are individually reported in subsequent entries.

During calendar year 2004, the Bureau of Finance and Administration was the subject of a year long intensive unit review. The results of the unit review were published in January of 2005. Significant organizational changes were recommended and have been implemented.

PROGRAM:

The Bureau's current focus is on enhancing the accuracy of financial forecasting and promoting complete accountability in the administration of transportation programs and funds.

Financial information and position counts for other units are also included in this program.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Pilotage Commission was established to provide for a system of state pilotage devoted to the preservation and protection of lives, property, the environment and vessels entering or leaving state waters. It also acts to ensure the highest standard of efficiency and the availability of pilots that are well-qualified for the discharge of their duties in the aid of commerce and navigation.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Pilotage Commission is made up of seven (7) members appointed by the Governor for three-year staggered terms. These members represent the three major pilotage areas of the state, businesses that use the services of pilots, and public members. An Administrator is appointed by the Commissioner of the Department of Transportation. Typically, the Commission meets three times a year for non-emergency business.

PROGRAM:

The Commission establishes the rules, policies, and procedures that govern the licensing, training, and discipline of marine pilots in the state waters under the jurisdiction of the Commission. The Commission also approves the rates which pilots may charge for services and generally oversees the operational and safety requirements of deep draft ship movements. Administrative responsibility for the Maine Pilotage Commission was transferred to the Department of Transportation in July 1998. Since that time the Office of Freight and Business Services has served as the administrator of the Commission.

LICENSES:

During Fiscal Year 2009, one new license was scheduled to be renewed. There are eleven (11) active and three (3) inactive Maine Pilotage Commission pilots.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Transportation Systems Planning is responsible for conducting systematic and comprehensive transportation planning and policy development, capital improvement program development and management, research, and community service activities with the ultimate goal of responsibly providing a safe, efficient, and reliable transportation system that supports economic opportunity and quality of life. In addition to responding to requests for professional and technical assistance in transportation planning and research from State and regional agencies, municipalities, and the general public, the Bureau provides guidance to the Department's top management in addressing immediate action or response to transportation issues as they arise.

ORGANIZATION:

In the State Government reorganization of 1972, the State Highway Commission was abolished and functions of the Division of Planning and Traffic were transferred to the new Department of Transportation, to be assumed by the Department's administrative Bureau of Transportation Planning and Services. In 1996, the Bureau revised its organizational structure to be consistent with the transportation planning requirements contained in federal and state laws such as the Federal Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act, the Clean Air Act Amendment and the State's Sensible Transportation Policy Act.

In 2007, after a Planning Process Evaluation, the Bureau of Planning was renamed the Bureau of Transportation Systems Planning with the integration of the Office of Passenger Transportation. After refining the organizational structure in 2008, integrating the Office of Freight and Business Services in summer 2009, along with additional adjustments in early 2010, the Bureau is now comprised of basic operating Divisions: Program Development and Management, Statewide and Multimodal Planning, Mobility Management, and Office of Freight and Business Services. The Research Division was reassigned to the Office of Safety (in the Chief Engineer's Office) to become the Office of Safety, Training and Research; administrative functions for the Research Division continue to be provided by the Bureau of Transportation Systems Planning. In addition, the Geographic Information Systems Division was transferred to the Results and Information Office reporting to the Deputy Commissioner; and the Asset Services Division was transferred to the Chief Engineer's Office in 2010.

PROGRAM:

The Program Development and Management Division is primarily responsible for capital improvement programming. In this regard, it develops the Department's Biennial Capital Work Plan. The Division is also responsible for the preparation of project scoping and location studies consistent with the requirements of Maine's Sensible Transportation Policy Act and the National Environmental Policy Act as well as air quality conformity and analysis of traffic noise monitoring. This Division includes the Community Services Division which is responsible for roadway system and functional classification and designation, the administration of the Department's municipal salt/sand storage program, administration of the Urban/Rural Initiative Program, and the Maine Local Roads Center, a technology transfer activity, which provides information, workshops, and other forums to assist local communities in the operation and maintenance of their roadways.

The Statewide and Multimodal Planning Division is responsible for the coordinating development of Department policy as proposed by the Executive Office, as well as strategic and long-range transportation planning, Mid Range planning, regional and corridor planning, public outreach, and coordination with regional and metropolitan transportation planning organizations (RPOs and MPOs).

The Division also is responsible for municipal comprehensive planning program review and management of the Department's Quality Community Program.

The Mobility Management Division involves the Traffic Analysis Section and the Engineering Services Section which conducts major studies and is responsible for Intelligent Transportation System Planning; both sections provide services to the Bureaus of Maintenance and Operations and Project Development. It is closely associated with the Bureau's Statewide and Multimodal Planning Division which focuses on urban and rural transit planning and operations, ferry systems planning, passenger rail planning and state aviation systems planning.

The Office of Freight and Business Services is responsible for Motor Carrier, Freight Rail and Marine and Ports policy and planning activities. The Maine Port Authority is staffed by the Office of Freight and Business Services.

PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Project Development's mission is to deliver safe, cost effective, high quality transportation projects and services to Bureau customers on schedule. This entails development of transportation improvement projects from approval of funding through to construction completion, as well as delivery of certain non-project related engineering and technical services.

ORGANIZATION:

The Bureau of Project Development was formed as a result of the Ernst & Whinney Management Study completed in the early 1980's. Its internal organization has evolved over the years to a new form that now combines functions into 3 Programs: Bridge, Highway, and Multimodal. Each Program is composed of multi-functional project teams each having full responsibility for delivery of a specified collection of projects. The Bureau's organization also includes 3 support units: Contracts, Property Office and Materials Testing & Exploration. Each of these units provides program wide assistance and support for development of projects, as well as external non-project services appropriate to their expertise.

PROGRAM:

The Department's overall transportation improvement program continues to emphasize improvement of the existing transportation network and facilities. Projects are developed through an inclusive process that is centered on minimizing and avoiding impacts during construction to the surrounding natural environment, to abutting property owners and to the traveling public. Available Federal funding, application of innovative financing techniques, and the willingness of the Legislature and Maine voters to provide matching dollars, have allowed transportation improvements. This past year the Bureau continued high production levels with delivery of roadway improvements, bridge projects, and other transportation improvements.

PURPOSE:

The Office of Freight Transportation was created in 1996 from the Bureau of Transportation Services. In 2007, the Office was renamed to the Office of Freight and Business Services; and in 2009, the Office was merged with the Bureau of Transportation Systems Planning (Unit 232). It is charged with planning for a free-flowing intermodal freight network that offers Maine shippers greater choice among modes, increased productivity, improved environmental and safety benefits and reduced transportation costs.

The Office of Passenger Transportation (OPT) was merged with the Bureau of Planning in 2007 to become the Bureau of Transportation Systems Planning.

ORGANIZATION:

The Office of Freight and Business Services is functionally divided into a planning section, a program management section that manages special projects and operations, such as the Maine Port Authority and rail operations and a development/marketing section, which advocates new freight ideas and technologies and implements economic development strategies.

PROGRAM:

The OFBS is responsible for promoting freight transportation on Maine's highways, railroads, ports and harbors, and in the air. OFBS has representation on the NASTO Highway Transport Subcommittee, which is implementing a regional oversize-overweight permitting system. The office is involved in several initiatives with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles and the Maine State Police to utilize intelligent transportation systems technology in commercial vehicle regulation and operations. OFBS works with the State's railroad companies on key freight issues, provides rail inspection services, advises on state rail policy, undertakes rail rehabilitation projects and coordinates the implementation of Intermodal facilities. The OFBS is also responsible for implementing the Industrial Rail Access Program (IRAP) to extend or improve rail access to businesses in an effort to reduce congestion on highways and provide transportation options.

OFBS promotes maritime commerce, and has worked to secure funding and provide project oversight for developments at the state's three commercial cargo ports. In particular, the Maine Port Auth works as an arm of the OFBS. The OFBS manages the Small Harbors Improvement Program (SHIP) and the federally funded Boating Infrastructure Grant (BIG) Program which focus on improving coastal public marine facilities. The OFBS provides coordination for the prioritizing of dredging needs for federally maintained navigation projects in the State, and also provides administrative support to the Maine Pilotage Commission and the Maine Port Authority. OFBS works in cooperation with the State's major airports to promote the efficient movement of air freight. OFBS's planning document, the Integrated Freight Plan, provides policy and project guidelines for the office. The OFBS coordinates and develops MainDOT initiatives with Canadian trade and transportation entities, including improvements to border crossings such as the one at Calais/St. Stephen.

ORGANIZATION:

The Office of the Treasurer of State was established by the Constitution of the State of Maine in 1820 with the Treasurer being elected biennially by both Houses of the Legislature sitting jointly. The Deputy Treasurer of State is designated by law as the chief clerk of the Office of the Treasurer and performs the duties of the Treasurer in the event of a vacancy or other absence.

In Fiscal Year 2010, more than 126,000 were processed; more than 1.5 million checks were distributed, as well as 544,127 electronic funds transfer vendor payments. Banking services provided to State departments are coordinated by the Treasurer's Office--including deposit access to 33 Maine bank accounts, check stop payments and/or reissues, wire transfer services, and more.

Cash flow is monitored. Funds not needed to pay state expenses may be invested through the Treasurer's Cash Pool in obligations of the U.S. Government, repurchase agreements, CDs in Maine banks, money market mutual funds, corporate bonds, and commercial paper. The Cash Pool includes 118 funds, averaged more than $489 million in FY 2010, and was managed for safety and liquidity with yield in mind. In FY 2010 the Cash Pool earned more than $2.8 million in earnings from investments, including more than $265,000 to the General Fund.

The Office of the Treasurer of State issues all general obligation notes and bonds of the State. This responsibility includes the preparation of Official Statements, acquisition of credit ratings and the engagement of any auction processes, underwriters and other entities needed to accomplish the issuance. Transaction closing details and money transfers are also managed by the Treasurer, as are debt service payments and distribution requests. At the close of Fiscal Year 2010 the State of Maine's outstanding general obligation bond principal was $500.10 million.

Three long-term investments--the Governor Baxter Trust, Lands Reserved Trust and the Common Trust--are managed by the Office of the State Treasurer through contracts with a third parties. A trust investment advisory committee led by the Treasurer provides policy advice and authorization for investment transactions. At the close of Fiscal Year 2010 the value of the trust funds was $22.5 million.

The Unclaimed Property Program is administered by the Office of the State Treasurer. Nearly $19 million in unclaimed property was identified during FY 2010. A total of 16,595 claims were paid, reuniting citizens with over $12.5 million of lost property.

The Office of the State Treasurer annually projects and monthly distributes Municipal Revenue Sharing monthly to 493 municipalities and territories. Revenue sharing distributions are based on a portion of the sales tax, corporate tax, and personal income tax revenues. Population, State Valuation, and Tax

PURPOSE:

The University of Maine System is the coordinating, policy, and planning entity for Maine's seven public universities and nine educational outreach centers. In that role, it provides undergraduate, graduate, and professional education in a variety of fields, conducts research and performs public service for the people of the State. The System was established to "develop, maintain, and support a structure of public higher education in the State of Maine which will assure the most cohesive system possible for planning, action and service in providing higher education opportunities..." (M.R.S.A., Title 20-A, subsection 10902).

The University of Maine System Board of Trustees is authorized to provide, through its institutions, an organized program of instruction, research, and service and award academic degrees; to ensure the academic freedom of its faculty; to recognize that all Maine citizens with high school diplomas or equivalents are eligible for the benefits of higher education; to assign a high priority of funds to programs in support of citizens considered economically, educationally, socially, and culturally disadvantaged; to research and evaluate the effectiveness of the delivery of higher education opportunities; to maximize the use of federal funds to further the mission of the University; and to make effective use of available resources for the operation of programs for the nontraditional, part-time learner.

Further, the Board of Trustees is empowered by its charter to appoint a Chancellor as chief administrative and academic officer and, on the nomination of the Chancellor, appoint university Presidents; approve and prepare the operating and capital budgets of the University; accept the responsibility for governance and planning for public higher education; enter into contracts with the State and municipalities; appoint instructional personnel; establish qualifications for admission; establish a college of medicine; and annually report all receipts and expenditures on account to the Legislature.

ORGANIZATION:

The 103rd Legislature, recognizing the need for a more cohesive system of public higher education, voted to combine the former State colleges and OPAL - Orono, Portland, Augusta, Law School - into a consolidated University of Maine, with a single Board of Trustees.

The Portland and Augusta branches remained under the Orono university's administrative umbrella at the time of the 1968 merger. In 1970, the State Colleges changed their names to reflect the campuses of the University of Maine System. Portland and Gorham were made a single institution in 1970 and in 1978 the name was changed from University of Maine at Portland/Gorham to the University of Southern Maine.

In 1986 the combined university was renamed the University of Maine System, reflecting its structure as a confederation of universities operating under one governance system. At the same time, the University of Maine at Orono's name was changed back to the University of Maine.

The University System is organized into the following units:

- > Board of Trustees
- > Office of the Chancellor and Systemwide Services (centralized statewide administrative operations)
- > University of Maine
- > University of Maine at Augusta (Includes University College, which consists of 9 academic outreach centers located around the state)
- > University of Maine at Farmington

- > University of Maine at Fort Kent
- > University of Maine at Machias
- > University of Maine at Presque Isle
- > University of Southern Maine

PROGRAM:

INSTRUCTION. The universities of the University of Maine System offer the associate, baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral degrees plus the certificate for advanced study and the professional degree in law. Academic programs include the arts and sciences, agriculture, forestry, technology, business, education, life sciences, marine sciences, engineering, law, and nursing. Specific responsibilities are assigned to each of the seven universities based on such goals as: 1) assuring a solid core of general studies; 2) building centers of excellence and expertise in specialized fields; and 3) responding to the particular cultural, agricultural, and industrial needs of regions. Fall 2009 enrollment totaled 32,340, including many part-time and adult learners. Maine's seven public universities awarded 5,389 degrees in 2008/09.

PUBLIC SERVICE. In addition to its instructional programs, the University System uses its university facilities, research capabilities, and faculty talent in direct support of community and individual needs throughout the State. A major example: University of Maine Cooperative Extension, supported by federal, state, and county governments, provides education and information directly to families, farmers, businesses, organizations, communities and individuals. Public service activities are encouraged at each university and include the use of University faculty in elementary and secondary schools, direct aid by faculty experts to business and industry, the application of new research technologies, and the communication of information of importance to the citizens of Maine.

RESEARCH. The research mission of the University System includes expanding faculty skills and teaching competence, increasing knowledge of Maine resources and improving their practical use, and assisting the state and regional economies. Research is encouraged at all universities but is emphasized more at the University of Maine and the University of Southern Maine, which have been designated major centers for basic and applied research within the System. Contributions have been particularly strong in pulp and paper technology, forestry, engineering, law, applied science, public policy, and quaternary studies. University research unquestionably has benefited Maine's business, natural resources and government. As the result of recent State investment in university-based research, approximately $58 million in federal and private grants and contracts were received by UMaine and USM in FY09, creating 543 jobs that were funded in part or in total by those outside sources of revenues. In addition, all seven of Maine universities generated additional millions through grants and contracts that did not involve direct State investment.

PURPOSE:

The State Board of Education is authorized to act in an advisory capacity to the Commissioner of Education in matters concerning State Laws relating to education. In addition, the Board is delegated specific powers to make recommendations to the Legislature for the efficient conduct of the public schools; to approve the formation of School Administrative Districts; to approve the formation of Community School Districts; to grant permission for administrative units to enter into agreements for cooperative educational purposes; to act upon articles of agreement for creation of an Interstate School District; to develop and adopt a plan for the establishment of career and technical education centers; to approve standards for school construction; to approve school construction projects for State aid; to work as a partner with the Department of Education regarding the Essential Programs and Services school finance process; to obtain information regarding applications for granting degrees; to accredit programs at institutions of higher education that train educators; to set the standards for educator's certification, authorization, and approval; to approve applications for out-of -state institutions who wish to offer degree granting programs in Maine; to review the applications for initial degree granting and make recommendations to the Legislature.

The State Board of Education also serves as the State agency for administering Carl Perkins Federal funds.

ORGANIZATION:

The State Board of Education originated in 1846 as the Board of Education, consisting of one member from each county of the State. The Board was abolished in 1850 and recreated in 1869 as the State Board of Education, with a membership comprising the Superintendent of Common Schools (established 1854) and County Supervisors of Public Schools (established 1869). In 1872, the Board was again abolished along with the county supervisors, and its functions shifted to the superintendent who, in 1923, was designated Commissioner of Education.

The Department of Education was created in 1931 in a major State Government reorganization. However, it was not until 1949 that the State Board of Education was reestablished, this time consisting of ten members, five of whom were appointed by various interests in the State and five appointed by the Governor. At this point, the Board was delegated great authority over education activities of the State, including appointment of the Commissioner of Education and personnel of the department. In 1957, authority to appoint all ten members of the Board was transferred to the Governor with the advice and consent of the Board.

Effective July 1, 1972, the State Board of Education was changed to consist of 9 members. Since January 1, 1977, the Governor appoints members for five year terms subject to review by the Joint Standing Committee on Education and Cultural Affairs and to confirmation by the Legislature.

In 2007 the Legislature passed LD 151, allowing student representation on the State Board of Education. As a result, in 2008 the Board's membership expanded from nine to eleven as it added two high school students (non-voting) who are also appointed by the governor.

PROGRAM:

In addition to fulfilling its statutory obligations, the State Board continues to lead Maine's effort to establish results-based initial teacher certification program; plays a leadership role in policy development and implementation of technology; and supports the Maine Teacher of the Year Program.

ORGANIZATION:

FIRB is a ten-member board. PURPOSE:

The Maine Health Data Organization (MHDO) was established by the 117th Legislature to create and maintain a useful, objective, reliable and comprehensive health information database to improve the health of Maine citizens. This database is made publicly accessible while protecting patient confidentiality and respecting providers of care.

ORGANIZATION:

The MHDO was created in 1996 as an independent executive agency to maintain and expand the health information database of its predecessor agency, the Maine Health Care Finance Commission. The MHDO implements policies and procedures for the collection, processing, storage, and analysis of clinical, financial, restructuring, quality, and health claims data.

The MHDO is governed by a stakeholder Board of Directors comprised of 21 members representing the following interests: one member is an employee of the Department of Human Services and one member is a representative of Dirigo Health; four members represent consumers; three members represent employers, with one being a representative of a health management coalition, and one a representative of a statewide chamber of commerce; two members represent third-party payers; nine members represent providers (two represent hospitals, two represent physicians, one represents chiropractic services, one represents pharmacists, one represents federally qualified health centers, one represents a home health care organization, and one represents mental health organizations). One member is an employee of the Department of Professional and Financial Regulation and serves in a nonvoting, consultative capacity.

PROGRAM:

The MHDO has available for release, in accordance with its confidentiality rules, hospital discharge and outpatient data; emergency department data; Maine hospital financial and organizational data; quality data; and all-payer/all-provider health care claims data. Maine is one of the first states in the country to develop a database of hospital inpatient records, which cover 100 percent of all patients discharged from its private hospitals. Maine is also the only state in the nation to collect complete hospital outpatient services data, and the first to release such data. Maine also has the first all payer/all provider claims database, with data publicly available from January of 2003.

The MHDO also continues its efforts in working with the National Association of Health Data Organizations to advocate for uniformity of health data among the states. The MHDO provides data to the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality as part of the Health Care Utilization Project national database survey, which is a probability survey that provides information on characteristics of inpatients discharged from non-federal, short-stay hospitals in the United States.

The organization maintains two interactive web sites. Health Web of Maine contains hospital inpatient, outpatient, emergency department interactive modules; hospital quality and financial modules; a public health module; and links to other state and federal health data. Maine HealthCost provides total payment for the top ten commercial health plans in the State and for Medicare, as well as estimates of what the uninsured will pay. HealthCost enables the public to access information on prices at Maine hospitals and other health care facilities to help patients and employers make more informed health care decisions.

PURPOSE:

The board's mission is to serve the employees and employers of the State fairly and expeditiously by ensuring compliance with the workers' compensation laws, ensuring the prompt delivery of benefits legally due, promoting the prevention of disputes, utilizing dispute resolution to reduce litigation and facilitating labor-management cooperation.

ORGANIZATION:

Policy is established by a seven-member board having three labor representatives, three management representatives and an Executive Director who is Chair of the Board. The Governor appoints the labor members from nominees submitted by the AFL-CIO and the management members by the Maine Chamber of Commerce and Industry. The Governor also appoints the Executive Director who serves at the pleasure of the Governor. These appointments are subject to review by the Joint Standing Committee on Labor with confirmation by the Senate.

The agency is administered by the Executive Director, Paul R. Dionne. Regional Offices are located in Augusta, Bangor, Caribou, Lewiston and Portland. The Central Office is in Augusta. Mediation and formal hearings are conducted at these and other offices. Some hearings are held at locations closer to the residence of the injured worker. The 118th Legislature, 1st Regular Session, enacted legislation providing for a Worker Advocate Program to assist unrepresented employees through the mediation and formal hearing phases of dispute resolution. The legislation also provides for a MAE Program to track and regulate compliance with the statute by carriers and self insurers. These programs continue to have a very positive impact on the system. In response to concerns over the growing problems of improper classification of workers, the Governor's Task Force on Employee Misclassification was created in January 2009.

On April 13, 2010 the Governor signed P.L. 649, "An Act to Amend the Laws Governing the Misclassification of Construction Workers" assigning to the Board a major role in the area of employee misclassification.

PROGRAM:

The board exists to prevent and resolve disputes between employers and employees over work-related injuries since timely, fair and efficient resolution of disputes enhances Maine workplaces for all Maine's people and to insure compliance with the Workers' Compensation laws. To ensure the efficient implementation of the Workers' Compensation Act, the board is engaged in the promulgation of rules and regulations; the resolution of disputes through formal and informal means; the monitoring of payments to injured workers; the monitoring and enforcement of insurance coverage; the supervision of medical protocols, utilization review, medical fee schedules and enforcement guidelines; the implementation of an independent medical examiner system; the investigation and prosecution of complaints of fraud and misrepresentation; and the implementation of "stop work" orders relating to employee misclassification. The objectives are accomplished through the dispute resolution process, the Worker Advocate Program, the Monitoring, Auditing and Enforcement (MAE) Program, the Abuse Investigation Unit and support staff.

The board meets on a monthly basis to set policy pursuant to the mandates of the Act. The board has three standing subcommittees: Budget, Personnel and Independent Medical Examiners (IME). The Budget Subcommittee considers all budgetary matters, performance budgeting and determines the assessment. The Personnel Subcommittee maintains the table of organization and prepares personnel policy. The IME Committee deals with the implementation of the Independent Medical Examiner Program. The board has adopted standard operating procedures for all levels of dispute resolution that have eliminated backlogs and significantly reduced the length of time a case is in the system. The Board requires the use of EDI for First Reports of Injury and Notices of Controversy. Interpreter services are provided by the board at its expense. Notification of the availability of services is clearly displayed in all regional offices and is printed in the employee pamphlet.

The board approved the establishment of the Monitoring, Audit and Enforcement Program as mandated under Chapter 486. The basic goals of the MAE Program are as follows: (1) to provide the Board, Legislature and Governor with timely and reliable data; (2) to monitor and audit payment and filing requirements; (3) to detect those insurers, self-insurers and third-party administrators that are not in compliance; and (4) to ensure that all filing and compliance obligations under the Act are met. (Monitoring, Audit and Enforcement reports are issued quarterly and annually.) The board's information technology projects include: board system rewrite; DHCP routing; late filed forms tracking; advocate case management module; abuse unit module; electronic data submission; NOC/MOP measurement; web based HO decision repository; ad-hoc reporting and infrastructure upgrade/maintenance.

Dispute Resolution Process

The agency administers a three-tier dispute resolution process (troubleshooting, mediation, and formal hearing or arbitration) in an effort to reduce litigation. Notices of Controversy and Petitions which result in claims assigned (see below) are processed by the Claims Management Unit. A dispute is one person. More than one injury may be involved.

Abuse Investigation Unit

The Abuse Investigation Unit (AIU) is responsible for investigating allegations of fraud, illegal or improper conduct, and violations of the filing, payment and insurance coverage provisions of the Workers' Compensation Act. AIU is also charged with imposing penalties for certain violations of the Act.

AIU's central mission is to enforce laws requiring eligible employers carry workers' compensation insurance coverage. Coverage investigations include cases of misclassification—when a business does not carry insurance coverage for some or all of the workers it considers to be independent contractors. In 2009 the state focused enforcement efforts on the misclassification. By Executive Order the Governor tasked enforcement agencies with coordinating investigations and enforcement, and the Legislature has passed three (3) bills impacting enforcement responsibilities of the AIU.

P.L. 2009 Ch. 452 addresses the construction industry, where studies have shown misclassification is prevalent. Beginning January 1, 2010 construction subcontractors are presumed to be employees for purposes of workers' compensation unless they carry their own workers' compensation insurance or meet a new 12-part definition for subcontractors. P.L. 2010 Ch. 520 permits AIU to share otherwise confidential information with other state agencies for purposes of enforcement, and extends AIU's coverage enforcement authority to requests for administrative dissolution, and the revocation or suspension of licenses, certificates or registrations of any legal business entity. P.L. 2010 Ch. 649 delegates authority to the Board, after hearing, to issue stop-work orders against construction businesses that fail to meet the coverage provisions of the Act

Vocational Rehabilitation: The Board regularly reviews vocational rehabilitation requests. In 2009, the Board received 18 applications for evaluation of suitability for vocational rehabilitation, 16 from injured worker, 1 from employers and 1 from Hearing Officers.

Independent Medical Examiner System: Currently, the Board has 28 Independent Medical Examiners. In 2009, there were 434 requests for independent medical exams. Of the 434 requests, 208 were from injured workers, 191 from employers/insurers, 1 from Hearing Officers, and 34 agreed upon between the parties.

Forms and Data Processed by Unit Insurance Coverage Unit

This unit monitors workers' compensation insurance coverage of employers. Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) has already been implemented with the State's largest carrier for the filing of insurance coverage data. Requests for waivers of workers' compensation insurance are reviewed by this unit. It also processes applications for the predetermination of independent contractors.

OFFICE OF MONITORING, AUDIT AND ENFORCEMENT

The MAE Program is having a significant impact on compliance in the State of Maine through its monitoring and auditing efforts. The 2009 Annual Compliance Report continues to show positive trends in First Report of Injury filings, initial indemnity payments, initial Memorandum of Payment filings, and initial indemnity Notice of Controversy filings (see table below). To date, the MAE Program has generated $855,928 in penalties paid directly to injured employees or providers of medical or health care services, $200,275 in penalties paid to the Board, and $926,510 in penalties paid to the State General Fund (total penalties paid to date is $1,982,713). These initiatives will continue to reduce the number of cases litigated and increase the number of lost-time cases that are paid timely and accurately.

P.L. 2010 Ch. 649 allocated funds to enhance the enforcement of laws prohibiting the misclassification of workers by establishing one Management Analyst II position and one Auditor III position within the MAE Program. To date, the MAE Program has completed 3 employee misclassification audits, with 4 other audits in process and an additional 12 audit engagement letters sent. The audits have covered 20 employees, $240,012 in payroll, $582,980 in "subcontractor" wages shown on 1099's, and $55,413 in "casual labor" wages not shown on 1099's. The first two audits found violations of the coverage requirements, but no widespread misclassification of workers. The third audit found $638,392 in potentially misclassified wages, which may result in $131,414 in unpaid workers' compensation premium.

PURPOSE:

The Allagash Wilderness Waterway Advisory Council was established under PL 2007, c. 146 to work with the manager of the waterway in developing and maintaining a strategic plan for the waterway and advancing the mission and goals of the waterway.

ORGANIZATION:

The 123rd Legislature created the Allagash Wilderness Waterway Advisory Council in 2007, assigning it to the Bureau of Parks & Lands, under 12 MRSA, Section 1891. The council consists of 7 members, 6 appointed by the Governor and 1 appointed by the Northeast Regional Director of the National Park Service. Members annually elect a chair from among the 7 members and serve terms of 5 years and not more than 2 terms. The Department of Conservation shall administer and manage the Allagash Wilderness Waterway as a separate region within the Bureau of Parks and Lands.

PROGRAM:

This new Allagash Wilderness Waterway Advisory Council represents the public interest in the Allagash Wilderness Waterway and provides counsel to the manager of the waterway and the Director of the Bureau of Parks & Lands within the Department of Conservation. It also creates an endowment fund to support capital acquisitions and improvements, historic, cultural, and educational programs and facilities. The commissioner shall annually report to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over conservation matters. In its first year, the Council met five times and focused its attention on the initial responsibility to develop a proposed strategic plan for the Waterway. Members organized into subgroups, identified priority issues, prepared preliminary draft goals and objectives for further research, and completed work on a draft mission statement. The strategic plan was completed in fiscal year 2010.

In FY2001, Congress passed the Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act (EGTRRA). designee; The Commissioner of Health and Human Services, or designee; The District Chief of the USGS Water Resources Division, Maine District Office; The Meteorologist-in-Charge, NWS Forecast Office, Maine, or designee; Representatives from the major hydroelectric power generators, as determined by co-chairs of the Commission; and a representative of the public, appointed by the Governor.

The District Chief of the United States Geological Survey Water Resources Division Maine District Office and the Director of the Maine Emergency Management Agency, or the Director's designee shall act as co-chairs of the Commission. The term of office for the public member and the representative from the major hydroelectric generators is five years. The public member may be removed from office for cause by the Governor. Members from State Government or Federal Government shall serve a term coincident with their governmental position.

PROGRAM:

The Commission facilitates communications of river flow data between dam operators, river basin managers, State agencies, the United States Geological Survey, and the National Weather Service during periods of both flood and drought. It reports on data collected from stream flow gauges jointly funded by the State and the USGS (a 50/50 match program), information gathered in an annual survey of snow pack conditions in the late winter and early spring, and other information gathered and exchanged among its members. The data is also used by the Department of Transportation in highway and bridge design as well as the Departments of Conservation and Inland Fisheries and Wildlife when assessing the impact or irrigation on aquatic habitat and monitoring river flow for recreational uses.

The origin of the Commission was the Flow Management Advisory Committee, formed by Executive Order in 1983 as a result of heavy flooding on the Kennebec River. It operated under the Land and Water Resources Council of the State Planning Office. Its mission was to evaluate whether Maine's rivers were being responsibly managed to protect health and safety of Maine citizens as well as to facilitate communications of river flow data. This committee issued a final report stating a need for information flow and mitigation measures since flood prevention on Maine's rivers is not possible.

The River Flow Advisory Committee was redesignated the River Flow Advisory Commission in 1997 and organized within the Department of Defense, Veterans and Emergency Management. This provides the Commission with stability and visibility within the Department that is the major user of its hydrologic network data during periods of flood and drought when the public's health and safety is threatened.

Guiding Principles: The actions of the Maine Arts Commission are guided by the following basic principles. In all of its programs, the Maine Arts Commission will: (1) Value artistic quality and cultural diversity, which may be represented in many forms and achieved in many ways; (2) Engage widely and deeply the public it seeks to reach, recognizing that access and impact of the kind that changes lives are both immediate and long-term goals; (3) Act locally, because it is at the local level that access and impact are most readily achieved and sustained; and (4) Work collaboratively and promote collaboration in order to increase the impact of the Maine Arts Commission's resources, and to foster relationships and commitments that build infrastructure beyond the Maine Arts Commission's involvement.

In acting on these principles, the Maine Arts Commission will look for evidence that the public is a clear beneficiary; that available resources are being used efficiently; that additional resources are being leveraged to ensure success, sustainability, and commitment; and that the local capacity to carry on the work begun becomes greater as a result of these efforts.

PURPOSE:

The Baxter State Park Authority was established to operate and maintain Baxter State Park for the use and enjoyment of the people of Maine in accordance with the wishes of its donor, former Governor Percival P. Baxter, that this park "...shall forever be retained and used for state forest, public park and public recreational purposes...shall forever be kept and remain in the natural wild state...shall forever be kept and remain as a sanctuary for beasts and birds."

The primary responsibilities of the Authority are to protect the wildlife, fauna and flora within the Park for the enjoyment of present and future generations; to operate and maintain various hiking trails, campgrounds, campsites and rustic log cabins within the 209,501 acre Park; to conduct exemplary forest management operations on the 29,537 acre Scientific Forest Management Area; to receive and expend monies from the trusts and other income for the maintenance and operation of the park; to acquire additional land for the park as authorized by law; to establish rules and regulations as necessary for the protection and safety of the public; and to exercise police supervision over the park.

ORGANIZATION:

Baxter State Park is the result of a dream of former Governor Percival P. Baxter who donated the first parcel of land in 1931 and over the years added various parcels until his final acquisition in 1962 brought the Park's area to 201,018 acres. Since then, the Authority has purchased and been gifted additional lands bringing the Park to its current size of 209,501 acres. In addition to the various gifts of land, Governor Baxter also left two sizable trust funds to carry out the operation and maintenance of the park without the need of state funding.

While Baxter State Park bears the name "State", it is separately administered, free from any connection with the larger state park system (Bureau of Parks and Recreation or the Department of Conservation). The Baxter State Park Authority, a three person authority consisting of the Maine Attorney General, the Director of Maine Forest Service and the Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, has full power in the control and management of the park and in the exercise of all Trust obligations. Responsibility for the operation and management of Baxter State Park is delegated from the Baxter State Park

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - OTHER

Authority to the Park Director who supervises: Chief Ranger (Operations); Resource Manager (Scientific Forest Management); Park Naturalist (Information and Education); and the Business Manager.

Approximately 35% of the cost of Park operations is financed from a combination of use fees, entrance fees and wood products revenues with the remaining 65% provided by revenues from trusts established by Percival Baxter in 1945 and again through his will after his death in 1969 to provide funds for the care and maintenance of Baxter State Park.

PROGRAM:

Both the forever wild and forest management portions of Baxter State Park are managed according to the wishes of the donor, Percival Baxter, as expressed in the Trust Deed Communications. As a large wilderness area, Baxter State Park faces many issues unique to the management of such an area. In all policy issues, the preservation and protection of Park resources is considered above recreational needs. The process of policy and decision making of the Authority is assisted by Park staff and several Advisory Committees.

Within the 209,501 acres of the Park are ten campgrounds and numerous out-lying sites providing an overnight capacity of slightly over 1,000 campers with a seasonal capacity of 145,000. All campground and many day-use facilities include disability friendly sites. During peak summer use months of July and August, the Park is often filled to capacity. The seasonal average use over the six months from May 15 to October 15 is usually around 50% of capacity.

LICENSES:

- * Non-resident fishing licenses.
- * Entrance Permits for day use, overnight use, and seasonal use.
- * Advance reservations for all overnight facilities in the Baxter State Park.
- * Permits to allow individuals to carry out research activities and media production activities.

MAINE COMMISSION FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE

MARYALICE CROFTON, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Mail Address: 38 STATE HOUSE STATION, AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0038

Established: 1995

Reference: Policy Area:00 ; Umbrella: 94 Unit: 578 ; Citation: T0005 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000007501

PURPOSE:

The Maine Commission for Community Service was established by Executive Order in 1994 to link the Corporation for National Service to the State of Maine. The Commission purpose and duties were codified in state statute one year later, broadening the responsibilities beyond merely responding to federal initiatives. The Commission's statutory mission is to "foster community service and volunteerism to meet human and environmental needs" in Maine. Among the fourteen assigned duties are these: identifying the priority needs to be met by service, developing a comprehensive plan for community service in Maine, providing technical assistance and training to national service programs in the State, and increasing collaboration among public and private sector community and volunteer service organizations.

The Commission makes sub-grants in accordance with provisions of the federal National and Community Service Trust Act of 1993 (USC 42, Section 12502 et seq.) and recommends State priorities regarding programs that receive direct federal financial assistance under the Domestic Volunteer Act of 1973. In addition to administering AmeriCorps State programs and the Maine Service-Learning funds, the Commission coordinates its activities with the regional office of the Corporation for National Service, which handles AmeriCorps, VISTA, Senior Companions, Foster Grandparents, and Retired Senior Volunteer Programs (RSVP). Together the three agencies oversaw just over $6.7 million of Corporation for National Service funds invested in Maine's local volunteer service activities.

ORGANIZATION:

The Commission is comprised of no fewer than 15 and no more than 25 voting-members appointed by the Governor. Representation is directed by Statute. Members are appointed to serve in three-year, staggered terms. Voting members of the Commission elect a chair from their ranks. Ex-officio members are the Commissioner of the Maine Department of Education or his/her designee and the State Director for the Corporation for National Service. The Commission is directed to report annually to the Governor and the Joint Standing Committee on State and Local Government. The Commission is located at the State Planning Office.

PROGRAM:

During 2009, the Commission managed $1.5 million in funding from the Corporation for National and Community Service. These funds included $200,000 from a national challenge grant to build capacity in the volunteer sector. The balance helped administer grants for two AmeriCorps programs that will have statewide impact and promote the state's community service capacity. Each program is selected because it meets a need identified in the Commission's strategic plan. In 2009, Maine AmeriCorps sponsors matched the grant with just under $1.052 million (cash and in-kind). In addition, Maine's 130 AmeriCorps members recruited 10,625 volunteers who contributed over 103,808 hours of community service.

M.R.S.A., Sect. 000000929A

PURPOSE:

The Maine Economic Growth Council was established to develop, maintain and evaluate a long term economic plan for the state. The Council's responsibilities include the development of a long range plan, goals, benchmarks and alternative strategies for a sustainable State economy. Additionally, the Council will monitor progress in accomplishing the State's goals and benchmarks, recommend changes in the Plan to reflect the dynamics of the international, national and state economy.

ORGANIZATION:

The Council is composed of 19 members, appointed for 3-year terms. The Commissioner of the Department of Economic and Community Development is a permanent member. The remaining 18 members are jointly appointed by the Governor, President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives. Fourteen members are appointed from the public to represent a broad range of expertise in areas including labor, environment, business and education, one of whom must also serve on the Maine Innovation Economy Advisory Council; also appointed to the Council are four members of the Legislature having a demonstrated interest in economic development.

The Council is staffed by the Maine Development Foundation, and is currently co-chaired by Senator Seth Goodall and Timothy Hussey.

PROGRAM:

In FY'95, the Council issued its first report entitled Goals for Growth, Progress 95; the Council proposed to monitor progress in six key goal areas: Innovative Businesses; Productive Workers/Rewarding Employment; Vital Communities; Healthy Natural Resources; Efficient Government; and State of the Art Infrastructure. The report outlines specific measures and benchmarks to track and compare Maine's performance. To date, the Council has distributed reports and has constructed briefings for state-wide organizations and agencies. The Council has been compiling baseline data for the benchmarks and conducts annual state-wide surveys of Maine businesses and citizens. In 1997, the Growth Council published Measures of Growth 97, which identified 57 benchmarks in the six goal areas. In 1998 the Growth Council published Measures of Growth 98, which reported on performance against benchmarks established in 1997. The report has been updated annually.

In January, 2002, "Measures of Growth 2002" was restructured to retain 40 of the Council's original measures and add 20 new measures, in order to better align the report with Maine's economy. "Measures of Growth 2004" was published in March, 2004. This format was used to publish the 2003 and 2004 Measures of Growth reports as well. In the fall of 2004 and early winter of 2005, the Growth Council pared down the indicators report and published the "2005 Measures of Growth in Focus". This report honed in on the eighteen indicators in the economy, community and environmental spheres that are most critical to Maine's long term development. The Growth Council published another edition of "Measures of Growth in Focus" in 2006, this time highlighting the 22 most critical indicators. The Growth Council also initiated the "Adopt-a-Benchmark" program which encourages Maine organizations to take actions that move the State closer to the Growth Council's benchmarks. In 2007, a 23rd indicator was added, a roadway deficiency index. The number of participants in the Adopt-a-Benchmark program doubled from 12 to 24 and ten organizations were given a "Gold Star Award" for their work on particular indicators. In 2008, a 24th indicator, cost of energy, was added by the Council. The number of participants in the Adopt-a-Benchmark program increased to 27. Twelve organizations were awarded Gold Stars for their work on improving their adopted indicators. There were publications in 2009 and 2010. Adopt-a-Benchmark program has 22 participants and 8 Gold Stars were awarded in 2010.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Educational Loan Authority (MELA) was established to assist students and their families to achieve their goals in the area of higher education.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Educational Loan Authority is a public body, corporate and politic, and an instrumentality of the State. Established in 1988, it functions as an administratively independent authority within the current organizational structure of the State government, but receives no appropriation from the Legislature for its operation.

PROGRAM:

Immediately after being created by the 113th Legislature in late Spring of 1988, the Maine Educational Loan Authority undertook to implement its initial program. This is a supplemental educational loan program which was funded by $35 million worth of tax exempt bonds issued in July of 1988. These funds were from a private source and no state monies were used. In May of 1992, the Authority refunded its initial offering and issued $60 million worth of tax exempt bonds in order to continue its loan program. An additional $12.5 million, $10 million, $14 million and $10 million of tax exempt bonds were issued in June of 1996, July of 1997, January of 1999, and September of 2000, respectively. In November of 2002, MELA issued a $26.9 million bond, which included $16.9 million to refund the 1992 series bonds. An additional $30 million and $50 million of tax exempt bonds were issued in May of 2005 and February of 2007, respectively. In May of 2009, MELA issued a $210 million bond, which included $152,250,000 to refund prior tax-exempt obligations of the Authority.

The MELA Loan Program currently consists of The Maine Loan and The Maine Medical Loan. The Maine Loan and The Maine Medical Loan are loans made in amounts up to the full cost of education, less other financial aid, annually, and are available to eligible students. These loans are for Maine residents attending college in or out of the State of Maine and Canada or out-of-state residents attending Maine institutions of higher education. These loans are available to students and parents based solely on the credit worthiness of the applicant(s). For MELA loans, the variable interest rate is set annually and borrowers may take up to 25 years to repay their loans depending on the loan program and loan amount. Borrowers must have a Maine nexus.

In the future the Authority hopes to expand its range of programs designed to assist families in financing higher education, including fixed rate loan products that will be available in August of 2010.

PROGRAM:

Any municipality that is financially unable to provide for its direct relief and work programs or its contributory share of public assistance programs of any nature, may apply to the Department of Human Services for funds from the State for that purpose. If after the audit or investigation the Board finds it necessary it may, by a majority vote, take over local government.

PURPOSE:

The Finance Authority of Maine (FAME), a quasi-independent state agency, is Maine's business and higher education finance authority. FAME initially was established in 1983 as Maine's business finance agency. In that role, FAME was charged with supporting the start-up, expansion, and growth of Maine businesses by working with Maine's banking community to improve access to capital.

In 1990, FAME's mission was significantly expanded by the Maine Legislature when it assumed responsibility for administering the state's higher education finance and outreach programs. Through loans, grants, and loan insurance, FAME helps students and their families meet the costs associated with higher education. FAME administers Maine's Section 529 College Savings Program, the NextGen College Investing Plan, and oversees outreach activities that are designed to encourage Maine people to aspire to and pursue higher education. In 2004, FAME was designated as Maine's secondary market for student loans.

FAME accomplishes its mission - providing innovative financial solutions to help Maine citizens pursue business and educational opportunities - by working closely with the state's higher education, banking, economic development and business communities, as well as the Governor and Maine Legislature, in the formulation and implementation of financial services and programs that help fill gaps that exist in Maine's capital delivery system.

ORGANIZATION:

FAME is overseen by a fifteen-member Board of Directors that has the following makeup: two members with experience in natural resource-based enterprises; two veterans; one certified public accountant; one commercial lender; one attorney; one member with expertise in student financial aid; one member knowledgeable in the field of higher education; three members at-large; three state officials, including the Commissioner of Economic and Community Development, a natural resource agency commissioner, and the State Treasurer.

Members of the FAME Board are appointed by the Governor and are subject to review and confirmation by the Maine Legislature. Each member, other than the state officials, serves for a term of four years. The Chief Executive Officer

Register of Historic Places. In addition, the Commission reviews all federally-funded and federally-licensed projects for their effect upon historic resources.

ORGANIZATION:

The Commission was created by the 105th Legislature in 1971 as an independent State commission. In 1973, the Commission was placed in the Department of Educational and Cultural Services for administrative purposes, and in 1979 it became a bureau of the Department. In 1990 the 114th Legislature established the Commission as an independent agency.

The Commission consists of 11 members made up as follows: Commissioner or representative of the Department of Transportation, Commissioner or representative of the Department of Conservation, and 9 representatives from among citizens of Maine, one of whom shall be elected chairman. Among the public members, all of whom are appointed by the Governor, there must be at least one prehistoric archaeologist, one historic archaeologist, one historian, one architectural historian, and one architect.

PROGRAM:

During FY 2010, the Commission expanded the National Register of Historic Places by 5 individual buildings, 3 structures and 7 historic districts. One site and nine historic districts.

The Historic Preservation provision of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 has required extensive staff time in certifying historic buildings and advising owners on acceptable restoration techniques. As in past years a great deal of staff time has been spent in reviewing federally-funded projects that might have an impact upon the State's historic resources, as well as offering advice and services to countless communities, groups, and individuals with concerns in the area of historic preservation.

LICENSES:

Under 27 MRSA 374 any party wishing to excavate an archaeological site listed in the National Register of Historic Places which is state-owned or is subject to a preservation agreement between the landowner and the Commission, must apply in writing for an Excavation Permit to the Director of the Commission. If such a permit is granted, it must be co-signed by the Director of the Commission, the Director of the State Museum, and (if involving a state-owned site) the Director of the agency with primary jurisdiction. If a site which is not state-owned is involved, permission to excavate in writing from the landowner must accompany the permit application.

MAINE MUNICIPAL BOND BANK

ROBERT O. LENNA, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

WATS: (800) 821-1113

Central Office: PO BOX 2268, AUGUSTA, ME 04330-2268

Mail Address: PO BOX 2268, AUGUSTA, ME 04330-2268

Established: 1972

FAX: (207) 623-5359

Reference: Policy Area:00 ; Umbrella: 94 Unit: 376 ; Citation: T0030A.M.R.S.A., Sect. 000005951

PURPOSE:

The Maine Municipal Bond Bank was established to reduce overall long-term borrowing costs of governmental units within the State for capital improvement projects through lower interest rates and reduced processing costs of bond issues. The Bond Bank is empowered to issue bonds and notes in its own name and to use the proceeds therefrom to directly purchase the bonds or notes of governmental units. The result is to combine a number of smaller bond issues into a single attractive package which the Maine Municipal Bond Bank then offers to the national market.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Municipal Bond Bank, established in 1972, consists of a five-member Board of Commissioners, including the Treasurer of State and the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, ex officio, and three Commissioners appointed by the Governor, for terms of three years. The Board elects one of its members as chairman and appoints an Executive Director who also serves as both secretary and treasurer.

No State appropriations are allocated to the Maine Municipal Bond Bank's General Bond Resolution program. The Bank pays all costs of issuance on behalf of local governmental units using the Bank's General Bond Resolution, except for local bond counsel, a pro-rated share of underwriters' sales commission and any negative arbitrage on the moral obligation reserve fund. Operating expenses are covered by the bond premiums and income from investment of reserve and operating funds.

PROGRAM:

In 2004, the Maine Legislature established the Transportation Grant Anticipation Fund for the purpose of assisting the State of Maine Department of Transportation in the financing of qualified transportation projects. Loans are funded through the issuance of tax exempt revenue bonds (GARVEE bonds) and are secured pursuant to a pledge and certificate issued by the Maine Department of Transportation, which pledges future Federal Transportation funds to secure payment of GARVEE bonds. No GARVEE bonds were issued in 2010.

In 2008, the Maine Legislature established the Transportation Infrastructure Fund for the purpose of providing financial assistance for the planning, design, acquisition, reconstruction and rehabilitation of transportation capital improvements in the State of Maine. Loans are funded through the issuance of tax exempt revenue bonds and are secured by the TransCap Trust Fund, which is administered by the Bond Bank. The TransCap Trust Fund is funded by a portion of revenues collected by the Treasurer of the State, including motor vehicle fuel taxes, and motor vehicle fees including registration, title, license, dealer, inspection and special permit fees. In July, 2009, the Bond Bank issued $105,000,000 in Transportation Infrastructure Revenue Bonds that financed approximately 55 projects. The issue was rated AA by Standard and Poor's and AA- by Fitch Ratings.

In October, 2008, the Bond Bank issued $100,010,000 that assisted 16 governmental units to finance their capital needs. This issuance was rated Aa1/AAA/AAA by Moody's, Standard & Poor's, and Fitch Ratings, respectively. In May of 2009, another bond sale was issued in the amount of $52,905,000 that assisted 16 governmental units finance their capital projects. This issue was rated AAA/AAA by Standard & Poor's and Fitch Ratings, respectively.

In 1998, the Maine Legislature established the Maine School Revolving Renovation Fund to promote efficient capital financing activities for the construction, renovation, and maintenance of school facilities. The Bond Bank administers this Fund. The Bond Bank receives allocations from the State for deposit into the Fund. In fiscal year 2008, the School Revolving Renovation program provided 16 loans totaling $7,338,414.98 to finance qualified school renovation projects.

The Bond Bank established a lease purchase program in 1998 to provide a means of quickly and effectively financing real and personal property transactions. There were no lease purchase transactions in 2009.

The State of Maine designated the Bond Bank to serve as the administrator and financial manager of the Drinking Water and Clean Water State Revolving Loan Fund Programs. Loans are funded through a combination of tax exempt revenue bond dollars, federal funds and state matching funds to create an interest rate 2% below the Bond Bank's cost of funds. In fiscal year 2009, the Clean Water State Revolving Loan Fund program provided 29 loans totaling $46,849,288 to finance wastewater construction projects. The Drinking Water State Revolving Loan Fund program provided 50 loans totaling $1,775,707 to public water systems.

PURPOSE:

The mission of the Maine State Museum is to educate and inspire Maine's people and visitors by collecting, preserving, researching and exhibiting objects of Maine's natural and cultural heritage. We do this to promote an understanding of, and respect for the past, which is essential for Maine's future. The Maine State Museum and its collections are a unique source of information on Maine's natural science and human history. Collections are exhibited in the Cultural Building, State House, and Blaine House as well as loaned to other museums for special displays.

The museum staff conducts archeology field work, scientific and historical research in support of publications, exhibits and a full understanding of state-owned collections.

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - OTHER

ORGANIZATION:

The basic concept of a State Museum was approved and funded by the Legislature in 1836 with the first exhibit established in 1837. The Maine State Museum became an independent, professionally staffed agency with the creation of the Maine State Museum Commission in 1966. In 2004 the American Association of Museums accredited the museum for the fourth time in 30 continuous years. This year the Museum Store was once again staffed by State employees rather than contractors. Store revenue pays for all store expenses and all profit benefits the museum's publications efforts. FY 2009 gross store revenue was $151,853.

The Maine State Museum and six other cultural agencies are members of the Maine State Cultural Affairs Council which coordinates collaborative ongoing state-wide projects.

PROGRAM:

EDUCATION: The museum was open five days each week and increased average visitors per-day-open from 198 to 206 for the year. More than 50,400 people visited the museum. School and group visitation was 21,396 with groups numbering 873 from 246 communities. Over 1,105 Learning Results related gallery programs and tours were presented. Special educational events, including Family Geography Day (610 participants), Family Fiber Day (217) Bug Maine-ia (1,204 participants), and Earth Science Day, (683) were very successful. Daily public programming was offered for Coastweek. Other events included six public evening lectures, a two-day Model Train Celebration (494 visitors), Wreaths of Remembrance event (50) and two sled dog breeding Perry Green Kennels events (746 and 326 participants). The museum staff trained high school and college level student interns in several fields.

COLLECTIONS: The museum acquired many important artifacts and scientific specimens, through direct donation, transfer from other agencies and institutions, and through purchase funds earned from special endowments. Examples include donation by Cross Jewelers of Portland of a pair of Maine tourmaline earrings selected to match the Maine Tourmaline Necklace, and to be worn by Maine's first ladies during state functions; the desk used by James G. Blaine when he was editor of the Kennebec Journal; 350 boxes of archaeological materials transferred from the University of Maine at Farmington; a complete osteological collection including the skeletal remains of over 125 Maine vertebrate species; over 140 Civil War letters to and from John W. Dana of the 12th Regiment of Maine Infantry; and from Stinson Seafood's Prospect Harbor cannery, the last three cans of sardines produced in the U.S.A. The museum also "deaccessions" materials which are duplicates, damaged beyond use, or more appropriate for other institutions. An example this year is the transfer of a 1929 McCann Company fire truck to the Boothbay Railway Village Museum.

EXHIBITS: Temporary exhibits include "A Maine Man's Gift: Morrill Worcester's Wreaths of Honor" about how Christmas wreaths sent to Arlington National Cemetery started the nationwide Wreaths Across America program to honor military veterans. "An American Breed in Maine" featured the Chinook breed of dogs once available exclusively from a Waldoboro kennel. A living exhibit, "The Matchcoat Project" presented Wabanaki textile artisans recreating an 18th century Maliseet chief's coat and ensemble. Installed at the State House Welcome Center "Ancient Caribou Hunters in the Magalloway Valley." Additions were made to "At Home in Maine" and "Cabinet of Curiosities" was enhanced. A complete system of way-finding signs was installed in all galleries. Small entry area exhibits included "Bug Maine-ia", "Earth Science" and "New Acquisitions" displays. Museum staff also facilitated a Cultural Building Atrium display by an Edward Little High School art class called "The Money Monster".

OUTREACH: The Museum Website was upgraded with support from the Office of Tourism. The museum again awarded New Century Community Program "collection care" and "facilities improvement" grants to historical societies and small museums. Over 23 artifacts and specimens were loaned to other institutions. Museum staff members responded to public requests for information and assistance and served on professional scientific boards and committees.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Public Employees Retirement System (MainePERS) administers retirement programs that cover 1) State employees, 2) all of the State's public school teachers and administrators, 3) the State's judges, 4) the State's legislators, and 5) employees of the various political subdivisions that choose to participate in the MainePERS as Participating Local Districts (PLDs). The retirement program for the PLDs include the PLD Consolidated Plan, which was fully implemented as of July 1, 1996, and covers 293 PLDs, and the 18 separate plans for the remaining non-consolidated PLDs that continue to function as districts for their remaining employee-members and retirees. The MainePERS is also responsible for the payment of benefits from the Governor's Retirement Fund, and payment of retirement benefits to judges who retired prior to establishment of the Judicial Retirement Program (formerly the Maine Judicial Retirement System) in 1984.

In addition to administering these public retirement programs, the MainePERS is responsible for administering the Group Life Insurance Program. This program provides life insurance benefits for both active and retired State employees and public school teachers, for employees of PLDs that elect to offer this coverage to their employees, and for members and retirees of the Legislative and Judicial Retirement Programs.

The system also administers the MaineSTART defined contribution retirement plans that are established under sections 401(a), 403(b), and 457(b) of the Internal Revenue Code. These plans are presently available to employees of those employers in the PLD Consolidated Plan that have adopted one or more of the plans. As of June 30, 2010, there are 10 employers participating in the 401(a) plan with 83 participants, 35 employers participating in the 457(b) plan with 347 participants, and 1 employer participating in the 403(b) plan with 199 participants.

ORGANIZATION:

The responsibility for the operation of MainePERS is held by the system's Board of Trustees, which is comprised of eight members. State law specifies the Board's composition. The State Treasurer is an ex-officio member of the Board. The seven other trustee seats include three that are to be filled by Retirement System members. One of these is to be a teacher member elected by the Maine Education Association; the second is to be a State employee elected by the Maine State Employees' Association; the third is to be a PLD member appointed by the Maine Municipal Association. The remaining four trustee seats are held by persons appointed by the Governor. Two of them are to have training or experience in investments, accounting, banking, or insurance, or as actuaries; one is to be chosen from nominees submitted by the Maine Education Association - Retired; and one is to be a MainePERS retiree, chosen from nominees of State and/or PLD retirees.

The Board contracts with qualified professional actuaries for the actuarial services necessary for its oversight of plan funding and the discharge of those of its other responsibilities that involve actuarial information and analysis. The Board's management of MainePERS investments is embodied in its investment policy. The policy states the Board's underlying investment objectives, sets out the investment strategies intended to realize the objectives, and establishes guidelines and criteria for implementation of the strategies. The Board employs an investment consultant to assist in development and implementation of investment policy.

The Board is the final administrative decision-maker in matters involving the rights, credits, and benefits of members. It has established an administrative appeals process for the making of such decisions; in this process the relevant factual information and legal requirements are identified and analyzed by the Hearing Officers who serve under contract. In decisions on disability retirement appeals, statutorily established Medical Boards and individual medical advisors provide recommendations as to the medical aspects of disability. The Board's final administrative decisions are appealable to Superior Court.

The Board of Trustees appoints the Executive Director of the MainePERS, who is responsible for the work of the system's staff. The staff is organized into the Office of the Executive Director and the Departments of Service Programs, and Administration.

PROGRAM:

Covered members of the MainePERS include both active and inactive members. Active members are those who are currently working for a MainePERS participating employer and who are, therefore, contributing to MainePERS. As of June 30, 2010, there are approximately 50,482 active members in MainePERS. Inactive members are those who have contributed in the past and whose contributions remain with the system but who are not contributing presently because they are not working for a MainePERS participating employer. As of June 30, 2010, there are approximately 57,265 inactive members in MainePERS.

The MainePERS benefits payroll comprises benefits paid to service retirees, beneficiaries of service retirees, disability retirees and survivors of members who become deceased prior to retirement. At June 30, 2010, a total of 35,805 people were receiving benefits. The total monthly benefits payroll paid for the month of June 30, 2010 was $54,602,147. While this number fluctuates month to month, as does the number of benefit recipients, fluctuations are relatively small. Thus, the June 30 numbers can be viewed as an approximate monthly average for fiscal year 2010.

Those looking for more details concerning the membership, finances, or benefits of MainePERS are invited to contact the system for information.

SACO RIVER CORRIDOR COMMISSION

M.R.S.A., Sect. 000000954

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the Saco River Corridor Commission is best described by the legislation which created both the Commission and the Saco River Corridor Act. The Act states that "In view of the dangers of intensive and poorly planned development, it is the purpose of this Act to preserve existing water quality, prevent the diminution of water supplies, to control erosion, to protect fish and wildlife populations, to prevent undue extremes of floods and drought, to limit the loss of life and damage to property from periodic floods; to preserve the scenic, rural and unspoiled character of the lands adjacent to these rivers; to prevent obstructions to navigation; to prevent overcrowding; to avoid the mixture of incompatible uses; to protect those areas of exceptional scenic, historic, archaeological, scientific and educational importance; and to protect the public health, safety and general welfare by establishing the Saco River Corridor and by regulating the use of the land and water within this area." The Saco River is functionally comparable to a drinking water reservoir which requires the additional oversight and protection.

The Corridor area, totaling approximately 300 miles of river front, includes the Saco River from Saco Bay to the New Hampshire border, the Ossipee River from its confluence with the Saco River to the New Hampshire border, and the Little Ossipee River from its confluence with the Saco River to the New Hampshire border at Balch Pond.

The Saco River Corridor Commission is, then, essentially a regionally administered regulatory agency with responsibility for enforcing the land use provisions of the Saco River Corridor Act. It is a function of this Commission to review applications for permits and variances filed under provisions of this Act and to ensure the continuing land and water quality of the Saco River Corridor.

ORGANIZATION:

The Saco River Corridor Commission is a single-unit agency consisting of one regular and one alternate member from each of the twenty municipalities in the three counties whose jurisdiction includes lands or bodies of water encompassed by the Saco River Corridor. These forty members are appointed for a staggered three year term to serve on the Commission by the various elected officials within the municipalities with lands in the Corridor. The Commission members are the decision making body of the organization, while the staff, presently consisting of an Executive Director, an Administrative Assistant, an Environmental Compliance Evaluator, Water Quality Program Coordinator and 60 Volunteers provides support services to the Commission, to applicants, and to various municipal officials concerned with the Saco River Corridor Act, with the river, or with other state-related matters.

PROGRAM:

In order to promote orderly growth within the Corridor, the "Saco River Corridor Act" established a permit procedure for development activities within the statutorily defined corridor. With available resources, the Commission staff provides assistance to applicants both in working out a reasonable and acceptable site plan and in completing the necessary permit application forms. During this fiscal year, the Commission conducted 5 public hearings and 11 regular meetings. Members considered a total of 96 applications for permits and amendments to permits previously granted within the Corridor. Commission staff traveled 14,876 miles in performing site inspections, compliance checks and enforcement of land use law.

The development proposals reviewed by the Commission continue to reflect a diversity of uses for the river and its adjacent lands, and the Commission's discussions and decisions regarding various applications are, in part, a reflection of a major purpose of the Saco River Corridor Act: the assurance that diversity of use is balanced by the avoidance of the mixture of incompatible uses.

The Commission continues to coordinate any enforcement efforts with the Office of the Attorney General and/or the Department of Environmental Protection. Although the Commission's primary function is regulatory, it also continues its historic role as an advocate for the river and its surrounding environment. To this end, the Commission utilizes 35 volunteers annually to coordinate a water quality monitoring program at 35 separate sites. In total, over 3,500 individual samples are taken and analyzed by staff and through a certified laboratory. In addition, Commission staff regularly coordinates program elements with area schools to assist teachers with water quality curriculum.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Technology Institute (MTI) was established to encourage, promote, stimulate and support research and development activity leading to the commercialization of new products and services in the state's technology-intensive industrial sectors to enhance the competitive position of those sectors and increase the likelihood that one or more of the sectors will support clusters of industrial activity and to create new jobs for Maine people. The MTI is one element of the State's economic development strategy and contributes to the long-term development of a statewide research, development and product deployment infrastructure.

ORGANIZATION:

MTI is organized as a nonprofit corporation, consistent with the provisions of the federal Internal Revenue Code. By-laws were drafted and corporation documents filed in September of 1999. A Board of Directors consisting of thirteen voting members and two non-voting members governs MTI. The Governor appoints ten directors, eight represent the targeted technologies and two have demonstrated finance, lending or venture capital experience. The Commissioner of Economic and Community Development, The Chancellor of the University of Maine

System and the president of the Maine Community College System or their designees are ex officio members. One ex officio non-voting member is the Director of the State Planning Office. The MTI Director is a non-voting director. Seven subsidiary boards, each representing a targeted technology sector, were formed and function to advise and support the MTI Board.

MTI operates from one office located in Gardiner. Its staff is comprised of two full-time and one half-time program managers, two program specialists, two program assistants, a finance and administration manager, and an office manager. The Director is employed by the Maine Department of Economic and Community Development.

PROGRAM:

MTI pursues its mission by making direct investments in promising technologies, providing targeted commercialization assistance to Maine companies, and strengthening Maine's technology clusters. All MTI programs require at least a 1:1 matching contribution from the award recipient. Awards are made based on scientific or technical merit, commercial feasibility and potential for economic impact to the State. MTI offers several awards programs:

Seed Grants, awarded six times per year, are competitive grants of up to $12,500 per project, to support very early activities for product development, commercialization, or business planning and development. In FY2010, MTI received 236 Seed Grant applications, and approved 83 awards, awarding $929,000 (matched by $1.4 million).

Development Awards are competitive awards of up to $500,000 per project and are awarded three times per year. In FY2010, MTI received 27 development award applications and funded 16 awards for $4.3 million (matched by $6.9 million).

Phase Zero Awards are competitive grants of up to $5,000 to provide assistance for application of Small Business Innovation Research Awards. These awards are considered on a rolling basis. In FY2010, MTI received 26 applications for this program and approved funding for 18 Phase Zero Awards in the amount of $88,026 (matched by over $116,000).

The Pre-Phase II Small Business Innovation Research/Small Business Technology Transfer (SBIR/STTR) Match Program provides up to $10,000 matching support Maine small businesses that have received a Phase I SBIR/STTR award from one of the eleven Federal agencies that participate in this federally mandated program. The aim of this matching grant program is to fund business development activities not eligible for SBIR/STTR funding but required to advance the technology successfully to the market. MTI's program funded seven companies with matching awards totaling $69,985 that was match by $405,992.

The Accelerated Commercialization Fund provides investment capital to companies that have received Development Awards to help them leverage venture and individual capital. In FY2010, MTI made one investment totaling $73,846, on the same terms as lead venture capital fund and individual investors.

Cluster Enhancement Awards are competitive grants for collaborative projects that will stimulate and support the formation and growth of technology businesses in Maine. This program was expanded and renamed the Cluster Initiative Program in FY2010. The Cluster Initiative Program offers planning/feasibility awards of up to $50,000 and implementation awards of up to $500,000. In FY2010, MTI approved funding for five cluster initiative program awards for approximately $690,000 (matched by over $787,000).

MTI administers the Maine Technology Asset Fund, a highly competitive bond-funded program that provides awards for facilities construction and renovation as well as equipment purchases that advance technologies along the research, development, and commercialization pathway and positions Maine companies, university centers and nonprofit research institutions to secure private and public non-state investment. In FY2010, MTI issued a request for proposals for the third round of awards, to be awarded in FY2011.

protecting marine resources from pollution that filters toward the ocean. Estuaries are vital links to the Gulf of Maine, and support one of the most important fisheries in the world. Our field and laboratory research, aided by volunteers, town/state officials, students and visiting investigators, support such projects as: Estuarine Fish Distribution-quantify value of marsh dominated estuaries and watersheds for the survival, growth/reproduction of Gulf fishes; Estuarine Water Quality-long term monitoring of water quality to detect improvements/decline in water resources as result of land use and human activities; Salt Marsh Restoration-identify/measure damaging effects of tidal restriction.

EDUCATION

The educational programs of the Wells Reserve are designed to inform the public and coastal management decision-makers about the significance of coastal environments and watersheds. The Education Program has a popular spring and fall guided program for school groups called Exploring Estuaries. The Reserve has several summer programs for children. The Junior Researcher Day Camp allows children ages 9-11 to assist scientists with ongoing research and to learn about the varied habitats of the Reserve. The Reserve also offers one-day exploration sessions introducing children ages 6 to 11 to science and nature. The Education Program also offers the following: guided walks, events, and lectures; internships and fields studies for high school and college students; exhibits and self-guided interpretive tours.

NATURAL RESOURCE STEWARDSHIP

The Reserve conserves and manages wildlife habitats and maintains trails for the public, and cooperates on management activities with Rachel Carson National Wildlife Refuge. The Reserve encompasses 2,250 acres of protected lands. Furthermore, the Reserve works with community groups and organizations on in southern Maine towns on coastal habitat restoration, watershed management, and land conservation.

Average Count--All Positions: 13.000

PURPOSE:

Dirigo Health is established as an independent executive agency to arrange for the provision of comprehensive, affordable health care coverage to eligible small employers, including the self-employed, their employees and dependents, and individuals on a voluntary basis. Dirigo Health is also responsible for monitoring and improving the quality of health care in Maine through the Maine Quality Forum.

Dirigo Health operates under the supervision of a Board of Trustees consisting of nine voting members and four ex officio, nonvoting members.

ORGANIZATION:

Duties of the Dirigo Health Agency, as defined in PL 2003, Chapter 469, include but are not limited to: establishing administrative and accounting procedures for the operation of Dirigo Health in accordance with Title 5; determine the amount of aggregate measurable cost savings; collect the savings offset payments; determine the comprehensive services and benefits to be included in Dirigo Health Insurance and develop the specifications for Dirigo Health Insurance; develop and implement a program to publicize the existence of Dirigo Health and establish and operate the Maine Quality Forum. The forum's responsibilities include but are not limited to: research dissemination; quality and performance measures; data coordination; reporting and consumer education.

PROGRAM:

In FY 2010, the Dirigo Health Agency Board of Trustees met fourteen times to review the financial status and activities of the agency, make strategic decisions regarding changes to the program per PL 2009 Chapter 359 Section 6. The Dirigo Board of Trustees made several eligibility changes to the DirigoChoice program that went into effect in FY10 in an effort to make the program more affordable. In addition the Agency's Maine Quality Forum's Advisory Council met five times in FY10 to review the activities related to health care quality and provide strategic direction to the Quality Forum.

On February 19, 2010, the Superintendent of Insurance approved the Dirigo Board of Trustees determination of $78.9 million in aggregate measurable cost savings for the fourth assessment year. Due to the timing of Savings Offset Payments (SOP), the Legislature authorized a cash advance to the Agency of $25,000,000 at the beginning of FY10 to address cash flow problems created by the SOP structure. The Agency returned the $25,000,000 in full to the State on June 30, 2010. The 124th Maine State Legislature repealed the Savings Offset Payment and replaced it with a monthly Access Payment of 2.14 percent. The first Access Payment was collected in October 2010. The total amount of access payment collected in FY10 was $36,304,947.

At the close of FY10 the DirigoChoice program has been in operation for 66 months; and the parent expansion for 62 months. The total number of members served by these two programs since inception through the end of FY10 is 31,323. As of June 2010 there were 7,245 DirigoChoice members and 6,613 parents enrolled directly through MaineCare as part of the parent expansion.

The agency, through the Maine Quality Forum (MQF), continues to monitor and report provider performance using measures of care quality and patient safety, promote evidence-based care, and assess new technologies. During FY 2010, the Quality Forum: convened an advisory group of stakeholders per a Legislative Resolve passed by the 124th Legislature to study implementation of shared decision making; continued to support the Patient Centered Medical Home Pilot;

DOWNEAST INSTITUTE FOR APPLIED MARINE RESEACH AND EDUCATION

SHERRIE SPRANGERS,

Central Office: BLACK DUCK COVE, GREAT WASS IS, BEALS, ME 04611-0083

Mail Address: PO BOX 83, BEALS, ME 04611-0083

Established: 2003

Telephone: (207) 255-1205

Reference: Policy Area:04 ; Umbrella: 95 Unit: 624 ; Citation: S2003 M.R.S.A., Sect. CHAP 29

PURPOSE:

The Downeast Institute-- formerly known as the Beals Island Regional Shellfish Hatchery -- is a private non-profit organization whose purpose is to improve the quality of life for the people of downeast and coastal Maine through applied marine research, technology transfer, and public marine resource education.

ORGANIZATION:

The Institute is governed by a 16-member volunteer board of directors and staffed by a director of research, an executive director, and a manager of facilities and educational outreach. Work-study students from the University of Maine at Machias assist at the Great Wass Island hatchery and running seawater laboratory during the summer months.

PROGRAM:

For the last 20 years, the Institute has been conducting successful research on soft-shell clams, scallops, and lobsters and passing on the results of that research to local shellfish committees and municipal officials. Current projects include: the production of seed clams to increase harvests on coastal flats; a fishermen designed project with University of Maine Sea Grant Extension to test the use of closed areas to enhance the wild scallop fishery; an effort, funded by the Department of Marine Resources, to determine how quickly lobsters age; a collaboration with the Maine Lobster Institute to test the potential of using tidal impoundments to rear lobster larvae for stock enhancement purposes; a project, funded by the Maine Technology Institute, to test the economic feasibility of farming hard clams in eastern Maine; EDA-funded soft-shell clam demonstration farms to counteract the economic effects of red tide; and an effort to enhance soft-shell clam settlement rates in the flats surrounding Stockton Harbor.

During the last year alone, the Institute has provided more than $60,000 in grant payments to local fishermen and purchased just under $100,000 in goods and services from Washington County businesses.

In March of 2006, the Institute's board of directors used federal and state funds to purchase the Great Wass Island facility and renovations are currently underway.

The deep-water site will greatly expand research opportunities, provide space for a business incubator for local fishermen, and allow the Institute to better serve as the marine field station for the University of Maine at Machias and Maine's only marine research facility specifically devoted to shellfish.

The $15,000 allocation by the Maine legislature provided the matching funds and demonstration of state support that allowed the Institute to attract more than $570,000 in state and federal grants from 2003 through 2006. The 2007 and 2008 state allocations are the cash match for a $112,000 grant from the federal Economic Development Administration. The Institute's annual operating budget is just under $200,000.

PURPOSE:

Maine Humanities Council is an independent state-wide educational nonprofit committed to helping Maine people of all ages and educational levels deepen their understanding of themselves, their communities, and the world. Through programs that convene conversations around books, and grants supporting local projects in community history and other educational programs, the Council works to build communities, and make Maine a more literate, thoughtful and deeply humane place in which to live. The Council is an independent nonprofit organization.

At present, its only part I funding from State Government is for the New Century Program grants, and 100% of this appropriation is returned to Maine communities as grants, with no money being retained by the Council for administration, personnel or overhead.

ORGANIZATION:

Maine Humanities Council was founded in 1976 as a private nonprofit affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) and is overseen by a board of trustees drawn from around the state. The budget is $2.2 million (Source: Audited Statements for FY 2008), derived from Federal funding from the national Endowment for the Humanities, US Department of Education, as well as individuals, private foundations and earned revenue. The Maine Humanities Council has been recognized nationally for its innovative and exemplary programming.

The Harriet P. Henry Center for the Book is the programming arm of the Council. This designation was awarded to the Council by the Library of Congress, and projects such as the Council's annual Letters About Literature contest for students are undertaken in cooperation with the national Center for the Book.

PROGRAM:

MHC programs use written texts to bring Mainers together in discussions that cross social, economic, and cultural barriers.

TEACHERS:

Teacher enrichment programs have been combined with the public symposia, allowing us to offer more programs.

Born to Read is a professional development program for caregivers and early childhood educators in Maine. It promotes the importance of reading aloud to babies and young children, providing training, books, and support to childcare providers, parents, home visitors, and volunteers from partner organizations. Born to Read staff are currently developing new book collections to be accompanied by activity guides and trainings on the themes of diversity, conflict resolution, and nature.

Teaching American History is a multi-year program for teachers, currently focused on school districts in Oxford County and the western hills. Funded by a grant from The United States Department of Education, the program works with significant Maine archival collections to introduce them to primary source research techniques and significant figures in Maine and US history. Participants can qualify for graduate credits to attend this program's annual series of workshops, symposia and residential summer institutes with scholars from universities and colleges in Maine and elsewhere.

GENERAL AUDIENCE:

Let's Talk About It, a free, facilitated book discussion program for adults, has been hosted by local libraries in more than 130 Maine communities. This program is undertaken in conjunction with the Maine State Library and the support of the Maine Community Foundation.

Winter Weekends explore great works of literature from a number of perspectives over the course of a weekend. Selections have included Mary Shelley's Frankenstein, Seamus Heaney's translation of Beowulf, Moby Dick, Tolstoy's Anna Karenina, The Aeneid, War and Peace, and Middlemarch.

Day-long Symposia allow teachers and the public to deepen their awareness of current and historical topics in Maine and around the world. These vary and have included topics as diverse as the Middle East, India and Pakistan, and current and historical perspectives on Cuba.

SPECIALIZED ADULT AUDIENCES:

New Books, New Readers is a free, facilitated book discussion program for adults who are learning to read or who are infrequent readers. Participants are given copies of the books, the first many of them have ever owned. New Books, New Readers serves approximately 500 Mainers each year in towns and prisons throughout the state, including new Mainers who are learning English.

Stories for Life offers probationers and probation officers the opportunity to meet with a scholar to discuss readings (such as short stories by Raymond Carver, Annie Proulx, and Ernest Hemingway) and reflect on the lives and choices of the characters. Stories for Life is offered in cooperation with the Department of Corrections.

Literature & Medicine brings doctors, nurses, hospital trustees, and support staff together for facilitated discussions of literature that illuminates issues central to caring for people. This program has taken place in 25 hospitals in Maine since 1997, including special programming for the Togus VA hospital.

PUBLICATIONS:

The Maine Humanities Council publishes a free newsletter, 'The Power and Pleasure of Ideas' twice per year (Circulation 9,000) and a monthly e-newsletter.

Humanities Grants: New Century Program Humanities grants (from $500 to $5,000) support community organizations in developing and presenting local public humanities programs. Since 1976, the Maine Humanities Council has awarded more than $4.9 million in grants for public projects that have deepened public understanding of history and culture in communities across Maine. Since 1999, these grants have been funded by the state legislature through the New Century Community Program, and a parallel program to support infrastructure improvements at museums and public programming facilities, through the New Century Bond program.

ATLANTIC STATES MARINE FISHERIES COMMISSION

ROBERT BOYLES, CHAIR
PAUL DIODATI, VICE CHAIR

Central Office: 2 BEECH STREET, HALLOWELL, ME 04347

Mail Address: 21 STATE HOUSE STATION, AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0021

Established: 1942

Telephone: (207) 624-6550

Reference: Policy Area: 04 ; Umbrella: 98 Unit: 290 ; Citation: T0012 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000004603

PURPOSE:

The Commission's main focus is to provide for better utilization of the fisheries - marine and anadromous - through an interstate compact of the 15 Atlantic coastal states.

Although the states determine all policy in their respective jurisdictions, the Commission provides a forum for discussion and resolution of common problems and assists the states in developing joint programs. In addition, the Commission participates in the Interstate Fisheries Management Program, whose goal is uniform management and protection of the nation's fisheries resources and viable commercial and recreational fishing industries.

ORGANIZATION:

The Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission (ASMFC) was established by a compact entered into by the various Atlantic coastal states beginning in 1941. The Congressional Consent Act was signed by the President on May 5, 1942, and the Commission met and organized in New York on June 5, 1942

The participating states are Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. Each is represented by a member of the administrative agency in charge of marine fisheries, a Legislative member appointed by the Presiding Officers of the Legislature, and a person appointed by the Governor. Maine's three Commission members are the Commissioner of the Department of Marine Resources, a member from the Legislature, and a member from industry. The Commission is supported by appropriations from the member states based on the value of their respective commercial and recreational catches.

ASMFC operates through boards and committees comprised of groups of states. The National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) of the Department of Commerce is designated as the primary research agency of the Commission, cooperating with the research agencies of each state and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service for that purpose.

PROGRAM:

To keep abreast of the major activities in Congress, the headquarters for the NMFS and fisheries organizations in Washington, D.C., close liaison is maintained with Congressional Committees and other important organizations. Through its executive office, ASMFC maintains active liaison with all Washington-based fisheries organizations of professional or industry status, including the American Fisheries Society, the International Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies, the American Sportfishing Association, the National Fisheries Institute, the Shellfish Institute of North America, the National Fish Meal and Oil Association, the Fisheries Products Division of the National Food Processors Association, as well as other resource, environmental, conservation and user groups.

Contract funds from NMFS and USWFS, as well as Congressional appropriations, are used to reimburse travel expenses for state biologists, law enforcement, managers, and administrators who participate in the various committees that have been established to develop regional management programs for interstate Atlantic coast species. Lobster, shrimp, striped bass, bluefish, Atlantic sturgeon, Atlantic sea herring, winter flounder, American shad and river herring programs are of special concern to Maine. The northern shrimp fishery in the Gulf of Maine continues to be managed by the commission through its Amendment One Authority.

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - INTERSTATE COMPACT

The Commission has continued its cooperative agreement with the NMFS to administer the Interjurisdictional Fisheries Management Program. This "Interstate Fisheries Management Program" includes state/federal projects involving Northern Shrimp, Shad, and River Herring, Sciaenid, American Lobster, Atlantic Menhaden, Striped Bass, Atlantic Sturgeon, Bluefish, Summer Flounder, Cooperative Statistics Program, and related activities such as interstate shellfish transportation and fish/shellfish disease control. The major focus of the Commission's interstate program has expanded to implement P.L. 103-206, the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act. The act establishes affirmative obligations on the states to implement the Commission's Fishery Management Plans or be subject to a federal moratorium on all fishing for the species at issue within the offending state until that state achieves compliance with the plan.

State and provincial liaisons and federal Observers also serve on the Commission. The Commission operates with a part-time staff that is supplemented as warranted by contract personnel. The majority of its delivery of the waterway management plan is funded by solicited grants and contracts.

PROGRAM:

Each year, the Commission carries out activities under all of the themes of the St. Croix's international management plan. Of particular note in fiscal year 2010 were:

ENVIRONMENT

The Commission coordinated the region's volunteer lake monitoring program, collected water samples for Maine and New Brunswick agencies and provided information to governments, the media and the public on water quality issues.

RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

The Commission continued to monitor the St. Croix's international alewife run on behalf of all governments; it also provided technical support for the development of a prospective inter-agency alewife management plan that was requested by the International Joint Commission. (The St. Croix Atlantic salmon restoration and monitoring program ended in 2007). It sponsored the development of impervious surface mapping across the international boundary, this to enable governments to better evaluate, plan and manage the impact of land development on flooding and stormwater management, water quality and infrastructure sustainability in the Gulf of Maine.

CONSERVATION and RECREATION

The Commission maintains backcountry facilities on the St. Croix for both Maine and New Brunswick. In collaboration with state agencies, the number of campsites on the St. Croix River and Spednic Lake was increased to meet international border security needs. The Commission released an updated version of the St. Croix's waterproof recreation map, reflecting these changes. It also collaborated with state and conservation partners to implement a stewardship endowment to help fund recreation and resource management projects.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The Commission supplied input into transportation and energy projects affecting the St. Croix.

WATERWAY MANAGEMENT

Tightened international border security has affected the St. Croix's traditional culture and use. The Commission worked with the agencies, residents and users to seek to minimize some of these impacts on recreational use and remote border crossings. It responded to more than 2100 technical and general inquiries and delivered presentations on a variety of St. Croix and international management topics.

PURPOSE:

The New England Interstate Water Pollution Control Commission has four broad functions: (1) coordination of interstate water pollution control efforts in the New England states and New York, (2) training of environmental professionals, (3) research, and (4) public education.

ORGANIZATION:

In 1947, the 80th U.S. Congress passed legislation allowing for the formation of interstate water pollution control agencies. The states of Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts responded at once by forming the

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - INTERSTATE COMPACT

New England Interstate Water Pollution Control Commission (NEIWPCC). Shortly thereafter, Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire and New York (because of interstate waterways connecting it with the New England states) joined NEIWPCC by signing the Commission's new Compact.

PROGRAM:

The Commission's primary task is to coordinate the activities of its member states as they strive for water quality improvement. NEIWPCC encourages personal communication and information exchange while its professional staff provides a variety of services to member states.

Maine benefits directly from NEIWPCC's capabilities through the Commission's management of the Maine Joint Environmental Training Coordinating Committee (JETCC). Located in South Portland, JETCC was established in 1985 as part of the former New England Regional Wastewater Institute. JETCC was created to work in conjunction with the Maine Department of Environmental Protection and Maine Wastewater Control Association in offering training and re-certification opportunities for Maine's wastewater treatment plant operators.

In addition to maintaining its original role as a vehicle for training, JETCC has evolved into a tool for collaboration between personnel in the water pollution control community and regulatory staff from a variety of state agencies facing environmental issues. As a result, JETCC not only assists with the delivery of specific training and outreach objectives but also furthers the goals of many state agencies with public education and training for a variety of environmental professionals as well as personnel in the field of water pollution control.

WILD BLUEBERRY COMMISSION OF MAINE

ROY ALLEN, CHAIRPERSON

Central Office: 5784 YORK COMPLEX, SUITE 52, ORONO, ME 04469-5784

Mail Address: 5784 YORK COMPLEX, SUITE 52, ORONO, ME 04469-5784 FAX: (207) 581-3499

Established: 1977

Reference: Policy Area: 01 ; Umbrella: 99 Unit: 294 ; Citation: T0036 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000004312C

PURPOSE:

In 1945, the blueberry industry of the state requested the Legislature to establish an industry tax to generate dedicated revenue to be used for the purpose of research and extension programs relating to the production and marketing of blueberries. Over the years, this tax has been increased for the purpose of advertising and promoting the use of wild blueberries. The Wild Blueberry Commission has the responsibility for the allocation and administration of wild blueberry tax funds. Currently the tax is at the rate of 3/4 cent per pound from growers and 3/4 cent per pound from processors or shippers for a total of 1.5 cents per pound of wild blueberries produced in the state.

ORGANIZATION:

Legislation passed in 1984 provided that the Wild Blueberry Commission of Maine consists of eight members appointed by the Commissioner of Agriculture, Food, and Rural Resources. The Commission elects a chair and vice chair person from among its members and employs an executive director to handle the administrative responsibilities of the wild blueberry tax programs.

The legislation also provides for a Wild Blueberry Advisory Committee. See Wild Blueberry Advisory Committee.

PROGRAM:

Legislation passed in 1997 provides that wild blueberry tax revenue be allocated to promotion and advertising, research and extension educational programs, administration, and other activities related to the economic viability of the Maine wild blueberry industry. Most of the research and all of the extension activities are programmed through the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station and the Cooperative Extension at the University of Maine. The Experiment Station maintains a research farm known as Blueberry Hill in the town of Jonesboro. In recent years, and largely due to new technology generated through the Agricultural Experiment Station, the production of wild blueberries in Maine has increased from a 5-year average of 19 million pounds prior to 1981 to a 5-year average of 78 million pounds in 2009.

Market development and promotion activities are carried out primarily through the allocation of funds to The Wild Blueberry Association of North America (WBANA) promotion program. This organization conducts wild blueberry promotions for domestic markets and export markets. Special emphasis is given to the food service trade such as restaurants, bakeries, lunch programs, export markets and, more recently, consumer markets such as frozen retail sales.

Other activities funded by the Commission include exhibits at trade shows, fairs and participation at Eastern States Exposition in West Springfield, Massachusetts. Some activities are carried out in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture, Food, and Rural Resources.

PURPOSE:

The Blueberry Advisory Committee was originally constituted in 1945 when the Blueberry Tax program was initiated for the purpose of providing supplemental funds for research and extension programs at the University of Maine.

At that time, the function of the Advisory Committee was to work with the Director of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station and the Director of the Cooperative Extension Service in an advisory capacity. While the function of the Committee remains essentially the same, legislation enacted in 1984 changed the status of the Committee by having the committee members appointed by the Wild Blueberry Commission instead of the University of Maine. In essence the Wild Blueberry Advisory Committee is a standing Committee of the Blueberry Commission and reports to the Commission.

ORGANIZATION:

The University of Maine System Wild Blueberry Advisory Committee consists of seven members who serve successive terms of four years. Members of the Advisory Committee may not be reappointed for successive terms. Committee members elect their own chairperson and vice chairperson. Meetings are scheduled in conjunction with the Directors of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station, researchers and the Cooperative Extension. The Wild Blueberry Commission has also designated the Executive Director of the Commission to act as an ex-officio member of the Advisory Committee.

PROGRAM:

Program results are presented in research reports and University of Maine Cooperative Extension publications.

PURPOSE:

The Civil Air Patrol (CAP) provides an organization to aid United States citizens through voluntary contribution of their efforts, services and resources for the maintenance of aerospace education and to assist in meeting local, state and national emergencies, particularly air search and rescue, and disaster relief.

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - NOT PART OF STATE GOVERNMENT

To accomplish the purposes for which it was chartered CAP: (1) Conducts a nationwide internal and external program of aerospace education, including coordination of workshops conducted at local schools and communities. (2) Conducts a comprehensive cadet program, including an international Air Cadet Exchange, special activities, and supervision of cadet encampments. (3) Maintains an emergency services capability to meet the requests of the Air Force and state and local officials for search & rescue, disaster relief, and other support missions. (4) Conducts a comprehensive Senior Training Program to provide qualified personnel at all levels of CAP. (5) Assists local, state, and other Federal agencies in emergency operations. (6) Conducts a flight management program for assigned aircrew members and manages an aircraft maintenance program for corporate owned aircraft. (7) Maintains a nationwide communications capability to support emergency services operations and conduct official CAP business.

ORGANIZATION:

The Civil Air Patrol (CAP) is the official auxiliary of the U.S. Air Force, and is a nonprofit corporation which functions in accordance with its constitution, bylaws, regulations, and other directives issued by its National Headquarters. It was formed on December 1, 1941, and incorporated by the United States Congress on July 1, 1946. On May 26, 1948, the Civil Air Patrol became an auxiliary of the United States Air Force. The Secretary of the Air Force has been given authority to furnish assistance to the CAP and to accept and utilize the services in the fulfillment of noncombat missions of the Air Force.

The organization consists of the National Headquarters at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama; eight regional headquarters - Northeast, Middle East, Great Lakes, Southeast, North Central, Southwest, Rocky Mountain, and Pacific; and fifty-two wings - one for each state, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. A wing is composed of a wing headquarters unit and all subordinate units within geographical boundaries of a state. Wing Commanders are appointed by the National Headquarters and have command authority over all CAP units and members thereof, within their respective wings. The squadron is the community level organization of the CAP, and includes three types: Senior Squadrons, composed of senior members only; Cadet Squadrons, composed primarily of cadets with a minimum of three seniors to meet supervisory, administrative and training requirements; and Composite Squadrons, composed of both senior and cadet members conducting both senior and cadet programs.

PROGRAM:

One of the primary missions of CAP is to save lives and relieve human suffering while protecting the lives and equipment of those involved in providing these services. The Emergency Services Mission includes search and rescue; civil defense and disaster relief operations (in support of local, state, federal and other emergency services organizations). Mutual support relationships exist with the National Association for Search and Rescue (NASAR); U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary (USCGA); the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA); Federal Aviation Administration (FAA); U.S. Army Forces Command (FORSCOM); various Army, Navy, Coast Guard, and other DOD agencies; the Maine Emergency Management Agency (MEMA); The Maine National Guard; American National Red Cross; Salvation Army; Volunteers of America (VOA); and other humanitarian organizations.

The Cadet Program provides opportunities for learning, maturing and accepting leadership to young Americans from 12 to 21 years of age. With advice and assistance from the United States Air Force, the Air Force Reserve, and CAP senior members at the national, regional, state, and local levels, cadets are exposed to a structured program of aerospace education leadership, physical fitness, and moral and ethical values in group and individual activities. As a cadet progresses through this structured program, he or she accomplishes a series of 15 achievements, each involving study and performance in the five program areas. Upon completion of each achievement, the cadet earns increased cadet rank, decorations, awards, eligibility for national special activities, and an opportunity for both flight and academic scholarships.

Civil Air Patrol has an internal and external aerospace education program. The internal program is designed to provide aerospace education to the CAP membership, both senior and cadet. The external program provides the general public with the aerospace education necessary to ensure the development of aerospace and the maintenance of aerospace supremacy. The Aerospace Education

CONNECTME AUTHORITY

PHILLIP LINDLEY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Central Office: 3RD FLOOR CROSS OFFICE BLDNG, AUGUSTA, ME 04333

Mail Address: 78 STATE HOUSE STATION, AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0078

*Reference: Policy Area:*00 ; Umbrella: 99 Unit: 639 ; Citation: T0035A.M.R.S.A., Sect. 000009203

PURPOSE:

The ConnectME Authority began operation in June 2007 with the goal of expanding broadband access in the most rural, un-served areas of the state that have little prospect of service from a traditional or incumbent provider. The authority is funded with a 0.25% surcharge on instate retail communications services. The authority funds proposals through grants, direct investments, or loans made on behalf of, in partnership with, or in support of, one or more communications service providers.

ORGANIZATION:

In 2006, the Legislature created the ConnectME Authority to identify un-served areas of the State; develop proposals for broadband expansion projects, demonstration projects and other initiatives; administer the process for selecting specific broadband projects; and provide funding, resources, and incentives. The Authority consists of a board of 5 members, and Executive Director, Associate Executive Director and staff from the Governor's Office, and an Advisory Council.

In addition, the Broadband Strategy Council was created in June 2009, to advise the ConnectME Authority on all matters pertaining to broadband opportunities available under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, as well as advise the University of Maine System with respect to matters pertaining to the lease or sale of excess broadband capacity of the educational broadband service. The council consists of 11 members, including 5 legislators.

PROGRAM:

The goal of the authority is to facilitate universal availability of broadband service in Maine and to increase the take rate to equal or greater than the national average.

For its current grant funding program, the Authority requests smaller, more focused proposals than in previous grant rounds, with a suggested grant limit for each project of $100,000, funding no more than 50 percent of the total project, while recognizing the need for flexibility for exceptional proposals. We recently concluded the Authority's fourth round of grant awards, awarding over $860,000 to seven projects. To date the Authority has funded forty two projects with 3.6 million in grant funds for total project value of nearly $10 million. The fifth grant round was opened August 20, 2010.

An innovative grant awarded in the second round provides a match requirement for a project to build a fiber optic cable network that will connect and provide high speed tele-health services for three partnering medical centers and seven health care facilities in six towns across Franklin, Oxford, and Androscoggin counties.

The authority's Executive Director also participated in the legislatively established group, the Broadband Strategy Council (BBSC) that was formed to provide recommendations to the Governor regarding Stimulus Bill funding for broadband projects in Maine. As a result of those recommendations a major initiative in Maine, the Three Ring Binder fiber ring project was awarded over $26 million. The BBSC also studied the potential use of broadband capacity freed up when the University of Maine System converts its instructional television network from analog to digital. The Authority has also received nearly $5 million in Stimulus Bill grant funding from the Department of Commerce, NTIA, to conduct a five year broadband mapping inventory project, as well as extensive planning activities.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Development Foundation (MDF) is a nonprofit economic development corporation created by the Maine Legislature in 1977 to capitalize on the interests, resources, and efforts of the public and private sectors. MDF champions sustainable, long-term growth for Maine. The foundation is a catalyst for new ideas and provides common ground for solving problems and advancing issues.

ORGANIZATION:

Enabling legislation (10 M.R.S.A. Sec. 915-928) for the Maine Development Foundation was passed by the 108th Legislature and took effect in October, 1977. The foundation has the power of a private corporation, which allows the board of directors the freedom to establish and change the activities of the foundation as it sees fit, and act decisively to take advantage of economic development opportunities. All but two of the foundation's board of directors are elected by contributors to the foundation. The board includes both public and private members. This is designed to encourage active participation of private business and local development interests, and establish the public/private partnership at the board level. This partnership has improved the foundation's access to the private sector's ability to generate new business activity and has helped organize public and private resources to stimulate additional business activity in Maine.

The board of directors consists of fifteen people: twelve elected by the membership and two appointed by the Governor. Of these fourteen, seven must come from the public sector members and seven from among the private sector members.

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - NOT PART OF STATE GOVERNMENT

The president is appointed by the other directors and is the fifteenth member.

The foundation is financed by membership dues, fee for service, contracts, and grants. Corporations, counties, cities, towns, and other organizations can become members by contributing to the foundation.

THE MAINE DOWNTOWN CENTER supported by 21 volunteer advisors, is the leading resource for downtown revitalization statewide. The Center serves as the state coordinator in Maine for the National Trust Main Street Center utilizing a four point historic preservation-based economic development strategy to create vibrant, healthy downtowns. The Center works in 22 communities representing every county in Maine: nine Main Street Maine communities (Sanford, Saco, Biddeford, Bath, Rockland, Gardiner, Waterville, Skowhegan, and Van Buren) and 13 Maine Downtown Network communities, a "lighter- pace" second-tier program launched in 2009.

REALIZE!MAINE is created by, for and of Mainers 20-40 to serve as a catalyst, a collaborator, and a convener of Maine's young people with a stake in our common future by providing professional, social, cultural, recreational, and civic opportunities in Maine. Projects that lend to these opportunities are a newly created website, virtual network and list service.

MAINE EMPLOYERS' INITIATIVE supports employers' efforts to increase the educational attainment levels of their workforce. The Initiative is one of the five strategies of the Maine Compact for Higher Education, whose goal is to increase the percentage of Maine's workers who have earned a degree to the New England average.

Established: 1999

Reference: Policy Area:05 ; Umbrella: 99 Unit: 603 ; Citation: P1999 M.R.S.A., Sect. 00000401TT

PURPOSE:

The Foundation for Blood Research (FBR) is a non-profit organization that finds more effective ways to identify, manage and treat human disease through clinical and laboratory investigation, epidemiology, education, and clinical testing.

ORGANIZATION:

The Foundation is governed by a board of trustees representing the biotechnology and professional communities, education, and business. The board consists of at least 11 trustees, but not more than 21.

PROGRAM:

FBR's scientific mission focuses on preventive medicine. The professional staff develops alliances with other organizations for carrying out collaborative clinical research studies and takes a leadership role in developing educational activities for health professionals, pre-college science teachers, and the public. The FBR senior scientific staff also has a role in public health policy-making at a national level.

ScienceWorks, FBR's outreach education program for Maine's precollege science teachers, provides access for these teachers to the most current research and knowledge in biomedical science. Since the 1970s, Maine high school science teachers have been collaborators to convey biologically-based information to the community through their classes.

ScienceWorks has maintained a relationship with biology teachers from about 60% of the secondary schools throughout the state. The program includes teacher professional development (through content-specific institutes), a scientific equipment and distribution project (through which several million dollars worth of donated used or surplus laboratory equipment has been collected and distributed to 90% of Maine's secondary schools), and an interactive learning laboratory that allows teachers to bring classes to our research facility for hands-on laboratory experience as a supplement to classroom teaching. All activities are aligned with the National Science Education Standards and Maine's Learning Results.

Department of Institutions. When the Bureau of Institutions was dissolved, the organization was placed in the Department of Mental Health and Corrections. It remained there until transferred to the Department of Education. From 1982 through 1996 Department's Office of Federal/State/Local Relations served as liaison to the Commissioner and Legislature and resource on administrative and policy matters. In 1953, funds donated by Governor Baxter and funds granted by the Legislature were used for the construction of a new residential facility for the deaf on Mackworth Island, which was left by Governor Baxter for that purpose. In 1957, the Legislature honored the Governor by officially changing the name of the school to Governor Baxter School for the Deaf. In 1997, the Governor appointed a separate School Board to oversee the operations of GBSD. In 2005, in order to better reflect the statewide mission of the organization, the name was changed to The Maine Educational Center for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing and the Governor Baxter School for the Deaf.

PROGRAM:

MECDHH/GBSD provides a wide range of services for students, families and professionals in the state. Comprehensive programming includes the Governor Baxter School for the Deaf, which provides a Parent Infant Toddler Program, Academic Programs for kindergarten through 8th grade, support services for high school students attending Portland High School, and Student Support Services which includes an After School Program. Statewide Educational provide outreach programs that serve birth through age 5 and kindergarten through grade 12 statewide.

HARNESS RACING PROMOTIONAL BOARD

Reference: Policy Area:01 ; Umbrella: 99 Unit: 599 ; Citation: T0008 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000000285

PURPOSE:

The Harness Racing Promotion Board was created in 1993 Public Law Chapter 388 to promote harness racing activities in the State of Maine and encourage increased participation in racing and wagering.

ORGANIZATION:

1997 Public Law Chapter 528 changed the make up of the Board and removed the oversight from the Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources to the Joint Standing Committee having jurisdiction of harness racing matters, the Legal and Veteran Affairs Committee. The Board now consists of one representative from each commercial track, one representing agricultural fairs, one representing the off track betting facilities, two representing the Maine Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association, two representing the general public, one representing the horsemen's association and two alternates. The members are appointed by the Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources.

PROGRAM:

The Board has implemented promotional activities in accordance with its mission. The activities are focused on promoting a positive image of the industry, enlarging the fan base, educating the public on the importance of harness racing to the agricultural industry in Maine, including the breeding farms, the hay and grain farmers and dealers, the owners, trainers and drivers of the animals. The Board has maintained educational booths at equine shows, the annual Agricultural Show of the Maine Department of Agriculture, annual meeting of the Maine Association of Agricultural Fairs, Agriculture Day at the State Legislature and various trade shows. Board meetings are held monthly and are open to the public.

During fiscal year 2009, the Board again produced a promotional calendar and provided statewide television advertisements to promote live harness racing at the two commercial tracks and the fairs. The second Open Farm Days was sponsored by the board at Breeding Farms and Training Tracks. An insert in daily papers was distributed statewide and hundreds attended these events to see operations at these facilities. Television advertising and live radio coverage was also provided. The board continues to provide assistance in updating statistics for the industry, record keeping, and contributed financing to a statewide study of the equine industry and its value to the Maine economy.

MAINE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

RICHARD D'ABATE, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Central Office: 489 CONGRESS ST, PORTLAND, ME

Mail Address: 489 CONGRESS ST, PORTLAND, ME 04101

Established: 1822

FAX: (207) 775-4301

Reference: Policy Area:03 ; Umbrella: 99 Unit: 176 ; Citation: S1822 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000000118

PURPOSE:

Incorporated by the State of Maine in 1822, the Maine Historical Society is a charitable, educational, non-profit corporation. It preserves the heritage and history of Maine: the stories of Maine people, the traditions of Maine communities, and the record of Maine's place in a changing world. Because an understanding of the past is vital to a healthy society, we collect, care for, and exhibit historical treasures; facilitate research into family, local, state, and national history; provide education programs that make history meaningful, accessible and enjoyable; and empower others to preserve and interpret the history of their communities and our state. The Society is organized into three major areas: The Brown Library, Wadsworth-Longfellow House and Museum Gallery. A Board of Trustees, twelve standing committees and eight subcommittees advise and support the Society staff of 16 full-time and 15 part-time in its work.

ORGANIZATION:

Two years after Maine achieved statehood, the Legislature passed a bill in 1822 incorporating the Maine Historical Society, charging it to collect and preserve Maine's history. Governor Albion K. Parris presided over the first meeting in Maine's first State House in Portland. The Society housed its collections at Bowdoin College until 1881 and coincided its Annual Meetings with the College's commencement into the early 20th century. Through the efforts of civic leader, philanthropist and scholar James Phinney Baxter, the Society moved its collections and many of its programs to Portland in 1881. Baxter provided space in the new Portland Public Library built in 1889.

In 1901, the Society opened the Wadsworth-Longfellow House Museum, left to the Society through the bequest of Anne Longfellow Pierce. The House, childhood home of famed poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, became Maine's first historic house museum. During 1907, the Society finished its new library at 485 Congress Street, adjacent to the Wadsworth-Longfellow House. The Wadsworth-Longfellow House was restored in June 2000. The Society's capital campaign and 1992 purchase of 489 Congress Street allowed expansion of collections storage, exhibition and program space.

Throughout the 19th century, special state appropriations have supported a variety of publication projects, including the "Documentary History of Maine." The Society has received an annual appropriation in support of the Society's historical and educational endeavors since 1940. The Editorial Office for 'Maine History' is at the University of Maine, Orono. Beginning in 1999, a special State appropriation helped MHS start development of the Maine Memory Network, an on-line museum of our collections networked to other museums and archives across the state. Staff members participate in collaborative efforts throughout Maine and New England including the Maine Archives and Museums Association, the Maine Library Association, Maine Historical Records Advisory Board, New England Archivists, the American and New England Studies Program at USM, the Academic and Cultural Collaborative of Maine, and the New England Museum Association.

PROGRAM:

BROWN LIBRARY. The Society maintains a research library of 125,000 books, 100,000 photographs and 2 million archival items spanning the 15th to 21st centuries. The Library is widely held to be the most comprehensive resource for studying Maine's past with all aspects of the state's social, economic, political, and cultural history documented. Of particular note are the personal papers of Maine's civic and business leaders, early proprietary and town records, shipping and maritime records, account books and business records, and genealogical research collections, cartographic and land surveys, architectural and engineering drawings, photographs, prints and broadsides. A retrospective conversion project to computerize the Library's card catalogues is complete, making them accessible via the Internet. The Library is open five days per week and serves over 11,000 researchers each year. The Brown Library, built in 1906, opened in its renovated and expanded building in June of 2009.

MUSEUMS & COLLECTIONS. Open to the public since 1901, The Wadsworth-Longfellow House Museum, poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's boyhood home, is one of the oldest house museums in the country. Open year-round the MSH Museum Gallery houses temporary interpretive exhibitions from our 28,000 artifacts documenting Maine's material culture. The most recent exhibitions were "Re/Collected: Great Works and New Discoveries from the Brown Library" and "Zoom In: New Approaches to Maine History." Guided tours of the Wadsworth-Longfellow House were offered May through December. The Education Department led "Local Schools/Local History" a museum-school partnership program for Portland area 3rd and 4th grades. Over 200 students from 10 classes participated. In 2010, about 18,000 visitors including nearly 3500 school children visited the House, Gallery or took the Longfellow walking tour. Another 1,000 students received outreach programs. For information, visit the MHS websites: www.mainehistory.org or www.maine-memory.net.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL SERVICES. Launched in Dec. 2001, the Maine Memory Network provides Internet links to digitized historical and cultural primary materials from both MHS and contributing organizations from every corner of our state. Modeled in concept on the Library of Congress' American Memory Site, our Maine Memory Network provides links to digitized historical and cultural primary materials from around the state. On-line at www.maine-memory.com, this Web-based, virtual museum and educational resource serves Maine libraries, schools, museums, and every Internet-ready home. The Maine Historical Society offers on-site and outreach programs for teachers and students throughout the state. The Maine Community Heritage Project, funded by the Institute of Museum & Library Services, and in partnership with the Maine State Library, has allowed MHS staff to work with sixteen communities over the past two years (Bath, Farmington, Hampden, Islesboro, Lubec, New Portland, Presque Isle, Thomaston, Bangor, Biddeford, Blue Hill, Cumberland/North Yarmouth, Guilford, Hallowell, Lincoln, Scarborough) to explore and celebrate local history. The towns' schools, historical societies, and public libraries were given the tools to accomplish goals set up by each community.

PURPOSE:

The Maine Hospice Council exists to ensure the continued development of Hospice and Palliative Care in Maine. The Council provides education and technical assistance regarding end-of-life care, as well as advocacy for terminally ill and bereaved persons throughout the state regarding quality-of-life issues.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Hospice Council was incorporated in 1984. Funding for the Council office was made possible by state government in 1989. The Council is overseen by a volunteer Board of Directors comprised of 20 members.

The full Council is represented by members of 28 Hospices and the Board of Directors as well as an Advisory Committee. The Council has a full time staff that includes a director, an office manager, a development director, administrative assistant, and an events coordinator/webmaster. Since 2002, MHC has also developed partnerships with the Attorney General's Office, the Veterans' Affairs Administration, and the Maine State Prison System.

PROGRAM:

The Maine Hospice Council is the only statewide organization solely focused on end-of-life care. The Council's concentration is in education and program development. Examples are: technical workshops; in-services for hospices and other health care organizations; collaborative, statewide educational programs; ITV classes at academic institutions; legislative hearings; annual events, such as the Blaine House Tea and the Maine Pain Symposium; National Cancer Pain Initiative conference; and television interviews; as well as other academic presentations and grant writing. The Council has taken a leadership role in social policy issues and continues to offer internships for both graduate and undergraduate students. Universal access to hospice services remains a priority, especially as it relates to underserved populations.

DEVELOPMENT: In September 1994, the Maine Cancer Pain Initiative became a committee of the Council and in 2003 its name changed to the Maine Pain Initiative. The Executive Director participates on national boards and commissions, to include the National Veterans Advisory Committee, which continues to give Maine a national voice regarding care for the terminally ill.

SUPPORT: Technical support continues for programs seeking Hospice Medicare Certification and licensure. In December, 1997, the Council partnered with over 30 other organizations to form the Maine Consortium for Palliative Care and Hospice (MCPCH). Resource materials and public education are ongoing services.

In 1999, on behalf of MCPCH, MHC was awarded a three-year Robert Wood Johnson Community/State Partnership grant, "Care at the End of Life: A Public/Private Partnership". In 2001, the Bureau of Health formally offered the Maine Hospice Council the opportunity to develop the Maine Center for End-of-Life Care.

PURPOSE:

MaineHousing (the Maine State Housing Authority) was created by the Maine Legislature in 1969 to address the problems of unsafe, unsuitable, overcrowded, and unaffordable housing. The agency's mission is to assist Maine people to obtain and maintain decent, safe, affordable housing and services suitable to their unique housing needs. In carrying out this mission, the agency provides leadership, leverages federal, state, and private resources, and promotes partnerships to develop and implement sound housing policy. On an annual basis MaineHousing's programs benefit more than 90,000 Maine households - about one of every six households in the state.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine State Housing Authority "is a public body, corporate and politic and an instrumentality of the State." It functions as an administratively independent authority and receives no General Fund appropriations from the Legislature for its operations.

MaineHousing is governed by a Board of 10 commissioners appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate upon the recommendation of the Business Research and Economic Development Committee. The Director of MaineHousing, who is appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Legislature, serves as an ex-officio non-voting commissioner. The State Treasurer serves as an ex-officio voting commissioner. The other 8 commissioners vote and are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Legislature.

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - NOT PART OF STATE GOVERNMENT

MaineHousing couples the methods and efficiencies of the private financial markets with the federal tax incentives of tax-exempt bonds and the government's public purpose goals to invest in affordable housing for Maine people.

MaineHousing bonds are debts of MaineHousing, not the State of Maine, and are not repaid by taxpayers. The agency sells its bonds and uses the bond proceeds to make reduced interest rate housing loans. The loan repayments that MaineHousing receives are used to repay the bond holders. The difference between the bond interest rates and the lending interest rates provides MaineHousing with operating revenue.

MaineHousing also is a conduit for bringing a wide range of federal and other funding to Maine, including low income housing tax credits, block grants and competitive grants.

MaineHousing's operating budget is entirely funded by revenues from lending activities and grant administration.

PROGRAM:

MaineHousing's programs and services fall into the following general categories:

Housing Development. MaineHousing provides financing and financial incentives for private development of affordable rental housing for families, seniors and persons with special needs. This both provides affordable rents and stimulates Maine's economy.

Home buying assistance. MaineHousing provides low fixed rate mortgages to first time homebuyers and other assistance to help make homeownership affordable for more Maine people.

Home improvement assistance. MaineHousing offers programs to help with home improvement needs, including: low or no cost loans to repair or replace failed wells or septic systems, make heating, electrical, or structural repairs, and improve home accessibility; grants to make homes lead safe; and loans to fund repair of homes damaged in a declared natural disaster.

PURPOSE:

Founded in 1967, Pine Tree Legal Assistance, Inc. is a Maine not-for-profit corporation incorporated to provide free legal assistance to low income persons with civil legal problems.

ORGANIZATION:

PTLA is governed by a 28 member Board of Directors composed of licensed Maine attorneys, eligible clients appointed by low income organizations, and one 'at large' member. The Administrative Office is in Portland (774-4753). Local service offices are in Augusta (622-4731), Bangor (942-8241), Portland (774-8211), Presque Isle (764-4349), Lewiston (784-1558) and Machias (255-8656). Pine Tree operates 3 special statewide units that address the legal needs of migrant farmworkers (1-800-879-7463), Native Americans (1-800-879-7463) and low income children (1-866-624-7787). PTLA is co-sponsor of the Volunteer Lawyers Project (VLP) with the Maine Bar Foundation. The VLP has a toll free number, 1-800-442-4293.

PROGRAM:

Pine Tree Legal Assistance, Inc. receives its funding from a number of governmental and private sources. The program's primary funding source is the Legal Services Corporation, which distributes federal funds to legal services programs nationwide. Additional funding comes from other federal funds, State of Maine, United Way, the Maine Bar Foundation's IOLTA Program, and private sources. Pine Tree provides free legal assistance to low income Maine residents with household incomes at or below 125% of the federal poverty guidelines.

PTLA provides direct legal services to eligible clients throughout the state. In 2009, its area offices and special units (including Volunteer Lawyers Project) closed 11,960 legal matters for eligible clients. Through the basic field offices, Farmworker Unit, Native American Unit, and other programs, 5,366 eligible clients received legal assessment or simple advice, printed informational materials, referral to another source of help or brief service by PTLA staff. In addition, substantial legal representation was provided in 1,940 cases, including representation before the Maine District Court, the Maine Superior Court, the Maine Supreme Judicial Court and before local and state administrative agencies. The Volunteer Lawyers Project closed a total of 3,682 cases in 2009.

Because staffing shortages prevent PTLA from representing all eligible clients with legal needs, PTLA accepts cases based on a case acceptance priority plan. Of all cases closed by PTLA's local service offices in 2009, 52% were in the housing area; 8% were in the government benefits area; 17% were in the family law area; 8% were in the consumer law area; and the remaining 15% in the areas of employment, health, education, individual rights, juvenile, and other miscellaneous areas. The case priorities for the Volunteer Lawyers Project complement those of PTLA. Of all cases closed by the VLP in 2009, 61% were in the family law area; 17% were in the consumer law area; 5% were in the housing area and the remaining 17% were in the areas of education, government benefits, individual rights, employment and other legal problems.

PUBLICATIONS:

Pine Tree maintains client education materials, which are available at no charge to income eligible callers in several substantive areas of the law including consumer, family, housing, education, employment, government benefits and health care. The general public may access this information by downloading it from Pine Tree's web page at www.ptla.org, as well as www.helpmelaw.org, www.kidslegal.org and www.vlp.org. The most popular brochures cover landlord-tenant and family law issues. New pamphlets include a foreclosure prevention tool-kit available at <http://www.ptla.org/foreclosure/>.

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - NOT PART OF STATE GOVERNMENT

PURPOSE:

Every day, the Maine Public Broadcasting Network connects the people of Maine to each other and to the world through the open exchange of information, ideas, and cultural content. As Maine's premier independent media resource, we create exceptional opportunities for the communities we serve to engage with critical issues, compelling stories and quality entertainment.

ORGANIZATION:

The Maine Public Broadcasting Network (MPBN) has administrative offices and production facilities for television and radio in Lewiston, Bangor, Augusta and Portland. The station's transmitters and translators, located throughout the state, deliver programs to nearly all of Maine's citizens. The organization employs 102 full- and part-time staff members.

MPBN is governed by a volunteer Board of Trustees consisting of representatives from its founding organizations (The University of Maine System, Colby College, Bates College and Bowdoin College), appointees from the Governor, and public members elected to the board. The Board of Trustees meets four times a year and its meetings are open to the public.

MPBN has a volunteer Community Advisory Board (CAB) with membership reflecting the diversity of the state and MPBN's viewing and listening audiences. The purpose of the CAB is to advise the Board of Trustees and MPBN staff as to whether the programming and other policies of MPBN meet the needs of the communities that the station serves. The CAB meets twice a year and its meetings are also open to the public.

The majority of MPBN's annual funding is attained through the support of 49,543 television and/or radio members, as well as foundations and corporations. Additional funding is received from the State of Maine and from federal funds administered through the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

PROGRAM:

MPBN is the only statewide educational television service available to Maine residents free-of-charge. The organization has an exceptional commitment to producing local programs about topics that specifically address issues affecting Maine people. MPBN's local television productions include: the weekly public affairs series Maine Watch with Jennifer Rooks; the periodic feature segment Conversations with Maine; coverage of the Maine Principals' Association Invitational High School Basketball Tournament, with the video of every game "streamed" live over the Internet; and the annual broadcast of the Governor's State of the State Address, which was also streamed live. In addition, MPBN provided live coverage of the Governor's and U.S. Congressional debates - both primary and general election.

The station's radio service carries international, national and local programming. MPBN's award-winning weekday program Maine Things Considered explores topics and issues with depth and substance. For the sixth consecutive year, The Maine Associated Press Broadcasters' Association has named MPBN "Station of the Year." MPBN produces a great deal of original programming, including: its own regular classical, folk and jazz music programs for radio; broadcasts of orchestra and chamber concerts on the program Maine Stage; a weekly series called Speaking in Maine featuring speeches given in Maine by acclaimed speakers on the national lecture circuit; and regular live performances from its Bangor studios of jazz and classical musicians with ties to Maine.

MPBN's Web-based services at www.mpbn.net draw visitors from around the world. In August, for the fourth year in a row, MPBN "webcast" a full three days of live music from one of the five stages of the American Folk Festival on the Bangor Waterfront. MPBN has begun gathering and archiving web-exclusive content not broadcast on either its radio or television stations, such as concert audio and recorded speeches as well as an increasingly wide array of web-only services as adjuncts to its radio, television and educational programming. These include lesson plans for educators, increasing use of photos that give additional visual context to radio news stories, live streaming of news and music, and individual television and radio program site sections with links to external educational and continuing education resources in Maine and beyond.

PUBLICATIONS:

For the third year, MPBN combined its separate monthly radio and television program guides mailed to members into a single publication called "Experience." The expanded magazine format of this new publication allows MPBN to communicate more information to its members than ever before.

Public Outreach

MPBN conducts a total of four open "town meetings" annually which are promoted through all of MPBN's services (radio, television, web and magazine) as well as with paid ads in other media, in communities all across Maine. The purpose of these meetings, at which attendance for some topped two dozen, was to solicit public feedback on the direction of public broadcasting in Maine to help ensure that MPBN remains relevant in the lives and responsive to the needs of the people of Maine. This information, and similar feedback in the form of over 1,300 online survey responses, was used to formulate MPBN's 5-year Strategic Plan.

Reference: Policy Area:01 ; Umbrella: 99 Unit: 626 ; Citation: T0005 M.R.S.A., Sect. 000013120A

PURPOSE:

The Maine Rural Development Authority (MRDA) was established to provide loans to communities, agencies, or businesses for the development of commercial facilities as a lender or investor in the acquisition, development, redevelopment and sale of commercial facilities or on a speculative basis in areas where economic and financial needs are not adequately supported by private investment.

MRDA's purpose is to also assist areas of the state hard hit by the loss of a substantial number of jobs or the loss of a large employer. The authority works with private investors, banks, and municipalities to help develop commercial buildings to attract businesses and employers and to redevelop existing properties for commercial or industrial use that would otherwise remain vacant.

ORGANIZATION:

MRDA is a public instrumentality of the State. A Trustee Board, consisting of seven members governs the authority. The Governor appoints five of the trustees; the CEO of the Finance Authority of Maine and the Commissioner of the Department of Economic and Community Development serve as ex-officio voting members. The commissioner is chair of the board. By-laws were adopted in the fall of 2002. MRDA contracts for staff and project support.

PROGRAM:

MRDA meets its purpose through two specific programs, the Speculative Industrial Building Program and the Commercial Facilities Development Program. Both programs are governed by statute and by rules adopted by the MRDA. In both programs, MRDA acts as a stimulus to private and public investment in these facilities to create more job opportunities in Maine, primarily in communities.

The Speculative Industrial Facilities Program (Chapter 99-626-01) provides loans to communities to develop commercial or industrial facilities on a speculative basis. This program was developed in 1973, and was housed in the State Development Office, and later the Department of Economic and Community Development before being transferred to the MRDA.

The Commercial Facilities Development Program (Chapter 99-626-02) allows the authority to serve as the principal, partner, lender or investor to initiate the redevelopment of existing facilities that are suitable for commercial or industrial use for subsequent sale or lease. This program requires at least a 25% match per project, which the MRDA can waive in cases of severe economic distress.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE MAINE COMMUNITY COLLEGE SYSTEM

KRIS DOODY, CHAIR

Central Office: 323 STATE STREET, AUGUSTA, ME 04330

Mail Address: 323 STATE STREET, AUGUSTA, ME 04330

Established: 1985

Telephone: (207) 629-4000

Reference: Policy Area:02 ; Umbrella: 99 Unit: 480 ; Citation: T0020A M.R.S.A., Sect. 000012702

PURPOSE:

The Board of Trustees of the Maine Community College System was established in 1985 by Public Law, Chapter 695 to be the policy making authority of the system, to develop and adopt policies for the operation of the system establish the administrative council and approve programs and policies recommended by the system president and the administrative council; to prepare and adopt a biennial line-category, operating budget; and to develop and adopt personnel policies and procedures.

ORGANIZATION:

The Board of Trustees of the Maine Community College System consists of 15 members. Twelve are from the fields of business, industry, labor, education, and the general public, and one is a student from one of the community colleges.

The Commissioner of Education and the Commissioner of Labor serve ex officio. P.L. 1985 Chapter 695, "An Act to Establish the Maine Vocational-Technical Institute System" was signed into law on April 16, 1986, setting in motion the reorganization of the statewide network of vocational-technical institutes (up until then operated as subsidiaries of the Maine Department of Education, Bureau of Vocational Education, under the governance of the State Board of Education) into the Maine Vocational-Technical Institute System, an autonomous postsecondary educational institution governed by an independent Board of Trustees.

In 1989 the 114th Legislature enacted Public Law, Chapter 443, "An Act to Enhance the Status of Vocational-Technical Education in Maine," which officially changed the name of the Maine Vocational-Technical Institute System to the Maine Technical College System and clearly defined the system's role in postsecondary education.

In 2003, the 121st Maine Legislature changed the name of the Maine Technical College System to the Maine Community College System to reflect its broad mission of providing career and liberal arts transfer programs for Maine college students. The names of the seven colleges were all changed on July 1, 2003.

The Maine Community College System (MCCS) constitutes a "public instrumentality of the state" but not a "line" State agency included in or attached to a cabinet department; its status vis-a-vis State government is similar to that of the Maine Maritime Academy and the University of Maine System.

Maine law defines the basic mission of the Maine Community College System in the following terms: "To provide associate degree, diploma, and certificate programs directed at the educational, occupational, and technical needs of the state's citizens and the work force needs of the state's employers." The law further defines the primary goals of MCCS as follows: "to create an educated, skilled, and adaptable labor force which is responsive to the changing needs of the economy of the state, and promote local, regional, and statewide economic development."

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES - NOT PART OF STATE GOVERNMENT

The MCCS Office, set up by legislation to provide statewide coordination and leadership to the seven colleges, operates at 323 State Street, Augusta. The seven-college system consists of Central Maine Community College in Auburn, Eastern Maine Community College in Bangor, Kennebec Valley Community College in Fairfield, Northern Maine Community College in Presque Isle, Southern Maine Community College in South Portland, Washington County Community College in Calais, and York County Community College in Wells. Off-campus centers are located in East Millinocket, Ellsworth, South Paris, Augusta, Houlton, Dover-Foxcroft, South Portland, Madawaska, and Bath.

The Maine Community College System operates the Maine Quality Centers Program, an economic development program established by the Legislature in 1994 that provides new or expanding Maine firms with customized education and training, free of charge to participating firms and their trainees. The MCCS also operates the Early College for ME program, which provides scholarships and college-transition services for high school students who face barriers to college.
