ETHICS QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FOR LEGISLATORS

When should I refrain from voting on or attempting to influence a bill due to a conflict of interest?

Maine statute defines three different types of conflicts of interest that preclude you from voting on legislation or attempting to influence the outcome of legislation:

You may not vote on or attempt to influence a bill if you, your spouse or one of your dependent children

- has or acquires a personal financial interest in an enterprise that would benefit financially from proposed legislation; OR
- derives a personal financial benefit from close economic association<sup>1</sup> with a person known by you to have a direct financial interest in an enterprise affected by the proposed legislation; AND
- the financial interest is direct and substantial AND
- distinct from that of the general public.

1 MRSA § 1014(1)(A)

You may not vote on or attempt to influence a bill if you, your spouse or one of your dependent children accepts or engages in employment

- which could impair your judgment as a legislator; OR
- where you know that there is a substantial possibility that the employment opportunity is being given to you, or to your spouse or dependent child, with an intent to influence you in your work as a legislator; OR
- where you, your spouse or your dependent child stands to derive a personal and private gain or loss from employment, because of legislative action, AND that gain or loss
  - is distinct from the gain or losses of other employees, OR
  - is distinct from the gain or losses of the general community.

1 MRSA § 1014(1)(E)

<sup>1</sup>Under the conflict of interest law, 1 MRSA § 1012 (1), you, your spouse or your dependent child has a "close economic association" with a person if that person is:

- an employer, employee, partner, or client; OR
- a corporation in which you, your spouse or one of your dependent children is an officer, director or agent OR owns 10% or more of the outstanding capital stock; OR
- a business which has (or in which you have, or your spouse or dependent child has) a significant unsecured creditor relationship.

You may not vote on or attempt to influence a bill if you, your spouse or one of your dependent children has an interest in legislation

- relating to a profession, trade, business or employment in which you or your spouse or dependent child is engaged; AND
- where the benefit to be derived from the legislation by you or your spouse or dependent child is
  - unique and distinct from that of the general public OR
  - unique and distinct from that of persons engaged in similar professions, trades, businesses or employment.

1 MRSA § 1014(1)(F)

What other activities within the legislative body are prohibited by the conflict of interest statute?

You may not receive any compensation, or reimbursement of expenses, for services, advice or assistance that you provide as a legislator, other than the salary and reimbursements that are specifically authorized by law to be paid to you by the State.

1 MRSA § 1014(1)(C)

You may not appear for, represent or assist another person or entity in respect to a claim before the Legislature, unless you do so without compensation and for the benefit of a citizen.

1 MRSA § 1014(1)(D)

What restrictions apply to my dealings with state executive branch agencies?

You may not appear for, represent, or assist another person or entity in a matter before a state agency or authority unless you do so without compensation and for the benefit of a constituent, OR unless you are acting in your private capacity as an attorney or other professional engaged in the conduct of your profession, in which case you may not:

- refer to your legislative capacity; OR
- communicate regarding the matter on legislative stationary; OR
- make any threats or implications regarding legislative action.

1 MRSA § 1014(2)(A)(undue influence)

You also may not represent or assist another person or entity in selling goods or services to the State, or to any state agency or authority, unless the sale occurs after public notice and competitive bidding.

1 MRSA § 1014(2)(B)(undue influence)

What restrictions apply to my ability, or that of my employer or my business, to contract with a state agency?

You or any associated organization<sup>2</sup> may not enter into a contract with a state agency to be paid, in whole or in part, with government funds, and a person or entity with which you, your spouse or dependent child has a direct financial interest or has an interest through close economic association<sup>3</sup> may not contract with the state unless:

- the contract has been awarded through a process of public notice and competitive bidding; OR
- the contract is exempt from competitive bidding; OR
- payment under the contract is based on uniform rates established by
  - the state, a state agency or authority, or
  - a professional association or organization.

1 MRSA § 1014(3)(A)(abuse of office)
1 MRSA § 1015(4)

What other statutory prohibitions apply to my activities as a legislator?

You may not grant or obtain any special privilege, exemption or preferential treatment

- to or for yourself or another
- when that privilege, exemption or treatment
- is not readily available to members of the general community or to members of a class to which the beneficiary belongs.

1 MRSA § 1014(3)(B)(abuse of office)

You also may not use or disclose confidential information

- obtained because of your office or position as a legislator
- for your own benefit or for the benefit of another.

1 MRSA § 1014(3)(C)(abuse of office)

<sup>2</sup> Under the legislative ethics statute, 1 MRSA § 1012(1-A), an "associated organization" is one in which you or your spouse:

- is a director, officer or trustee, OR
- own(s) or control(s), directly or indirectly, and separately or combined, at least 10% of the outstanding shares.

<sup>3</sup> See footnote 1 for definition.

What gifts am I prohibited from accepting as a legislator?

You, or your spouse or dependent child, may not accept a gift<sup>4</sup> (excluding campaign contributions) or a pecuniary benefit<sup>5</sup> from any person:

- affected by legislation or with an interest in a business affected by proposed legislation; AND
- if you know, or reasonably should know, that the purpose of the donor in making the gift or offering the pecuniary benefit is
  - to influence your vote;
  - to influence you in the performance of your duties as a legislator; or
  - to reward you for some action you have taken; OR
- if the pecuniary benefit is in return for a vote that you have made as a legislator, or in return for advice or other assistance in preparing or promoting a bill; OR
- if the pecuniary benefit is given as compensation for your endorsement, nomination, approval or disapproval of any person for a public office.

1 MRSA § 1014(1)(B)
17-A MRSA § 604(1)(A)
17-A MRSA § 605(1)(A)
17-A MRSA § 606(1)(A)
17-A MRSA § 607(1)(A)

---

<sup>4</sup> Under the legislative ethics statute, 1 MRSA § 1012(4), a "gift" means anything of value, including forgiveness of an obligation or debt, that is given without the recipient providing anything of equal or greater value.

It does not include:

- things of value from received from a single source during a calendar year that do not exceed an aggregate value of $300;
- a bequest or other form of inheritance;
- a gift from a relative; or
- a subscription to a newspaper, news magazine, or other news publication.

<sup>5</sup> "Pecuniary benefit" is defined in the Bribery and Corrupt Practices Act, 17-A MRSA § 602(2)(C), to include any advantage in the form of money, property, commercial interest, or anything else the primary significance of which is economic gain, other than economic gain available to the public generally, such as through a tax reduction or increased prosperity generally.

"Pecuniary benefit" does not include:

- a meal provided by an industry or special interest organization as part of an informational program presented to a group of legislators or other public officials;
- a prayer breakfast or meal served during a meeting to establish a prayer breakfast; or
- a subscription to a newspaper, news magazine or other news publication.

Am I allowed to solicit funds for charities or nonprofit organizations while serving as a legislator?

Generally, yes, since the donations are not being made to you directly. It is advisable, however, to avoid soliciting donations from someone whose purpose in making the donation you know, or reasonably should know, is to influence your vote on any matter or the performance of your duties as a legislator, or to reward you for any past action. It is also advisable to avoid soliciting donations from anyone who you know is, or is likely to become, subject to or interested in legislation that is pending before the committee or legislative body in which you serve as a legislator.

When am I, as a legislator, precluded from soliciting or accepting campaign contributions from lobbyists, lobbyist associates or their employers?

If you are a candidate for election or re-election to a state office while serving in the Legislature, you may not accept campaign contributions (other than qualifying contributions to help you become certified as a Maine Clean Election candidate) from lobbyists, lobbyist associates or their employers during any of the following time periods:

- for a first regular session, from the time the Legislature convenes on the first Wednesday in December, until final adjournment;
- for a second regular session, from the time the Legislature convenes on the first Wednesday after the first Tuesday in January, until final adjournment, or until the March 15 deadline for party candidates to file nominating petitions, whichever occurs earlier;
- for a special session, from whenever the Legislature convenes until final adjournment.

During these time periods, you also may not solicit contributions to political action committees from lobbyists, lobbyist associates or their employers unless the funds are segregated so that they cannot be used to influence the election of any incumbent legislator, constitutional officer, or the Governor.

Bribery, Corrupt Practices & Receipt of Gifts

A legislator asked whether she could voluntarily solicit contributions, especially foundation grants, for the Kennebec River Future Commission, which was in the process of being created by legislation. The Attorney General said that she could, without compensation, solicit grants and donations from private sources on behalf of a public entity. The Attorney General also suggested that she get the approval of both the governor and the legislative council to accept the funds solicited before the legislation creating the new commission became effective; that she refrain from soliciting from those who were interested in matters pending before the legislature; and that she guard against creating the impression that she was soliciting funds on behalf of the governor or legislative council. (AG Opinion, Feb. 17, 1981)

The Maine Whitewater Outfitters Association invited legislators on a Penobscot River rafting trip at a rate of $15 for up to two people, a substantial discount from the going public rate. The invitation noted that there had been significant legislation affecting rivers in the past, and that there would likely be more in the future. The House Speaker asked whether the conflict of interest law allowed legislators to accept the trip at that rate. The Attorney General said that legislators could not accept the trip at that rate, as it appeared to be a gift intended to influence the legislators in the performance of their official duties. (AG Opinion, Aug. 18, 1983)

Conflicts of Interest: Voting

A legislator asked whether it would be a conflict of interest for her to vote on a bill to limit future increases the cost of hospital care, when her spouse had provided legal advice and counsel to a medical practice affiliated with a Maine hospital concerning the bill. Although the Ethics Commission found this to be a conflict, the Attorney General concluded it was not because there was no indication that the client would derive a direct financial benefit from passage or defeat of the legislation, or that the legislator's spouse would derive any financial benefit from passage or defeat of the legislation since, as a lawyer, he would be paid for rendering legal advice on the bill whether or not it was enacted. (AG Opinion, Jun. 10, 1983)

A bill pending before the legislature would have authorized teacher recognition grants of $1,000 per teacher, for which all full-time teachers in qualifying schools would be eligible. In response to a legislator's inquiry, the Attorney General concluded that it would not be a conflict of interest for a legislator who was a full-time teacher, or whose spouse was a full-time teacher, to vote on the legislation, even though he or she would be eligible to receive a grant if the bill passed. The benefit to be derived by the legislator-teacher (or his or her spouse), although direct, financial, and personal, was not "unique and distinct ...from that of persons engaged in similar professions." The bill applied equally to all members of the teaching profession in public schools in Maine. (AG Opinion, Sep. 6, 1984)

The House speaker asked his counsel whether legislators who owned or sold mutual insurance policies had a conflict of interest in voting on a bill that would establish procedures and standards for demutualization of insurance companies. The speaker's counsel determined that there was no conflict of interest for policy owners because the bill did not financially benefit the mutual insurance companies, and even if policy holders received a benefit, it would not be a direct or substantial benefit. With respect to sellers of such policies, the bill would either confer no benefit or confer no benefit that was unique and distinct from others in the business. (Speaker's Counsel advice, Jun. 10, 1985)

A legislator who owned rental property asked the Attorney General whether the conflict of interest law would prevent him from voting on two bills that would require landlords to pay interest on tenant security deposits. The Attorney General advised that the law did not bar the legislator's voting on the bills because the bills would apply equally to all landlords in the State, so the legislator-landlord's interest was not unique and distinct from that of other landlords. (AG advice, Mar. 29, 1991)

While the legislature was considering the recommendations of the Blue Ribbon Commission on Workers' Compensation, legislators asked the Attorney General about the ethical duties of lawyer-legislators who handle, or whose firms handle, workers' compensation cases. The Attorney General's Office advised that all legislators were obliged to disclose their specific sources of income, and lawyer legislators were required to disclose the major areas of law practice for themselves and their firms. However, lawyer-legislators who practiced workers' compensation law were not barred from voting on workers' compensation issues because any benefits that flowed from passage of those recommendations would not be unique and distinct from benefits received by others in that line of work. (AG advice, Oct. 2, 1992)

A legislator who worked for a private non-profit corporation as the administrator of a program that would receive State funds under pending legislation was not prohibited from voting on that legislation because the legislator had no personal financial interest in the legislation. The criteria cited by the Ethics Commission in reaching this conclusion included that the non-profit corporation's contract with the state was awarded after a competitive bidding process, that the legislator did not own the non-profit corporation, that the legislator was not a director or an officer of the non-profit corporation, that the legislator's compensation would not be increased if the legislation passed, and that none of the State funds involved could be used for administrative purposes. However, the Ethics Commission said that the legislator may wish to recuse himself merely to avoid the appearance of a conflict of interest. (Ethics Comm. adv. ops., Apr. 9, 2003 & Aug. 15, 2003)

Conflicts of Interest: Committee assignment

A legislator asked the Ethics Commission whether his employment as the environmental manager for a major paper mill regulated by the Maine Department of Environmental Protection should preclude his appointment to the legislative committee that oversees that department. The Ethics Commission noted that the statutes acknowledge that most legislators must rely on private sources of income. The Commission also noted that the committees are well served by members who bring relevant specialized knowledge and experience. While the Commission found that the legislator's service on the committee did not create a per se conflict of interest, it cautioned him to carefully consider recusing himself from voting on particular matters that affect his employer in order to avoid the appearance of misconduct. (Ethics Comm. adv. op., Mar. 9, 2006)

Conflicts of Interest: Abuse of office in employment and contracts

The Deputy Secretary of State asked the Attorney General's Office whether a member of the legislature could also serve as executive director of the Maine County Commissioners Association when a significant portion of the director's duties would include acting as a lobbyist. The Attorney General's Office advised that such employment would likely violate both the "entire spirit" of the conflict of interest statutes and the common law principles on conflicts of interest. A number of Maine cases have articulated the rule that a public officer is required to be totally faithful to his or her public duties, rather than his or her personal interests. (AG advice, Mar. 29, 1991)

A legislator who worked as president of a company that received a "sole source," no-bid contract to provide claims processing services for the State asked the Ethics Commission whether the company's acceptance of the contract constituted abuse of office under the conflict of interest statute. The Commission understood that the contract was granted on an emergency basis because the previous contractor served notice of withdrawal from its contract without allowing sufficient time for a competitive bid process. For that reason, the State Division of Purchases approved the sole source contract, as it is allowed to do by the State purchasing laws under such circumstances. The Commission also noted that the legislator's company took the contract on the same terms as the previous contractor, with no increase in rates. Further, the Commission noted that the legislator owned no stock in the company. Based on those facts, the Commission determined that no abuse of office conflict of interest had developed through the company's acceptance of the contract. However, the Commission strongly recommended that the legislator abstain from any matter that may raise the appearance of a conflict of interest due to the contractual relationship between the company and the State. (Ethics Comm. adv. op., Apr. 30, 1998)

A legislator asked the Ethics Commission whether he could accept a contract with the State to serve as the "Dean" of the Maine Leadership Institute under the statute that creates a presumption of a conflict of interest for a legislator or a member of his or her immediate family to have a direct financial interest in a State contract that is not subject to a competitive bid process or established uniform rates. Before the inquiring legislator was elected, he had received the contract through a sole source contract, and not through competitive bidding. But after he was elected, the contract was put through a competitive bidding process, and the legislator was the winning bidder. The Ethics Commission advised that the legislator had no conflict of interest and could accept the contract because it was offered only after a competitive bidding process. (Ethics Comm. adv. op., Apr. 9, 2003)

Conflicts of Interest: Undue influence on state agencies

The Real Estate Commission complained to the Ethics Commission about the actions of three legislators who attempted to influence the outcome of a case against a friend of one of the legislators pending before the Real Estate Commission. The influence came in the form of a letter to the Real Estate Commission from all three legislators as well as phone calls from one of the legislators to that commission's chairman, its chief investigator, and the commissioner of the executive department that administered the commission. The Ethics Commission found that the primary legislator's motive was purely to assist his friend in having the friend's case dismissed, and it found that motive to be inappropriate. The Ethics Commission found that the legislators' actions constituted undue influence. One of the legislators was the chair of the legislative committee having oversight over the Real Estate Commission, and while the Ethics Commission found that he had "a legitimate interest in the disciplinary authority and procedures of the Real Estate Commission, . . . that interest provides no proper basis for seeking to influence the outcome of any particular case." (Ethics Comm. adv. op. Oct. 14, 1988)

CHAPTER 25

GOVERNMENTAL ETHICS
SUBCHAPTER 1

1 § 1001. Statement of purpose

It is essential under the American system of representative government that the people have faith and confidence in the integrity of the election process and the members of the Legislature. In order to strengthen this faith and confidence that the election process reflects the will of the people and that each Legislator considers and casts his vote on the enactment of laws according to the best interests of the public and his constituents, there is created an independent commission on governmental ethics and election practices to guard against corruption or undue influencing of the election process and against acts or the appearance of misconduct by Legislators.

P.L. 1975, ch. 621, § 1 (new)

1 § 1002. Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices

1. Membership. (repealed effective January 1, 2002)

1-A. Membership. The Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices, established by Title 5, section 12004-G, subsection 33 and referred to in this chapter as the "commission," consists of 5 members appointed as follows.

A. By December 1, 2001 and as needed after that date, the appointed leader from each political party in the Senate and the appointed leader from each political party in the House of Representatives jointly shall establish and advertise a 30-day period to allow members of the public and groups and organizations to propose qualified individuals to be nominated for appointment to the commission.

B. By January 1, 2002 and as needed after that date, the appointed leader from each political party in the Senate and the appointed leader from each political party in the House of Representatives each shall present a list of 3 qualified individuals to the Governor for appointment of 4 members to the commission. The appointed leadership from each party in both bodies of the Legislature jointly shall present a list of 3 qualified individuals to the Governor for appointment of a 5th member to the commission.

C. By March 15, 2002, the Governor shall appoint the members of the commission selecting one member from each of the lists of nominees presented in accordance with paragraph A. These nominees are subject to review by the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over legal affairs and confirmation by the Legislature. No more than 2 commission members may be enrolled in the same party.

D. Two initial appointees are appointed for one-year terms, 2 are appointed for 2-year terms and one is appointed for a 3-year term, according to a random lot drawing under the supervision of the Secretary of State. Subsequent appointees are appointed to serve 3-year terms. A person may not serve more than 2 terms.

E. The commission members shall elect one member to serve as chair for at least a 2-year term.

F. Upon a vacancy during an unexpired term, the term must be filled as provided in this paragraph for the unexpired portion of the term only. The nominee must be appointed by the Governor from a list of 3 qualified candidates provided by the leader of the party from the body of the Legislature that suggested the appointee who created the vacancy. If the vacancy during an unexpired term was created by the commission member who was appointed from the list of candidates presented to the Governor by the leaders of each party of each body of the Legislature jointly, the nominee must be appointed from a list of 3 qualified candidates provided jointly by the leaders of each party of each body of the Legislature. Nominees appointed pursuant to this paragraph are subject to review by the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over election practices and legislative ethics and to confirmation by the Legislature.

G. Upon a vacancy created by an expired term, the vacancy must be filled as provided in this paragraph. The nominee must be appointed by the Governor from a list of 3 qualified candidates provided by the leader of the party from the body of the Legislature that suggested the appointee whose term expired. When a vacancy is created by an expired term of the commission member who was appointed from the list of candidates presented to the Governor by the leaders of each party of each body of the Legislature jointly, the nominee must be appointed from a list of 3 qualified candidates provided jointly by the leaders of each party of each body of the Legislature. Nominees appointed pursuant to this paragraph are subject to review by the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over election practices and legislative ethics and to confirmation by the Legislature.

H. For the purposes of this subsection, "political party" has the same meaning as "party" as defined by Title 21-A, section 1, subsection 28.

2. Qualifications. The members of the commission must be persons of recognized judgment, probity and objectivity. A person may not be appointed to this commission who is a member of the Legislature or who was a member of the previous Legislature, or who was a declared candidate for an elective county, state or federal office within 2 years prior to the appointment, or who now holds an elective county, state or federal office, or who is an officer of a political committee, party committee or political action committee.

3. Oath. Each member shall, within 10 days of his appointment, take an oath of office to faithfully discharge the duties of a commissioner in the form prescribed by the Constitution. Such oath shall be subscribed to by the commissioner taking it, certified by the officer before whom it is taken and immediately filed in the Office of the Secretary of State.

4. Legislative per diem. The members of the commission are entitled to receive legislative per diem according to Title 5, chapter 379.

5. Employees. The commission shall employ an executive director and such other assistance as may be necessary to carry out its duties. The commission also shall retain a general counsel or a computer analyst as an employee of the commission, based on the staffing needs of the executive director. If the commission employs a general counsel, the general counsel may not hold any other state office or otherwise be employed by the State. The commission shall select the executive director by an affirmative vote of at least 4 commission members.

6. Prohibited activities. A member of the commission may not engage in political fund-raising to promote the election or defeat of a candidate, passage or defeat of a ballot measure or endorse a political candidate. This prohibition does not apply to fund-raising for campaigns or endorsement of candidates at the county or municipal level or out-of-state nonfederal elections.

SUBCHAPTER 2 LEGISLATIVE ETHICS

1 § 1011. Statement of purpose

The Maine Legislature enjoys a high reputation for progressive accomplishment. The vast majority of its members are public officers of integrity and dedication, seeking at all times to maintain high standards of ethical conduct. The public interest is best served by attracting and retaining in the Legislature men and women of high caliber and attainment. The public interest will suffer if unduly stringent requirements deprive government "of the services of all but princes and paupers." Membership in the Legislature is not a full-time occupation and is not compensated on that basis; moreover, it is measured in 2-year terms, requiring each member to recognize and contemplate that his election will not provide him with any career tenure. Most Legislators must look to income from private sources, not their public salaries, for their sustenance and support for their families; moreover, they must plan for the day when they must return to private employment, business or their professions. The increasing complexity of government at all levels, with broader intervention into private affairs, makes conflicts of interest almost inevitable for all part-time public officials, and particularly for Legislators who must cast their votes on measures affecting the lives of almost every citizen or resident of the State. The adoption of broader standards of ethics for Legislators does not impugn either their integrity or their dedication; rather it recognizes the increasing complexity of government and private life and will provide them with helpful advice and guidance when confronted with unprecedented or difficult problems in that gray area involving action which is neither clearly right nor clearly wrong. If public confidence in government is to be maintained and enhanced, it is not enough that public officers avoid acts of misconduct. They must also scrupulously avoid acts which may create an appearance of misconduct. The Legislature cannot legislate morals and the resolution of ethical problems must indeed rest largely in the individual conscience. The Legislature may and should, however, define ethical standards, as most professions have done, to chart the areas of real or apparent impropriety.

1 § 1013. Authority; procedures

1. Authority. The commission shall have the authority:

A. To issue, on request of any Legislator on an issue involving himself, or on its own motion, advisory opinions and guidelines on problems or questions involving possible conflicts of interest in matters under consideration by, or pertaining to, the Legislature;

B. To investigate complaints filed by Legislators, or on its own motion, alleging conflict of interest against any Legislator, to hold hearings thereon if the commission deems appropriate and to issue publicly findings of fact together with its opinion; and

C. To administer the disclosure of sources of income by Legislators as required by this subchapter.

2. Procedure. The following procedures shall apply:

A. Requests for advisory opinions by members of the Legislature shall be filed with the commission in writing, signed by the Legislator requesting the opinion and shall contain such supporting data as the commission shall require. When preparing an advisory opinion on its own motion, the commission shall notify the Legislator concerned and allow him to provide additional information to the commission. In preparing an advisory opinion, either upon request or on its own motion, the commission may make such an investigation as it deems necessary. A copy of the commission's advisory opinion shall be sent to the Legislator concerned and to the presiding officer of the House of which the Legislator is a member;

B. A Legislator making a complaint shall file the complaint under oath with the chairman. The complaint shall specify the facts of the alleged conflict of interest. The Legislator against whom a complaint is filed shall immediately be given a copy of the complaint and the name of the complainant. Only those complaints dealing with alleged conflicts of interest related to the current Legislature shall be considered by the commission. Upon a majority vote of the commission, the commission shall conduct such investigation and hold such hearings as it deems necessary. The commission shall issue its findings of fact together with its opinion regarding the alleged conflict of interest to the House of which the Legislator concerned is a member. That House may take whatever action it deems appropriate, in accordance with the Constitution of the State of Maine.

C. When the conduct of a particular Legislator is under inquiry and a hearing is to be held, the Legislator shall be given written notification of the time and place at which the hearing is to be held. Such notification shall be given not less than 10 days prior to the date set for the hearing.

D. The commission shall have the authority, through its chairman or any member designated by him, to administer oaths, subpoena witnesses and compel the production of books, records, papers, documents, correspondence and other material and records which the committee deems relevant. The commission shall subpoena such witnesses as the complainant Legislator or the Legislator against whom the complaint has been filed may request to be subpoenaed. The State, its agencies and instrumentalities shall furnish to the commission any information, records or documents which the commission designates as being necessary for the exercise of its functions and duties. In the case of refusal of any person to obey an order or subpoena of the commission, the Superior Court, upon application of the commission, shall have jurisdiction and authority to require compliance with the order or subpoena. Any failure of any person to obey an order of the Superior Court may be punished by that court as a contempt thereof.

E. Any person whose conduct is under inquiry shall be accorded due process and, if requested, the right to a hearing. All witnesses shall be subject to cross-examination. Any person whose name is mentioned in an investigation or hearing and who believes that testimony has been given which adversely affects him shall have the right to testify, or at the discretion of the commission and under such circumstances as the commission shall determine to protect the rights of the Legislator under inquiry, to file a statement of facts under oath relating solely to the material relevant to the testimony of which he complains. Any witness at an investigation or hearing, subject to rules and regulations promulgated by the commission, shall be entitled to a copy of such testimony when the same becomes relevant to a criminal proceeding or subsequent investigation or hearings. All witnesses shall be sworn. The commission may sequester witnesses as it deems necessary. The commission shall not be bound by the strict rules of evidence, but its findings and opinions must be based upon competent and substantial evidence. Time periods and notices may be waived by agreement of the commission and the person whose conduct is under inquiry.

F. If the commission concludes that it appears that a Legislator has violated a criminal law, a copy of its findings of fact, its opinion and such other information as may be appropriate shall be referred to the Attorney General. Any determination by the commission or by a House of the Legislature that a conflict of interest has occurred does not preclude any criminal action relating to the conflict which may be brought against the Legislator.

G. If the commission determines that a complaint filed under oath is groundless and without foundation, or if the Legislator filing the complaint fails to appear at the hearing without being excused by the commission, the commission may order the complainant to pay to the Legislator against whom the complaint has been filed his costs of investigation and defense, including any reasonable attorney's fees. The complainant may appeal such an order to the House of which he is a member. Such an order shall not preclude any other remedy available to the Legislator against whom the complaint has been filed, including, but not limited to, an action brought in Superior Court against the complainant for damages to his reputation.

H. A copy of the commission's advisory opinions and guidelines, with such deletions and changes as the commission deems necessary to protect the identity of the person seeking the opinions, or others, shall be filed with the Clerk of the House. The clerk shall keep them in a special binder and shall finally publish them in the Legislative Record. The commission may exempt an opinion or a part thereof from release, publication or inspection, if it deems such action appropriate for the protection of 3rd parties and makes available to the public an explanatory statement to that effect.

I. A copy of the commission's findings of fact and opinions regarding complaints against Legislators shall also be filed with the Clerk of the House. The clerk shall keep them in a special binder and shall finally publish them in the Legislative Record.

J. The records of the commission and all information received by the commission acting under this subchapter in the course of its investigation and conduct of its affairs shall be confidential, except that Legislators' statements of sources of income, evidence or information disclosed at public hearings, the commission's findings of fact and its opinions and guidelines are public records.

K. When a Legislator has a question or problem of an emergency nature about a possible conflict of interest or an issue involving himself which arises during the course of legislative action, he may request an advisory opinion from the presiding officer of the legislative body of which he is a member. The presiding officer may, at his discretion, issue an advisory opinion, which shall be in accordance with the principles of this subchapter, which shall be in writing, and which shall be reported to the commission. The commission may then issue a further opinion on the matter. The presiding officer may refer such question or problem directly to the commission, which shall meet as soon as possible to consider the question or problem.

3. Confidentiality. The subject of any investigation by the commission shall be informed promptly of the existence of the investigation and the nature of the charges or allegations. Otherwise, notwithstanding chapter 13, all complaints shall be confidential until the investigation is completed and a hearing ordered or until the nature of the investigation becomes public knowledge. Any person, except the subject of the investigation, who knowingly breaches the confidentiality of the investigation is guilty of a Class D crime.

Where a Legislator or a member of his immediate family has or acquires a direct substantial personal financial interest, distinct from that of the general public, in an enterprise which would be financially benefited by proposed legislation, or derives a direct substantial personal financial benefit from close economic association with a person known by the Legislator to have a direct financial interest in an enterprise affected by proposed legislation.

B. Where a Legislator or a member of his immediate family accepts gifts, other than campaign contributions duly recorded as required by law, from persons affected by legislation or who have an interest in a business affected by proposed legislation, where it is known or reasonably should be known that the purpose of the donor in making the gift is to influence the Legislator in the performance of his official duties or vote, or is intended as a reward for action on his part.

C. Receiving compensation or reimbursement not authorized by law for services, advice or assistance as a Legislator.

D. Appearing for, representing or assisting another in respect to a claim before the Legislature, unless without compensation and for the benefit of a citizen.

E. Where a Legislator or a member of his immediate family accepts or engages in employment which could impair the Legislator's judgment, or where the Legislator knows that there is a substantial possibility that an opportunity for employment is being afforded him or a member of his immediate family with intent to influence his conduct in the performance of his official duties, or where the Legislator or a member of his immediate family stands to derive a personal private gain or loss from employment, because of legislative action, distinct from the gain or losses of other employees or the general community.

F. Where a Legislator or a member of his immediate family has an interest in legislation relating to a profession, trade, business or employment in which the Legislator or a member of his immediate family is engaged, where the benefit derived by the Legislator or a member of his immediate family is unique and distinct from that of the general public or persons engaged in similar professions, trades, businesses or employment.

2. Undue influence. It is presumed that a conflict of interest exists where there are circumstances which involve a substantial risk of undue influence by a Legislator, including but not limited to the following cases.

A. Appearing for, representing or assisting another in a matter before a state agency or authority, unless without compensation and for the benefit of a constituent, except for attorneys or other professional persons engaged in the conduct of their professions.

(1) Even in the excepted cases, an attorney or other professional person must refrain from references to his legislative capacity, from communications on legislative stationery and from threats or implications relating to legislative action.

B. Representing or assisting another in the sale of goods or services to the State, a state agency or authority, unless the transaction occurs after public notice and competitive bidding.

3. Abuse of office or position. It is presumed that a conflict of interest exists where a Legislator abuses his office or position, including but not limited to the following cases.

A. Where a Legislator or a member of his immediate family has a direct financial interest or an interest through a close economic association in a contract for goods or services with the State, a state agency or authority in a transaction not covered by public notice and competitive bidding or by uniform rates established by the State, a state agency, authority or other governmental entity or by a professional association or organization.

B. Granting or obtaining special privilege, exemption or preferential treatment to or for oneself or another, which privilege, exemption or treatment is not readily available to members of the general community or class to which the beneficiary belongs.

C. Use or disclosure of confidential information obtained because of office or position for the benefit of self or another.

These prohibitions apply to direct and indirect solicitation, acceptance, giving, offering and promising, whether through a political action committee, political committee, political party or otherwise.

D. A person who intentionally violates this subsection is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $1,000, payable to the State and recoverable in a civil action.

4. Contract with state governmental agency. A Legislator or an associated organization may not enter with a state governmental agency into any contract that is to be paid in whole or in part out of governmental funds, when such a contract is normally awarded through a process of public notice and competitive bidding, unless the contract has been awarded through a process of public notice and competitive bidding.

In a free government the official is entrusted with the security, safety, health, prosperity, and general well-being of those whom he/she serves. With such a trust high moral and ethical standards producing the public's confidence, with the reduction to a minimum of any conflict between private interests and official duties, should be observed. No state legislator will accept any employment which can possibly impair his/her independence and integrity of judgement or will he/she exercise his/her position of trust to secure unwarranted privileges for themselves or for others. The Maine legislator will be ever mindful of the ordinary citizen who might otherwise be unrepresented, and will endeavor conscientiously to pursue the highest standards of legislative conduct.

Campaign Contributions During Legislative Session

What people and organizations are prohibited from making campaign contributions during a legislative session?

Lobbyists, lobbyist associates, their employers (i.e., their clients), and political action committees that are affiliated with an employer. (A lobbyist associate is a colleague or employee of a lobbyist who also lobbies on behalf of an employer.)

What candidates are covered by the ban?

Legislators, the Governor, the constitutional officers, and members of their staff who choose to run for office ("covered candidates").

What about legislative caucus PACs and leadership PACs?

The ban applies to contributions to any PAC closely associated with a legislator or other covered candidate, such as a legislative caucus PAC or a leadership PAC. Those PACs may only accept contributions from the prohibited sources during the session if the contributions are segregated in a fund that is not used to influence the election of any incumbent Legislators, the Governor or incumbent constitutional officers. The ban also applies to a contribution to a candidate made indirectly through a party committee.

Does the prohibition apply to other candidates?

No.

Can other donors make contributions during a legislative session?

Yes. Candidates may accept contributions from other sources that do not employ lobbyists in Maine, such as family members, neighbors, national associations, national parties, and local businesses. Legislative caucus PACs and leadership PACs may also accept contributions during the legislative session from these sources.

When does the ban apply?

Lobbyists, lobbyist associates, and employers cannot make contributions to covered candidates and closely associated PACs while the Legislature is in session – from the time the Legislature is convened until final adjournment. This includes special sessions.

What if a Legislator solicits a contribution before the session, but the contribution is not received until after the session begins? Is this allowed?

No. Acceptance means the receipt or deposit of a contribution. If a covered candidate receives a contribution from a prohibited source after the Legislature convenes, the Commission suggests returning the contribution and waiting to solicit another contribution from this source until after the Legislature has finally adjourned.

Does the prohibition apply to seed money contributions or $5 qualifying contributions given to candidates intending to participate in the Maine Clean Election Act?

During the session, lobbyists and lobbyist associates are not permitted to make seed money contributions ($100 contributions to candidates intending to participate in the Maine Clean Election Act), but they may make qualifying contributions ($5 donations made payable to the Maine Clean Election Fund in support of a candidate seeking to qualify for Maine Clean Election Act funds).

Is a candidate allowed to go to fundraising events for a political party during the session if his or her campaign does not receive a contribution?

Yes. The prohibition does not apply to a covered candidate's attendance at a fundraising event held by a party committee, so long as the candidate was not involved in soliciting contributions for the event from prohibited sources and the proceeds are paid directly to the party or a charitable organization.

Who is responsible for checking if the contributor is prohibited?

It is the candidate's responsibility to screen contributions to make sure they are not from prohibited sources. Candidates can check the current lists of lobbyists, lobbyist associates and employers on the Commission's e-filing Web site (<http://www.mainecampaignfinance.com/public/home.asp>). It is also the responsibility of lobbyists, lobbyist associates, and their employers to avoid making campaign contributions during the session to candidates subject to the prohibition.

Are there any exceptions to the prohibition?

Yes. The following contributions are not covered by the prohibition:

- contributions received during an election year after the March 15 deadline for party candidates to file nominating petitions;
- contributions accepted by a covered candidate for a campaign for federal office;
- contributions relating to a special election to fill a vacancy that are made from the time of the announcement of the election until the election occurs; and
- contributions for bona fide social events hosted for nonpartisan, charitable purposes.

Re: Disclosure of Bids on Government Contracts

Am I required to notify the Ethics Commission if I bid on a contract?

Yes. In 2003, the Legislature instituted a disclosure requirement for Legislators and organizations associated with Legislators that wish to enter into contracts with State agencies. The law states that when a Legislator or an "associated organization" bids on a contract with a State agency, the Legislator or organization must file a statement with the Ethics Commission that discloses the subject of the bid, and the names of the Legislator, the organization (if appropriate), and the State agency. (Title 1 M.R.S.A. §1016-D)

What is an associated organization?

"Associated organization" means any organization in which a Legislator or a Legislator's spouse is a director, officer or trustee, or owns or controls, directly or indirectly, and severally or in the aggregate, at least 10% of the outstanding equity.

What is the deadline for filing the disclosure statement?

The statement must be filed no later than 5:00 p.m. on the day that the bid is submitted.

What does the Ethics Commission do with the disclosure statement?

The statement is stored at the Commission's office, and is available to anyone who requests it.

How do I obtain a blank copy of the disclosure statement?

Please telephone the Commission staff at 287-4179, or go to the Commission's Web site at www.maine.gov/ethics/Legislators.htm

Did the 2003 law impose any other requirements?

Yes. In addition to the disclosure requirement, the law states that if a contract with a State agency is normally awarded through a process of public notice and competitive bidding, a Legislator or an associated organization may not enter into such a contract unless it has been awarded through a process of public notice and competitive bidding. (Title 1 M.R.S.A. §1015(4))

Who do I call if I have more questions?

Please telephone the Commission's Executive Director, Jonathan Wayne, at 287-4179.

COMMISSION ON GOVERNMENTAL ETHICS AND ELECTION PRACTICES

GUIDELINES ON ACCEPTANCE OF GIFTS

October 21, 1999

The State Legislature in 1975 created an independent commission on governmental ethics and election practices to guard against corruption or undue influencing of the election process and against acts or the appearance of misconduct by Legislators. That Commission is charged with the responsibility to investigate and make advisory recommendations to the appropriate body of any apparent violations of the ethical standards set by the Legislature and to conduct an ethics seminar for Legislators. Along with those duties, the Commission is authorized to issue advisory opinions and guidelines on problems or questions involving possible conflicts of interest in matters under consideration by, or pertaining to, the Legislature.

A frequently troublesome area is that of "gifts." The question periodically is asked whether a "gift" to a Legislator violates the legislative ethics law or any other provision of Maine law. Two statutes raise possible barriers to the acceptance by Legislators of gift offers. The first limitation is found in the legislative ethics law [1 M.R.S.A. § 1014(1)(B)] which provides that a conflict of interest occurs when a Legislator or a member of the Legislator's immediate family accepts a gift, other than a campaign contribution, from any person affected by legislation or who has an interest in a business affected by proposed legislation, where it is known or reasonably should be known that the purpose of the gift is to influence the performance of the Legislator's official duties or vote, or is intended as a reward for action on the Legislator's part.

As used in that provision, "gift" means anything of value, including the forgiveness of an obligation or debt, given to a person without that person providing equal or greater consideration to the giver. However, "gift" does not include things of value received from a single source during the reporting period with an aggregate value of $300 or less; a bequest or other form of inheritance; a gift received from a relative; or a subscription to a newspaper, news magazine or other news publication.

The key questions that must be answered are: (1) Is the offer of anything of value to a Legislator intended to influence the performance of the Legislator's duty or vote or as a reward for any action on the Legislator's part; and (2) Does the offer constitute a "gift" under the legislative ethics law's definition of that term? Thus, the applicability of the legislative ethics law with respect to the acceptance of a gift would depend on the purpose of the offer and the nature and value of the thing offered. If the purpose is to influence or reward a Legislator in the performance of official duties, and/or if the value of the thing offered exceeds $300, the item would be a prohibited "gift" for purposes of the applicability of the legislative ethics law.

However, a second limiting statutory provision, the stricter (narrower standard) Maine Criminal Code (17-A M.R.S.A. § 605), provides that it is improper for a public servant to solicit, accept or agree to accept any pecuniary benefit from a person "if the public servant knows or reasonably should know that the purpose of the donor in making the gift is to influence the public servant in the performance of the public servant's official duties or vote, or is intended as a reward for action on the part of the public servant."

As used in the Criminal Code provision, the term "pecuniary benefit" means any advantage in the form of money, property, commercial interest or anything else, the primary significance of which is economic gain. It does not include economic advantage applicable to the public generally, such as tax reduction or increased prosperity generally. "Pecuniary benefit" does not include a meal, if the meal is provided by industry or special interest organizations as part of an informational program presented to a group of public servants; a meal, if the meal is a prayer breakfast or meal served during a meeting to establish a prayer breakfast; or a subscription to a newspaper, news magazine or other news publication.

What must be answered, then, is: (1) Does the giver of the gift have an interest in a matter before the Legislature or a matter that is expected to come before the Legislature; and (2) Would the gift result in any economic advantage to the recipient that is not applicable to the general public or otherwise permitted by the law? Under the criminal law standard, the value of the gift is not a factor. Any economic gain or advantage is enough to invoke the proscription of the statute.

The comment that accompanied the Legislature's 1975 enactment of the criminal law provision stated:

It seems to be a warranted assumption that gifts from persons who have an interest in an official matter before the public servant would be so often made with the hope and intent of influencing [that public servant] that it is appropriate to prohibit all such gifts generally. This prohibition also serves to contribute significantly to the appearance, as well as the substance, of public integrity.

The Legislature has assigned to the Ethics Commission the responsibility to investigate and make advisory recommendations to the Legislature of any apparent violations of the ethical standards set by the Legislature. However, the Attorney General enforces the provisions of the Maine Criminal Code. Therefore, the Ethics Commission is the arbiter regarding the applicability of the legislative ethics law, while the Attorney General's Office is the final authority concerning the applicability of the criminal law provisions.

Individual Legislators are encouraged to consult with the Commission's staff, which includes the availability of legal counsel from the Attorney General's Office, about the particular facts of a potential gift situation before embarking on a course of action with respect to the acceptance of that particular gift. That is especially true with respect to the acceptance of offers of expense-paid trips, including reimbursement for travel, meals, and accommodations. The Commission and its staff will make every reasonable attempt to review the facts and offer advice in a timely manner within the limits of the Commission's authority. In that regard, some examples of gift situations that the Commission has addressed in the recent past are illustrative:

1. In 1996 a Legislator requested the Commission's guidance concerning the propriety of a member of the Legislature accepting an expense-paid trip to a conference sponsored by a national trade association. After reviewing the specific facts presented, the Commission concluded that acceptance of the trip would not constitute a violation of Maine's legislative ethics law because the conference would be an educational opportunity that would serve to benefit the Legislator in the discharge of the Legislator's duties. However, the Commission questioned the propriety of attending a conference at which such diversions as golf and deep-sea fishing are offered as part of the program and referred the requesting Legislator to the State law regarding the purpose of the donor in making the gift and the relation of that purpose to possibly influencing that Legislator in the performance of official duties or as a reward for past actions. Additionally, the Attorney General was asked to render a formal opinion regarding the questions raised.

2. Also in 1996, the Commission concluded that a Legislator's acceptance of an expense-paid trip of unknown value to another state to participate in a conference sponsored by a Maine political action committee, including hotel accommodations and travel expenses associated with the trip, was not a conflict of interest. However, the Commission encouraged the Legislator in the future to seek advice before accepting anything of value from anyone with a potential interest in proposed legislation. The Commission also reminded the Legislator of the responsibility to ascertain the value of those goods or services that may bear upon the question of the propriety of accepting such "gifts." Finally, the Commission reminded the Legislator of Maine's financial disclosure law that requires Legislators to report annually the source of any gifts received with an aggregate value of more than $300.

3. In 1997 the permissibility was questioned of a paper company inviting certain members of the Legislature to tour Maine's northern woodlands, including payment for overnight accommodations, one restaurant meal, and bus transportation to view the woodlands. The invitation was valued at less than $100 per Legislator, not including transportation to and from the point of departure. The program included various presentations, but no lobbying was planned. Legislation involving woodland issues was pending before the Legislature. The Commission concluded that Legislators who participated in the tour would not be in violation of the Legislative ethics law because the value to each Legislator was considerably less than the $300 threshold by which a "gift" is defined. However, the Commission recommended that the Attorney General be consulted regarding the applicability of the criminal law provisions involving improper gifts to public servants.

4. Finally, in 1997 the Commission considered whether the offer of the services of a free community-service web page on the Internet and 20 hours of free Internet access per month, including installation of the appropriate software on the Legislator's at-home personal computer, offered to certain Legislators by a communications company would constitute a violation of State law. Issues were expected to arise on the legislative agenda that would affect the future health of the Internet and telecommunications industries in Maine. The company acknowledged its belief that "hands-on experience will help [the benefited Legislators] make informed decisions about legislation as these issues come before you." The Commission concluded that the applicability of the Legislative Ethics Act with respect to the question of whether the offer constituted a "gift" would depend upon whether the value of the services to be rendered was less than $300 per year in the aggregate so as not to trigger the "gift" prohibition. However, the Commission decided that acceptance of the offer was prohibited because of the appearance that the offer may have been intended to influence Legislators in the performance of their official duties or vote at some time in the future. Moreover, the Commission concluded that the acceptance of the offer would violate the State's criminal law prohibition against public servants accepting any "pecuniary benefit" in the form of a "commercial interest" or advantage that is not generally available to other members of the general public.

Consequently, Legislators and prospective sponsors of so-called "fact-finding," "educational," or "informational" programs that may include sponsor-paid offers of meals, travel, and transportation routinely question the propriety of accepting proposed offers of such "gifts."
