SUMMARY:

The title of this bill was changed by committee amendment "A" to: 'AN ACT Relating to Agricultural Training and Careers.' In that amendment, all reference was dropped to the term 'apprenticeship' and internship replaced it as the term to designate an agricultural trainee. Had this bill been enacted it would have provided funds to create a coordination position within the Department of Agriculture to manage the training problem. In the past, this training work has been created and managed by the Agriculture Department with voluntary allocation of resources from within the agency and from donation of resources from other State agencies and private organizations interested in fostering opportunities for persons to learn farm skills from active farmers and from people knowledgeable about agriculture.
