LD AN ACT TO PROHIBIT SALE OF FOODS PROCESSED WITH PL 1987
1552 RADIATION. c. 174

Sponsor: CARROLL, Perkins, Andrews, Mitchell
Committee Report: New Draft of LD 1088

SUMMARY: The original bill would have required labeling of foods processed with radiation or foods whose ingredients have been processed with radiation to be labelled with the words "treated with radiation" or "treated by irradiation". The FDA requires a logo and these words, but the requirement for the words expires in 1988 and may or may not be renewed.

The FDA approved a rule April 18, 1986 allowing increased use of radiation to preserve foods. This process kills bacteria and can delay ripening. It does not make the food radioactive but radiation treatment can produce some chemical changes in the foods.

The new draft carries out the intent of the original bill to protect Maine customers from any potential hazards of food which has been irradiated with gamma radiation or other ionizing radiation. The new draft prohibits the knowing sale of irradiated food, with the exception of irradiated spices when those spices are only an ingredient in the food. Irradiated spices are irradiated food and their knowing sale is prohibited.
