SUMMARY

New Draft Of LD 2182

The original bill, LD 2182, directed the Department of Environmental Protection to submit a plan to the Legislature for minimizing generation of household hazardous waste while providing for its collection and disposal. No funding was provided. The committee amendment coordinates this household hazardous waste planning with a similar study authorized by the Legislature in PL 1987, c. 491 for small quantity generators of hazardous waste. The new title and new draft reflect this change, make the study deadlines compatible and also provide funding for a pilot scale collection and disposal program for household hazardous waste. Amendment H-508 eliminated an unnecessary permanent position count from the appropriation.

SUMMARY

The original bill would have established a licensing program for the over-the-road transportation of certain hazardous materials and establishes a fee system on rail transportation of hazardous materials to increase the revenue to the Maine Hazardous Waste Fund. The bill also would have established a fee on oil tank trucks. Currently, a fee is assessed on other oil shipments from or into the State through ship-to-shore transfers. Finally, the original bill would have eliminated the cap on the Hazardous Waste Fund.

The committee amendment retains most of the original bill and makes a variety of technical corrections; shifts the fees on oil trucks from a vehicle license fee to a per barrel or per gallon fee; and shifts the rail fees from a fixed annual fee to a per ton fee. The amendment also added allocation sections.

A Senate amendment (S-435) corrects a technical error to eliminate potential double billing for oil and rail transporters.
