SUMMARY

LD 349 required the Department of Labor to inspect certain industrial and commercial facilities that use potentially hazardous substances, equipment and machinery when such facilities initiate operation or experience more than a 50% turnover in employees who work in the facility or who handle hazardous substances in the facility. Opportunity was provided for public comment and input from local government and the facility's employees to ensure that adequate information would be obtained about potential hazards caused by the facility's operation. Upon request, the Department of Environmental Protection and the Maine Emergency Management Agency would assist the Department of Labor during the inspection of hazardous substances at a facility.

Committee Amendment "A" (H-590) made a number of substantive changes to the bill:

1. It restricted the definition of "hazardous equipment" to boiler or pressure vessels;
2. It replaced the term "hazardous substance" with "toxic chemical";
