more than once. It requires the court to enter an order making permanent plans for the child and releasing the department from further reunification efforts when 2 placements with the same parent have failed and the child is returned to the custody of the department.

Committee Amendment "A" (H-174) places the requirement that the court make a final protection order within 18 months of the preliminary protection order in a more appropriate section of the Maine Revised Statutes than did the bill and permits that time period to be extended for good cause. It adds a provision permitting the parent to demonstrate that the court should order reunification more than once.

SUMMARY

The bill clarifies the confidentiality laws in the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 5, section 7070 to ensure that accusations of misconduct levied by a public employer against an employee are not disclosed to the public unless the charges are upheld by a neutral arbitrator or the employee does not appeal the disciplinary action through procedures generally provided in collective bargaining agreements.

Committee Amendment "A" (S-114) clarifies the definition of "final written decision" to be dependent on whether the action is appealed pursuant to a grievance procedure, including being appealed to a neutral arbitrator.

SUMMARY

The bill would have repealed the collateral source provisions enacted in the Second Regular Session of the 114th Legislature, which reduced the amount of a jury award to the victim of medical negligence by any collateral source payment the victim received from another source, such as an employer or health insurance carrier.
