Protection. The program is administered by the Maine Water Well Drilling Commission. The 7-member commission includes both public and private members and is charged with adopting a professional code of performance for well drillers, well drilling contractors and pump installers to provide the public with the highest quality ground water by ensuring that ground water wells are drilled, constructed, altered or abandoned in a manner that will protect subsurface aquifers from contamination. Under this bill, well drillers, well drilling contractors and pump installers must register with the commission and must provide services in a manner consistent with the code of performance adopted by the commission.

Committee amendment "A" (H-542) removes the provision in the bill that established the Maine Water Well Drilling Program in the Department of Environmental Protection and relocates the program in the Division of Health Engineering in the Department of Human Services. The amendment also clarifies that persons drilling wells on their own property are exempt from the registration requirements and strikes the provision in the bill that exempted wells drilled by public utilities. The amendment also reduces the work experience requirements for master and journeyman drillers, strikes provisions establishing registration fees and adds new language permitting the Maine Water Well Drilling Commission to set the registration fees. The amendment also makes several technical changes to the bill, including specifying that one member of the commission must be a member of the Test Borer's Association and "grandfathering" well drillers and pump installers who meet the qualifications for registration on the effective date of this Act.

SUMMARY

This bill amends the current laws regulating the licensing, certification and scope of work for asbestos abatement activities. The evaluation specialist category is replaced with asbestos inspector and air monitor categories. Notification to the department is required for any project over 3 linear or 3 square feet. Permit fees would have been increased to $200 for all projects greater than 160 square or 260 linear feet and single-unit residential facilities are exempted. Subtrades involved in asbestos abatement activities are required to conform to present law. Demolition as an asbestos abatement activity would have been defined. Reporting of abatement activities is required and the department is authorized to create, by rule, air clearance criteria.

The Committee amendment (H-579) replaces the bill. It removes all the provisions that transfer duties from the commissioner to the department. The amendment also defines several new categories of asbestos abatement entities and workers. The term "friable" is redefined to include nonfriable materials that
