SUMMARY

This bill establishes the Board of Massage Therapy, a regulatory board of 7 members in the Department of Professional and Financial Regulation. Four members are to be practitioners of massage therapy, 2 are to be consumers and one is to be a provider of health care who is not a massage therapist. Initial appointments are to be made by October 15, 1991.

The bill requires that, effective October 19, 1992, all persons who wish to use the title "massage therapist" or to practice massage therapy must be registered or certified by the State. Initial registration may be accomplished by providing the information required by the Board of Massage Therapy and paying a biennial fee not to exceed $100. Certification requires graduation from a school of massage therapy or a combination of course work and supervised practice and an initial fee not to exceed $200 biennially. The board may require an examination and an interview for initial certification and may require programs for maintaining competence as a condition for certification renewal.

Committee Amendment "A" removes regulation of the practice of massage therapy by the Board of Massage Therapy. It requires that to use the title "massage therapist" a person must be registered with the State. Among the qualifications for registration are freedom from infectious disease and 3 character references. Also, pursuant to the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 5, chapter 341, the Commissioner of Professional and Financial Regulation, who is responsible for regulating the practice of massage therapy, may consider conviction for certain crimes, including those directly related to the practice of massage therapy, in deciding whether to grant registration. Incompetence and unprofessional conduct are eliminated as grounds for disciplinary action. A yearly registration fee of $100 plus a one-time application fee of $25 is required. Perhaps erroneously, the amendment retains the definitions and exceptions from the original bill, which may give the impression that the bill regulates the practice of massage, not just the use of the title.

House Amendment "A" to Committee Amendment "A" clarifies that local regulation of massage and massage therapy is not preempted by the bill. If a municipality adopts a regulatory ordinance, practitioners must comply with the law and any more restrictive provision of the local ordinance.
