SUMMARY

This bill establishes a pheasant stamp program for individuals hunting pheasant in Cumberland County and York County. Committee amendment "A" (H-997), proposed to increase the pheasant stamp fee. This was the amendment which was voted out of committee last session before the bill was tabled and carried over. It was printed in error in place of the amendment approved by the committee this session. As a result, this committee amendment was indefinitely postponed and the amendment approved by the committee was adopted as House amendment "A" (H-1012). This amendment raises the fee for a pheasant permit to $16; raises the portion of the fee that is retained by agents to $1; repeals the pheasant permit program on June 30, 1993; requires the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, in cooperation with rod and gun clubs that raise pheasants, to report to the Joint Standing Committee on Fisheries and Wildlife by January 1, 1993 with recommendations concerning the continuation of the pheasant permit program; provides that the department will not absorb the costs of purchasing and raising pheasants for stocking for hunting, except that the department may use funds to purchase birds when and if it determines that it is financially feasible for it to do so. Under this amendment, purchasing and raising pheasants will be undertaken voluntarily by rod and gun clubs during the first year of this program.
