A consumer in a consumer credit transaction is entitled to notice of default and right to cure prior to the financial institution exercising its rights to setoff. This bill grants the same rights to a customer of a financial institution if the institution intends to exercise its rights against the customer's consumer account or property. This gives consumer rights protection to a business person who signs a loan for the business in a personal capacity.

H-1020SUMMARY

This bill requires that the insurance company issue a motor vehicle insurance identification card in a standard form when all insurance policies are issued. This card is required by the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 29, section 102-A to register a car. It is also needed for administration of the financial responsibility laws. The requirement that the card be issued is similar to the requirement that automatically repealed itself on January 1, 1992.

Committee Amendment "A", H-1020, corrects a cross-reference in Title 29 and adds a fiscal note.
