These summaries were prepared by the analyst or analysts assigned to the committee. But, this document was produced by the efforts of all the office staff, including secretaries: Charlene Raymond and Valarie Parlin, especially Laurette Knox who coordinated preparation of the overall document.

If you have any suggestions or comments on these summaries, please let us know.

The amendment limits the spreading of manure on frozen ground to those instances that are part of a plan on file with a Maine soil and water conservation district. The amendment also limits the amount of phosphorous in household laundry detergent.

A copy of any permit issued under the municipal subdivision laws, shoreland zoning laws, natural resources protection laws and the site location of development laws is required to be kept on site while the permitted work is undertaken in great pond watersheds.

The amendment outlines training priorities for the Department of Environmental Protection and requires the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife to report to the Joint Standing Committee on Energy and Natural Resources on the interest and cost of implementing municipal enforcement of recreational boating laws.

The amendment also prohibits the Town of Standish or the Portland Water District from closing or denying access to the public boat ramp in the Town of Standish before a suitable alternative is found unless the Department of Human Services finds that use of the boat ramp threatens the public water supply. The amendment also adds a fiscal note to the bill.

A house amendment (H-1313) delays by 6 months the date for the ban on the sale of household laundry detergents containing phosphorous.

SUMMARY

This bill would have required that municipalities be reimbursed for 100% of property tax losses as a result of the imposition of the mining excise tax in lieu of the property tax. Current law requires that only 50% of the property tax loss be reimbursed. This bill also creates the Mining Corrective Action Fund, funded by a 25% share of the mining excise tax revenues. This fund is used to address any catastrophes and to fund any remedial action related to the contamination of ground waters, disposition of mine wastes, pollution control and similar issues that arise following termination of mining activities. This bill also removes the cap on the Mining Impact Assistance Fund that municipalities rely upon when mining activities create additional burdens, such as road deterioration and similar problems.

The committee amendment (H-1177) changes the original bill to amend the provisions of the Mining Excise Tax Trust Fund Board of Trustees. If revenues from the Mining Excise Tax are not sufficient to repay municipalities for the property tax exemption afforded by the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 36, chapter 371, the amendment allows for a partial payment of that reimbursement.

The amendment clarifies that only revenues from mining operations located in regions of the State not under the jurisdiction of the Maine Land Use Regulation Commission are to be deposited in the Mining Corrective Action Fund. A provision allowing the board of trustees to require financial assurance from mining operations located in municipalities was dropped.

If any funds are spent from the fund, the mining company must reimburse the fund. The amendment also deletes language specifying where funds are to be allocated if the Mining Impact Assistance Fund reaches the limit deleted by the original bill.

This amendment also adds a fiscal note to the bill.
