SUMMARY

This bill proposed to permit public recreational access across shorelands owned by public water districts to the State's surface waters. Currently, a water district may purchase or take by eminent domain lands around its water sources and then exclude the public from those lands. This bill proposed to create a public right of ingress and egress across water district shoreland. A district would only have been permitted to restrict access for purposes of protecting public water supply, protecting public safety or protecting district property.

This bill would have preserved all protections against water district liability for injuries occurring on district land, which are provided under the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 14, section 159-A; the Tort Claims Act, Title 14, chapter 741; and any other law now in effect or subsequently enacted.
