Guard will also track the care of wounded service members of all military services. It also makes a technical change by adding the commission to the list of boards and commissions found in the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 5 and by referencing the role of the Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention in Title 22, which governs health and welfare. This amendment includes a purpose section and clarifies a headnote.

Enacted Law Summary

Public Law 2007, chapter 318 creates the Commission to Protect the Lives and Health of Members of the Maine National Guard. The commission consists of 9 voting members and one or 2 advisory nonvoting members. The intent of the bill is to provide through the commission a higher and safer standard for preventive medical practices and health screenings administered to members of the Maine National Guard than currently exists.

The commission, working with the Department of Defense, Veterans and Emergency Management and the Department of Health and Human Services, Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention, is required to review all preventive health care treatment practices and protocols and vaccinations and other medications administered to members of the Maine National Guard and propose recommendations to the Armed Forces of the United States regarding safer health care practices and medications. The commission shall also assist veterans' families who have members who have died while in the Maine National Guard to obtain accurate and timely information regarding the deaths. The commission shall track the care of wounded Maine National Guard members and Armed Forces service members and help ensure good care.

The commission must hold at least 4 meetings a year, including one public hearing, to obtain information, including information provided by veterans and their families in regard to the issues that the commission is required to address.

Commission members include, among others, a physician, a psychologist, a pharmacist, a retired veteran who has served in a war zone, a family member of a deceased military person who died while serving in the Maine National Guard and a disabled veteran who suffered a disability while serving in a military capacity.

The commission must issue its first complete report by December 15, 2008 and an annual report thereafter.

Public Law 2007, chapter 318 was enacted as an emergency measure effective June 18, 2007.
