Enacted Law Summary

Public Law 2009, chapter 555 allows the service of temporary orders and final protection orders when the original court orders have been electronically transmitted directly from the court issuing the order to the authorized law enforcement agency or correctional facility making the service.

Chapter 555 ensures that a person served with an electronically transmitted order has an opportunity in a prosecution for violating the order to exercise the right to confrontation with regard to the law enforcement officer who served the order or the chief administrative officer, or the chief administrative officer's designee, of the correctional facility that served the order.
