Joint Standing Committee on State and Local Government

This bill clarifies that government records of historic and archival value to the State, regardless of the date of their generation, are the property of the State. It clarifies that the custody of a record rests with the State until ownership and possession are formally relinquished. The bill also requires a licensed auctioneer to notify the State Archivist if the auctioneer believes that records belonging to the State are in the possession of a person not authorized to have those records. If the auctioneer fails to notify the State Archivist, the auctioneer may be denied a license or a disciplinary sanction may be imposed pursuant to the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 32, section 291-A.

Committee Amendment "A" (H-638)

This amendment removes all sections of the bill related to licensed auctioneers notifying the State Archivist if they are in possession of records belonging to the State. The amendment requires the State Archivist to prepare a detailed explanation of what constitutes a "record" and "records belonging to the State or to a local government or any agency of the State" and requires the explanation to be posted on a publicly accessible website and made available to interested parties upon request.

Enacted Law Summary

Public Law 2009, chapter 509 clarifies that government records of historic and archival value to the State, regardless of the date of their generation, are the property of the State. The custody of a record rests with the State until ownership and possession are formally relinquished. The State Archivist is required to prepare a detailed explanation of what constitutes a "record" and "records belonging to the State or to a local government or any agency of the State" and post the explanation on a publicly accessible website and made available to interested parties upon request.
