firearms dealer. If the firearms and ammunition are surrendered to a law enforcement agency, the firearms and ammunition must be returned to the person at the expiration of the gun violence restraining order; and

5. A person who possesses firearms or ammunition in violation of a gun violence restraining order commits a Class D crime. Part of the sentence must include the prohibition on possession of firearms and ammunition for an additional five years.

Committee Amendment "A" (S-250)

This amendment, which is the minority report of the committee, replaces the bill and creates a judicial process for the imposition of a gun violence restraining order whereby a court is authorized to order a person to surrender that person's firearms for a six-month period of time when it has been proved by clear and convincing evidence that the person poses a danger of causing personal injury to that person or to another person. A person who possesses a firearm in violation of a gun violence restraining order commits a Class D crime, the sentence for which must include a prohibition on the possession of firearms for a five-year period of time. The amendment also adds an appropriations and allocations section to provide funding to address anticipated new cases and required information technology updates within the Judicial Department and to provide funding to the Department of Public Safety for increased storage costs relating to retaining firearms under a gun violence restraining order process.

This amendment was not adopted.

LD 1202

An Act To Clear a Path to Employment

CARRIED OVER

Sponsor(s)	Committee Report	Amendments Adopted
VOLK A WARREN C

This bill establishes an automatic process for an individual who has been convicted of a Class C, Class D or Class E crime to have the records of that conviction sealed if the crime does not involve domestic violence or sexual assault; the individual has not been convicted of any other crime in this State or another jurisdiction; and at least seven years have passed since the date of conviction. If the Department of Public Safety, Bureau of State Police, State Bureau of Identification objects to the automatic sealing of an individual's criminal conviction records, the individual may file a motion in the underlying criminal proceeding requesting that the records be sealed.

The bill provides for a reduction in the seven-year waiting period for the sealing of records of an eligible criminal conviction if a convicted individual files a motion with the court demonstrating that the individual obtained a high school diploma or postsecondary certificate or degree after the date of conviction.
