County, which is a portion of a site known as the Eastern Surplus Company Superfund site that has been designated a Superfund site due to the presence of hazardous substances, materials or wastes. The law also allows the Passamaquoddy Tribe to take ownership of the land without assuming liability for historical contamination that the tribe did not cause and permits continued access to the land by the State and the United States to address remaining and future contamination at this or nearby lands.

LD 1611 An Act To Amend Maine's Harness Racing Laws Regarding Race Dates and Pari-mutuel Pools

ENACTED LAW SUMMARY

Public Law 2021, chapter 406 amends the definition of "commercial track" to include tracks at which fewer than the statutory minimum number of days of racing is conducted pursuant to a determination by the State Harness Racing Commission that the lesser number is in the best interest of the State's harness horse racing industry and the lesser number of days receives the express written approval of the track and a statewide association of horsemen.

The law also authorizes a person licensed to conduct harness horse racing with pari-mutuel betting to sell pari-mutuel pools and common pari-mutuel pools for simulcast races at a facility that is approved by the State Harness Racing Commission.

The law provides that a facility approved by the commission must be within the same county as the commercial track but may not be within the same municipality as an off-track betting facility. It also authorizes the person to conduct at the facility any other activities incidental to and permitted by the person's license.

The law also provides that a facility must obtain municipal approval prior to the sale of the pari-mutuel pools or common pari-mutuel pools and must provide the municipality in which the facility is located 5% of the track share of the commission allocated by the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 8, section 286, subsection 5. The law further specifies that the municipal officers of a municipality must approve the sale of pari-mutuel pools and common pari-mutuel pools at a facility located in that municipality before the sale may be approved by the State Harness Racing Commission.
